SERIES CROSS COUNTRY RUNS MARKS EXPANSION WORK TRACK ACTIVITY

COACH STEINER AND MANAGER ROSE BUSY COMPLETING SCHEDULE

RUN IN RICHMOND AND ATLANTA

Local Runs Will Be Followed By a Program Calling for Trips to Virginia and Emory University in Spring

TRINITY will this year inaugurate a series of cross-country and road races with other colleges and universities of the South, thus taking the leadership for North Carolina in this phase of athletics. After many attempts in past years to secure cross-country meets to be held in Durham and at other colleges, Manager L. L. Rose has this year secured several good offers for meets, and in all probability the TRINITY team will engage in at least three meets this fall.

A meet with William and Mary and the University of Richmond, to be held at Richmond early in November, is being arranged, and the contracts for it will be signed in a few days. The TRINITY team will this year compete with Methodist institutions at the annual Southern Methodist Road Race, held under the auspices of Emory University, at Atlanta, every year.

At this meet the winning team will receive a silver cup, and the first four men will be awarded gold medals. A four-mile cross-country country race will be held with Guilford and Elon at Durham in December 5.

Candidates for the cross-country team are already training, and Coach Steiner will begin coaching as soon as the preliminaries are held and the team picked. Plans for the annual 10-mile inter-class relay race have not yet been made, but the meet will be held before the end of the first semester.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING IS HELD BY HESPERIA

New Men Received and Lively Program Given. Number Impromptu Speeches Made

Eleven new members were initiated into the Hesperia Literary Society at its regular meeting Saturday night. Under the initiation, the new men made brief speeches to the society in which they declared their intention to put all they have into the society and thus to reap all the benefits which the society offers. An unusually good debate was held on the subject, Resolved: "That the West Virginia Coal Miners were justified in their recent outburst." The Negative, upheld by W. L. Clegg and W. R. Brown, won the decision of the judges over the affirmative team composed of S. E. Wilkins and W. C. The debate was the best that has been held this year as every speaker showed that he was familiar with his subject and spent much time in preparing his speech.

H. C. Powell delivered an humorous oration on "The High Cost of Courtship." This oration was the decided feature of the program. A number of extemporaneous speeches were delivered on current subjects. Mike Bradshaw spoke on the subject, "Should Freshmen Be Required to Wear Green Caps?" W. G. Bradshaw made a speech on the same subject; J. D. Johnson spoke on, "The Outcome of the World's Series;" while J. E. Bridgers had as his subject, "Should Hesperia Meet at Seven or Seven-thirty."

Senior Class Completes Selections of Officers

The Senior class on Saturday completed its list of officers for this year when the following, in addition to T. C. Kirkman, who had been chosen at another meeting, were elected: Vice President, C. Student Life Committee, H. J. Herring B. House; secretary, Coma Cole; Treasurer, J. H. McCracken, Jr.; representative on Athletic Council, J. M. Barrett; and Leroy Dalia; Public Lectures Committee, W. J. Bandy.

Half Holiday and Special Train November 11

According to a decision recently made by the faculty, the students of the college will be expected to attend only the first two classes and chapel exercises on November 11, Armistice Day. The permanent policy of the College in celebrating this day will be to have all the classes convening at 8:30 and at 9:30 meet as scheduled and then to have public exercises in Cravel Memorial Hall at the regular chapel hour. These exercises will be in a manner appropriate to the observance of the day.

Graduate Manager Barnard has announced that a special train will very probably provide accommodations for carrying Trinity students to Raleigh for the Trinity-Wake Forest football game. It is hoped that arrangements can be made to have a chartered train waiting on the siding just opposite the main gate of the campus for the conclusion of the exercises in Cravel Memorial Hall. If the special train cannot be secured (though it is very likely that it will be), extra cars will be attached to the train which passes Durham at 11:25 and will be returned to Durham on the regular train, arriving from Raleigh at 8 P.M. Every student will be expected to attend the exercises and then to board the Victory Special for Raleigh.

