Heavy hitting, excellent base-running, good fielding, rid steady pitching characterised the playing of the ball club on its invasion of the Northern Universities which begau on April 23 wheat the team left for Richmod. From Richmond the team proceeded to College Park, Md., where Maryland State was defeated on Tucsday; New York was the next stop, and Fortham fell before our team on its grounds in the Bronx. The Trinity-Trinity game scheduled for Thursday could not be played on account of a misunderstanding on the part of the Trinity, Connecticut management, so the team stayed over at the Vanderbilt Hotel. Manager Banks carried his erew over to Kingston, R. L. Thursday night, and games were played on Friday and Saturday. While at Kingston the team was shown every sign of cordinality and desired and the stay of urany, wane at kingston the team was shown every sign of cordiality and de spite the cold weather a great time was shown the boys. Coming back South, the team was able to spend Sunday in New York and see a baseball game there before proceeding to Bethlehem where Lehigh was met on Monday.

MAY DAY REVELS POST-PONED TO SATURDAY AND MONDAY BY ARRANGEMENT

val on Saturday Night to Begin Revels—Coronation and Co-Ed Glee Club on Monday

Plans are now complete for the second annual celebration of May Day Revels. The Revels will embrace May 6th and 8th, beginning with the carnival in the 8th, beginning with the carnival in the Angier Duke gymnsium on the evening of May 6. The Coronation of the Queen with its attendant festivities will take place on the green in front of the East Duke building Monday afternoon at 5:30. The concluding event will be the concert by the Women's Glee Club in Craven Memorial Hall on the evening of the 8th.

Thelma Howell, who has charge of the carnival, announces that this event, which was very popular last year, will be on a much larger scale this year. Among the attractions will be two fortune telling the attractions will be two fortune telling hoots, a chamber of horrors; a Hall of Fame; and the "For Men Only" show. The headquarters of the Royal Order of Shifters, will occupy a prominent both. The ministred show, will be on a much larger scale. This feature of the carnival will be under the direction of Mattle Lou Russell. A Chinese laundry is an added attraction this year which will probably be one of the most successful features of the carnival. There will be the usual carnival refreshments hot dogs and red lemonade—in abundance.

Monday afternoon at 5:30 on the laws in front of East Duke building, Edna Beasley will be crowned Queen of the May. The procession including the Queen, maids of honor, members of the court, May pole dancers, etc., will form in the hall of the East Duke building,

STUDENT GOVERNMENT FOR TRINITY COLLEGE IS TO BE DETERMINED

PRESIDENTS OF FOUR CLASSES
ISSUED CALL FOR MASS
MEETING TUESDAY

ISSUE IN HANDS OF STUDENTS

Constitution Here Published for Use of Students in Determining Destinies of Plan

A mass meeting of the male students of the College in Craven Memorial Hall next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, called by the four Presidents of the College Classes for the purpose of considering and, if possible, adopting a definite plan of Student Government, promises to mark the beginning of a new era on the Trinity campus. The plan proposed is one worked out by committees appointed last year after the consideration of systems in ofther schools, of conditions peculiar to Trinity, and of suggestions from a co-operating committee from the faculty. While not perfect in every detail, the plan is given in full below, is considered to provide the best system obtainable at the present time, and has assurance of approval from the faculty. the faculty.

The need for Student Government has been long felt by both students and fac-ulty, and it is urged that every Trinity man be present at the meeting which is to consider the first tangible plan yet proposed. In case the system is adopted by a three-fourthe vote of the male students of the College, it is expected that it will be immediately established and prepared for operation at the opening of the next collegiate year.

The students are urged to read carefully the following constitution of the proposed Men's Association of Trinity College, and to come to the meeting Tuesday evening prepared to vote intelligently upon it.

Preamble

We, the male students of Trinity Col government in accordance with the pow-ers to be granted to a properly organized association of students by the authori-ties of Trinity College, and in order to support atthleties, fester literary endear-ors, encourage all other worthy student activities, and promote the best interests of the College and the Student Body; do establish this constitution.

Article I.
Section 1. The name of this organication shall be the Men's Association of Trinity College.

Article II.
Section 1. Every registered male student of Trinity College shall be a mem ber of this organization, with the right to hold office and to vote, and shall be under the jurisdiction of the Men's As-sociation as hereinafter provided.

Article III.

