MEN REPRESENTING COLLEGES, MILITARY ORGANIZATIONS, Y. M. C. A.'S, AND PREP SCHOOLS WILL CONTEST IN GREAT WAREHOUSE FOR INDOOR TRACK HONORS

GOVERNOR MORRISON WILL BE ON HAND AT THE MEET

MOST STUPENDOUS REVIVAL

All Colleges of State and Many Organizations Will be Represented at Meet Where Valuable Awards Will Go to the Victors

With the basketball season over and baseball not yet here, all North Carolina is looking forward to the first State Indoor Athletic Championship Meet with an interest which rivals such events as championship games and State track meets, and when the gates of the Star Brick Warehouse are opened on Friday night thousands of spectators from all parts of the State will pour in to see the inauguration of this annual contest.

Three days from today Trinity will be among the college teams represented, and indications are that its team will make one of the prominent places.

The idea of holding such a meet in Durham originated with Coach Bob Petzer of the University of North Carolina, and his suggestion met with the approval of the coaching authorities of Trinity College and the Durham Y. M. C. A., who agreed to back the affair financially. Interest in the movement grew, and the contest as now scheduled will include events for colleges, Y. M. C. A. teams, Military units, High, Preparatory, and Elementary Schools, as well as events for Industrial and Freshmen teams. The work of organizing the meet has been in the hands of an executive committee composed of Bob Petzer, Herman Steiner, and M. R. Clark, physical director of the Durham Y., who have been conducting preparations for over three weeks.

The Star Brick Warehouse will be the scene of action. The location of Durham together with the desirability of the warehouse assures the success of the Trinity's debating team composed of N. M. West, of Cornell, and J. H. Small Jr. of Washington, will meet the strong debating team of New York University April 5, in Craven Memorial Hall. This marks the beginning of a series of debates to be held between the two institutions. New York University comes backed by a good record and should prove the strongest opponent that Trinity has met so far this year. Trinity has an enviable record behind her, having won sixteen out of the last twenty teams in this section of the country. Two debates and defeated the strongest. With such records behind these two teams, this debate will be the most important debate of the season. The query of the debate is, Resolved: "That the principle of the closed shop should be retained in American industry."

The occurrence of this debate will be in keeping with Trinity's policy to extend her collegiate activities to northern colleges and Universities. New York University's base ball team was defeated by the Trinity nine last year in a series of games played at both institutions. Trinity also tied the strong

Coach Steiner Has Selected Contestants Who Will Wrestle for the Prizes to be Given by Durham Citizens

A wealth of material was displayed by the Trinity men when the try-out for the coming Indoor Meet was held in the Star Brick Warehouse on Monday night and the team selected constitute one of the strongest aggregations ever seen at Trinity. The large number of freshmen out was one of the signs of the rising spirit of track work.

Coach Steiner, who has been in charge of the training for the meet, and Track Manager L. L. Rose state that everything is in readiness for the State Meet on Friday. The fact that the Trinity team held its preliminary in the Star Brick Warehouse enabled the competing men to get acquainted with the floor, and places the Trinity men on a slight advantage. Students of the Department of Engineering at Carolina assisted by Trinity men will work on the floor marking out the beginning and ending of each event, so that it may be conducted as efficiently as possible, thus maintaining a continued interest on the part of the spectators.

Governor Cameron Morrison, invited to participate as one of the honorary officials has returned from New York and will be on hand during the meet. In addition to Gov. Morrison a committee on games, composed of the presidents of the competing colleges, together with Superintendent E. C. Brooks and other prominent men will be on hand. Cap Card has been chosen as track judge, and Coach Baldwin will be the head timer.

Entries for the Trinity team were made on Tuesday morning, and the men selected were: 50-yard dash: Long, Dasher, Adams, Whitehurst, Pinnix, Heffner, Scott, Leak, Rose, Thompson, Barnhart, Stephens, Harrison, Bridges, Farmer, Cabe, and Teague.

