TRINITY DEFEATS STRONG LYNCHBURG ELEVEN HERE

VIRGINIANS FOUGHT VICIOUSLY BUT WERE UNABLE TO DOWN METHODISTS

SIMPSON AND HALL WERE STARS

MacGranahan and Crute Played First Class Ball in Their Positions. Game was Sensational From Beginning to End

Although playing by far the hardest game of the season, Trinity came out with the big end of the score in the third game of the season last Saturday afternoon when Lynchburg College fell before Trinity's rushing attacks in the last ten minutes of play and allowed the touchdown that snatched victory from their hands. The game was a fight from start to finish, and no gamer contest has ever been witnessed on Hanes Field than took place during those fifty-four minutes of play. Heralded as an easy team, Lynchburg was not expected to furnish serious opposition, but contrary to all reports, they played the scrappiest game of any team visiting Trinity this year. From the time that the first kickoff was made, until the last whistle blew, the game was one of anxious thrills, and the fight was never let up for an instant. Twice was the ball on the one yard line, once in Lynchburg's possession and once in Trinity's, but in each case the defending team held so tightly that the ball went to the other side on downs.

At close of play, Trinity had advanced the ball on an intercepted pass, to within a few yards of the goal line. Plunging through the center of the line, Crute appeared to carry the ball over the line. As the players got on their feet, however, it was seen that the ball lacked about two inches of being safe. Just as signals were being called for the final rush, the time-keeper's whistle blew and play was up.

Simpson, who made the lone score in last Saturday's contest against Emory and Henry, was again the star of the Lynchburg game, when by his alertness and fast playing in the first period, he recovered a ball dropped by Lynchburg's fullback on a kick from McGranahan and ran fifty yards for a touchdown. The kick was unsuccessful, however, and only six points were scored.

In the fourth period, Arnold, Lynchburg's star right halfback, took the ball on a forward pass and by wonderful broken field running, carried the ball for fifty yards for a touchdown. He succeeded in kicking goal, and with less than ten minutes to play the score stood 7-6 with Lynchburg in the lead. From here Trinity fought with all the power at their command, and rushed down the field with strength that Lynchburg's opposition was unable to stop with any degree of success. The Virginians fought gamely, having two of their men carried from the field because of injuries, but to little avail. By crashing line plays and splendid end runs, Hall finally carried the ball twenty yards for the second touchdown by a long run about

The regular mid-week meeting of the Y. M. C. A. will consist of a musical program held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall tonight. All students are invited to attend. The meeting will adjourn in time for the Hesperian Literary Reception.

The meeting Thursday night will be in the form of an open forum discussion on "Campus Democracy."

PHOTOGRAPHER WILL BEGIN WORK FOR ANNUAL TUESDAY

Editor Urges That Students Begin Organization of Clubs, Beauty Section New Feature

Victor J. Lovingdale, representing the White Studios of New York, will arrive on the campus Wednesday, November 10, for the purpose of making the photographs for the "Chanticleer," Editor-in-Chief, J. H. Shinn announced Monday.

Individual pictures in this year's annual will include all fraternity men and those pledged, officers of the classes, Y. M. and Y. W. C. A., secret societies, literary societies; members of the sororities, of the staffs of the several college publications, and others. Editor Shinn will be glad to answer any questions relative to this matter.

In connection with the photographer's work, Editor Shinn emphasizes the advisability of having every picture made by Mr. Lovingdale when he arrives next Wednesday. The price, the editor points out, is cheaper for the first print when made by the representative of the New York studio and in addition, if all the photographs which go into the annual are done by the same process, the result will be a better appearing product.

The individual pictures will be made in the Columbian Literary society hall and it is hoped that the work will be completed in a few days.

SCHEDULE FOR GLEE CLUB TRIP BEING PREPARED

Fall Trip to be Taken in Western Part of State. Recital to be Given Here This Month

Regular practices of the Trinity Glee Club, Orchestra and Mandolin Club are being held under the direction of the well-known concert singer, Edgar M. Howerton.

Mr. Howerton states that a splendid Club will be organized this year, and that a better recital will be given than the one of last year. The club was a great success last year, and many people expressed their appreciation of it by saying that it was the best Glee Club recital they had ever heard.

