Trinity's Touchdowns Came in Second and Last Quarters—Davidson
Repulsed on Trinity's
One-Yard Line

Unleashing the most dashing attack shown this year, the Trinity Blue Devils defeated the Davidson Wildcats in the first football encounter ever held between the two teams by a score of 12 to 0 before a crowd of over 4,000 spectators who packed Cone Park in Greensboro.

In the first few minutes of play the superiority of the Methodist aggregation was made apparent; for having received the ball on the kick-off they carried it down the field with straight rushes until they were within the shadow of the Davidson goal. Though the Wildcats held them here, the final outcome had been foreboded. After an exchange of punts, Trinity intercepted a pass and by the use of off-tackle plays and line-backs gradually worked the pigskin again into the enemy's territory. Here Quarterback Smith changed his tactics and instead of trying another line play, he sent Lagerstat around right end for a slanting yard gain. This placed the ball within scoring distance and within a few seconds after the second quarter opened, Smith carried the ball over on a line-back.

In the third quarter Davidson did its best playing of the game. Completing several long forward passes he carried the ball to within a few yards of the Trinity goal line. But there the Trinity line held invincible and threw back the best efforts of the Davidson backs to gain the few feet which would mean a touchdown. During this tense moment the Trinity stands were on their feet pleading with the team to hold, and when on the fourth down, the Trinity line held and threw back Davidson's best bet, Captain "Spratt" Moore for a loss, the game went wild.

Having stemmed the Davidson offensive, the Blue Devils began one of its own, and aided by several fresh players, Everett, Brown, and Bullock they gradually advanced towards their objective. They were checked, however, and Davidson began a counter march but this was stopped abruptly when Bullock leaped into the air and intercepted a forward pass. Again the march towards the Wildcat goal was undertaken and the pigskin was soon resting near the goal. With five yards to go on fourth down Smith called for drop-kick formation and Jimmy Simpson dropped out of line as if to try a kick for goal. However, when the ball was snapped, instead of kicking, he hurled a long pass to Tom Neal who was within a few feet of the goal line and another touchdown was scored. A few minutes later the game ended.

Lagerstat and Simpson did the stellar work for Trinity on the offensive, Simpson opening holes and Lagerstat driving through for repeated gains. On the defensive Carter and Neal were the bright spots of the day. Carter played his best game of the season, breaking up all attempts to run plays along his end and doing remarkable work in covering punts. On many occasions he downed the receiver in his tracks. Captain Neal played a great defensive game both as end and as fullback and it was largely due to his good work that Davidson was prevented from scoring when she had the ball almost on the goal line.

NEARLY ONE THOUSAND STUDENTS AT TRINITY DURING PRESENT YEAR

FOURTEEN STATES AND THREE FOREIGN NATIONS SEND
STUDENTS HERE

RELIGIOUS STATISTICS ARE GIVEN

Present Enrollment is 906 Students; 238 are Co-eds and 164 are from Durham

Trinity College now has a total enrollment of 906 students, which is just 122 more than were registered here last year, and is just a little over twice as many as were registered during the year 1917-1918 when the student body counted 456 members. This represents an increase of 100 per cent within five years. Last year the enrollment in the academic and law classes was 784. In 1920-1921 the enrollment was 663.

The senior class this year is the largest in the history of the college, with 107 members, while there were only 78 last year. Even the Law School attained a record of two men. Its enrollment this year includes nine men in the senior law class and eleven others taking first year law.

How many co-eds are there at Trinity is often asked, and generally one has to work the problem out by counting the feminine names in the catalog. To save you the trouble, the facts are here given. There are 238 women undergraduates, thus constituting approximately 27 per cent of the student body, a little less than a third of it.

Delegates from the city that is "renowned the world over" number 164. Ministerial students compose 8 per cent of the student body, while 4 per cent is made up of teachers who have classes at Trinity on Saturdays.

The students at Trinity represent 14 states and three foreign countries. Leaving out the North Carolinians, Virginia has the largest delegation on the park with eighteen students from the Old Dominion. South Carolina has 13 delegates; Tennessee 11; Georgia, 5; Mississippi, 3; Massachusetts, 2; Pennsylvania, 2; while Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Florida, Maryland, and Alabama each have one. From foreign countries Japan sends two students, Korea one, and Brazil one.

A recently completed survey of the religious affiliations of the undergraduate body of Trinity College made by Professor James Cannon shows that 95 per cent are affiliated with some religious body. Out of 818 students included in the tabulation only 40 indicated no church affiliation. 627 of the whole, or 77 per cent, are affiliated with the Methodist church. The Baptist denomination, with 75, is the second largest; 73 per cent of this number being residents of the city of Durham. 22 of the 40 who indicated no church affiliation are members of the freshman class, only five seniors, four juniors and nine sophomores indicating no church religion.

The totals by denominations are as follows:

Methodists	627
Baptists	75
Presbyterians	31
Episcopalians	31
Disciples	12
Jews	9
Associate Reformed	6
Congregational	6
Evangelical Lutheran	1
Christian Science	1
Catholic	1
Non-Church	40

The law, graduate and post-graduate students are not included in this tabulation.

Oglethorpe's Stormy Petrels Meet Steiner's Men Saturday

The "Blue Devils" meet real opposition Saturday when the strong Oglethorpe team will be met on Hanes field. Although the "Wildcats" were romped on thoroughly it is an evident fact that the "Blue Devils" will have to do some stellar playing in order to hand defeat to the "Fighting Petrels."

In spite of the fact that Oglethorpe has lost every encounter this season, she has played the strongest teams in the South and has made a very creditable showing against practically every one. Against the University of Georgia she scored a touchdown in the last few minutes of the first quarter when Maurer, left half, raced 55 yards through the entire Georgia team. Georgia was held scoreless until the second half. In the game against Georgia Tech Oglethorpe was defeated 31-9, a very low score in the eyes of the Oglethorpe followers. The "Petrels" made their score when Maurer made a 95 yard run through Tech's eleven; the longest run ever made by a visiting player on "Tech's" field in the last ten years.

The Furman game was an upset. Payman defeated Oglethorpe 34-0 in a very ragged game. Oglethorpe was rated to win this game easily but it seemed as though they had an off day. The "Petrels" were clearly outplayed and swept off the field by a less experienced and lighter team.