440-yard dash: Pinnix, Scott, L. L. Bridges, Harrison, Heffner.

Half mile run: Harrison, Stephens, Leak, Haddock, Long, Dasher, Teague, Mile run: Shuster, Cabe, Crawford, Heffner, Bolick, Tripp.

Shot put: Barrett and Blades.

Broad jump: J. D. Johnson, Phillips, Jordan.

High Jump: Shankle, Britt, Swarrington.

Southgate Freshmen Give Stunt for Class of 1924

Stunts by members of the various classes are features of the spring program of the Women's Student Government Association. The first of these stunts was given by the class of 1925 in the Southgate auditorium Saturday evening. The Freshmen gave the stunt in honor of the class of '24. The stage represented a witch's den, with Louise Colbert, as the witch, presiding. Frances Solfield called the roll of the Sophomore class, and as each girl's name was called, the Freshman who represented her appeared on the stage, appropriately costumed, and prophesied the Sophomore's future. The representations were clever and amusing, and the Freshman stunt was a decided success.

RICHARDSON PLAYS GOOD GAME

Methodists Outplayed Opponents in Every Department of Game and Tied up the Series

Displaying the most brilliant offensive and the most aggressive and determined defense of their season, the Trinity quint took the second game of the series with Durham Y. M. C. A. last Saturday night on the Y. floor by the score of 37-26.

Perhaps no game yet played this season has caused so much surprise among basketball fans. The victory was well earned, however, and despite the tie score at the end of the first half, it was evident from the very beginning that the Methodists were producing the faster play. Coach Baldwin's system, which through varying vicissitudes of fortune has met with only mediocre success this season, was seen at its best, and all who saw the game were impressed with the efficiency of the collegians in every department of the game. During the first half there was some inaccuracy in shooting, but this was overcome in the second half, and throughout the game the dribbling, guarding, and especially the passing of the Methodists won the praise of every critic.

Every man on the Trinity team played brilliant ball, and the victory was not due to any individual starring. Captain Richardson played probably the best game of his basketball career, leading the field in scoring field goals. His ability to get the tip from Knight, the Durham center, helped the Methodists to keep possession of the ball most of the time. Pennington maintained his high standard of defensive work and again held Mangum practically helpless, allowing him only two field goals both of which were long shots. Simpson and Spikes shot three goals each and exhibited a world of speed and fight, the dribbling and deceptive passes of the forward line. Neal played an excellent game, and the speed of the latter featuring the game. Neal played an excellent defensive game in the back court and also got away with two field goals. The best work of Neal came in getting the ball on the rebound from the back board. Hefflin made the best showing for the Y. M. C. A., scoring three field goals and doing good defensive work.

Despite the many fouls called on both teams, the game was one of the cleanest of the season. Mangum basketed 14 out of 24 chances from the foul line. Spikes shot fouls for Trinity the first half and made good 6 out of 9. Simpson in the second half shot 5 out of 7.

College Day Program was Carried Out on Saturday

The Durham branch of the American Association of Collegiate Alumnae gave its annual College Day program Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the auditorium of Southgate Hall. The senior high school girls of Durham and their mothers were guests of the Association on this occasion. The feature of the afternoon's program was an address on "Why Go to College," by Dr. Della Dixon Carroll, of Raleigh. The program was enlivened with mirth-provoking stunts by representatives of the Athena Literary Society, Brooks Literary Society, Delta Phi Epsilon and the Women's Glee Club, and music by the Trinity Quartet.

At the conclusion of the program, an informal reception was held in the parlors of Southgate.

Perry and McDonald Made Stellar Performance for Champions Who Were Forced to Fight

Carolina defeated Trinity Tuesday night in the last basketball game of the season, and in what will probably go down in history as the last game of importance to be played in the Angier Duke Gymnasium, the score being 29 to 23. The Trinity aggregation gave the champions the South one of the hardest fought battles they've had this year, and their victory is due to the fact that Carolina was just a little better than Trinity when it came to shooting goals from the field.