The Club will consist of twenty-five men. The orchestra, which is under the direction of Mr. James Leyburn and Professor Patterson, is an important factor of the club, it containing ten pieces with well balanced variety of instruments. The Mandolin Club, which is under the direction of Gilmer Sherrill, Pete Spach, and Wooley Merritt, is another important factor of the

HE IS MEMBER ROYAL OPERA OF LONDON AND METROPOLITAN OPERA OF NEW YORK

HAS A WORLD WIDE REPUTATION

David Bisham to Appear Under Auspices - Student Life Committee. All Students are Asked to Attend Concert

Trinity students and the community in general will experience a rare treat next Tuesday evening, November 9, when Mr. David Bisham will give a concert in Craven Memorial Hall. Mr. Bisham is a member of the Royal Opera of London and of the Metropolitan Opera of New York, and for years has been known as one of the foremost singers of the world. He is the possessor of a fine operatic baritone voice, and his concerts are always pleasing. Mr. Bisham will render a concert of numbers especially suited to the college community. His work is largely interpretative, as he often stops in his concerts to explain the roles he is playing.

For years a resident of England and then of New York where he now makes his home, Mr. Bisham has always been greatly interested in American musical instruction. Because of this interest, he is the author of several books along the general line of music.

INTERESTING TALKS MADE TO HISTORICAL SOCIETY

John Small and Coma Cole Deliver Lectures on Interesting Subjects to Members

Two very interesting talks on subjects relating to the World War were made at the meeting of the Trinity College Historical Society held on Monday evening. At the meeting was the second held this term, new members were enrolled. Coma Cole spoke on "Recent Documentary Evidence on the Origin of the War." Using as a basis of her talk Mr. Sidney B. Fay's "New Light on the Origin of the World War," Miss Cole showed that Austria, instead of Germany, was the instigator of the war. She said that the Austrian officials, remembering how Italy and Germany had broken away from the domination of Austria, were determined that a Slav state should not be set up in southern Europe and had sent its ultimatum to Serbia accordingly. She said further that part in beginning the war was partly the result of bad diplomacy on the part of the German high officials.

J. H. Small made a talk on "The American Operations in the World War to the St. Mihiel Offensive." In his talk, he told of the operations of the A. E. F. on the western front. He related how the Americans helped to hold back the Germans at Chateau Thierry and pushed the German lines to the Vesle River, thus eliminating the salient between Soissons and Rheims. As a great deal of Mr. Small's information was first-hand, the talk was very interesting to the members of the Society.

RECITAL

David Bisham, the noted operatic singer, will give a concert in Craven Memorial Hall Tuesday night, November 9. Tickets will be on sale in alumni room, East Duke Building, Saturday.

RECEPTION

The annual reception of the Hesperian Literary Society will be held tonight at 8:00 o'clock in the Hesperian Hall.

FOLK LORE SOCIETY GIVES HALLOWEEN JAUNT MONDAY

Evening Spent in Viewing Ghostly Scenes in Lonesome Woods of Durham County

With witches, wizards, and weenies, spooks, spirits, and spiders, mysterious mewls, moans, and murmurings vying as centers of attraction, the Folk-Lore Society awaited the rising of the moon in Withe's Gully, a spot located between two cemeteries about a quarter of a mile northeast of the city, Monday night.

Following the leadership of the chaperones, Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Newsum, and Dr. and Mrs. Lowery, about fifteen couples turned from the main highway and followed a narrow trail through one of the most lonesome stretches of woods in Durham county to a spot which Dr. Brown proclaimed ideal for communication with the exponents of folk lore of the other world. Evidently he was right, for the girls clung tightly to the arm of their escorts as white figures were seen to flit noiselessly between the trees. As the figures disappeared a weird cry, like unto the moan of a woman in mortal agony, was wafted forward by the night air.

Arriving at the spot which had been selected by Dr. Brown, where a huge bonfire had been kindled, the head of the English Department explained that in all probability the figures which had been

Sweaters to be Given to Athletes Who Qualify for Them. Aid to be Given College Band

At a meeting held on last Thursday evening, the Athletic Council elected officers for the year 1920-21, and decided to award sweaters to the athletes who qualify for them. It was also decided that the College Band should receive financial assistance from the Athletic Association.

Henry G. Hedrick '11, of the four Alumni members, was elected Chairman of the Council; Prof. R. L. Flowers, Vice-Chairman; C. F. Carroll '21, Secretary; Prof. R. N. Wilson, Auditor; B. W. Barnard, Chairman of the Executive Committee.

It was voted by the Council that the Athletic Association award to any man one sweater for each sport in which he qualifies. A provision was made to the effect that not more than one sweater be given to an individual in one year.