VARSITY TENNIS TEAM HAS BEEN SELECTED

Powell, Tabor, Turentine, Summers, and Lefter compose Varsity Racquetters

TRINITY'S Varsity Tennis squad is now complete after a very hard fought tournament held last week and continuing through last Thursday afternoon in which twelve entries participated. The varsity men are: Sooner Powell, John Tabor, Walter Turentine, Hugh Lefter, and Carroll Summers. The men showing up well and who will very likely challenge varsity men for their places are: Syrus Young, Marr, Robert Plunk, and Shankle. The individual matches were as follows: Powell defeated Bradley 6-2; 6-2; Powell defeated Lefter 6-1; 6-2; Powell defeated Tabor 6-4; 0-6; 15-13; Tabor defeated Young 6-4; 4-6; 6-4; Tabor defeated Turentine 7-5; 3-6; 6-4; Turentine defeated Sprinkle 6-3; 6-2; Turentine defeated Summers 6-3; 5-7; 7-5; Lefter defeated Plunk 7-5; 6-4; Lefter defeated Marr 6-3; 7-5; Marr defeated Allen 6-4; 6-4.

Two courts will be reserved for the Varsity and staff coaching will take place immediately under the supervision of Professor White. The men who failed to make places on the varsity squad are also being coached and will probably reveal a dark horse or two before the season is over. Several inter-collegiate matches will be played away from TRINITY this fall, Elon, Guilford, and Davidson being the probable opponents. Plans for the spring season are now being formulated and Manager Rose will be ready to announce the schedule for the year at an early date.

The varsity men are showing up unusually well this year and it is expected that they will win the championship title won by TRINITY last year.

To Circulate Petition for All-Night Electric Current

Several ambitious students, who wish to study after the hour of twelve, have visited the dean in regard to keeping the lights on all night. The dean, it is understood, advised these men to circulate a petition among the students and present same to his committee for its passing. It is expected that this project will soon materialize and perhaps it will not be necessary for TRINITY men and women to purchase do-shop candles for mid-night cognition.

WILLIAM AND MARY DID WHAT NO OTHER ELEVEN HAD DONE IN 27 YEARS

TEAM FROM VIRGINIA ADMINISTERED FIRST LICKING TO TRINITY

SCORE WAS 12-0 FOR VISITORS

Heavy Line of "Lunatics" Holds a Scrapping Team Scoreless and Ploughs Way to Two Touchdowns

For the first time in twenty-seven years a TRINITY football team met defeat when the strong William and Mary eleven won the hard fought contest waged on Hanes Field last Saturday afternoon by the score of 12-0. A rather stormy wind marred the otherwise ideal football weather conditions and accounted for the poor punting of both teams.

Although crippled and outwitted, Coach Baldwin's blue-clad scrappers put up a very creditable fight from start to finish, and while the issue was never in doubt, the heavier and more experienced Virginia team met with stout opposition. Jackson and Simpson were entirely out of the game; Hatcher, Garrett, Neal, and Crute were suffering from injuries and in the game only part of the time; their substitutes, some of whom in the game for their first time, played good ball, however, and did well to hold the score to two touchdowns.

For TRINITY, Smith at quarter showed excellent fighting ability, and with one or two exceptions, ran the team to perfection. Barrett played a hard game at full, and gained ground consistently with his line plunges. Moore played a good end, especially on the defense. For William and Mary, L. Levy starred with his speedy runs.

The play by quarters follows: First Quarter: Caldwell kicked to the 12-yard line, and William and Mary returned to the 50-yard line, made seven yards on their first line plunge, were penalized five yards for holding, gained two yards on another line plunge, and then made first down on a nine yard gain off tackle. The TRINITY line held on the next formation, but the following three plays netted ten yards. Moore took left end. Both teams were penalized, but William and Mary again made first down in spite of some pretty defensive work by Moore and Taylor. For three downs the TRINITY team held, and on the fourth, took the ball on a fumble on the five-yard line. A line plunge carried the ball two yards, a second resulted in no gain, and a disastrous fumble gave the ball to William and Mary on the thirty attempt. L. Levy carried the ball behind perfect interference and made a touchdown under right end. No goal. End of quarter.

Second Quarter: William and Mary kicked off to the 35-yard line. TRINITY's first down resulted in no gain, and then Barrett plunged through the line for six yards. After another futile effort, Barrett again hit the line, gaining four yards. A fumble in the TRINITY backfield necessitated Caldwell's punt, which gave the ball to William and Mary on the 35-yard line. McNairy took right halfback on the thirty held for two downs and took over the ball on a fumble. In William and Mary territory, that team held for three downs, and Caldwell punted on the fourth, giving them the ball on the 15-yard line. The first down gave them no gain, but on the second a heavy Virginia block through for fifteen yards. The next effort was unsuccessful, and on second down, Moore threw his man for a loss. After a three-yard gain, William and Mary punted to Trinity's forty-five yard line. The half ended with the ball in Trinity's hands in William and Mary territory after two incomplete passes.