Alabama defeated Oglethorpe by a hefty score but were handed a scare when Maurer in the early part of the game scored for a touchdown from the center of the field. A pretty drop-kick was also made by Oglethorpe in this game, they scoring 9 points in all against a heavier, more experienced, and better team.

There are several men on the Oglethorpe team who will probably give the "Blue Devils" quite a lot of trouble in holding them in check. Maurer has done brilliant work in every game this year. Against Georgia Tech, University of Georgia, and Alabama he scored a touchdown on each. He is a very swift and elusive back and is depended on by Oglethorpe to register substantial gains against Trinity. Quarterback Gordy is also a shining light on the "Petrels" eleven. He has been mentioned as being one of the best men seen this year in running back punts. He is also a cool and calculating general. Captain David who has his berth on the left end is a mighty man on both offense and defense. He is also reputed to be very adept at nabbing passes and going down on punts. The punting is done by Stevens who boots the pig-skin with great skill, kicking usually on an average of 50 yards.

COLLEGIATE WRITERS HELD CONVENTION AT RALEIGH THREE DAYS

TRINITY SENDS DELEGATES TO
SEMI-ANNUAL CONVENTION
AT MEREDITH

SPRING CONVENTION AT QUEENS

Delegates from Twelve Colleges Were Addressed by Editor of Goldboro News

The fifth semi-annual convention of the North Carolina College Press Association was held at Meredith College, Raleigh, N. C., on last Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. Delegates from 12 colleges in the State attended the convention as representatives of the various college publications of North Carolina. The convention was opened on Thursday evening by Miss Alice Lowe, of Meredith, president of the association. Trinity's delegates were J. D. Seerest, of the CUMMUCKEE and E. P. Gibson, of The Archite.

The speaker of the evening was Roland P. Beasley, editor of the Greensboro News. Assuming a conversational style of address, Mr. Beasley discussed every imaginable phase of the newspaper field.

Mr. Beasley impressed upon the college writers that newspaper work was not to be lightly regarded as a "game." "I know of no more hard incessant, self-sacrificing, financially less remunerative labor than newspapers have, but there is no reason to regret that," said the speaker, "for newspaper work offers great satisfaction in itself, and that is the chief reward of the newspaper man."

"No field offers such a variety of activities as the newspaper field affords," he declared. "The newspaper man comes in contact with all types of people. He must be all things to all men, and must have a wide knowledge of all subjects which interest the reading public. He must be able to cover a denominational sermon in the morning, a fire at night, and a police court in the morning, and be able to express the point of view of the churchmen, the firemen, the lawyers, the court spectators, and the unfortunate law breakers in handling his stories."

Three attributes which a newspaper man must possess, Mr. Beasley said, are imagination, sympathy, and loyalty. Imagination is "a nose for news." Sympathy is an ability to understand the point of view of the other fellow; loyalty is an allegiance to one's newspaper, to one's ideals, and to the spirit of truth. He warned the embryo reporters especially against becoming cynical and against the bog of accuracy. An informal reception was held in the parlors of Meredith College after Mr. Beasley's speech by the student council of the College.

The convention assembled in the Philaretian Society Hall on Friday morning at Meredith College where Dr. Julia H. Harris, of the Department of English at Meredith College addressed the assembly on "Good English in College Journalism."

The speaker lamented the fact that college writers are so prone to write without giving their subject proper thought or treatment. Their writing has no form, and consequently is of little value. "This Side of Paradise," by Scott Fitzgerald, was presented as an example of a novel without form.

Dr. Harris pleaded for a more sensible treatment of the athletic terms used in college write-ups on athletic contests. "I like to see football and baseball games," she said, "and I don't see why I should be deprived of the pleasure of

MEETINGS OF TRUSTEES AND ALUMNI COUNCIL SATURDAY

Annual Benefactor's Day Moved Over to November 4 this Year—Fall
Alumni Day to Attract
Many Visitors

BANQUET TO FOLLOW MEETINGS

Oglethorpe University Plays Trinity
In First Clash Between Two Institutions on Hanes
Field

The observance of Benefactor's Day on Saturday will mark the introduction of a new purpose as regards this annual holiday. While the change of date is only temporary, efforts will be made at the Board of Trustees meeting to arrange the date of this holiday so that it will coincide with one of the football games every year. The holiday will assume a new aspect in that it will be regarded as a Fall Alumni Day rather than Benefactor's Day. In addition to the regular Board of Trustees meeting there will be a meeting of the Alumni Council for the purpose of discussing and taking action on all matters pertaining to the relationship of the alumni and the College.

The program outlined for Benefactor's Day includes the Alumni Council meeting from 10 to 12 o'clock, a meeting of the Board of Trustees at 12 o'clock, after which a luncheon will be given in the dining hall of Southgate Memorial building. On Saturday afternoon the Oglethorpe-Trinity football game will be played on Hanes field. The alumni will be given seats of honor at this game, and every effort will be made by both faculty and students to make the visitors feel that Benefactor's Day is their one day out of all the year.

Several important business matters will be brought before the Alumni Council and the Board of Trustees on Saturday morning. Renewed efforts will be made to collect the remainder of the $30,000 pledge for the Memorial gymnasium. The committee appointed to promote the subscriptions for the alumni revolving fund will make its report at the Alumni Council meeting. The committee, which is composed of Dr. W. K. Boyd, Prof. Holland Holton, and Prof. H. E. Spence, has recently met with B. F. Barnard, the alumni secretary, and has some suggestions to offer.

The Board of Trustees will be confronted with the publication fee, the erection of a law building, the addition of a dormitory unit, the erection of a new central heating plant, and the disposal of the contribution recently made by James B. Duke.

The football game in the afternoon promises to be one of the hardest fought games of the season. Oglethorpe is known to be one of the fastest football eleven in the South, and in spite of the recent victory of Trinity over Davidson the Trinity eleven will be forced to put their best into the game if it adds another game to its victories. The game may seem a bit tame to the huskies who won so much distinction for Trinity in 1921 when they attend the Southern inter-collegiate football championship. They will, however, recognize the same spirit of loyalty to the College and the same spirit of dogged perseverance among the students and football players which made the team of '21 what it was.

At the weekly meeting of the Biology Club Monday evening, C. L. Vick spoke interestingly on the "Smithsonian Institute." First giving a review of Smith's life, the speaker told of Smith's interest in America and his founding of the great institute. The development of the Smithsonian Institute and its wide range of activities were handled at length.

How many on this year's All-State Eleven?