The Council also voted to au-

TRINITY SUFFERS FIRST DEFEAT IN TENNIS HERE

DAVIDSON TEAM WINS BEST TWO OUT OF THREE MATCHES IN MEET THURSDAY

CORNWELL DEFEATED ORMAND

Series of Matches Were Interesting to Fans. Second Victory for Davidson and First Defeat For Trinity

Davidson defeated Trinity in a tennis tournament played here last Thursday afternoon by winning the best two out of three matches. Bradley and Ormand composed the Davidson team; and Whitener, Cornwell, and Shinn composed the team for Trinity. The first match played was the doubles between Whitener-Shinn and Bradley-Ormand, resulting in the latter's victory of 7-5; 6-4. The first singles match played was between Whitener and Bradley, resulting in the latter's victory of 6-3; 6-3. The last match played was between Cornwell and Ormand, resulting in the former's victory of 6-2; 6-4.

Whitener and Shinn played a very good game against their opponents, but were unable to hold out as strongly as they had first commenced. Bradley and Ormand played a very steady game throughout, winning most of their points by rushing up to the net and placing their opponents' hard drives. The Davidson team was particularly efficient in the ability to recover from their opponents' lead in several instances. The first set in the singles looked as though it were going to the Trinity team, but after the lead of 2-0 the Davidson team pulled in line and came back with much force and captured the set. It may be said that Davidson played a net-game in the doubles match, while the Trinity team played a back-court game.

The match between Whitener and Bradley was probably the most interesting of the entire series. Bradley played an excellent game, having more power over his opponent when playing deep. Whitener played a very erratic game throughout, and was able to place several unusually swift law-fords. However, Whitener was not playing his usual game, he, it seemed, being bothered by the wind.

Cornwell defeated Ormand with little difficulty, although the latter played a very good game. Ormand made several spectacular plays in this particular match. He covered the court very well but was not able to overcome Cornwell's hard drives and well placed lobs. Cornwell's style of game, which is a close-up net-game, seemed to be the principal difficulty that Ormand could not conquer.

This makes the second victory for Davidson this year and the first defeat for Trinity. The entire series of matches proved intensely interesting to all the fans, and the desire for another meet, was exemplified by the players of each team. Although the weather was not at all ideal for tennis, it being rather cold and windy, it was, however, about the best that

EDITORIAL

Hear David Bispham, the noted Singer, in Craven Memorial Hall Tuesday night.

And we wonder why the Ladies Home Journal and the Police Gazette are so popular in the English Department now-a-days.

We suggest that some anti-Trinity football fan warn the Elonites that Trinity has won her third consecutive gridiron battle this season.

Yes, Trinity supporters are pretty thoroughly convinced at the present time that Lynchburg was not to be the most delicate opponent of the season.

And Editor Shinn announces that there will be a Beauty Section in the 1921 annual. Who said that the make-up of this year's Chanticleer would not be more beautiful than that of last year's?

CONTRIBUTIONS

Within the last few days the Chronicle has received by mail a voluntary contribution from some member of the student body. This has happened many times in the past years, especially the nature of this particular case. The article had some real merit, and the very fact that it was unsigned made its publication impossible. The Chronicle stands ready and is absolutely willing to defend any article which any student wishes to be published and wants to be considered responsible for any unsigned story which may appear within its columns. It cannot, however, publish any article written by an outsider as the work of the regular staff and the opinion of the paper itself.

The receipt of this article offers the Chronicle a chance to state its wish to serve as a medium for sentiments and views of the student body. This is the prime object of the paper, and with such an object in view it is useless to say that contributions from any member of the student body is welcomed. Any article dealing with some form of college life or any criticism of things in general will find a hearty welcome and prompt publication, provided it is signed by the writer. The paper cannot advocate or champion the views and opinions of any would-be reformer of satirist whose identity is a mystery.

Co-operation from the student body, articles—signed articles, or any thing else of interest, understand, the Chronicle desires most earnestly. Speak up, expound your views and serve to make the paper a real student publication. Be brave, however, and do not necessitate refusal to publish unsigned articles on the part of the Chronicle or undue modesty on the part of yourself by hiding behind a black wall.

DAVID BISPHAM

Next Tuesday night the students of the college have an opportunity to hear something that they can ill-afford to miss. Mr. David Bispham, of the Royal Opera of London and the Metropolitan Opera of New York, one of the foremost singers and musical educators of the world today, is to give a concert on that night in Craven Memorial Hall.

College students love music. That is a fact that is self evident and stands with out need of further evidence. But the class of music that the college students like, while it is good and pleasant and without doubt helps the morale of the student body, should be elevated to a higher plane. When a student enters college, he is supposed to have a fair idea of the world in general. With most students this knowledge is rather limited however. Few students know and recognize the familiar airs from the most popular operas. This should be an integral part of their general education as well as anything else. Music entertains and inspires, if it is of the right sort.

