Point After Touchdown Gave Blue Devils Victory Over Oglethorpe in Saturday's Hard Fought Game

HANES FIELD SCENE OF BITTER STRUGGLE WHEN GEORGIANS MET TRINITY

Roughness Featured Game Saturday When Georgia Team Became Desperate—Simpson's Drop Kick Won Great Game

Scraping with that old Trinity spirit that has become more noticeable than ever this season and showing their opponents that overconfidence will lose games, the Trinity Blue Devils, by a score of 7-6, added one more tally to Oglethorpe's unbroken string of defeats when these two teams met in their first grilling clash on Hanes Field last Saturday. The battle was the roughest that the Trinity warriors have engaged in this season, for the visitors, realizing early in the game that it would not be a walk-over as they had expected, became desperate and in their desperation ruined what had been looked forward to as one of the best games of the season. A total of eighty yards in penalties was inflicted against Oglethorpe and the last penalty of 15 yards for rushing probably robbed them of a touchdown that would have given them the game.

There was no particular star for Trinity but as usual four or five of her men did stellar work. During the first few minutes of play Simpson dropped back as if to drop kick but instead tossed a pass to Carter for a touchdown. However, the line was off-side and the touchdown was forfeited. The first points were scored when Carter and Neal rushed in and blocked a punt which was recovered back of the goal line by the ever-alert Ike Taylor. Simpson added the extra point by a drop kick. Meehan, the quarterback for whom Coach Steiner was offering his kingdom during the early part of the week, showed that he was well worth a kingdom, and his determination to finish the game after he had suffered injuries won for him a place in the hearts of the Trinity supporters. Weaver's punting was as good as ever, while Hatcher who plays clean football and always urges the other fellows to do the same played his position well, and his tackling was as fierce as ever. Bullock's interception of a pass during the last few minutes of play gave new hope to the supporters who feared that Oglethorpe would score again.

Kilgore was Oglethorpe's tower of strength, for after a fumble gave them the ball this man by line bucks took the ball up the field for their touchdowns. David, left end and captain of the visitors, could be picked to star with Kilgore, but his continual flow of argument off-set to a great extent whatever stellar work he did.

The game as a whole was not the kind that the Blue Devils wished to play, but they were up against a team that did not fail to resort to anything in an effort to win, and the Alumni were here to see the game realized that their Alma Mater still had men who could put up a game scrap.

Caldwell started the game with a 65 yard kick-off which was received by Kilgore and brought back 20 yards. After a failure to gain any ground on three downs Morris kicked, and Trinity took the ball on the 50 yard line. Line bucks by Russell and Johnson and an off-side penalty brought the Blue Devils to the 20 yard line, and at this point Simpson and Carter pulled the play that resulted in a touchdown, only to be forfeited for being off-side. Simpson then attempted to drop kick but the ball went wild and the visitors took possession of the ball on the 20 yard line. There was an exchange of punts and the quarter ended with the ball on Oglethorpe's 17 yard line.

The second quarter was featured by a block punt and its recovery which re-

PROGRAM FOR CELEBRATION OF ARMISTICE DAY TO BE FEATURED BY MAJOR STEM

Trinity Alumni to Deliver Address to Student Body in Armistice Day Celebration

An attractive program, the feature of which will be an address by Major Thomas Stem '06, of Oxford, will be given during chapel exercises Saturday morning to celebrate Armistice Day. The college band will be on hand to furnish music, and other features will complete the program.

Major Stem, who is now a prominent lawyer in Oxford graduated in the class of '06 and returned later and took up law. He enlisted as a private in the N. C. National Guard in 1908 and served as captain on the Mexican border in a machine gun unit in 1916. When the war started he again took up arms and spent much time in various camps. In 1917 he was commissioned Major and saw service with the Old Hickory Division in France.

The exercises will begin at 10:15 Saturday morning and will continue for an hour. The college band will play, and several patriotic speeches will be made. The main speaker of the morning has a reputation for delivering interesting and excellent orations.