Over an hour ahead of the time scheduled for the beginning of the game the Angier Duke Gymnasium was filled by a crowd eager to see the recent victors over the Durham Y. meet the strong University team, champions of North Carolina and the South for the year 1922, in the last collegiate game in the State for this season.

Two foul shots by Cartwright Carmichael and a field goal by Monk McDonald gave Carolina four points before Trinity got started. During the first few minutes Trinity was constantly shooting at the Carolina basket, but many shots were missed before Spikes scored the first goal for Trinity. A foul and a pretty goal by Neal brought Trinity to the lead for the first time. Simpson then caged a long shot from over half the court, giving Trinity seven points. At this juncture Carolina tied the score, and the fight to break the first tie furnished the spectators with the most intense and desperate point of the game. Finally the tie was broken by a foul shot by C. Carmichael, then Simpson shot a foul and the score was tied again at 8-8. Perry's field goal and one by Simpson brought the score

The eleventh annual conference of the North Carolina Student Volunteer Union which was held in Greensboro, North Carolina, on March 3-4-5, and was attended by over 200 delegates from twenty-six colleges of the State. The delegates were entertained jointly by the North Carolina College for Women, Greensboro College for Women, and a few families of Greensboro in a most hospitable manner. Samuel Maxwell, President of the State Volunteer Union, presided over all the meetings, some of which were open to all who wished to attend, others of which were limited to the delegates. This delegation was composed of Volunteers for foreign missionary work, foreign students attending colleges in North Carolina, and many students who were as yet undecided as to what their life work should be.

The delegates registered on Friday afternoon at the administration building of the North Carolina College for Women, and were conducted from there to their respective abodes by the Boy Scouts of the Gate City. The first service was a prayer service held at 5:30 Friday

"NUMSKULL" ELEVEN IS VICTORIOUS IN BATTLE WITH "BONEHEAD" TEAM

FIRST GRIDIRON BATTLE OF NEW YEAR MARKS END OF SPRING

CONQUERED HERO HATCHER STAR

Touchdowns by Barrett, Huckabee, and English Gave Victory to Captain Weaver's Team

In a football game marked from beginning to end by mid-season form the "Conquering Bonehead Heroes" went down in defeat before the "Numskull Eleven" on Hanes Field Monday afternoon by a score of 28-0. The game started with a rush and both teams kept at top speed during the first quarter which ended with the "Numskulls" within 8 yards of their goal. At the beginning of the second quarter M. Barrett plunged through the line scoring the first touchdown in 1922. Weaver kicked the goal. Within a minute or two Huckabee recovered a fumble and scored another one, and Weaver added another point with his toe. "M." was not satisfied with scoring only one time during the quarter and again ploughed through the line for his second touchdown. The half ended with the score 21-0 but "Doggie" Hatcher, "Chief Numskull," was not discouraged.

The third quarter opened and closed the same way, very slowly. Neither team scored but the "Heroes" seemed to be trying to stage a proverbial Trinity second-half comeback, but all in vain. The fourth quarter began as if there would be nothing more sensational during the game, but "Abe" English intercepted a forward pass near the close of the game and dashed 55 yards for a touchdown. This was the straw that always does the backbreaking and "Doggie" uttered no more his words of encouragement, "don't get discouraged, men."

first one and then the other team leading by a few points. At the end of the half the score was 14-14. Simpson opened the second half with two field goals in quick succession, but goals by Mangum and Heffin together with two foul shots gave the Y. a two point lead. From this time to the end of the game, however, the Methodists had everything their way and the Durham quint was unable to score another goal from the floor. In the final minutes Knight was removed for personal fouls, and Pennington soon followed. Harris took Knight's place for the Y. M. C. A., and Brooks substituted for Pennington.