Third Quarter: Hatcher took right tackle, Crute took fullback, and Rose took right guard. William and Mary kicked to her 15-yard line and McNairy carried the ball ten yards. McNairy was downed for a five yard loss, and Crute, after making six yards in two

"9019" INITIATED ODD NUMBER FROM CLASS OF '23 TUESDAY EVENING

Maness, Conley, Read, Sprinkle, Jackson, Harrison, and Bridgers are Received in Local Scholarship Society

The whack of 'adlib' and the cries of "Peanut butter, hit me harder" were heard all over the campus on Monday night when seven members of the junior class were carried through the horse-play preparatory to initiation into the 9019, scholarship and patriotic fraternity of TRINITY College. The initiation was held in the West Duke Building on Tuesday night; later in the evening a banquet was served at the Durham Cafe. The initiates were: R. B. Reade, Durham; H. C. Sprinkle, Jr., Greensboro; L. R. Maness, Eagle Springs; B. B. Harrison, Littleton; J. E. Bridgers, Jr., Raleigh; D. H. Conley, Lenoir; and J. L. Jackson, South Bend, Indiana.

The horse-play began on Monday night at 7:30 when the seven initiates were given a taste of trench warfare by crawling on their hands and knees through the ditch that is being dug between the Duke and Trinity buildings. The initiates were then made to march over the campus singing "Peanut butter, hit me harder" and similar songs while the initiators punctuated the sentences with the whack-whack of paddles. After the goats had given an entertainment in the dope shop, they were marched to the Southgate Building, where they stood under the windows, singing and harking for the amusement of the young ladies. The blindfolded initiates were then carried through a forest of brush and reeds "somewhere on the campus." Wet footprints on the stairs of the building have led to the belief that some of the initiates fell into water during the night. On Tuesday morning the seven men appeared in red, dunce-caps, red ties, and red and white socks.

The horse-play was continued for a short time on Tuesday night in the West Duke Building and at the end of the horse-play, the seven new men were carried through the ritualistic exercises of initiation into the 9019. Later in the evening, a banquet was served in honor of the initiates at the Durham Cafe. Besides the undergraduate members of the fraternity, many faculty and alumni members were present.

VALUABLE ACQUISITION FOR TRINITY LIBRARY BRINGS RARE VOLUMES

LIBRARIES OF WELDON H. EDWARDS AND MARMADUKE HAWKINS BOUGHT

INVALUABLE AS RESEARCH AIDS

Numerous Newspaper Files Cover a Long Period and Discuss in Detail Local History Southern States

The combined libraries of Weldon H. Edwards and Marmaduke Hawkins of Ridgway, N. C., numbering 2,500 volumes exclusive of newspaper files, have been purchased by TRINITY and have been deposited in the library as an extremely valuable addition to the collection of American and works on North Carolina which Prof. Wm. K. Boyd has been gathering for so many years.

Weldon N. Edwards was the president of the famous Secession Convention of 1861 which opened the War between the States in North Carolina. As a typical gentleman, scholar and statesman of the old school, he had gathered a valuable private library of works on American history, which his political activities enabled him to supplement with what are now priceless books and documents on the history of North Carolina before 1870. Among his books and papers are items in the history of American politics and economics which go back even to the colonial period.

The newspaper collection was especially valuable, for it contained files of rare North Carolina and Virginia newspapers as far back as 1820 with files of Georgia newspapers even earlier than that date. Pamphlet collection make it possible for students at the college to study the history of economic development in North Carolina from the original sources, in the period from 1800-1870.

COLUMBIA TAKES HALF DOZEN SATURDAY NIGHT

Interesting Debate and Lively Program Feature the Regular Session of Columbia

An excellent and interesting program carried out to a large extent by new members of the Columbian Literary Society characterized its last meeting. The men who spoke demonstrated a superior degree of ability to that heretofore shown at meetings of the society. Six freshmen joined the society, raising the total number of initiates to fifty-eight.

R. D. Ware delivered an oration on "Service," the theme being that work is the aim of life, and that real service comes with the abandonment of one's selfish interest for the cause of humanity. L. V. Harris spoke on "Eyesight, Insight, and Foresight," giving the difference between the three in an unusual way.