Immediately following this the student body and supporters will embark for Raleigh to see the Blue Devils battle with Wake Forest in the second battle between the two aggregations on Armistice Day.

The initiation ceremonies were followed by a banquet at the Malbourne Hotel. D. A. Wicker and J. H. Haddock, alumni from Durham, aided in changing the color of a vital part of the initiates' anatomy.

PLANS ARE MADE FOR LAUNCHING CAMPAIGN TOWARD ALUMNI FUND

BENEFACTOR'S DAY WAS GIVEN OVER TO DISCUSSION OF ALUMNI FUND

OLD GRIDIRON STARS SAW GAME

Alumni Council and Board of Trustees Hold Business Session Followed by Luncheon at Southgate

Benefactor's Day was given over almost entirely by the Alumni Council and the Board of Trustees to the discussion of a plan whereby the $70,000 a year goal set in the alumni fund drive could be realized. An unusually large number of the alumni of the College were present on Saturday, and much interest was manifested in the campaign designed to promote the alumni revolving fund drive. This campaign, if fully carried out, will be the most progressive step ever made by Trinity alumni.

At the meeting of the Alumni Council at ten o'clock Saturday morning the following officers were elected for the coming fiscal year: M. T. Plyler, chairman; W. K. Boyd, vice-chairman; B. W. Barnard, secretary-treasurer. After the election of officers Dr. Few addressed the council on the alumni's part in the development of the College, in which he outlined plans for additions to the College equipment, and urged the council to promote the alumni fund drive until the goal was attained. A committee was then appointed to meet at Trinity on November 18 for a conference preliminary to the launching of the campaign. The men who formed this committee were as follows: North Carolina: J. H. Westbrook, Wilson; J. D. Langston, Goldsboro; Banks Arondell, Raleigh; M. E. Newsome, Durham; Don Elias, Asheville; J. R. Smith, Mount Airy; C. F. Lambuth, Thomasville; and R. G. Cherry, Gastonia; New York: J. A. Morgan; Virginia: A. B. Bradsher; South Carolina: C. D. Gray; Tennessee: W. D. Buren. Within North Carolina definite territory was assigned to each man, and each member of the committee was given power to name his assistants in local districts.

The session of the Board of Trustees was devoted in the main to a discussion of the expansion of Trinity College. C. F. Lambuth, Thomasville; Albert Anderson, Raleigh; and H. M. North, Rocky Mount were appointed as a committee from the Board of Trustees to cooperate with the Alumni Council in its drive for the alumni fund.

The Alumni Council chose Prof. H. E. Spence, Dr. W. L. Crawford, and Prof. J. H. Raff to draft a resolution of appreciation of the work done by A. Cheatnam, of Durham, while on the executive committee of the Council. Mr. Cheatnam is at present very ill.

Another committee composed of Dr. E. C. Brooks, R. L. Durham, and Prof. H. E. Spence was appointed to express the appreciation of the Council for the large gift made recently by J. B. Duke and to assure him that Alumni Council pledged its whole hearted support to the development of Trinity College.

A written resolution was drafted by the Alumni Council to consider in June an amendment to the constitution of the alumni association whereby women as well as men will be allowed to appear as representatives on the Council.

The Council also went on record as in favor of securing another full time man to aid B. W. Barnard, alumni secretary, in his work as soon as finances permit.

A luncheon was given the alumni and the trustees at Southgate Memorial dining hall at 2 p. m. after which the entire party adjourned to Hanes field where they witnessed the victory of Trinity over Oglethorpe in a hard fought contest on the gridiron.

Among the more prominent alumni who witnessed the football game were Bob Daniels, R. L. Durham, Ben Black,

FRATERNITY HOUSES NOT AUTHORIZED BY TRUSTEES AT THEIR LAST MEETING

Request for Fraternity Houses is Postponed for the Present by Committee

At the meeting Saturday morning the trustees appointed Charles F. Lambeth, E. T. White, and S. B. Turrentine to study over the matter of fraternity houses and to make a report of their investigations. After some consideration they recommended that the request for fraternity houses be postponed for the present, if not indefinitely.