ATHENA DEFEATED BROOKS IN FIRST CO-ED INTER SOCIETY FORENSIC MEET

Athena Debaters Unanimously Won First Contest Between Two Wo-men's Literary Societies

The Athena Literary Society won by an unanimous decision the first inter-s iety debate to be given by the Women's Literary societies of Trinity college which was held in the auditorium of the Southgate Memorial Building, last even Southgate Memorial Building, last even-ing at 8 o'clock. The question for de-bate was: Resolved that the United Sta'es should take immediate steps to-ward granting independence to the Phil-ippine Island. The affirmative side of ippine Island. The affirmative side of the siccussion was upheld by the Brooks Literary Society, represented by Georgia Airheart '23, Elizabeth Walker, '22, and Annie Murniek '25. Athena Literary Literary Society, represented by Lilian Ramseur '22, Aura Holton '23, and Nancy Kirkman '25, had the negative side of the question. Both sides put up strong debates, and the rejoinders were quriticularly full of intense arguments. Miss Fronde Kenney, Dean of Women, presided at the debate. The judges were Miss Marguerite Herr, of the English department of the Durham High School; Mr. H. G. Hedrick, of the Trinity law department of the Durham High School; Mr. H. G. Hedrick, of the Trinity law faculty; and Mr. M. E. Newson. Miss Elizabeth Gray was timekeeper. Following the debate Miss Kennedy entertained the debaters, the members of the two women's literary societies, the officers of the Hesperian and Columbian societies, the inter-collegiate debaters, and the members of the faculty and their wives, at an informal recention in the outhgate parlors.

The debate represents a new activity for the women's organizations of Trin-ity, this being their first inter-society de-bate. It is hoped that they may be as successful in this line as their brothers

Well, anyhow the next editor of the Chronicle will be a preacher's son.

Apparently the only way the Pan-Hel-lenic Council can show itself as being a live body is by changing its mind at least every two years.

The men are following the lead of the girls in student government and dra-matics, while the girls take up horse-shoe pitching and debating. After all co-education must have some advantages.

Now that Evolution is being widely discussed will some student of the sub-ject figure out how long before Trinity will have a publication fee or a general activities fee, since we now have a $1 damage fee to start with?

Talking about congestion, just look at this week's schedule. Of course some-thing had to be ''put on' 'to celebrate the homecoming of the victorious ball-players, but on top of that the girls de-cided to ''pull off'' something just to annee Sp'rinké and his buddies who en-joy that kind of entertainment.

SCHOLARSHIP, ACTIVITIES, AND CO-OPERATION

Trinity College is only one of many educational institutions in America which is coping with the problem of returning to normal conditions and of bettering its scholarship standards. The feeling that the college student of 1922 is not doing as much scholastic work as the average college man of 1914 is doubtless correct, and all efforts to overcome the influences of the war, of the jazz age, and of other circumstances deserve the co-operation of all parties concerned.

Another phase of the effort to raise scholarship is the movement to have college honors and offices distributed so that no student shall be overburdened with college, activities. The general sentiment throughout the colleges is that certain men often undertake too much outside work, resulting in low scholarship and neglect of other duties. This situation exists right here at Truity College. Any-one who reads the honor list of promi-nent students will realize the truth of this statement.

in various ways. In many colleges in-stead of making a careful study of the question, the entrance and graduation re-quirements have been raised by the col-lege officials and the applicants for en-trance or for degrees must come up to certain levels or be automatically elimianded.

In other institutions the students themselves through their councils and organizations have met the sination and have adopted rational methods tending to raise the scholarship average of the entire col-lege. The Massachusetts Institute of Technology, better known as Boston Tech. Technology, better known as Bostom Tech, is the leader of this movement to dis-ribute college activities, having placed unit values on the different college func-tions and limited each student to parti-tions and limited each student to parti-ipation in any amount equal to ten units. Each activity has its index-value in pro-portion to its importance and amount of work required. Each student may undertake as many activities as possible within the ten unit limit, and after that he may not accept further burdons. In undertake as many activities as possible within the ten unit limit, and after that he may not accept further burdens. In this way the work of carying on the college activities is automatically distributed without any resort to the "give and take" methods found in other colleges, and a better degree of scholastic work is accomplished.