With this thing in view, the student life committee has signed a contract for the appearance of Mr. Bispham next Tuesday night. The committee is urging no one to purchase tickets. It is not worrying about the financial end of the matter, for the house will be full without the support of the students. But that the students might have the benefit of hearing the concert, tickets are being distributed among them, before the sale of seats is begun to those in the city.

It is a deplorable fact that many students think music of the type that Mr. Bispham will render is too "high-class" for them. It is not too high class, if they listen with receptive ears. If they go with prejudiced minds, they may be disappointed. It will be their own fault if they are.

Let's fill the house.—T. C. K.

WHY NOT?

We feel as though we should congratulate the Student Life committee on its initial program for the year. The securing of Mr. David Bispham, the world's most renom Operatic Singer, is a result of the work of this committee which was organized at the beginning of the year. This does not promise to be the last treat which this committee has in mind for the student body this year. It is expected that a large audience will hear Mr. Bispham Tuesday night, and the profits made at this recital, should there be any, will go toward defraying expenses for a larger and more elaborate program in the near future.

The Student Life Committee was not organized solely for the purpose of bringing noted artists here and providing for other forms of amusement for the college community. This is only a part of the work which this Committee was organized to do. One of the main functions of the Committee is to consider questions which effect the every day life of every student here at the college. It seems that from all indications, some students have not yet understood just what the purpose of this organization is. For instance, various students are howling about not having a telephone booth in the post office, complaining about the lights being extinguished at twelve o'clock, wondering why hot water cannot be obtained at all hours in the day in the dormitories, and various and sundry other so-called defects in the system of accommodations on the campus. It seems that these grievances are not being carried to the proper source for the purpose of having the questions thrashed out in a considerate and sensible way, and there is no doubt that these questions would receive careful consideration if they were allowed to reach the ears of the members of the Student Life Committee. Why not give the Committee a chance? Let it know what you want, and cease this everlasting, high-sounding, rampant way of kicking and knocking various conditions before you have first made an honest effort to have them made satisfactory. The Committee is patiently waiting for suggestions from students, and has already expressed its willingness to give each question careful consideration; therefore, if we do not have a telephone booth in the post office, hot water at all hours during the day, and other things which the students say they want, it is not the fault of the Committee but the fault of the student body. A man may think that he has good reason to knock a question or condition after having fought for it or against it, but one who knocks and criticizes a rather unpleasant prevailing condition without first making an effort to have the unpleasant feature of it remedied should show good judgment by remaining silent until after a move is made. For the love of mike let's do something first, then pass our judgment.

CLASSICAL CLUB TO HOLD ITS INITIATION THURSDAY NIGHT

On Thursday night of this week the new members recently elected to the Classical Club will be initiated by being carried through the solemn and sacred rites that were held annually in ancient Greece in the little town of Eleusis not far from Athens. These were known as the "Eleusinian Mysteries," and were perhaps the most impressive and awe-inspiring of all the religious ceremonies of the Greeks. The ritual was based upon the rape of Persephone by Hades, the god of the lower world, and the consequent search and sorrow of her mother Demeter (Ceres). The "Eleusinian Mysteries" gave to the initiates a clear hope of a real life after death.

The Club will assemble in the Greek classroom at 7:30 p. m. The new members are M. Bradshaw, Jr., J. E. Bridgers, Jr., G. S. Bruton, C. E. Mabry, L. R. Maness, and H. C. Sprinkle, Jr.

right end. Again he failed to kick, leaving the score 12-7 in Trinity's favor. The score stood until the end of the game.

The daily press reports gave the score of the game as 13-7, but this was an error. It appeared to those on the side-lines that Hall's first kick after the first touchdown was successful, but it was not. It went outside the goal posts by a few inches.

For Trinity, the outstanding stars of the game were Hall, Simpson, McGranahan, and Crute. Simpson was responsible for the first touchdown by his alert playing. But his tackling was far superior to that of any other man on the team. During the first half, practically every tackle made behind the line of scrimmage or in the line was made by Simpson. Hall was the principle ground gainer. His end runs always went for good distances, and his broken-field running after receiving kicks was good. He was taken out of the game near the start of the second period because of an injury to his shoulder, but went back in in the last quarter and led his team to victory by his fast end runs, the last of which scored Trinity's second touchdown. McGranahan played in form far superior to that he has exhibited in any other game. He made gain after gain on line plunges, and making use of his stiff-arm, after a bad pass from center for an attempted kick, carried the ball twenty yards. His interception of a forward pass in the final period was largely responsible for Trinity's last touchdown. Crute, as usual, was the best defensive back, tackle after tackle being made by him after the runner had crossed the line of scrimmage. His line plunging was steady and sure.