In postponing the request the trustees have condemned fraternity houses for the coming year. The next meeting of the trustees is in June, and it is highly probable that the matter will not be brought before them at this meeting.

By their action on the matter the trustees showed that they were not favorably inclined towards granting the request for houses. No reason was given for their decision. It appeared as though little thought was given the question.

No definite schedule for the inter-collegiate debates has been arranged, although the Debate Council expects to have everything arranged by the last of the week. Debates have been arranged with New York University, Sewanhoe, and Emory, but the dates for the debates have not been set. The Council is trying to arrange a meeting with Washington and Lee, and if this plan fails, the date will probably be arranged with Davidson.

BRADY CHOSEN PRESIDENT AT MEETING OF HESPERIA

C. E. Summers and E. B. Fisher Elected Vice-President and Secretary By Narrow Margin

Saturday night in Hesperia Society hall officers were elected for the second quarter in a hotly contested race. L. S. Brady was chosen to serve as President by acclamation. Following this C. E. Summers by a narrow margin of votes was made Vice-President. E. B. Fisher was elected Secretary; J. O. Sanderson, Marshal; J. E. Bridgers, Chairman of the Executive Committee, and H. C. Sprinkle, Critic.

Preceding the election of officers a debate on the query: "Resolved, that the two-party system of government should be broken down" was held. In this debate D. S. Johnson and C. G. Knox successfully upheld the affirmative side of the query against J. D. Johnson and W. F. Craven of the negative.

Randolph-Macon College will be met on Hanes Field on November 25 in return for the game played there last year, when Trinity was 6 to 0. Last Saturday the University of Richmond team defeated Randolph-Macon to the tune of 41 to 13.

L. L. Rose, '22, spent the week end on the campus.

ARMISTICE DAY GAME TO BE CENTER OF INTEREST IN STATE ON SATURDAY

Trinity Special to Leave Sliding at 11:55, Returning at 7:30—Hundreds of Students to See Game

With the team in good condition and with the old fighting spirit raised to its highest pitch the Trinity Blue Devils will go to Raleigh Saturday to meet Wake Forest in what promises to be a battle royal. Much interest and enthusiasm has been expressed in both colleges, and a large crowd is expected on Riddick Field Armistice Day to view the second contest between the two rival institutions. The student bodies of both colleges will attend en masse.

All indications point to the probability of a hard fought and pretty evenly matched battle, with the odds slightly in favor of the Blue Devils. According to past records Trinity certainly has the advantage, but comparative scores mean little when Wake Forest is taken into consideration for some of her stars have been out of the lineup for the past few games. Then too, the Baptists have a habit of upsetting North Carolina football dope. Coaches Steiner and Burbage are taking no chances with the Old Gold and Black and are running their teams at top speed. The team will certainly not enter the field overconfident.

Several changes are liable to occur in the lineup to go against Wake Forest. It is possible that Meehan will be shifted to half, while Lagerstedt will probably start at full. Garrett, who starred in the game last Armistice Day, will possibly see service against his old rivals. Brown and Johnson are still suffering from slight injuries. The coaches are not worrying over the backfield, however, for they have available material on hand. Everett, Bullock, Boswell, Brown, Johnson, or Winters can be called in at a minute's notice.

It would be difficult to estimate Wake Forest's relative strength, for they have not played consistently this season. It is true, however, that they are going to put their full strength into the fray. Heckman and Fulton have been kept out of the last few games in order to be in the prime of condition against Trinity. Several other players have been held in reserve to throw their best against the Blue Devils. Coach Levene, Heckman, and Fulton attended the Trinity-Oglethorpe game to get a few pointers on the team, and it is a safe bet that the Baptists will play the best game of their season against Trinity. The teams will average about the same in weight.

Probably the largest crowd that ever attended a Trinity game will witness the game on Armistice Day. It will be the most important game played in the state on that day. A special train will run from the college campus Saturday morning at 11:55 a. m. to convey the student body to Raleigh. This year the Trinity students and supporters will occupy the concrete bleachers, while the Baptists will sit in the temporary bleachers.