At Trinity the question has been dealt with from above, while students learn of the new regulations in the new catalogue or in reports read in chapel. The old maxim that the fewer regulations the better has apparently been discarded. The well-known saying that Trinity's main rule of conduct was to be a penticeman and attend classes has been emphasized by a code of rules which would do credit to the entalogue of a preparatory school.

school. The advisability of these new regu-lations will be tested out in the next year. The chances are that such rules would be more cheerfully respected and obeyed if the students had been con-sulted in some way and suggestions look-ing forward to the betterment of scholar-ship and the distribution of athletics and to the activities had how made by these other activities had been made by them.

While the student finds many rulings
dealing with penalties in the catalogue, he finds that outside of the scholarship fraternities that is no incentive for ex-cellence of work. It is true that students are mentioned at commencement for cer-tain honors, but why not have honor rolls made up each semester or twice each semester? Why not mention perfect or excellent class attendance in some way? The value of the Greek-letter fraternities as assets to the college community might as assets to the college community might be increased by stirring up competition for scholarship cups based on the aver-ages of each chapter. Students are, after all, humans and it is natural that better results can be obtained by rewarding good service than by penalizing poor conduct.

NOT BE RETARDED

NOT BE RETARDED

The men of Trinity College have before them in this issue of the Cuncovicus a plan for studient government, modelled after considerable study and consideration by several committees which worked during the spring of 1921. Although this plan is not perfect, it is worthy of being accepted by all who desire to see Trinity among the leading colleges of the country in regards to self-control, student honor, and campus activities.

The prenosed plan does not give over

The proposed plan does not give over the absolute control of the discipline and other activities of the students into the hands of the men themselves, but it gives them powers exceedingly greater than any now possessed. After getting the organization well under way there will

Trinity students are already familiar

Trinity students are already familiar with many arguments on the subject, but the New Republic of May 3 expresses an opinion worth recording. It says: "Students are weaker than their instructors in point of technical knowledge, but their interests lie nearer the heart of the institution, and in ordinary life pertinence of interests goes far toward making amends for lack of experience. That holds of college life as well."

as much a part of Trinity as it is of West Point, V. M. I., and Washington West Point, V. M. I., and Washington and Lee, for instance. Besides that, it is needed right now on the Trinity campus to effect a regeneration in the college spirit and to create a higher sense of honor in the work of the classrooms and examination halls.

FORDHAM GAME

FORDHAM GAME

The Maroon of Fordham University was clearly outplayed by the Blue and White visitors from Durham in New York last Wednesday, and Trinity added another well-carned victory by the score of 8 to 6. "Terrific hitting" describes the work of the Trinity nine in this game as well as in the previous ones, and the fact that Fordham lost on account of six errors is a poor alibi.
The Trinity aggregation was led by J. D. Johnson when it came to hitting, followed by Charlie Smith, and Red Ormond, who both got two hits apiece, one less than Johnson. Ormond was caught at home trying to stretch a triple into a homerun, which he could have easily made had it not been for inuries to an ankle received in the Maryland game.
Sanderson did mound duty for Trini ty and although a trifle will he struck out to batsmen, but allowed nine bases on balls, and hit four men. Vanderback pitched the first six innings for Fordham, being replaced by White.
Trinity started secring in the first in ning, putting across two runs, followed by one in the second, three in the fifth,
and the decisive two runs in the sixth frame.

The game Friday was arranged after it was found impossible to meet Trinity,

Red Ormond knocked his third home Red Ormond knocked his third home run of the season in this game, and his other hit was for three bases. J. D. Johnson, and Neal garnered three hits apiece, and each included a three bagger; Dempster also secured three hits, and Spikes got himself a two-bagger.

Deal was in the form and pitched a steady game, striking out six men and walking only two. Rhode Island started off with Smith, but after being terrifically touched for six innings, Turner was sent in to pitch the other two innings of the game. The Trinity team secured 16 hits in 8 innings, good for 15 runs, while Rhode Island garnered ten hits off of Deal's delivery, scoring 7 runs.

SECOND RHODE ISLAND GAME SECOND RHODE ISLAND GAME
TO John Dempster, lett hand pitcher and heavy hitter for Trinity squad, goes most of the credit for the victory over Rhode Island State in the second game of the series, played last Saturday. The game was one of the fastest and best played by the club on the trip, and the score was 7 to 2. Dempster's record in the game shows that he struck out of men, walked none, got three hits out of five trips to the bat, one of them a two-bagger. two-bagger

two-bagge.