Hall was responsible for Lynchburg being held to one touchdown. Four times, when the Virginian carrying the ball came through the line of scrimmage for the goal line, Hall was the only man left who could possibly stop him. On all four occasions he succeeded in preventing his man out cleanly and preventing the score.

Arnold, for Lynchburg, was the outstanding star for his team. His long run for their only touchdown, and his line plunging time and time again made him appear far superior to the other members of his team. His interference ran well for him, however.

At the start of the game Trinity kicked, against the wind, toward the western goal. Owing to Jones being out of the game, McNairy kicked, but his kick was bad, never getting high in the air and rolling only to the thirty yard line where it was covered by the Lynchburg team. Lynchburg made five yards on their first play, a lateral pass to the left end. On a line plunge next, in which Trinity's line went down like paper, first down was made. By another rush through center, Arnold carried the ball to Trinity's thirty-five yard line. By a pass around left end, the Virginians succeeded in making another first down. Here a touchdown was prevented solely by the inability of the end to catch the pass. With no Trinity man in any way interfering with the play, the ball was passed to the end standing on the goal line, but he missed the catch. On the next play the runner sifted through center, and would have gone for a touchdown had Hall not cleanly clipped him off on the ten yard line. The visitors at once made five yards on a pass and end run about left end. With fourth down and only one yard to go for the touchdown, Trinity's line became a stone wall, and the ball went to Trinity. McGranahan punted to the thirty-five yard line. With the visitors again in possession of the ball, they used their line plunges successfully, and with fourth down, one yard to go they were penalized five yards for being off-sides. A pass to left and the ball went to Trinity on the thirty yard line. By a tackle behind the line of scrimmage, Trinity lost five yards. McGranahan kicked to the fifty-yard line. Through the center again, Hall once more stopped a potential run for a touchdown. The visitors successfully executed a pass to the twenty yard line, but on the next play, a pass was intercepted by Crute. McGranahan kicked to the fifty yard line, but the catcher dropped the ball. Simpson recovered it and ran fifty yards for the touchdown. Hall failed on the kick. On the kick-off, McNairy's kick went only to the forty-five yard line. Crute tackled the catcher in his tracks.

In this position the second period started. Lynchburg made first down on line bucks, from which they attempted a place kick. The kick failed, however, but the ball was recovered by them on the thirty yard line when it rolled outside. Here Smith was sent in to relieve Hall, who injured his shoulder. Lynchburg fumbled the ball and Neal recovered it back of the line of scrimmage, on the twenty yard line. McNairy made first down on a run off tackle, and Crute made five yards through the line. McGranahan made first down by a run off tackle, McNairy made eight more, and Crute made first down through center. McGranahan carried the ball for five yards more, but Trinity was penalized fifteen yards for holding. McGranahan then made fifteen yards by a run from kick formation. With fourth down, McGranahan kicked. Lynchburg was penalized five yards for roughing the kicker. Crute then made eight yards through center, but on fourth down the ball went over by a margin of two inches, on the thirty-five yard line. The Virginians kicked to the thirty-yard line, and Lynchburg lost five more yards on penalty for roughing the catcher. End of half.

Receiving the kick on the twenty yard line, Smith dropped the ball, but recovered it for a five yard gain. With fourth down, five to go, McGranahan kicked to the fifteen yard line. Simpson's fine tackling held the ball there. Lynchburg at once kicked to the fifty yard line. Crute made a fifteen yard run about left end, and Smith made fifteen more, but Trinity was off-sides, and was penalized. With fourth down four to go, Neal caught a pass for a twenty-five yard gain. Smith ran off-tackle for a gain. With fourth down, two to go, the ball went to Lynchburg on the one yard line. They kicked to the fifty yard line but the ball went over on fourth down after a good, hurdling run by Smith off-tackle. Lynchburg at once made first down. Again Simpson starred by his fine tackling. Lynchburg kicked to the twenty-five yard line. McGranahan made a gain, but on the next play Crute was tackled for a loss behind the line of scrimmage.

Smith made eight yards, and on fourth down, McGranahan kicked, the ball going outside on the ten yard line. Lynchburg kicked to the forty-five yard line, where the quarter ended.