Statistics show that the women students at Trinity compose 27 per cent of the student body, but they had the whole campus last night.

Davidson tried our old famous November 11 holiday stunt, and thereby failed to show up at the game in Greensboro. Both of us know how to get things now.

Will fraternity houses be built with the speed that Southgate Hall went up, or will they run a race with the Memorial Gymnasium?

Next question is, Will the chapters get a chance to try the building problem?

Golfing in front of Southgate is one method certain freshmen have of getting in the press's eye.

Interest in the various medals and prizes offered at Trinity College has considerably increased in the past few years, and it is only necessary here to call the attention of the students to the fact that these various prizes are described in the college catalog. There is one exception to this, since the Robert E. Lee prize was established this fall. It will be awarded to the most many student from the upper classes.

The reporters for the CHRONICLE will be selected during this week, and their names will be announced in the next issue of the CHRONICLE. Associate Editors for the year will be announced in the following number.

STUDENTS MAINTAIN SPIRIT OF CO-OPERATION

Trinity's spirit has been on the increase in the past few years and is now being recognized throughout the entire country. A small but striking manifestation of the student body's desire to encourage and help out in the expansion of the athletic program of the college has recently been made by the men and women who are Trinity students when they decided to donate blue and white blankets for the Blue Devil grid warriors.

Individuals, organizations, and mass action helped get football back at Trinity. When football was brought back to Trinity the college was unprepared to cope with the situation—it could not buy equipment and engage coaching staffs to get it started without aid from the students. The students at Trinity in the fall of 1919 pledged themselves to defray the cost of equipping their respective class teams. The next year they donated five dollars besides petitioning the trustees to raise the athletic fee.

This fall the students decided that their team deserved to have regular blankets to use on the field, and in a few hours enough money was raised to supply the team with one item of regalia which had been missing due to the fact that the athletic association is not in a position to carry on any burdens that might be left off.

Trinity's spirit is not only a question of yells and bouffes, but it includes the genuine hard work and unity of action which is increasing on the campus every minute, making Trinity a greater and better place to live and study in. The blanket donation is just one more example of this desire to cooperate in all things for the good of the institution and its activities which is now characteristic of the Trinity student body.

Our achievements in football have placed the institution in the limelight, and the following clipping from an editorial in the Durham Morning Herald of October 30 shows that it is being recognized:

"The new football spirit seems to be only a revival of the old which carried Trinity to southern honors more than a quarter of a century ago. The spirit did not die during the period of inactivity in football. It simply slept, and when called forth by its long rest, it sprang into activity with a greater vigor than when it dominated the southern gridiron of the past."

"Trinity seems to have that spirit along with her other advantages, making her case even more remarkable. She has the plant, the endowment, the academic leadership, and is also able to take the lead in athletics. It is the Trinity spirit, and as long as she retains that spirit, it matters not in what field she enters, she will conquer."

TIME FOR FRATERNITY HOUSES AT TRINITY COLLEGE HAS ARRIVED

The agitation for fraternity houses at Trinity College which has been more or less prevalent for the past quarter of a century is to reach its culmination Saturday when the Board of Trustees of the College is to vote as to whether the fraternities are to be allowed to build them. In the opinion of THE CHRONICLE this is a progressive step and should meet with the approval of the Trustees. The sentiment in the student body is overwhelmingly in favor of such a plan.

There are, of course, several angles from which the question should be considered. Perhaps the first viewpoint to be considered is that of the fraternity men. They are in favor of fraternity houses because they believe that it is only by the establishment of such that the real ideal of fraternities can be achieved. This view is held frankly by many leading fraternity men, not students, but men who have studied the question after leaving college. They say that the spirit engendered by men living together in a fraternity house is an essential detail of real fraternity life. It is no exaggeration to say that 90 per cent of the fraternity men at Trinity take this attitude.

Another angle from which to consider the question is that of the desirability of the thing from the standpoint of the college. It is apparent that something must be done to provide additional dormitory space at Trinity. This year the matter was tied over by the taking over of the Park School but it is almost certain that the same problem must be faced again next year or the year following. The College will be forced to secure additional dormitory space or to turn away many students who will apply for admittance. By allowing the fraternities to build houses it will be possible to secure space for over a hundred more students without the expenditure of a penny by the College itself.

From the standpoint of the non-fraternity man it makes little difference whether the fraternity have houses or not. In some colleges it has been claimed that having the fraternity men live in houses has created bad-feeling between the fraternity and the non-fraternity men. But conditions at Trinity have never been disturbed by anything of this nature. With a large percentage of the men belonging to fraternities and a democratic spirit pervading the whole community there is no danger of trouble arising from this source.

Another argument which has been brought against fraternity houses is that the men living in them dissipate and neglect their college duties. But under the Student Government system now in force at Trinity there is little need to worry about the fraternity men abusing the privilege if it should be granted them.

The situation, in short, is this: the students want fraternity houses; the College must have additional dormitory space; there are no sane reasons for objecting to the establishment of houses at Trinity. Taking all these things into consideration, it is seen that it is for the best interests of everyone for this step to be taken and, therefore, it is hoped that the Board of Trustees will pass a ruling at its meeting Saturday which will allow the fraternities at Trinity College to build and maintain fraternity houses.

DEAL WITH ADVERTISERS—DON'T DEAL WITH OTHERS

The question raised by one of the associations of advertising agencies, "Where would we be anyway if it weren't for advertising?" should be considered by every Trinity student, and its phraseology interpreted in all its meanings.

The papers of Trinity College carry advertising matter from the leading commercial organizations of Durham and the nation at large. To use the advertisements as a directory not only saves one's time, but ensures satisfaction. When in need of some article, pick up the current issue of the weekly publication, or of the monthly, before deciding where to go for your purchase. If you will do so, you will be introduced to some business man in town who is a friend of Trinity activities and who has something to sell you that is of the highest quality because he cannot afford to misrepresent his merchandise.

The advertisers are essential to the success of all three of the Trinity publications under the present system. It therefore becomes the two-fold duty of every Trinity student to deal with the concerns which advertise, and to boycott those that do not. The value of advertising will then become greater both to the student and to the business man. Use the papers as a guide in purchasing and make it a point to have no dealing with those who are not appreciative of our trade. By all means, patronize the advertisers.

REPLY TO LETTER OF A. JR.