The Blue Devils have just begun to get their stride now, and will probably uncover some new plays Saturday. They expect to put their best in the game and are out for another victory. If Wake Forest does not display unexpected strength, the Blue Devils will be hard to stop. The Baptists, however have something up their sleeve and expect to show a reversal of form Saturday. They are anxious to get revenge for the Trinity victory last Armistice Day, and they will watch watching.

The probable line-ups are as follows:

Trinity	Position	Wake Forest
Neal	.....	Pagano
		Left End

PARAGRAPHS

Let's make Armistice Day a Trinity Day in Raleigh!

Three semi-holidays on three consecutive Saturdays makes one feel like he's back at High School.

Why not have a freshman declamation contest to take the date formerly held by the 1919 high school declaimers' contest?

The famous "Dope" favors Trinity Saturday, and Trinity will not let that same "Dope" be upset Saturday.

REPORTERS FOR CHRONICLE SELECTED FOR PRESENT YEAR

After a competition which lasted for six weeks the following men from the sophomore class have been selected by the management as reporters for the CHRONICLE during the year: W. G. Bradshaw, of Durham; J. J. Farris, of High Point; R. P. Harris, of Fayetteville; J. R. Killian, of LaFayette, Georgia; J. S. Whisnant of Henrietta; F. H. Shinn, of Norwood; E. S. Ware, of Albemarle. These seven men were chosen from thirteen competitors, and will remain on the staff as long as they meet the requirements of the work.

Herminia Haynes, of the senior class, was appointed last year to serve as the co-ed reporter for this year.

Three associate staff meetings will be appointed during the week, and announcement will be made in the next issue of this sheet. These men will compete for the editorship of the CHRONICLE for the year 1923-24, and will not be subject to further preliminary try-outs.

In regard to the sophomores selected for the reportorial work, the Editor and Managing Editor selected the men on the basis of ability, promptness, and quality of the work. Several candidates were eliminated because it would be impossible to handle more than seven men on the reportorial staff.

The regular staff meetings are being held every Friday night at 6:45 in the Editor's office, 101 Aycock, and all members of the staff are asked to appear at these meetings promptly.

TRINITY SHOULD FILL RALEIGH SATURDAY

The Trinity student body cannot afford to remain over in Durham next Saturday when its team of Blue Devils meets the squad from Wake Forest in Raleigh. The enthusiasm and backing of the students which has been the object of so much favorable criticism on the part of friends and outsiders, must be maintained throughout the season, and every student that can possibly scrape up enough cash to get there should be on Riddick Field Saturday afternoon.

Trinity's fighting eleven gave Wake Forest a licking to the tune of 17 to 0 exactly a year ago. This year the prospects are entirely favorable to Trinity, while the reverse was true last year. The Blue Devils should sweep down and conquer the Old Gold and Black by a score of four touchdowns this year. To achieve this it is necessary that overconfidence be curbed, but genuine confidence maintained.

No classes will be skipped by going to Raleigh next Saturday; expenses are moderate; a great game will be seen, and Trinity should be there en masse to give the team their unqualified support through thick and thin.

A SUGGESTION

The habit of neglecting to figure out the facts of college life is not in keeping with the spirit of the age, when real statistics correctly interpreted are of great value. Up until this year nothing of any importance concerning distribution of students has been published, the matter being left without notice until the appearance of the catalogue for the next year. This is just one typical case.

Scholarship in fraternities is often quoted as being below that of the student body at large in the average college, and in some institutions such is the case while in others the reverse is true. For the past few years no statistics in regard to the standing of the various Trinity chapters has been published, and no comparative figures as to the scholarship of the Greeks and non-Greeks have been available.

It would be well for the Pan-Hellenic Council to take up this phase of the fraternity problem and direct the energies which has been used in the past few years in the discussion of amendments to its constitution and by-laws to the working out of a system whereby the chapters might be encouraged to foster scholarship, possibly through competition for a suitable cap. Such a step would tend to the improvement of scholarship in the chapters and thus in the whole college.