E. G. Oretten, L. F. Grigg, and L. L. Wall, representing the negative side of the query, Resolved: "That the demands of DeValera and his associates in the Irish conference with Lloyd George were just," were successful over Ernest Cooper, K. L. Elmor, and H. M. Keever, who contended for the negative side. The speakers not only dealt with the theoretical part of the controversy, but laid stress on the geographical and racial differences of the Irish people.

Two speeches on general debate and an oration by W. P. Stevens on "National Defense" concluded the meeting.

Josie T. Jerome, ex-'07, has entered upon his duties as superintendent of schools of Wayne County with his home at Goldsboro, N. C. It will be remembered that for the past two years Mr. Jerome has been Sunday School Field Secretary for the North Carolina Conference.

H. D. Ormand, '24, of King's Mountain, was recently pledged to the Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

Green caps capped "greens!"

Co-ordination in another fashion was seen at TRINITY Saturday.

It finally took two of them to do it.

So far as North Carolina eleven was concerned, the results of the games Saturday show naughty scores.

Those funny stripes on the jerseys of the Virginia crew wets their official emblems. In their own state they are known as lunatics.

The principal work of the late lamented organization of Flies apparently was to flee.

This armistic day will find us all trained in more than one sense of the word!

'Twill be a rare combination of eleven, but next year when '22 makes its bow in the final tabulation, one more will be observed. But rearing is one of the duties of eleven, anyway.

Headline: "—heavy gale in TRINITY blew Saturday." Yes, the football blew out!

PROGRESS OF THE NAME MOVEMENT

1. Catamounts. 2. Blue Titans. 3. Grizzlies. 4. Blue Eagles. 5. Badgers. 6. Dreadnaughts. 7. Polar Bears. 8. Royal Blazes. 9. Captains (presumably in honor of "Cap" Card). These are the names that have been submitted to the special name committee and have been judged as being most suitable among a large number that have been presented thus far. The movement has begun and has been talked considerably on the campus. Some name must be chosen Friday evening. Which shall it be? Shall it be one of these, or shall it be another? If there are other names than these mentioned above, those students who wish to present them will expedite matters considerably if they will hand their suggestions to one of the committee at once.

In choosing a name that will last through the years, care should be exercised in getting one that will truly represent the ideals of the institution. It should be done wisely and deliberately for the one selected, used stick. In each of the names above, it has been the purpose of those submitting it to have the name typify the spirit of the teams. In many of them the idea of the colors of the college has been retained. Blue, white, (in the case of the bears) or royal, as a name for blue, is there. It is well if this can be included, although it is not altogether necessary.

Come out thoughtfully with these names before you. If there are others, they will be presented. Which ever name is selected stick to that name and let it be heralded on the wings of the morning that that is the name by which TRINITY'S men will henceforth be called wherever they go.

ALL-NIGHT LIGHT SERVICE

The movement which is soon to be presented to the students whereby all-night light service will be requested should find a ready response. Frequently there are times when lights are very necessary, as in the case of sickness or possible fire. The present method of turning out the lights when the rooms were bothersome and certainly offer no guarantee of quickness in turning them on again since the central switches have been discontinued. The main difficulty, however, has been in the matter of turning out the lights when the rooms were not in use. If every man would agree conscientiously to have the lights turned off when he was not in his room and would guarantee to keep them off when they were not being used, the matter will certainly receive careful consideration by the committee in charge of dormitory accommodations. It is probably beyond question that more is actually lost by having a careless regard for burning lights, as is the case now, than would be by having united co-operation in the matter of getting all night service with guarantees and personal responsibilities assumed for keeping the lights off when they are not in use.

By this the necessity for leaving one's room for another building on the campus in which the heat has been turned off for some time for the purpose of study would be avoided. By such the contracting of colds would be lessened, to say the least.

What do you say, men, to seeing this idea carried through to a successful conclusion?

Letter Received From H. K. King, in Belgium

The following letter was recently received from Hiram K. King, a graduate in the class of 1920 who is now with the forces of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, doing reconstruction work in the war torn areas of Belgium.

It will be remembered that the students of the College directed their missionary contribution last year to Mr. King for him to use among the orphans with whom he is working. Mr. King has promised other articles for the CHRONICLE and a large number of King's friends will await accounts of his interesting work overseas.

Brussels, Belgium
June 10, 1921.