To the Editor:

Some time ago President Hopkins of Dartmouth College drew a line of distinction between the men who were in college and those who should be there. He said that there were too many men in college, among whom were a great many who were attracted to college for other reasons than for the purpose of securing an education. The prompt and cutting criticism which greeted President Hopkins, not only from students themselves but also from the heads of other colleges, should serve as a warning to any who dare to express opinions against the prevailing sentiments in our colleges.

However, the opinion assumed by Mr. A. Jr., in his article in the last issue of the CHRONICLE is so obviously contrary to the attitude which Trinity students should have that it should not pass unnoticed. Mr. A. Jr., in his unjustifiable attack upon the administrative authorities of the college, has probably given expression to the sentiments of the majority of the student body; that is, that the academic regulations should be subordinated to the interests of athletics. He attacked the administration upon grounds which he admits are unknown. No doubt if he were to investigate the "internal evidence," Mr. A. Jr. would find not only that the authorities were justified in this action, but also that in many instances they have been extremely lenient in dealing with athletes. If there are men who have left Trinity dissatisfied, this fact does not necessarily reflect discredit upon the administration. The desired "machinery" by which the eligibility of students for athletics is determined is already in operation, and it is the duty of the authorities to adhere to the regulations of that machinery. If exceptions were made to athletes in the matter of academic requirements, then, indeed, would Mr. A. Jr. be justified in his attack upon the authorities, for they would then be guilty of acts detrimental to Trinity's true greatness.

Athletics are desirable at Trinity, certainly; but it must be remembered that the primary function of the college is not to produce an athletic team. The athlete who can make the sacrifices necessary to play on one of Trinity's teams and who, at the same time, does not neglect his academic work deserves all the credit that he gets. But the man who comes to college solely for the purpose of gaining glory in athletics should not be permitted to represent the college since he cannot be truthfully classed as a student of the college.

The sentiment toward athletics which is expressed in Mr. A. Jr.'s article is obviously not peculiar to Trinity, but, wherever it is, it should not prevail. Such a sentiment prevents students from getting a true perspective of the real greatness of Trinity. The first duty of Trinity, or of any other college, is to produce well trained men, not well trained athletes, and when a student gives expression to a sentiment which tolerates no opinion that does not subordinate everything to athletics, it is a self-evident fact that that student, and those students whom he represents, does not have in view the things that make Trinity great in other things as well as in athletics.

WHY NOT HAVE GLEE CLUB HERE AT END OF TRIP?

As usual, the Musical Club manager has decided to give the first concert of the season at Craven Memorial Hall. It is the only natural thing for him to do since he must have at least enough money to begin the tour, but while he is looking at the matter only from the standpoint of the much needed ready cash, does he take into consideration the attitude of the students towards his Club?

The students have a right to demand the best that the Club can give them, and it is a well known fact that the Club is at least 100 per cent better after the first two or three concerts. Of course the Club needs public practice but why ride a good horse to death? Let the Club take a trip to Cary or some other nearby town to get their practice even if money must be borrowed to begin the tour and then give a concert for Trinity students after the tour is over. The manager will find that he has the hearty support of the student body if he does this.

The task of finding a representative name for Trinity's athletic teams has been before the students for several weeks. There has been more talking than thinking and no more thinking than action. REVIVAL SERVICES WILL BE HELD BY DR. STOVES

Preliminary Prayer Meetings Being Planned by Those in Charge of the Services

Dr. George Stoves, of the West End Methodist Church, Nashville, Tenn., will conduct the revival services at Trinity College this fall. The meeting will begin December 10, and continue through December 10, while a ten-day preliminary prayer meeting is now being planned by those in charge of the services.

Dr. Stoves will not arrive in time to conduct the prayer meetings, but he is expected to be here for the first service on Sunday, December 3rd.

Dr. Stoves is an Englishman by birth, but he has spent the greater part of his life in America, during which time, he has been in charge of some prominent churches in Alabama and Tennessee. A gratifying interest in the meeting is being noticed already among the students, and from all appearances the revival services at Trinity College this fall should be successful in every respect.

To the Editor:

What is it? It is a name suggesting everything which Trinity's athletic teams should and do possess. It suggests courage, science, skill and artfulness, physical perfection, mental development and moral living. The name carries with it the idea of victory thru pluck, not thru luck. The name has a peculiar relation to the City of Durham, "Bull City." It would find a quick response from our friends down the street. The mention of the name creates a mental picture very suggestive. It is unusual, unique, and it marks a departure from the common practice of naming a team after some wild animal. It is adaptable to song and cheer. It offers few possibilities for clever or sarcastic remarks on the part of any

HIGH SCHOOL DECLAMATION CONTEST COMES ON EASTER

Many High Schools of State to be Represented in 9019 Contest in the Spring

The annual 9019 High School Declamation Contest which previously has been held at Trinity just after Thanksgiving will be held this year on April the third, the Tuesday following Easter. The reason for this change is justified by the fact that the contest will come at a time when many of the high schools are preparing for their commencement, and the students entering the contest will have a chance to see Trinity when they are nearer ready to make their final choice as to the college they will enter.

At the 9019 meeting last week a committee was appointed to draw up the program and regulations of the contest and to begin sending out the advertising material immediately. This material has already come off the press and will be distributed to the high schools through the state this week.

From all indications there will be a greater attendance from the high schools this year than ever before. Letters have already been received from many schools by the Recorder, and every effort possible to stimulate a greater interest in the contest and to advertise Trinity more widely by drawing high school students here is being put forth by the 9019.

Dr. Laprade Delivered Talk to Gathering at Y. Meeting

At the regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night Dr. Laprade made a most interesting talk, appealing to the students in a simple and straightforward manner to take advantage of their opportunities while in college and to get all there is to be had out of a college career. He emphasized the fact that most of a man's life is spent as a member of different organizations and if these organizations are to prove a success they must have the individual co-operation of every one. Trinity College is a great organization and in order to keep it a great and growing institution each student must realize that he is one of the determining factors towards the success of the school.

Dr. Laprade pointed out that the average student never stops to think that he is very fortunate in being in school; he does not realize that some one is giving him time, his energy, and his money in order that he may get an education; and that he is participating in something that money can not buy in later years, but instead, he lives his own happy and carefree life with never a thought for the future.

Dr. Laprade told of the many men who have as their life work the task of educating the coming generation. He recounted the many hardships and years of preparation of these men, and how the purpose of their life work is lost unless the opportunities they advance are accepted. He concluded by showing the dangers of not taking advantage of the abundant opportunities afforded and that there would be a lowering of the standards of education of today and the hope of the coming generation will be uncertain should they be disregarded.