The fraternities might take a forward step in the matter of placing their "positive publications of a general nature" in the College Library, affording the community a chance to get better acquainted with the affairs of these organizations, and possibly helping the "correspondents from the various chapters to refrain from making exorbitant claims in the letters generally contained in such publications.

OPEN FORUM

ANOTHER NAME NOW BROUGHT FORWARD

To the Editor:

It is regrettable that no better name for Trinity's athletic teams has been found than "BLUE DEVILS." This name suggests little, implies nothing, and is not in harmony with the spirit of the college. "BLUE DEVILS" is a taking name in the sense that it has a smacking of the risqué and a touch of the unusual, and so have all such phrases. Certainly the name is unusual, for no other college wants it. Is there not a better name?

"TRINITY TROJANS" has been suggested and the suggestion is far better than "BLUE DEVILS." As a previous Forum writer stated, it has euphonious possibilities and is expressive. Perhaps a better name than "TROJANS" might be found but not a worse one than "BLUE DEVILS."

Now that we are determined to have a name, let us be careful about the one we choose and not impose a name that the future Trinity will be ashamed of. Better no name at all than one reflecting on the ideals of the college and foreign to its spirit. Why cannot the student body act on the problem?

J. R. K.

B. B. Jones '16, now an attorney at Winston, was a recent visitor on the campus.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT FUNCTIONS SMOOTHLY AT TRINITY COLLEGE

PRESIDENT OUTLINES STUDENT GOVERNMENT IN RECENT BRIEF INTERVIEW

HONOR SYSTEM HAS SUCCEEDED

Council Has Taken Action on Several Minor Cases—Aim is Justice, Not Punishment

The honor system, now in full force at Trinity, is functioning smoothly and well; the members of the Student Council are making every effort for the advancement of the best interest of the college. While the main phase of student government is the honor system—the suppression or eradication of cheating and the various forms of classroom dishonesty—there are other things which are important. During a recent interview with the president of the Student Council Committee, student government was outlined about as follows:

Student government is a college community organized for the purpose of administering self-government in accordance with power granted to a properly organized association. This organization of students is also formed for the purpose of supporting athletics, fostering literary endeavor, encouraging all worthy student activities, and promoting the best interests of the college and the student body. The constant aim of the organization is to keep a high standard of honor among the students—in the classroom, on the campus, in athletics and in every branch of student activity. The organization is known as the Men's Association of Trinity College.

The officers of the Student Council Committee are as follows: J. L. Jackson, President; Mike Bradshaw, Vice-President; J. D. Seerest, Secretary. Executive, judicial, and legislative powers are vested in a student council committee composed of seven members; the president of the Men's Association, one member of the grade school, and representatives from the senior, junior, and sophomore classes. The representatives from the above named classes are as follows: senior class, T. B. Bradley and Thomas Ashley; junior class, John B. Morris and Carl King; sophomore class, G. B. Caldwell.

The Women's Association of Trinity College for several years has been governed by the honor system. The College's honor system, however, does not include the town students. Efforts are being made whereby this lamentable state of affairs may be remedied, as soon as it is possible for the entire group of Trinity women students to get together on this matter. At a recent meeting of the Men's executive committee, with a similar committee from the Women's Association, it was decided that a system be brought about whereby both men and women can be brought into a single honor system for examinations, themes, quizzes, and other pledge work. Within two or three months the Men's council will have published copies of the entire rules and regulations so that each student may have a copy.

The Council has already acted in several minor cases. In a recent trial, the penalty imposed by the Council (after five and one-half hours of deliberation), demonstrated the ability and the fair judgment of those who tried the case. The circumstances of the case were not particularly flagrant; had the circumstances been more serious, more drastic action would have been taken. The decision of the Council represents the attitude that should be taken in matters of this kind. The primary aim is justice, not simply punishment.

According to the constitution and by-laws, absolutely every case of cheating (or other misconduct) must be reported whenever possible. It is inevitable, therefore, that misdeemeanors will be reduced to a minimum when every student is vigilant and watchful. It is not spying or "sneaking" when a person reports a dishonorable act, and under the present system a man who deliberately shuts his eyes to dishonesty is considered particeps criminis.