My Dear Professor Cannon:
Your good letter of May 24 reached me to-day, and I'm mighty glad something finally persuaded you to drop me a few lines. And that "something" was quite a handsome act on the part of my fellow college mates at TRINITY. I am writing Miss Draughon, as President of the Student Volunteer Band, concerning this; and I want to say to you also that I appreciate most sincerely both the good work of the students for our mission field in Europe, and especially their thought of and confidence in me personally as shown by their wanting this money forwarded directly to me and expended by me in the work here. I have to-day deposited the sum sent ($377.05) in the National City Bank of New York, Brussels Branch, in my name as trustee, and I will try faithfully to spend this money as I think the donors would have it spent. I expect to keep an account of just how it is spent, and report to the student body next year on same.

Just now we are enjoying a visit from Reverend H. H. Johnson, of St. Louis, Missionary Secretary for the St. Louis, Denver, and Southern Illinois Conferences. He preached at our morning service, in English, last Sunday. Methodist and Presbyterian missionaries are constantly passing through Brussels en route to the Belgian Congo; so we are seeing folks from home all the time. We are expecting Dr. Beauchamp over during soon. Our Russells family has just had added to it F. C. Woodard, Vanderbilt '14, who has come over with his wife to do educational work. He has been principal of schools for some time in Seavey, Ark. He may take charge of our school for girls in Brussels, or he may organize a school for boys here or elsewhere in Belgium.

With best wishes to you, I am

Yours truly

—Hiram King.

OPEN FORUM

The western fever is claiming an unusually large toll of the male species on the campus this year. Not only is the epidemic rampant among the upper classes, but it has never been so cruel and widespread in its devastation that many of the innocent freshmen have fallen victims to its destructive embrace. Hardly did the men safely land on the campus before the hectic germ found its goal. The fever is very high and still raging. There is no sign of abatement. The dove has been turned loose from the window, but it has returned without any sign of dry land. Even in the feverish rush and hurry toward the West in '49 the fever did not take such a hold on the migrants as it is taking here. The barriers are not so great, and the distance not so far, as the forty-niners encountered; neither does the same purpose animate the going, but the going is going on just the same. Why not go while the going is good?

"Huh! Where is this place they go?" you ask.

"Well, well, don't you know? Why, you remind me of what one of Rube's girls said to him last summer, by asking me such a question as that."

"What was that?"

"Well, Rube said he was standing talking to her one day judged her to be a woman of intellectual attainments and he happened to mention the fact that he was going to school at Trinity College."

"What?" She says. "Why, I don't believe I ever heard of that air place before."

Possibly I should have begun by calling this epidemic the Southgate fever. No. No. That would not do either, for how can one say south when it's west! The western fever is correct. Last year the migration was wholly north, but this year it is wholly west. Even the men are migrating from the eastside of Jarvis to the westside, where they can gain a more enchanting view toward the western horizon. Never have TRINITY men been more appreciative of the setting sun than they are today. The watch-towers of Jarvis are never vacant; and as the sun sinks beneath the shadows of the pines, and the begins to reflect her soft light over earth, one can hear the low-sick tremor of a junior-freshman quartette emanating from the most conspicuous willow on the westside of Jarvis and carried across the little valley on the soft breeze of evening to the mansion on the hill. The music ceases, and in a moment a great outburst of the clapping of lily-white hands comes echoing back across the vale, challenging the little covey to harmonize again.

Well, who could help but have the fever

When the Southgate girls are eager

Not to turn the boys away?

We deem it a great pleasure, and also an honor, to be coordinating with the co-eds. We are proud to see the new college erected, in order that they, as well as we, may have the best advantages of advertising into the wonderful fields of knowledge. There is nothing like opportunity, and the door of opportunity is standing wide open, and the invitation to come in is very cordial, a fact which is very pleasing to both men and women. But honest now, wouldn't it have been better to have named that building over there Westgate instead of Southgate?

Y. M. C. A. Lounging Room is Ready for Men/Students

The much talked about and very greatly needed Y. M. C. A. lounging rooms were opened officially last Saturday, October 1. Alspaugh Hall now contains three rooms fairly well furnished with tables and chairs. Games of various sorts scattered about, with magazines and newspapers and idle students who are buying themselves partaking of these luxuries, are the sights one views when passing these rooms. A telephone which will be for the use of the students in general is furnished in one of these rooms, and therefore provides a necessity that has long been felt by TRINITY men.

The students are patronizing these newly afforded pleasures and seem to be having wonderful times playing such renowned games as chess, checkers, and, it is rumored, "put-and-take." All TRINITY men are invited to make the Y. M. C. A. lounging rooms their resting place and to spend their idle hours in these rooms, instead of at less ideal places.