This was the first defeat that the Durham Y. has suffered at the hands of a college team this season. They have won both games with Carolina, the southern champions, by decisive scores, and defeated Elon who knocked Trinity out of the championship running early in the season. The association team claims the championship of the State, having lost only one other game, and for this reason the Trinity supporters were overjoyed at the outcome of the game. Many who saw the game went so far as to say that if Trinity could produce the style of game exhibited Saturday night, no team in the south could defeat her. At any rate, Trinity fans were given some hope for the battle with Carolina on Monday night.

The line-up and summary for the game follows:

Trinity	Durham Y.
Simpson	Starling
Spikes	Right field Mangum
Pennington	Center Heffin
	Left guard

Substitutes: Harris for Mangum. Mangum for Knight; Brooks for Pennington. Field goals: Starling 1, Mangum 2, Heffin 3; Pennington 1, Neal 2, Spikes 3, Simpson 3, Richardson 4. Foul shots: Mangum, 14 out of 24; Spikes, 6 out of 9; Simpson, 5 out of 7. Referee, W. Carmichael, Carolina.

The game the score shows that his efforts did not meet with success. Possibly he did not offer better mail service. Many spectators remarked that "Doggie, Jr." or "Puppy" would have been a scoring addition to the "Heroes" but Trinity students must have their mail regardless of victory. Hatcher, Sr. without a doubt played the best defensive game on the field. He was all over and around the line at all times.

English and Barrett were the ground gainers for the "Numskulls." Weaver kicked the goals unerring accuracy and also gained ground at times.

There were several pathetic features about the game just as there was during the Civil War. Blood brothers actually took opposite sides in the conflict. Friends were torn apart by the ruthless selections of Captains Hatcher and Weaver, and many seasons will no doubt vend their way into history before the rancor of this conflict dies down.

One of the primary objects of the game was to collect enough money to buy the gold footballs for the varsity team. "Cap" Carl appealed to the spectators between halves for aid, and just at this time "Cap" pulled one of the most diplomatic moves in his career. Realizing that few would contribute under usual circumstances, he made the circumstances unusual by sending several representatives from the "Shack" through the crowd and more than one man gave up his last cent because "Cap" used his head.

This game marks the close of the spring football practice. Coach Steiner has had his eyes on the men, and he will be able to start work early next fall with the knowledge of the capabilities of his men.

The gridiron appeared as it did during football season. The spectators were amazed to see the field well marked off and the line marker set up. Truly, the efficiency of the managerial staff was the feature of the game.

The line-up was as follows:

to a tie again at 10-10; then Simpson shot one foul goal, giving a momentary lead which was overcome by Sir Perry's long field goal, but Neal shot his second field goal and the half ended with the score 13-12 in favor of the Trinity team. The work of Jimmy Simpson and Tom Neal for Trinity were the features of the first half, while C. Carmichael and Perry showed up exceptionally well for Carolina.

The first part of the second half was a continuation of the tight struggle for a small lead, and only the last few minutes of the game did the Carolina quintet get its passing and shooting down well enough to get by the guarding of the Trinity men, winning the game by six points. The score was at a tie soon after the game started when Carmichael shot another foul, bringing the score up to 13-13; it was tied again at 16-16, and for the last time at 20-20. Carolina's stock went up in the last part of the game when Billy Carmichael, who had not scored during the first half of the game, shot two field goals, and Winston Green shot two more, bringing the final score to 22-23.

Cartwright Carmichael played an excellent game at center, making a 100 per cent record at foul shooting, in addition to scoring a basket from the field, bringing his contribution to the scoring up to 11 points. The entire team played smoothly, with Green and Perry leading in the scoring of field goals, with three apiece.