Hall was sent back to replace Smith at the beginning of the final period. A pass failed, and on a bad pass from center on an attempt to kick, McGranahan was forced to run with the ball. The ball went over, however, and Hall again stopped a runner who sifted through the line on the twenty yard line. The ball went over here. McGranahan kicked to the fifty yard line, where Arnold received the ball, and by his fine running, made the goal. He succeeded in kicking the goal. Crute booted the ball to the ten yard line on the kick-off, and Lynchburg carried it to the forty yard line. Here they kicked, and although Hall missed the kick, he recovered it and ran thirty yards. Ten yards were made when Pennington caught a fine ten yard pass. Hall made a run about right end to the twenty yard line. A pass to right end was unsuccessful. Hall carried the ball about right end for the second touchdown. The kick was unsuccessful. Moore was sent in to replace Neal, who injured his shoulder. On the kick-off Moore made the tackle without a gain. Lynchburg attempted a pass which failed. Penalty on Lynchburg for playing off-sides. McGranahan intercepted a pass on the thirty yard line. Crute went through center for eight yards, and Hall made first down around right end. Trinity was penalized, but losing ground on a bad pass from center, Lynchburg took the loss rather than the penalty. Crute made a gain through center, and Pennington missed the pass. Simpson was called from center, and Crute went to guard. Simpson attempted a field kick, but failed. Lynchburg recovered the ball on the thirty yard line. Hall intercepted a long pass and carried it for twenty yards, being downed on the twenty-five yard line. Crute made a gain through center, and McGranahan made first down through the line. Hall made run to the three yard line about right end. Play ended with only two inches to go to make the touchdown.

Many students on the campus and several numbers of the faculty have had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Bispham in previous concerts, and pronounce his singing to be excellent. His is a world wide reputation, and few persons of any musical ability or who love music are unfamiliar with his name and his fame as an entertainer.

Mr. Bispham is appearing in this concert under the auspices of the recently organized student life committee, composed of eight members of the student body and five faculty members. At the initial meeting held, the matter of having musical programs of merit presented on the campus was discussed and indorsed by the committee. It was decided that if the opportunity of securing such concerts presented itself, it should be adopted at once. Concurrent with this resolution, when the opportunity of securing a concert by Mr. Bispham, the committee at once took favorable action and the contract for the entertainment was signed.

It is the desire of the committee that every student attend this concert if possible, and to make this possible, the price of admission has been set at only one dollar. As soon as the number of students desiring tickets is ascertained, the other seats in the Hall will be thrown open to the people of the city of Durham. It is expected that Craven Memorial Hall will be filled to capacity to hear this great singer.

could be expected at this late season of the year.

Although Davidson was not officially conceded the state championship in tennis for last year, it was generally known that if any special college should be conceded this honor, that Davidson most deserved it. Davidson has not got quite as strong a team as it had last year, but it seems that the present team will give no little trouble to the other college tennis teams throughout the state.

It is expected that one more tournament will be played here this fall, that being with Wake Forest. Official notices will be posted when the tournament is to be played, and it is desired that every student will be out on the courts to back up the team in this meet.

B. W. Barnard, Graduate Manager of Athletics and Secretary of Alumni Association of Trinity College, left Tuesday for Asheville, North Carolina, where he expects to spend a week or ten days.

Shorty runs into Teebo!
"Snapper"
Dear Pete.

Atlanta, Ga. Wednesday.

Checked up our old dormitory pal "Snapper" Teebo this morning waiting on an appointment down Backtree Street. "Snapper" wanted to know a "bookfull" about my visit to the Camel factories. "Tell us, old apple seed," says "Snapper," you're on the inside! "Snapper" still has that mighty annoying way of saying, "But that doesn't surprise me!" Some day I'll sock him—maybe that will be a surprise!

Anyhow—when I explained about the millions of Camels R. T. Reynolds Tobacco Co. made daily what does the old bird sputter but: "Why, Shorty, they'd have to make that many to supply the demand! Camels have the quality smokers want! And, they have the most wonderful mellow mild body and the most refreshing flavor ever created in a cigarette! Of course they make Camels by millions; of course they buy enough revenue stamps from Uncle Sam's every work day to build a duplicate of the Winston-Salem post office! Why not? Smokers will have Camels!"

But "Snapper" finally got to spilling some real nobby Camel selling stuff! "Shorty," says he, "write the Reynolds folks for me that I travel and talk some with the world in a year's time. And I want to put it on record that in all the times I've pulled Camels out of my pocket to supply somebody's shortage I've heard enough good things said about 'em to fill a volume—'That's my brand', 'Camels are a wonderful cigarette', 'Like getting money from home', etc!"