DR. FEW ATTENDED GREENSBORO MEETING

Session of College Heads Was Addressed by Trinity President

President Few spent last Thursday and Friday in Greensboro where a conference on questions pertaining to the administration of higher education in North Carolina was held by the heads of the schools of this State. Dr. Few made an address on the issues arising in connection with the awarding of scholarships.

At the same time that this conference was being held, Dr. E. C. Brooks, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, conferred with the various college presidents about matters related to the general administration of education in this State. Professor Holland Holton was present for this latter part of the conferences which come on Friday.

The presidents discussed such matters as those related to the granting of scholarships, those related to the advisability of a uniform blank for presenting entrance credits, and conferred relative to making suggestions concerning the curriculum of high school education.

First Issue of Archive is Due to Appear October 15

The first issue of the Trinity Archive will appear on October 15, the regular date for the first issue, according to the announcement of Editor Farabow. The Editor held a meeting of the staff recently, at which W. J. Bundy was elected secretary-treasurer of the publication. It was decided at this meeting to hold a staff banquet later during the year.

The Archive which is the only literary magazine published at TRINITY College, is published under the direction of the senior class which elects the editor and business manager. It is the oldest student publication of the College, as it was established in 1891. Everyone is requested and urged by the Editor to submit material to the Archive for the year 1921-1922 depends upon the support given it by the students in contributing to it and subscribing for it.

The Owl's Pharmacy, that noted hanging out place for all the TRINITY Students for the past and present year, has again been imposed upon by some inconsiderate bum. Within the last few weeks there have been three robberies and not the least trace of the rogues or rogues has been discovered. The loss of property can not be estimated, although the tramp, hobo, or whatever he, or she, or it was, replenished its person with a goodly quantity of odds and ends found on the shelves of the noted pharmacy.

Athena Literary Society Holds First Meeting

The Athena Literary Society held its regular meeting Monday afternoon. There was an unusually interesting program.

Jessie Penny reviewed briefly the recent unemployment conference in Washington. Virginia Merritt read a report of the life of John Charles McNeill and read "Away Down Home." Allene Parrish gave a piano solo, Edelweiss by Vanderhaegh.

The most original number of the program was a tableau representing a phase of American colonial life. A wigwam, surrounded by pine boughs, had been constructed and a real Indian in warpaint and feathers opened the tableau by executing a war dance. A Spanish explorer in cape and ruff appeared on the scene and the Indian and Spaniard were soon smoking the pipe of peace and exchanging drinks of imaginary "fire water." The explorer assisted the Indian off the stage and the tableau was ended. Herminia Haynes represented the Spaniard, while Annie Garris was a very fierce Indian.

At the close of the program, the chairman of the clubs of the society outlined the work to be done by their organizations during the coming year. The Athena Society which has been meeting every two weeks will meet every week hereafter, Monday afternoon being the regular time of meeting.

Dr. J. E. Welsh, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Durham, will deliver a lecture before the student body on Wednesday evening, October 19, at 7:30 Department. News of interest to the club members and scientific students will be placed on this board.

downs, punted. William and Mary carried the ball off tackle for eight yards. Crute made first down through the line. Crute made two more yards, and then an effort to pass failed. McNairy was thrown for a loss, and Crute punted to the 40-yard line. William and Mary made five yards in three downs and then punted to the 20-yard line. Garrett took right halfback. Garrett gained a yard, Crute gained two, and then punted to the 25-yard line. William and Mary gained a yard, and then some pretty defense on the part of Midgett and Neal threw them for a loss. Smith received a punt on the 25-yard line and returned with a pretty run to the 44-yard line, was knocked unconscious and relieved by English. William and Mary intercepted a pass, and made first down on four plays.

Fourth Quarter: Caldwell took right guard, Barrett took fullback, and Smith took quarterback. William and Mary gained four yards on the first play, and then compelled a twenty yard pass. Three more plays resulted in another first down. With only five yards to go. William and Mary scored a second touch-down in three rushes. No goal.

Huckabee took right end. Trinity took the ball on the 20-yard line. Barrett gained five yards. Worsley took left tackle, and Stanford took left halfback. Smith gained seven yards and first down. Four more plays resulted in another first down, but finally Caldwell was forced to punt. Smith intercepted a forward pass and got the ball on the 30-yard line. Garrett gained five yards off tackle. The whistle blew and the game was over.