Jimmy Simpson, although closely guarded, netted three field goals and ended a total of 7 out of 9 foul shots. Neal and Spikes did the rest of the scoring, but Pennington and Richardson played good ball all the way through. Pennington was put out of the game for personal fouls and Brooks substituted for the first five minutes of the game. Carolina won a just victory, and there is no flaw to her title to the championship of the State, having won every game played with North Carolina colleges. The victory of Carolina last night required every ounce of energy possessed by the University team, and the Trinity team displayed a high type of basketball ability.

afternoon in the Adolphus Society Hall. From there the delegates were taken to the N. C. C. W. dining hall where a warm welcome and a warm dinner awaited them. That night the first regular session of the conference was opened by short addresses of welcome from Dean W. C. Jackson, professor of history at N. C. C. W. S. B. Turrentine, president of Greensboro College for Women, and Reverend H. C. Sprinkle, representing the various churches of the city. Professor H. E. Spencer, of Trinity College, delivered the main address of the evening, taking for his subject, "The Coming of The Day of The Lord." The leading thought of the address was an appeal for "the evangelization of the world in this generation."

The Saturday morning session began at 9:00 with a prayer service, and after a brief intermission Dr. P. C. Du Bois, a foreign missionary on leave from Korea, made a stirring appeal for the salvation of Korea and her release from the domination of Japan. For lunch, the delegates were sent to Y. W. C. A. but where the combined volunteer bands of Greensboro College and the State Normal feed the visitors with a hand-out lunch. On Saturday afternoon the business of the State Union was transacted, suggestions were made as to how the local volunteer unions might produce better results, and the officers were elected for the coming year. The editor of The Volunteer, a publication of the State Union, will be located at Trinity next year.

J. D. Stott, of Trinity, and Miriam Goodwin, of N. C. C. W., gave reports of the national council meeting held at Yonkers, New York, on February 24 to 26. Miss Beatrice Seagsworth, a secretary from the national headquarters at New York outlined plans for future work of the volunteer bands in the various colleges.

A program, "Two Masters," was presented by the Meridith Band Sunday evening at 7:30 to which the entire college community was invited. This was followed by a social hour in which the delegates were the guests of the Y. W. C. A. cabinets of the two Greensboro Colleges. Stunts were given by the girls from Greensboro College for Women in the Y. W. C. A. hut of N. C. C. W.; the hostess were dressed in Japanese costumes, and likewise the hut was decorated in Japanese fashion.

The Sunday session began at 9:00 in the morning with a prayer service led by Professor C. L. Hornaday, of Trinity College, after which the delegates were given an opportunity to attend the various churches of the city, while some of the more experienced delegates filled city pulpits. Sunday afternoon was given over talks by the foreign students of the conference who had had personal experience in various mission fields. The assembly was then addressed by Dr. R. H. Bennett, of the Methodist Board of Mission at Nashville Tennessee, who appealed to the students to use common sense in choosing their life work, and to do away with the silly ideas common to the modern youth. After this address the delegates were given an opportunity to ask any questions or to discuss any problems in an informal manner with the two secretaries from headquarters.

Bland Roberts, one of the National secretaries of the volunteer movement, spoke at the evening vesper service to open meeting of the conference. The final session was limited to the delegates, and was given over to an informal discussion of the plans for the future, testimonies from volunteers and non-volunteers, and the closing of the conference.

A great deal of college spirit was manifested from time to time by the delegates of the various colleges. Colleges yells and songs were given with enthusiastic rivalry. The delegates were given the right-of-way on the college campus with instructions of smile and speak to any one they wished.

The following Trinity students attended the Volunteer Conference which met in Greensboro March 3 to 6th. H. R. Deal, Hortense Bridges, M. T. Hippy, C. H. King, W. A. Kale, W. R. Kelley, Emily Mathews, Lota Leigh Draughan, W. L. Clegg, Sue Sawyer, Blanch Barger, Idalone Gullege, Elizabeth Moore, Dorothy Knapp, Samuel A. Maxwell, Sophia Rynaud, J. D. Secret, F. J. ATHLETICS OF MODERN DAY AND OF GREEKS SUBJECT A LECTURE BY DR. GILBERT

Difference in Greek and American Athletics Presented in an Illustrated Lecture

At the meeting of the Classical Club on Feb. 23, Dr. A. H. Gilbert gave an interesting and instructive lecture on "Athletics, Greek and Modern."