Trinity's squad showed several changes in the line-up, Ormond playing 2nd base, while Deal and Sanderson were put in the outfield. In spite of all this, the team played jam-up ball, making only three errors. The usual headeney toward heavy hitting was manifested, and of the 18 bits unde by the Trinity every, two of them were triples and fiye doubles. One of the features of this game was Charlie Smith's repetition of the freat made in the first game against Rhode Island when he stole three bases. Both teams did good fielding, only three errors being secored against each team.

LEHIGH GAME

Bethlehen, Penn, May 1.—Jim Bald-win who will coach Lehigh's football and baseball team next year brought his Trinity ball tossers to Taylor Field to-day and left defeated by the shut-out route 12 to 0.

This was the first defeat for Trinity on its Northern trip. Home run wallops by Turk Reed and Freddy Rogers aided by many errors on the part of the visi-tors briefly tells the story.

Tabor and Turrentine also won their Tabor and Turrentine also won their doubles match, although they were forced to play three sets, winning against Wilkinson and Cunningham. In spite of the fact that the two Trinity players had not practised together this spring, they showing was creditable, and the resulting score was 6.0, 4.6, 6.2.

In the singles matches, Bradley of Davidson manifested his ability as one of the leading players in North Caro-lina by defeating "Soner"? Powell in a hard fought match. Bradley's can-non-ball service was the best seen here so far.

Turrentine was also unsuccessful with Wilkinson, his opponent who won by the score of 6-3, 6-4.

NOT only music, but news, speeches, messages of every sort, are today being picked out of the air.

"How has this come about?" we ask.

The new impetus given to radio development may The new impetus given to radio development may be definitely associated with the development of the high power vacuum tube, for that made broadcasting possible. And the power tube originated from a piece of purely theoretical research, which had no connection with radio.

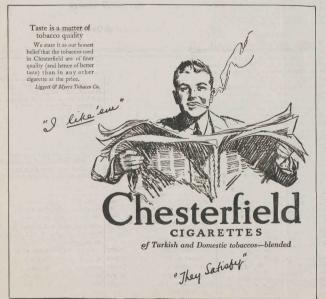

When a scientist in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company found that electric current could be made to pass through the highest possible vacuum and could be varied according to fixed laws, he established the principle of the power tube and laid the foundation for the "tron" group of devices

These devices magnify the tiny telephone currents produced by the voice and supply them to the antenna, which broadcasts the messages. At the receiving end, smaller "trons", in turn, magnify the otherwise imperceptible messages coming to them from the receiving antenna.

Great accomplishments are not picked out of the air. Generally, as in this case, they grow from one man's insatiable desire to find out the "how" of

Columbians Heard Number of Speeches Last Saturday

Orations and extempore speeches, together with a strong debate by four freshmen made the meeting of the Columbian Society last Saturday night one of the best of the year. R. D. Ware delivered an oration on The Dawn, traeing the developments of government for the past 2,000 years, all the way from the beginning to the rise of democracy,
B. I. Satterfield followed with a wellthought oration in The Question—What are we going to do with our heritage!
T. B. Bradley delivered Ingeredi's Oration at the grave of Napoteon as a declamation which was acclaimed by the judges as the best appearance of the eventing, K. L. Elmore winded up the orations with one on the Joy of Lising, emphasizing the value and joys of work as the basis of Hie.
Four freshmen delivered high-grade arguments on the question of teaching the Constitution of the Initial Series. Orations and extempore speeches, to Speeches by C. E. Jordan on the Olymvic Games, W. H. Lander on the Baseball Victories, W. Q. Grigg on How Spring Affects Me, and John Tabor on Tennis and Love added life to the program at its conclusion.

Coal Strike Situation is Discussed by Hesperians

Discussed by Hesperians
Orations delivered by C. E. Summers,
J. G. Penington, and C. B. Houck featured the regular meeting of the Hesperian Literary Society Saturday night, April 29. C. E. Summers spoke on the 'Enfranchisement of The Negro,' Taking a modern South Carolina attitude.
Summers brought our some interesting facts concerning the race question that we have to face today. Pennington spoke on the timely subject, ''Trinity's Dehating Situation'' and presented a plan for financing Trinity's inter-colegiate debates. Houk's cration was extempore and he treated ''On Leaving College'
in an interesting and effective manner.

erson of the affirmative.

The extempore speeches were especially good. Ricks spoke on, "Way Northern Pitchers Weep and Gnash Their Teeth?"
Dozier on, "The Dramatic Club Meeting," and Waggoner on "Why Trinity Should Have Student Government."