Class in Wrestling as Part of Physical Training

Having secured the consent of the committee on physical training, W. F. Bailey, a member of the class of '25, will begin a class in wrestling for the men of the College. Mr. Bailey has had special instruction in this form of physical training, having been under the instruction of the champion wrestlers of the world. His home is in Charlotte where he has done special training work with the men who have regular matches in the Queen City. From such men as Pink Gardner and Stefansky, as well as other notables of the mat, he carries high recommendations.

Those students who desire this training will be given credit for the extra hour in gym work. Already about 30 men have signified their intention of enrolling for this class and the others who expect to enroll should see Cap Card at the gymnasium or sign the notice on the gymnasium bulletin board. A match for the championship of the College will be held during the winter.

Wrestling as a sport and as means of training has spread rapidly to the educational institutions of the country, and the beginning of the class at TRINITY marks a forward movement locally.

VOLUNTEERS STAGE A SOCIAL FOR MEMBERS

Student Volunteers Held Receptions at Southgate Hall Last Night for Members

The informal reception given Tuesday evening by the Volunteer Band in honor of its new members marked one of the most enjoyable events since the opening of College in September. This reception was given in Southgate Hall. Although it was the first visit for some of the men to that region inhabited by TRINITY women, none of them acted like they were in a foreign field. Professors Spence and Cannon and their wives were present; therefore it may be taken for granted that there was much laughing and merry making. Miss Kennedy was also present, and from the manner in which she made everyone feel at home, no one would have ever guessed that she is the one who made ten-thirty famous.

After the new members were introduced, various games were played. These games brought to mind remembrances of the parties back home. The games were not stopped until someone espied a fair damsel enter the door with chocolate and salad. The birds have nothing on the way that these young people then mated. These refreshments were enjoyed very much and if reports are correct, there was little talk about China and Japan.

Co-eds and Dr. Welch's Speech Feature Meeting

On Friday night in the Craven Memorial Hall the largest mass meeting that ever assembled in Trinity College was featured with a talk by Dr. Welch, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and an old rival of William and Mary, who told the student body how to beat the opponent. He related some of his past experiences with Virginia teams while he was a gridiron star. He especially stressed the importance of the whole hearted support of the entire student body.

Tom Neal and Fritz Crute, of the TRINITY eleven, made short talks, the former appealing to the students to be courteous and polite to the visiting teams. Then followed a short talk by Professor Wilson, an old gridiron warrior, after which Henry Sprinkle and Herbert Herring lead some yells. At the close of the meeting the '25 girls, bedecked with garden caps typifying their freshness, marched on the stage and gave yells.

R. D. Ware representing the committee to choose a name for TRINITY'S athletic teams read a list of names chosen by the committee from which the students will elect one on the following mass meeting. The names are as follows: Catamounts, Blue Titans, Blue Eagles, Grizzlies, Badgers, and Dreadnoughts.

Debate Council Busy Arranging Program

At the last meeting of the Debate Council Professor R. L. Flowers was elected chairman and B. I. Satterfield secretary.

The discussion of debating Swath-borne, Richmond, and Emory was also brought up, but nothing definitely has been decided upon.

Wake Forest and Davidson wish to debate TRINITY this year but on account of having the program almost arranged, nothing definite can yet be said regarding a proposed triangle debate.

Professor Spence Speke to Ministerial Band

Professor Spence delivered one of the best addresses of the year at the regular meeting of the Ministerial Band Friday night. His subject was, The Preacher's Part of "P." Professor Spence divided his lecture into five subdivisions; the Purpose and Passion. "A preacher is either attractive or repulsive," was one of the truths that Professor Spence spoke to the young ministers.

The new members, as well as the old, are exhibiting considerable interest in the work of Band. The meeting Friday night was well attended.

Professor R. L. Flowers left recently for New York City. He will probably be gone ten days. During his absence his classes will be met by Professors Markham and Patterson.

Ray J. Tyson, '21, last year business manager of the CHRONICLE, spent the week-end visiting friends in Durham and on the campus.

Head of Department Announces Rules Adopted by Committee Exemptions May Be Had
gram Given. Number Impromptu

1. Class for the first term will start on Monday October 10, 1921 and end on Wednesday January 12, 1922.
Classes for the second term will start on Monday February 28, 1922 and end on Wednesday May 10.

2. There shall be three periods on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday of each week; the first period commencing at 2 p. m., the second period commencing at 3 p. m., and the third period commencing at 4 p. m.