Dr. Gilbert showed that the Greeks, in their appreciation for a beautiful physique, stressed an all-round development of the entire body. At first, the entire citizenship took an active interest in athletics. But, the speaker showed, with Athens as an example, athletics soon became professional and commercialized to such an extent that only a few really took part, while the easy and leisure-loving crowd were content to look on. Even then, they considered athletic contests not so much a display of fine physiques as a contest for a prize for the sake of honor.

The speaker then made a well-defined comparison between this condition and that existing today, especially in American colleges. He humorously paraphrased a popular saying of Euripides concerning the honor of the city somewhat as follows: "Honor of the college goeth not to him who hath defended it in forensic contests or upheld its standards of scholarship, but to him who hath thrown well the ball or smitten it well with the bat."

An interesting series of pictures had been collected by the speaker, showing the physical characteristics of Greek athletes who took part in running, wrestling, discus-throwing, boxing, javelin-throwing, and the like. These were compared with some photographs of modern athletes.

Next Thursday night, March 9, W. B. Leake will read a paper on Xenophon.

Paper on Howells Read by John Small at Last Sigma Upsilon Meeting

A careful study of the life and works of William Dean Howells presented by John B. Small, Jr., furnished the regular program of the meeting of the Fortnightly Club of Sigma Upsilon at its last meeting on Friday night. The paper on Howells was preceded by "A Twelve-hour Masquerade" after Lambie, one of John Small's recent articles, dealing in satire with all the tools of the present day, and international array of others, with all their characteristics including DeValera, D'Annunzio, Dr. Crane, Borah, Tom Watson, Shaw, which place them in the category of fools.

William Dean Howells was presented as the Father of Realism, but this realism was different from the Present which deals with the sordid and vulgar elements of life, while Howells' realism is characterized by truth and its commonplace qualities. Tolstoy was a great influence on Howells, but he did not completely come under his subjection. From the publication of his first poem in 1859 to the printing of his last novel in 1916, Howells wrote an enormous quantity of different productions, covering diverse fields ranging from newspaper work to the writing of novels of Italian life.

Howells was a self-educated man, born in Ohio, where he got his start in news paper work, which led him to aiding Lincoln during his campaign with the result that he was rewarded with a consulship in Venice which he held during the period of the Civil War. He came to the United States, and became assistant editor of the Atlantic Monthly and for ten years as editor of it. His last years were spent as editor of Harper's Easy Chair department, where he put in a period replete with activity until his death in 1920.

The last years of Howells' life were by no means spent only in novel writing for he wrote some verse and many sketches, which are characterized by their quantity, variety, and diversity.

Both papers presented were discussed informally by the members while refreshments were served.

TRINITY LOST TO STATE COLLEGE A HARD FOUGHT GAME HERE ON THURSDAY

STATE COLLEGE WINS GAME BY ABILITY TO SHOOT GOALS
FROM FIELD

LEEPER BIG FACTOR FOR STATE

Score Continually Tied Throughout
Contest, But State Gets Five
Point Lead—Simpson Star

In what was perhaps the fastest and best played basketball game seen on the home court this season, the State College quint defeated Trinity for the first time in three years last Thursday by the score of 28-23.

The game started in a fast fashion and continued at a lightning rate of speed throughout the entire contest. Time after time the score was tied, and with both teams fighting hard for every point, the final result was not determined until the last whistle sounded.

Throughout the contest, Trinity outpassed and outgarded its opponents but in shooting goals the home team was distinctly outclassed and this factor brought victory to State.

Simpson played the best game for Trinity and exhibited the best floor work of the game; while Leeper at center for State was the individual star for the visiting aggregation. He shot some of the prettiest goals ever seen on the local floor, time after time caging the ball from over half the length of the floor.

Line-up and summary: Trinity, Simpson r. f. (6), Spikes l. f. (9) Richardson c. (2), Pennington r. g. (4), Neal l. g. (2). State, Johnson, r. f. (4), Groome l. f. (4), Leeper c. (12), Parks r. g. (8), Homewood l. g. Referee Stuart of Greensboro "Y."