Dennis Cooke, ex-'25, who is teaching school this year, has been visiting friends on the campus this week.

Dovena Adams, '26, spent the week end at her home in Idaho.

Lucille Holding, '26, spent Saturday in Raleigh.

Louise McAnally, '26, spent the week end at the home of her uncle, W. C. McAnally, in High Point.

Mary Gladys Watts, '26, and Virginia Cozart, '26, spent the week end with friends in Greensboro.

Miss Brakstatter, travelling secretary for the Woman's Mission Board of the Southern Methodist Church was the week end guest of the Y. W. C. A.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Kanoy, '21 and '19, respectively, were visitors on the campus last week.

IN THE ENEMIES' CAMPS

The "Stormy Petrels" of Oglethorpe will probably furnish the "Blue Devils" strong opposition next Saturday. Although Oglethorpe has had a bad season due to the fact that she has played teams much heavier and better than hers, nevertheless she has been steadily improving and will undoubtedly put up a hard fight. This team has gone down before the strong teams of the University of Alabama, Georgia Tech, Georgia, and Sewanee and defeated the Citadel. It has not played any of the teams previously furnishing opposition for Trinity and therefore no direct information concerning the relative strength of the two teams is available.

Wake Forest has shown the same form she exhibited last season, good one game and bad the next. Last week Guilford held her to a no score tie. Wake Forest seeks revenge for her defeat at the hands of Trinity last year and will fight her hardest to gain the victory.

Little is known about the Presbyterian College team. It has played some good teams in South Carolina and Georgia, and it won from Davidson, and must be reckoned with as a hard opponent.

Aside from the fact that she held State College to two touchdowns it is difficult to gauge the strength of Randolph-Macon. She was easy for Trinity last year but according to this indication will be a much harder nut to crack this year.

Wofford should be even easier for Trinity this season than last. She has had a very unsuccessful year losing most of her games by overwhelming scores. Wofford's last defeat was at the hands of Carson-Newman, 35 to 0.

S. S. Farabow, '22 is now in the newspaper game with the Norfolk Va. Pilot, after doing some work with the Durham Herald during the summer.

Harry Sheets, '24 was called home last week to attend the funeral of his father.

Martin Chambers, '22 was a recent visitor on the campus. He is now preaching at Murfreesboro.

IPSE DIXIT and GALILEO

There was much learning but little real knowledge in Galileo's time (1564-1642). Aristotle was swallowed in bad Latin translations. Iperse dixit. No one checked him by what seemed vulgar, coarse experiment.

Galileo fought against the dead hand of tradition. He did not argue about Aristotle, but put him to the test. Aristotle led his readers to believe that of two bodies the heavier will fall the faster. Galileo simply climbed to the top of the Leaning Tower of Pisa and dropped two unequal weights. The "best people" were horrified; they even refused to believe the result—that the weights reached the ground in equal times.

"Look at the world, and experiment, experiment," cried Galileo.

The biggest man in the 16th century was not Galileo in popular estimation, but Suleiman the Magnificent, the Ottoman Emperor, who swept through Eastern Europe with fire and sword and almost captured Vienna. Where is his magnificence now?

Galileo gave us science—established the paramount right of experimental evidence. Suleiman did little to help the world.

Hardly an experiment is made in modern science, which does not apply Galileo's results. When, for instance, the physicists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company study the motions of electrons in rarified atmospheres, or experiment to heighten the efficiency of generators and motors, they follow Galileo's example and substitute facts for beliefs.

TENNIS TEAM VICTORIOUS OVER GUILFORD BUT LOST ITS MEET IN GREENSBORO

Captain Turrentine and His Men Split
Fifty-Fifty on First Trip of the Season

The Guilford Tennis team was defeated by the Trinity team Thursday, at Guilford College. All grades of tennis was exhibited in this match, with Captain Turrentine of Trinity and Merriam captain of the Guilford team giving the best exhibition of real tennis in a hard fought match in the singles. Turrentine won by a score of 6-3, 6-4.

The other matches were as follows: Turrentine and Whisnant lost to Merriam and Winn 6-4, 6-4; Summers and Brooks defeated Harris and Reynolds, 6-3, 6-1, in singles Mayer won over Joyce by a score of 6-2, 6-2; Summers lost to Shore, 8-6, 2-6, 6-1; Brooks lost to Winn 6-1, 6-0, and Whisnant won from Reynolds, 6-1, 6-3.

When the team clashed with Greensboro Country Club Friday a different tale was heart for Trinity lost all except one single match between Summers and Robins.

In this match McCauley and Robins defeated Turrentine and Mayer 6-4, 2-6, 6-4. Cobb and Waynick defeated Summers and Brooks, 6-1, 6-0.

Singles: McCauley, Greensboro, defeated Whisnant 6-0, 6-1; Waynick, Greensboro, defeated Mayer, 6-3, 6-3; Cobb, Greensboro, defeated Turrentine, 6-4, 8-4; Robins, Greensboro, lost to Summers 6-4, 6-8, and Irvin, Greensboro, defeated Brooks, 6-2, 8-6.

Halloween Night One of Merriment for Shakers

The biggest treat of the season was given to the student-body last night when the lovely maidens of Southgate, arrayed in costumes that ranged anywhere from the rickety to the sublime, swept down the hill and took the campus by storm. Then they were taken by storm, for all the dormitories were immediately emptied of their inmates who hied forth into the night to view the mixed procession.

Never before has Trinity entertained such a novel performance. Marjorie Brown, with queenly apparel and majestically grace, attracted no little attention from the admiring onlookers; while Rowena Adams, adorned with modest, old fashioned dress, brought back tender memories of things as they used to be. Then there were the little gypsies and big gypsies, brown daughters of Romyany who could tell you fortune to suit the fondest wish. Little Indian maidens snatched by shouting in their native dialect, while the old squaws gave a mighty war whoop.

In sharp contrast there were witches and spooks and green things, the kind that spooky boys seen crawling after a night of overindulgence in corn and midnight revels, while ghosts lurked around and frightened Freshmen Babylon out of his wits as he hurried to his room and covered up.