LIBRARY NOTES

CARELESS HANDLING OF LIBRARY BOOKS SHOULD BE CURBED

Last spring it was found at the Library that Vol. 23 of the "Dictionary of National Biography" was missing from the open shelves in the library reading room. A little later Dean Wamamaker announced the loss of this book at the chapel exercises and requested the students to look for it among their books, on their tables, and in their closets; and if it was found, to return it to the Library. As yet the book is still missing. The value of it is not appreciated by everybody and for that reason I am going to give a few facts about it. It belongs to a set of 66 volumes and its cost is about seven dollars. If it is in print now I do not think it can be bought unless the entire set of 66 volumes, are purchased. So to get this one volume the Library may have to expend $450.

Every week one of two chapel song books are found in the library. Somebody picks them up with his own books and brings them to the library and finding he has a book that is not his, he leaves it on the table and dismisses it from his mind. The Library's copy of the Dictionary of National Biography may have been carried out the same way. Last year a student brought two books to the Library that had been lost from the Library a year. They were charged to another student who was positive he had returned them to the Library. I knew the man who brought these books back was not likely to have known who carried them from the Library, and to his room.

Now we are not concerned at the Library to know who carried Vol. 23 of the Dictionary of National Biography out of the building, we are not concerned to know the names of those in whose room it may be found, but we are greatly concerned to get this book back in the library. Will not every student take a little of his time and look for this book in his room, and if he finds it will he not bring it to the Library? You will do the Library a splendid service if you will help get this book in its place again.

J. P. BREEDLOVE.

Miss Jeffreys Spoke to Y. W. C. A. Last Wednesday

The Y. W. C. A. was fortunate to have as its special speaker Wednesday night Miss Jeffreys, the town Y. W. C. A. secretary. Her special message was the great need of the world which only the most earnest, enthusiastic college woman can fill.

The special music of the evening consisted of a beautiful vocal solo by Clara Henley and a piano solo by Bessie Tesh.

Things do not happen of their own accord. Movements do not begin spontaneously. Every thing in existence can be traced to its birth place, and the origin of things is accessible.

On Tuesday before the Carolina game J. B. Ryle and J. D. Johnson were conversing in the Dope Shop, and by chance Harris' eyes fell upon a blanket which was lying on the counter of the store. Said he to Johnson, "Each of our football men should have a blanket of this kind. Other teams have such things, and why should ours not have them too?" The keen interest which Harris manifested ignited an impulse in Johnson, and the two began to discuss a plan by which the blankets could be secured. Before they had formulated a plan of procedure, J. L. Jackson joined them, and they sought his advice about the matter. Jackson suggested that they have some cards printed bearing the words "We want blankets." This idea was met with favorable response by Harris and Johnson, and Harris went right along to the Printer to have the cards printed. As soon as the cards were ready, various men were appointed to sell them. Then it was suggested that the cards be sold at the pep meeting which was to be held prior to the Carolina game. The idea was carried out, and the attempt proved to be a success.

Several years ago a course in special extension was arranged in order to give people in this city courses in Education. This was for people, especially teachers in the city schools, who were unable to attend the regular classes. At first there were only a few attending but the number has gradually grown and this year there are about 45 of these special students. Up until this year there has been only one professor in charge but this year there are two instructors in this department, Professors Holton and Boyd. The classes are held on Saturday as this day suits the convenience of the teachers.

DRAMATIC CLUB TO GIVE BEAUTY AND THE JACOBIN

Only a Few Invited Guests Will be Permitted to See First Play of the Season

Beauty and the Jacobin, by Booth Tarkington, was chosen by the Dramatic Club at the meeting Monday night as the play to be given this fall. This is a very pretty one act play with its scene in Paris in the year 1793.

The date for presenting this play has not been definitely decided upon. It will, however, be staged sometime during the first two weeks of December.

Mrs. Paul Gross was elected unanimously as the coach for the coming year. She will have charge of selecting the cast and will lend her aid towards producing one of the best one act plays ever seen on the campus.