WORK OF PASTOR SUBJECT OF SPEECH BY DR. PEELE BEFORE Y. M. C. A. MEETING

First of Vocational Lectures Begun by Raleigh Pastor—Others to Follow Weekly

"The pastor should be an educational leader in his community," said Reverend W. W. Peele, pastor of the Eden-ton Street Church, Raleigh, in a vocational lecture delivered at the Y. M. C. A. on the evening of March 1. Reverend Peele chose for his subject, "The work of Pastors and Teachers," and in his address he outlined the duties and necessary qualifications of a preacher and a teacher. "In the ideal teacher there should be the intellectual qualifications of a teacher and the heart of a shepherd. The pastor should be an able organizer and leader, so that he might direct each distinct organization under him in whatever field necessary, rather than do the work himself."

Reverend Mr. Peele divided the duties of the pastor into three programs, namely, the program of maintenance by which the pastor assigned the organizations of the church their distinct work, the program of teaching which should be under the management of an educational director, and a program which will give the congregation the power to express itself on any business pertaining to the church. The speaker likewise suggested that the pastor outline his sermons for at least six months in advance.

Preaching as a profession was portrayed by Reverend Mr. Peele in a vivid manner under the following heads: (1) The theme of the preacher, (2) the manner of a preacher, and (3) the object of preaching. "Preach Christ,—that's what the people want," he said. "The preacher must visit those in need before he can really appreciate the deep notes of the Holy Bible."

This lecture was the first in a series of vocational addresses to be given at Trinity College from time to time this spring under the auspices of the Trinity Y. M. C. A. Reverend Mr. Peele is a graduate of Trinity College in the class of '03. He was for a time Professor of Biblical Literature at Trinity College, and is now a Trustee of the college.

FINAL PREPARATIONS ARE RAPIDLY COMPLETED FOR FIRST INDOOR TRACK MEET

Indoor Meet, and it is expected that a crowd as large as the average crowd which visited the Shriners' Exposition held in the same place during the Christmas holidays, will be on hand. Large delegations of students from Wake Forest State, and Carolina together with the Trinity student body will fill part of the grandstands which have been brought from Chapel Hill for the occasion.

To increase interest in the contest and to reward the victors, gold, silver, and bronze medals will be awarded to the winners of the first three places and the Chamber of Commerce will award a silver trophy cup to the college winning the greatest number of points, the Rotary Club will give a similar cup to the winning High or Prep School, the Kiwanis Club will award another cup to the winner in the Y. M. C. A. events, while the Merchants Association will give a cup to the winning Military Unit. Besides co-operating in the matter of donating these cups, the various organizations of Durham business men have provided for band music and social events after the holding of the meet.

Promptly at 7 o'clock on Friday night the meet will begin when J. W. Mulligan, nationally known track meet starter, will call the first event, and from then on it will be a tense contest until the end of the last event of each class. All of the men's colleges with the exception of Davidson will be represented in addition to a number of high school, industrial Y. M. C. A. and industrial teams, thus bringing the total of individual man competing up to nearly 400, according to Mr. Clark, who is in general charge of the Durham end of the preparations.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by the crack R. O. T. C. band of State College and a local orchestra. Every detail has been arranged so that there will not be any waste of time between the various events, thus increasing the excitement of the various relays, dashes, field, and weight events.

TRINITY WRESTLING TEAM UNSUCCESSFULLY MET THE LEADING VIRGINIA TEAMS

Midgett and Hardaway Feature in Wrestling Bouts with W. and L., V. M. I. and U. of Va.

The Trinity wrestling team returned from its Virginia trip last Thursday afternoon after having lost in creditable matches with the more experienced teams of Washington & Lee, Virginia Military Institute, and the University of Virginia. Bill Bailey, who is coach and captain of the first team, Trinity has ever produced in this sport, expressed great satisfaction at the showing made by his men. The Methodist wrestlers had been instructed under the rules governing professional wrestling, and found themselves under quite a handicap with many locks and holds barred. They had also been taught to work from the bottom until they could obtain a fall, and consequently lost most of their bouts on points when opponents eluded them until the nine minutes were up after having been on top for a minute or more longer than the Trinity men.