Then the procession swept forward to the faculty club where the lovely hearts of the bachelors were made glad again as they viewed the dancing and rejoicing. Cap. Card was in his glory and encored time after time, and some of the club members were seen to smile for the first time, while others are rumored to have composed odes in their excitement.

Miss Branstatter Spoke at Y. W. C. A. Vesper Service

Miss Branstatter, the travelling secretary for the Women's Missionary Council of the Methodist Church, spoke at the Y. W. C. A. vesper service Sunday afternoon, laying special emphasis on the meaning of christianity in America. She also gave some interesting facts concerning the work of the Methodist church in foreign fields.

The chief object of Miss Branstatter's visit was to secure data of the Volunteer Band and to talk personally with those who are intending to become missionaries.

The Student Volunteer Band gave a weiner roast last Friday evening. The beautiful pine grove south of the Reed Mills was the scene of the festivities. Professor and Mrs. James Cannon were the chaperones, and Miss Branstatter made a short talk, emphasizing the need for the members of the Band to be good all around Christians with definite, worthwhile visions.

Robert Rashberry, '26, spent the week end at his home in Kinston.

FIRST NUMBER OF TRINITY ARCHIVE GREAT IMPROVE- MENT OVER FORMER ISSUES

Preponderance of Advertising Over
Reading Matter Only Defect
in October Issue

Several complications made it impossible for the first issue of the Archive to arrive on schedule time, and the October number reached the campus barely in time to be within the month named on the cover. The November issue has already been forwarded to the publishers, and indications are that future numbers will be regularly issued, since the new style of the magazine has already been set-up.

The current issue of the Trinity Archive shows excellent work on the part of the manager and the editor, but the proportions of reading matter to advertisements should be altered in order to balance a publication. Although each page of the present style of paper carries much more reading matter than a page of the Archives of former years, the students expect the reading matter to grow with the total growth of the magazine. The October issue has twenty-eight pages devoted to advertising material, and eighteen to the reading matter.

Three short stories, one feature article, one poem, two editorials, plus exchanges and a witty Wayside Wares article constitute the reading matter presented.

The change in size of the Archive has decidedly improved the appearance of the paper. A new cover design made its appearance, and should be changed monthly to add to the attractiveness of the magazine. After all, it's better than any Archive in recent years.

TRINITY MUSICAL CLUB WILL MAKE APPEARANCE IN MIDDLE OF NOVEMBER

The Musical Club is Scheduled for Tour in Western North Carolina in Fall

The initial concert of the Trinity Musical Club will be given in Craven Memorial Hall on Friday night, November 17. The Musical Club consisting of a glee club, orchestra and mandolin club is composed of 25 Trinity students who have already been selected by Directors Patterson and Tyndall. The men selected for places in this musical organization are the men who have shown the best talent and ability to double up on the program. It is remarkable that the directors have been able to pick 25 men who are capable of filling 37 places on a musical program.

In the years gone by the price for this annual concert has always been at least a dollar, but Manager Jordan announces that this year student tickets will sell for fifty cents. He also states that although he is making a cut in the admission price, the concert will be better this season than ever before.

The glee club has sixteen men, the orchestra fourteen, while the mandolin club has seven members. The clubs will feature the Duke Jazz Orchestra which has no regular number on the program. Sheetz with his bones and Warner with his stringed midget promise also to be features of the programs.

The trip to be taken this year again takes the Club into the Land of the Sky. Jordan has had a great deal of trouble arranging a schedule that will not conflict with other things of importance that are always happening on the campus but as the schedule now stands the first concert on the tour will be given at N. C. C. W. on Monday night, November 20. The tour will continue for ten days or more and the following towns will be visited: Lexington, Charlotte, Gastonia, Shelby, Hendersonville, Asheville, Morganton, Hickory and Greensboro College.

Several Talks Feature the Ministerial Band's Meeting

"How to make the Ministerial Band better" was the subject of the excellent oration delivered by I. F. Grigg at the regular meeting of the Ministerial Band last Thursday evening. The speaker told just how the Band could be improved and appealed to his audience to increase their interest in the religious work. W. E. Hauss spoke on the same subject but chose a different angle of approach.

An interesting talk was given by W. L. Clegg who explained just why he is expected to be a preacher. The speaker gave his reasons in convincing manner.

SEVERAL CHANGES TO BE MADE IN MAKE-UP OF THE CHANTICLEER THIS YEAR

Drive is Now on in Order to Get the Chanticleer Out at an Early Date

Monday marked the beginning of Chanticleer Week, the management of the yearbook having decided to take this step in order to get Trinity students to help make the 1923 Chanticleer a bigger and better book than ever. The management makes it clear that this movement is not put on merely for their convenience, but that it may enable them to get a large number of subscriptions at an early date in order to get the best work possible done. The plan that is being presented is to pay half down and the remaining $2.50 when the book is delivered. The quality of the cover and other important details will be determined by the success of this drive.

The 1923 Chanticleer will be over three hundred pages in length, or about fifty pages longer than the annual of last year. Every phase of college activity will be featured. Debating, Athletics, Dramatics, Literary Society work, Clubs, and everything of interest to Trinity students will be included. The management is working to the end that all pictures, collections, write-ups, and all material in general may be in at an early date in order for the book to be delivered earlier than usual.

Business Manager O. A. Robinson, states that there will be several changes in this year's annual. The most noticeable changes will be the omission of the beauty section. This action was taken in view of the fact that there is no fair way to settle this proposition. In place of this the women students will be allowed to vote on the most modest, the most athletic, the most bashful, and other superlatives. This will be run with write-ups and explanations.

The photographer from White's Studio, New York, will be here within a week on his second trip. Every person who is supposed to have individual pictures made and has not yet had them done is asked to be ready to have them made as soon as the photographer arrives. All clubs are asked to be organized and be ready for the photographer. Pictures of other organizations and societies will also be made at that time.

The managerial and editorial staffs are putting forth every effort to issue an annual that will be a credit to Trinity Students and Trinity College. O. A. Robinson is business manager; O. G. Sawyer and Herminia Haynes, assistant managers of the senior class; George Allen, of the junior class; and Lillian Frost, of the Sophomore class. H. C. Sprinkle is Editor-in-Chief, Aura Holton and Flora Meredith are his assistants from the women students. His assistants from the men students have not been announced.