And, Shorty, what's the answer? Why—Camels quality and Camels blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos meet the universal taste! That's it! Get me right, boy! They all open their shutters for Camels! You'll find that all over the nation! And, that's the hole story, old golf ball! Pete, you pet phonograph, did you ever hear a better record?

Sincerely
Shorty.

PI KAPPA PHI FRATERNITY HAS INITIATION WEDNESDAY

D. S. Harper was initiated into the Pi Kappa Phi fraternity last Wednesday night. All members were present, and the usual rough play was participated in. After the initiation ceremonies, an informal feed was given in the chapter room, and all the pledges were invited to attend.

W. T. Huekabee, '23, was pledged to the Pi Kappa Phi fraternity Sunday.

Club. The Mandolin Club proved to be very popular last year, and it is expected that it will make even a better "hit" this year, as it consists of nearly all the old men and several new ones.

Business Manager Turrentine has been working on a fall trip to be taken in the western part of the state. He expects to be able to start on this tour on the first of December. The Club is hard at work on its practices and it is expected that a trip will be taken to Roxboro on the twentieth of this month. On the twenty-seventh a trip is expected to be taken to one of the colleges in Raleigh, and on the twenty-ninth of this month, a recital is expected to be given in the Craven Memorial Hall. The Business Manager expects to be able to give list of the trips which will be taken this fall in the near future.

PHOTOGRAPHER WILL BEGIN WORK ON ANNUAL TUESDAY

Attention was called to the fact that students from the various counties of the state should begin now the consideration of a county club. Organization should be completed as soon as possible to facilitate the work of the photographer. The usual college clubs can also aid materially if they will be complete in their organization on the day that the photographer arrives.

A new feature which Editor Shinn is introducing into the "Chanticleer" is the Beauty Section. In this section will be printed photographs of ten or a dozen of the co-eds selected as the most beautiful girls on the park. This rather ticklish proposition of picking the dozen best looking girls will, in all probability, be left to the members of the staffs of the several college publications.

INTERCLASS BASEBALL AND TENNIS CONTESTS ARE ON

Interclass Track Meet to be Held at an Early Date. Captains Are Elected

Class athletics began Monday afternoon. The preliminaries for class tennis opened, and a large number of men from each class were out. The men showed good form and, without a doubt, a hotly contested tournament will be played between the different classes. The tournament will begin as soon as a team has been selected from each class.

A baseball game between the Seniors and Juniors was started Monday but it was called on account of darkness. The Seniors were in the lead with a score of 4 to 1. The Sophomores and Freshmen will play a game one day this week. Jessie Sanderson was elected captain of the Sophomore baseball team at the class meeting on Saturday.

A class track meet will be held on Friday, November 5th. The captains from the classes are as follows: Roy Giles, '21; Bill Borland, '22; and C. E. Jordan, '23. The Freshman class has not yet organized, but it will do so immediately. It is hoped that some good varsity material will come from the different class games.

seen flitting through the trees were the ghosts of people known to have been murdered in the vicinity years before. "And just about ten feet to the left," continued Dr. Brown, "I found a skeleton this afternoon." Considering the wall of thick darkness which hemmed in the fire, it was easy to believe that anything could happen in the vicinity.

The terrors of the place were momentarily forgotten, however, when peanuts and apples were passed forward. Various means of determining with the goodies the fortunes of those present were then indulged in.

A lonesome trip through Spirit Land followed for the hardy ones. Those who dared brave the dangers of the place reported that it was a land where skeletons danced in glee, and headless beings roamed freely, seemingly presided over by apparitions of luminous whiteness. More than one girl screamed in terror at the sight. Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Newsom, having braved the trail together, did not care for a second experience.

Then while nightmarish ghost stories from the lips of experts were told, weenies were roasted over the fire and eaten with rolls, Coca-Cola serving as a stimulant after the harrowing experiences of the evening. Marshmallows, properly toasted, served as dessert.

Later when Dr. Brown had called attention to a mysterious ball of fire that rolled through a nearby marsh, so he declared, and related how a man had been pursued to his death by such a sight, a witch slipped from behind and scared most everyone present out of their wits, the folk lores circled the dying fire in druid fashion, uttering wishes in doing so, and set out for the walk back to the college.

S. A. DeDlap, of the Law Department, spent the week end at his home in Lexington.

The following are the results of general Pledge Day for the Sororities on campus:

Kappa Delta: Elizabeth Newcomb, '24, Henderson, N. C.; Annie Higgs, '22, Greenville, N. C.; Frances Stevens, '22, Brook Haven, Miss.