Bailey himself lost at Washington and Lee on points. Midgett, who was forced to wrestle in two weights because of Lilley's inability to take the trip, led in point getting, never failing to turn in a win.

The Washington and Lee Match

At Washington and Lee on February 27, the Methodists lost by the most one-sided score, 24-5. Here Midgett alone won his match, coming out from under his man for a clean fall with only about 25 seconds to go. Hardaway, Bailey, and Merritt lost on points, while Midgett lost the light-heavyweight bout in a fall and Taylor did likewise against a heavier man in the heavy weight bout.

The V. M. I. Match

Only six bouts were staged at V. M. I., four going to the cadets, and two to the Trinity men, for a score of 20-10. Hardaway was thrown for the first time this season. Bailey met a man who had not been thrown for four years of inter-collegiate wrestling and pinned him in two minutes. Merritt, Pickett, and Taylor were thrown, but Midgett won his bout after wrestling nearly eight minutes for the most part on the bottom.

The University of Virginia Match

The closest match on the trip was lost to Virginia on February 29 by a score of 16-11. Hardaway pinned his man in about six minutes. Bailey was forced to wrestle the whole period but won on points. Pickett and Taylor were thrown by their men, Taylor being outweighed by over twenty pounds. Merritt and Midgett lost bouts on points, but Midgett in his second match turned in a victory on points with one second to spare.

The Trinity team was composed of the following men: Feather-weight, Hardaway, 119 pounds; Bantam-weight, Bailey, 128 pounds; Light-weight, Merritt, 138 pounds; Welter-weight, Pickett, 144 pounds; Middle-weight, Midgett, 158 pounds; Light heavy-weight, Lilley, 164 pounds (unable to go on trip); Heavy-weight, Taylor, 170 pounds.

It is hoped that matches with either Wake Forest or Guilford or both may be arranged so that the team may have an opportunity to show its ability before a home crowd.

Short Speeches Feature Brooks Society Meeting

The Brooks Literary Society held its regular meeting Monday afternoon. In the absence of the president, Edna Beasley, the vice-president, Louise Berry, presided over the meeting. The program for the afternoon was cut short on account of the illness of a number of the members who had parts on the program. The numbers given were very interesting, however. They included: Anonymous, a reading by Georgia Alviant; 'The Island of Yap,' a discussion by Genevieve Myer; 'The Relation of Furniture to Your House,' an impromptu discussion by Nora Chaffin; and 'What Shall Congress do about the Soldier Bonus,' by Elizabeth Walker.

Kelly Elmore Selected President of Columbia

Officers for the next quarter were elected at the meeting of Columbia on last Saturday night. It was an unusual election because every officer was elected by acclamation. Kelly L. Elmore of Lovell, was elected president, W. R. Harris, vice president, C. H. Smith, recording secretary, W. Q. Grigg, treasurer, and J. B. Harris, Marshall, R. D. Ware was elected chairman of the executive committee and Overton, Reese, Satterfield, Dennis and Dulin will compose the business committee. These officers were not installed at this meeting because of the game with the Y. M. C. A. but the installation will take place at the next meeting.

W. Q. Grigg was elected chief marshal for commencement.

An Irishman was sitting in a station smoking when a woman came in and, sitting beside him, remarked: 'Sir if you were a gentleman, you would not smoke here.'

"Mum," he said, "if ye wuz a lady ye'd sit farther away."

Pretty soon the woman burst out again: "If you were my husband I'd give you poison."

"Well, mum," he returned, as he puffed away at his pipe, "if ye wuz my wife I'd take it."

"Among the recent visitors on the campus was Kornit Shorrill, a student at Trinity."—Maroon and Gold, Elon College.