Professor Wilson to Speak at Chemistry Club Meeting

The William Howell Pegram Chemistry Club will meet Thursday Night at 7:30 o'clock in the Crowell Science Hall. Professor B. N. Wilson will deliver an address on the Natural Resources of North Carolina. This address will not be limited to a sketch of the minerals deposits or of the forests of the Old North State, but it will deal with the soil, climate, vegetation, manufacturing, etc. Professor Wilson will show wherein there is no state in the Union that has such a greater combination of natural resources and climate than North Carolina. Come and hear him prove to you that this is the greatest state in the Union.

Special attention is called to the fact that the regular meeting of the club has been changed to Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock instead of Friday night. The public is most cordially invited to hear the greatest lecture of the year.

Remember the time—Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock in the chemistry room on the third floor in the Crowell Science Hall.

The students were entertained at chapel Tuesday by Peter Van de Meer, Belgian violinist. Despite being blind, the musician showed rare talent in playing Il Trovatore and other classical pieces. A sum of $50.00 was realized in a collection for the violinist.

Earl Thompson, '18, paid a visit to friends on the campus Sunday afternoon.

M. W. Blades, ex-'24, of Carolina, was on the campus Sunday.

PUBLICATION FEE PLAN WILL BE PRESENTED TO TRUSTEES ON SATURDAY
Exponents of Cause Have Finished
Fight and Will Present
Two Petitions

The fate of the recent action to obtain a publication fee at Trinity College will rest in the hands of the Board of Trustees, which meets Saturday. The supporters and champions of the movement will watch the results with intense interest.

The editors and business managers of the various publications and men who are interested in the success of the college publications are trying to obtain a suitable fee that will insure the success of Trinity's fast growing publications. The exponents of the cause have concluded their fight for the present, and petitions will be presented to the Board of Trustees Saturday.

The methods employed in the past to keep Trinity's publications in the forefront, although dimsy and uncertain, have barely served to function. These methods have caused the editors and business managers unnecessary worry which can be eliminated by if a small publication fee is assessed the student body each year. The publications have outgrown the old method and they can not hope to keep pace with the growth of the college unless the system of financing them is changed. The editors and business managers, after due consideration, resorted to a petition for publication fee.

The supporters of the movement are optimistic over the success that it has encountered so far. The Junior Class went on record almost unanimously as favoring a publication fee. This same class drew up resolutions to that effect and will present a petition in support of the movement. The other classes contain many supporters although the classes have taken no organized action.

The following petition will be presented to the Board of Trustees Saturday by the editors and managers:
To the Honorable Board of Trustees of Trinity College:

Whereas, in the opinion of the editors and business managers of the three student publications of Trinity College, THE TRINITY CHRONICLE, The Trinity Archive, and The Chanticleer, circumstances warrant the adoption of a publication fee, we do hereby petition the Board of Trustees to

(1) Investigate the present methods of production, distribution, and financing of the publications.

(2) Consider the value of increased circulation with its consequent reduction of price for each student, the increased efficiency in management of the publication, and the improved quality of Trinity's publications.

We, the undersigned, believe that a publication fee of $7.50 or $8 will ameliorate the present unsatisfactory conditions and will place each of the three publications in the hands of every student of Trinity College.

The following will be presented by the Junior Class:
To the Board of Trustees of Trinity College:

Realizing that for the past few years a sentiment has been growing on the campus which discourages subscription to the Trinity publications and realizing that such a sentiment is not only detrimental to the publications but also the fostering of a Greater Trinity spirit, the Junior Class hereby goes on record as favoring a publication fee which every Trinity student will be required to pay.

The Women's Student Government Association held a business meeting Thursday night.

After the regular reports of the Committees, the meeting was thrown open to a discussion of the honor system and plans for the town girls becoming a vital part of Student Government, and thus helping to build up a strong college community feeling on the part of all students.

STEINER'S MEN WON GAME

BY OUTPLAYING DAVIDSON

In the third quarter. The best playing for Davidson was done by Faison and Captain "Sprat" Moore.

FIRST QUARTER.

The ball was in Davidson territory all of the first quarter, and a 25 yard run by Ledgerstat put it on the six-yard line. Trinity supporters went nearly crazy as Ledgerstat tucked the pigskin under his arm and broke away for the long gain.

Trinity had much the best of it in the first quarter, making six first downs to Davidson's two. The Methodists went to work with a lot of pep and would not be denied. Davidson fought hard in the first quarter, and the Trinity aggregation was out for an early gain if possible, but the score at the end of the first period was 0-0.

SECOND QUARTER.

The second quarter was all Trinity's, with Smith carrying the ball across the Davidson line for a touchdown, making the score at the end of the second half 6 to 0 in Trinity's favor. Three rushes took the Methodist quarter across. Simpson missed the try for the extra point.

Davidson received the ball but was forced to kick, the ball going out on the 20-yard line. Trinity failed to gain and kicked, Davidson running the ball back to the 40-yard line. The line held and Smith, of Trinity, intercepted a forward pass. Trinity's ball in the middle. Trinity tried an end run and Ledgerstat was thrown for a 10-yard loss by Faison. A forward pass was grounded. Brice blocked a punt but Smith recovered. Trinity was penalized 15 yards for holding. Davidson was penalized five yards, offside. Ledgerstat made the 18th down. A forward pass was completed. Weaver punted and Moore ran back to the 40-yard line. Hendrix went in. Davidson was penalized 15 yards for unnecessary roughness. At the end of the quarter it was Davidson's ball on the Davidson 40-yard line.

End of second quarter: Trinity 6; Davidson 0.

THIRD QUARTER.

The third quarter was scoreless. Davidson received the ball, was held and was forced to kick, the ball going to Trinity's 35-yard line. Trinity punted and the ball was Davidson's on the 25-yard mark. A poor pass and a would-be sprint was downed. With the ball in Trinity's possession, the Methodists pulled a forward pass, Smith to Neal and gained 18 yards. Hendrix intercepted a forward pass on the five-yard line. Davidson kicked to Smith, who fumbled, then recovered on the 40-yard line. Trinity fumbled, Hendrix got the ball and carried it to the 35-yard line. Davidson gained nine yards on a forward pass, Hendrix to Faison, then a line plunge gave one yard and a first down, followed by another line plunge for a first down. Trinity was penalized five yards. Davidson went 25 yards on a forward pass, Hendrix to Faison, and was on the 7-yard line. The ball was on the five yard line at the end of the third period.

Score end third period: Trinity 6; Davidson 0.

FOURTH QUARTER.