3. All students should present themselves in a gymnasium suit and rubber soled shoes. (White running pants and athletic shirts may be purchased at the College Store).

4. Physical Training is compulsory for freshmen, sophomores and juniors. Failure to pass and course in these three years must be made up in order to graduate.
All aforementioned students must take
P. T. unless physically unable to do so, and who present satisfactory evidence from Dr. Speed, the College physician.
Other students presenting urgent reasons may be excused; only those who present a petition to Professor Webb or Wilson, of the faculty athletic committee, and whose petition is acted on favorably, may be excused from P. T. All petitions must be presented by Friday night October 14, at 6 o'clock.

5. Each student enrolled in this course must attend two regularly assigned supervised physical training classes, each week, and must spend one hour a week in recreational exercise. This recreational exercise must be taken purely for the sake of exercise, and shall include any form of athletic or gymnasium work. Blanks are provided for reporting this recreation and must be filled out and deposited in the P. T. box at the gymnasium by Saturday night of the week during which the exercise is taken. Reports handed in afterwards will receive no recognition (See back of the recreational report blank for information regarding exercise which will be acceptable).

6. A Student having more than two cuts to his credit at the close of the semester will fail in the course. All unexcused absences will be recorded in the Dean's office. Failure to participate in the recreational hour will necessitate a cut being recorded in the Dean's office, as well as on the P. T. record. Excused or unexcused absences must be made up.
Cuts recorded at the Dean's office cannot be taken off the record even though they are made up on the P. T. record.
Such cuts will be added in the grand total of academic cuts, the same as cuts of any other department. Opportunity to make up absences will be given on October 26, November 30, December 14, 1921, and on January 18, 1922 for the first term; on Feb. 15, March 29, April 26, and May 10, 1922, for the second term. On each of these dates two periods may be made up, one period commencing at 3 P. M. and the other at 4 P. M. Recreational cuts must be made up in the same manner as regular class cuts. At one other time shall absence be made up except by special arrangements with instructor. (The arrangements must be made prior to the make-up day of the month during which the absences occurred), and under no circumstances may absences be made up in the regular class period. Excused absences which are not made up will count as cuts on the P. T. books, when the marks are out at the close of the term.

7. A candidate for any varsity team must report to Mr. Baldwin and have his name put on the candidate's list.
Such candidate may be excused from P.
T. provided he attends varsity practice regularly and reports his attendance each time to the varsity manager of the respective sport. If such candidate is dropped from the squad, or retires voluntarily, he must report again, at once, in the gymnasium at his regular assigned P. T. class hour. Failure to comply with these regulations will result in cuts being recorded.

8. A member of the varsity football squad at the close of the season will be given credit for the first term provided he has been a candidate for the team during the entire season and has been regular in attendance.

NOTE: Each student is advised to take as few cuts as possible and when cuts are taken to take advantage of the make-up periods at the close of the month. Do not wait until January to make up cuts taken in November and

The library of Edwards descended to his heir, Hawkins, who added to it from time to time, particularly through the addition of valuable items on the history of transportation and railways in North Carolina.

Mr. Hawkins died last December and Prof. Boyd heard that the library was for sale. Mr. J. P. Breedlove, the librarian of TRINITY College at once went on a scouting expedition which resulted in Messrs. Boyd Breedlove and Dr. R. G. Adams of the Department of History spending several days at Ridgway, sorting, bargaining and packing.

The collection is undoubtedly one of the richest in the State and there has been nothing like it at TRINITY since Dr. J. S. Bassett got the Cligman library, years ago. There are early sets of North Carolina and Virginia Laws, Legislative Records and Records of various constitutional conventions. Many early U. S. Government Journals of Congress, standard writings like those of Jefferson and Madison in rare and now almost priceless editions; first editions of standard biographies like Wirt's Life of Patrick Henry; a complete set of the American State Papers dating from the foundation of the Republic; Almon's Parliamentary Register, which is a kind of an English Congressional Record for the period of the Revolutionary War and after.

Dr. Boyd's activity in securing this library illustrates what can be done to preserve the sadly wasted relics of the past in North Carolina. Collections of this sort when brought to TRINITY College constitute a real asset to the State for they make possible the kind of work which modern historians demand. TRINITY'S reputation outside the State has grown from the kind of work that has been made possible by Drs. Bassett and Boyd in getting together and using such books.

In doubt about your record or the regulations governing credit for physical training, you are urged to consult with the department.