Margaret Russell and Elizabeth Hunter spent the week end in Kernersville with Mary Blair Maurey, '20.

Margarite Ring of Greensboro College for Women, visited Gaiselle Kerner this past week end.

Charlotte Avera of Smithfield, N. C., and Frances Artz of Asheville, N. C., were recent visitors of Carolyn Avera.

The Y. W. C. A. gave an unusually attractive Hallowe'en party Saturday night. In order to gain admittance into the mysteriously decorated halls of Alsapugh, each guest was required to crawl through a barrel, placed in the front door. There was quite a variety of costumes,—the most attractive and original one being that worn by Mary Lee Norman, in the impersonation of Agnes Judd, a freshman. Among many interesting games and contests those of eating cakes off strings and bobbing for apples gave the most amusement. The light then being extinguished, numerous blood curdling ghost stories were told. The most enjoyable feature of the latter part of the evening was dancing. When the "pep" began to waver, the usual Hallowe'en refreshments were enjoyed.

Library Notes

Mrs. J. J. Wolfe has presented to Trinity College library two hundred books on biology. These books were a part of the library of her husband, Dr. James J. Wolfe, who was professor of biology in Trinity College for sixteen years. His passing away on commencement day last June brought genuine sorrow to every member of the College community. Dr. Wolfe was an expert biologist and because of that fact the books selected and purchased by him on biology should make a very valuable addition to any library's collection. To show sincere appreciation of this gift and to some extent the esteem in which he was held special book-plates bearing his name have been made and one has been pasted in each volume.

Mr. William S. Lee, Jr., of Raleigh, has given the library a sum of money to be used for the purchase of books on Southern history. This gift is to be a memorial to his father, the late William S. Lee of Monroe. The first payment has been received and thirty volumes purchased with this fund are now on the library shelves. Several others that have been ordered have not yet come. Memorial book-plates with the words "The William S. Lee Memorial Collection of Southern History" printed on them have been made and these are pasted in the books as they are received. This gift came to the library through Dr. W. K. Boyd head of the department of History.

With the Societies

HESPERIA

With an unanimity almost without a parallel in the annals of the society, the Hesperian Literary Society elected every officer without a dissenting vote at its regular election Saturday night. This election following the bitter fight between two separate parties of the society during the spring of 1919-'20 which culminated in a bitter partisan struggle at the regular spring election when every major officer was elected by a majority of three votes showing that every member was voting on strictly party lines, came as a pleasant surprise to all loyal Hesperians who are pleased that partisan strife is over and that the society can work this year in peace and harmony.

The officers elected were: President, S. M. Holton, Jr.; Vice-President, J. D. Lewis; Secretary, T. R. Waggoner; Auditor, R. E. Thigpin; Chairman of the Executive Committee, J. F. Harward; and Marshal, H. C. Sprinkle. After the election and installation of officers, the regular program was held.

J. E. Bridgers spoke briefly on, "The Next President of the United States"; L. B. Hathaway spoke on the subject, "What I Think of the Frausback"; J. M. Barrett in a short speech told the society, "Why I Visit the Orpheum"; and B. B. Harrison made a short talk on, "What I Think of Trinity's Future in Football."

The regular debate of the evening was held on the subject, "Resolved that the Governor of North Carolina Should be Given the Veto Power." Carroll Summers and Harry Sprinkle successfully upheld the affirmative side of the argument in spite of the bitter protests of George Allen and G. W. Hardesty of the negative against granting the governor this additional power.

COLUMBIA

At the meeting of the Columbian Society the regular program was dispensed with in order that the members might have the opportunity of hearing Governor Bickett's speech that night. The usual opening exercises were carried out and several important business matters were transacted.

ATHENA

The Athena Literary Society held its regular meeting Monday afternoon at four o'clock in the Hesperian Hall. There were Hallowe'en decorations and the program also carried out the spirit of Hallowe'en. Professor Spence read some of his poems about Hallowe'en. Herminia Haynes, dressed as a black spirit recited the history of Hallowe'en. Another feature of the program was the Pig-tail quartet composed of Elizabeth Finch, Sophia Ryman, Carolyn Shooter, and Annie Harris, which was directed by Lelia Humble. Two witches, Blanche Moss and Dixon Barrett, presided on the rostrum with brooms and Miss Anna Holton was master of ceremonies.

At this meeting the President announced that Hesperia and Athena would have a joint meeting Saturday night week.

The friends of M. T. Shelton will regret to learn that he was called to the bed side of his mother last Friday. Word came Tuesday morning that his mother was dead, and the college community will extend him sympathy in his hour of bereavement.