Davidson had the ball within one yard of the goal and two rushes, by Hunt and Moore, failed to advance the ball, the Methodist line holding like a stone wall. Trinity kicked to midfield, Hendrix fumbling but recovering. Davidson kicked out of bounds on the 23 yard line and Trinity, after futile line plunges, kicked to the 35 yard mark. A Presbyterian forward pass was intercepted, after which Trinity was penalized five yards for delaying the game. The ball went over and Davidson started to pass, but the effort was intercepted and then the Methodists started the drive that resulted in a second touchdown. Two line plunges netted a first down, another came on three short gains, and two successive backs through the Davidson line gave a third first down. A forward pass of 25 yards, Simpson to Neal, and Trinity has made its second touchdown against the toted Presbyterian outfit. Simpson again missed his try for point.

Within less than a minute after Davidson had received, the game ended.

Final score, Davidson 0; Trinity 12.

NEARLY ONE THOUSAND STUDENTS AT TRINITY

tion. 80 students have decided to enter some form of Christian service, the ministry, home or foreign missions, or social service.

Incidentally, the Smith clan is the largest on the campus. There seemed to have been a scarcity of initials some twenty years ago and as a result of this famine of names there are today three W. H. Smiths and two C. H. Smiths roaming around Trinity. The Brown clan has eight members.

COLLEGIATE WRITERS HOLD CONVENTION

Following the talk of Dr. Harris, R. S. Piekens, of the Tar Heel, made a short talk on the importance and technique of handwriting in college newspapers. He criticized freely the headlines and front pages of most of the college newspapers in the State, and offered as a perfect example of a balanced page the front sheet of the New York Times.

After the speaking the delegates adjourned to the Raleigh Times building where the editor of the newspaper showed the young college journalists how a modern newspaper is made up and printed. Much interest was manifested in the practical side of newspaper work.

The afternoon session of the convention was featured by speeches from Dr. Chas. P. Weaver, of the Wake Forest Department of English; Francis Bradshaw, Dean of the students at Carolina; and L. J. Brody, Business Manager of the Tar Heel.

In an address on "The Short-Story in The College Magazine" Dr. Weaver stressed the value of journalistic training to writers of short-stories. He mentioned several prominent short-story writers of today who received their training and much of their material from experiences in connection with newspaper reporting.

Speaking on "The Relationship of The Faculty To The College Publication," Francis Bradshaw recalled the recent rapid growth of the college publications. He reminded the delegates that in 1880 the first publication attempted by the students at Carolina was promptly suppressed because of its criticism of the University faculty. To day, however, the college publication is a recognized part of all the larger universities and colleges.

Mr. Bradshaw pleaded for a higher type of editorial and news writing in college publications, and also emphasized the advisability of recommending editors and business managers for their efforts. He suggested that a faculty member be asked to take a hand in the publication of the newspaper and magazine at college in order that a higher standard of excellence would be maintained.

"College newspapers should not be published unless they pay for themselves with advertising alone," said L. J. Brody, of the Tar Heel, speaking to the delegates on "Business Management." "A percentage of 33 1-3 advertising should pay for the publication of a college newspaper. Should you find that you are not able to meet this standard, you should either decrease the size of the paper or publish it less frequently."

The delegates were the guests of the Twigg and the Aeron, the two publications, on Friday evening. An elegant banquet served in the hall of Meredith College. Panik of Meredith, acted as toastmaster. W. J. Cash, editor of Gold and was called upon to give the toast. Short address was made by Mr. J. Hunter, Jr., who has recently connected with some of the leading schools in the United States and is on The Press and Public Opinion.

A short business session was held in the Philanthropic Society Hall on day morning at which time the delegates made their reports, and the business of the convention was settled. The spring convention will be held at Queen's College, Charlotte.

The appointment of a committee to prepare in pamphlet form an outline of North Carolina College magazines and the decision to support arouse interest in the contest started last year for the award of a prize to the writer of the best piece of college literature were the outstanding features of the last day of the convention. The committee is composed of R. S. Piekens, University of North Carolina; Miss Nell Craig, N. C. C. W.; W. J. Cash, Wake Forest College.

pression to the sentiments of a very large number of students in criticizing the policy of the CHRONICLE in attempting to pass over the heads of the students the name of "Blue Devils" which was emphatically voted down last year. While there is sufficient grounds for criticizing the CHRONICLE's policy, even greater fault can be found with the name which the CHRONICLE attempts to advertise.

The name Blue Devils neither symbolizes nor suggests the ideals and fighting spirit which are a vital part of Trinity. It has been contended that Blue Devils refer to the famous French soldiers who checked the German advance at the Marne. At that rate, why not name our teams the "Devil Dogs"? In honor of the gallant and daring U. S. Marines who turned the tide and saved the day at Chateau Thierry. By assuming such a name on the grounds that it represents an ideal, we are taking for granted that the Frenchmen were rightly named. Perhaps they were. This fact, however, does not change the significance of word devil; it means the same regardless of what design it is. As a matter of fact the average individual will seldom relate the name with Frenchmen,—except indirectly.

The words Blue Devil remind one of a typical weak-minded, peanut, mouse-eared hero who always falls to cursing and quarrelling as a last resort in his search for words and action. "Blue Devils" manifest a yearning for something better; it is an acknowledgment of weakness, a struggle for a name rather than for some symbol of outstanding Trinity characteristics.

The word devil is seldom associated with any organization or institution dedicated to worthy purposes and noble ideals. At the mention of the name Blue Devil, one will seldom picture the brave French Gaul with bayonet fixed, but rather a blue horned creature who controls the regions too hot for athletic contests. The word devil suggests an individual who takes every unfair advantage, winning against those who are physically and morally weak, but fleeing from organized courage and healthy determination. A devil's victories are undesired.

In the opinion of many, Trinity must find a name which more nearly represents the spirit and characteristics of this institution than does Blue Devils. The time has arrived for action. America was named after the wrong man; but the fact was discovered too late. Blue Devils have become so closely associated with Trinity, it will be hard to shake it in favor of the right name.

The New Girl in Our Mid Pageant Presented by

The Y. W. C. A. meeting of day night was a very beautiful and impressive pageant the theme was The New Girl in Our Mid. After hearing the plea of a girl as to her needs and ambition, the spirit of the Y. W. C. A. was shown by Florence Harris—showed the means of a pageant planned by Winston the opportunities she had to help herself by taking part in varied activities of the Y. W.