Friday afternoon has been selected as the time for try-outs. Mrs. Gross will at this time give everyone a chance to try for a place in the cast of Beauty and the Jacobin.

The play for this fall is in the form of a prelude to the big play that will be given this spring. Only invited guests will be admitted to Beauty and the Jacobin with no admission fee.

Pieter Van de Meer Gave Violin Concert Last Night

More than 300 people attentively heard Pieter Van de Meer, the Belgian violinist, in an informal concert held in Craven Memorial Hall last night. Playing in the chapel hall for the second time, the blind artist once more demonstrated his skill with his beloved instrument, given to him by Ysaye, one of the greatest violinists of Europe.

Two pieces of his own composition, The Soul of the Violin and the Cradle Song were the most interesting pieces on the program. Meditation, from the opera Thais was particularly pleasing to the audience.

Prof. W. P. Twadell, director of the Musical Clubs, accompanied Mr. Van de Meer on the piano.

Inter-Society Debate to be Held Before Holidays

Nothing definite has been decided as to the queries for the inter-society debate. The preliminaries of both societies will be held soon to choose the representatives for the debate, which will be held sometime during the last of December.

The query will probably be taken from one of the following subjects: The Soldiers Bonus Bill, The Strict Enforcement of the Volstead Act, or The Justice of Dougherty's Injunction in the Railroad Strike. The Council will decide the query this week and the societies will hold their preliminaries within the next ten days.

The annual concert given by the Trinity Musical Clubs in Craven Memorial Hall for the benefit of the Trinity students and the Durham friends will this year take place directly upon the return of the Clubs from their fall trip, instead of at the beginning of the trip as previous plans called for.

C. E. Jordan, manager of the musical organization, has decided to pursue this course after consultation with Mr. B. W. Barnard, graduate manager of the clubs. It is felt that the student body desires to hear the concert when the glee club, orchestra, and mandolin club, are at their best and the experience and practice gained in the trip will cause the concert here to be the best of the bunch.

New Girls Initiated Into Athena Literary Society

Athena Literary Society met at four o'clock Monday afternoon for the initiating of the new girls, after which an amusing impromptu program was enjoyed.

The honorary members and several invited guests then had an informal party with tea and sandwiches and toasted marshmallows, thus giving the society members a chance to get acquainted with each other and with those interested in the progress of the society.

PHYSICAL STATISTICS OF TRINITY STUDENTS MADE PUBLIC BY CAPTAIN CARD

Average Age of Trinity Students is Lowered by the Presence of Women Students

While Dr. Wannamaker and his assistants were deliberating over the knowledge that the freshman class possessed Cap. Card was ascertaining just how this class rated physically. The average age of the male freshman is 19.92 years but when these ages are averaged with those of the women the average drops to exactly 19 years. Thus the influence of the women may be rated as .02 per cent. This year's class of freshmen is one of the oldest that has entered college in several years. Last year the average was 18.6 years. Frank G. Slaughter, age 14, is the youngest student in college. The average weight this year is 136.4 pounds while that of last year was 135.4 pounds, and the height 67.8 inches as compared with 68.5 inches of last year. This shows that the new men this year are older but are shorter and stockier than this year's sophomore class.

While W. E. Atwater measures 73.3 inches in height and is the tallest man in the freshman class, Henry Belk is still able to lick salt off Atwater's head. W. H. Epps and R. B. Babington tie for the place of low man, each measuring 61.5 inches. Taylor Ray is the heaviest man, weighing 255 pounds, while R. W. Sammeth, 87 pounds, is the lightest man. S. W. Pickens has a lung capacity of 400 cubic inches while the average is 240. He is one of the five men in the last 25 years who has been able to blow the spirometer to the top. H. L. Elmore has the largest chest expansion, 4.5 inches. S. R. Roane has the most powerful grip of any man that has entered Trinity College in the memory of Cap. Card. With his right hand he is able to grip with the pressure of 92 kilograms, or 202.4 pounds and with his left hand 80 kilograms. Only two other men have ever entered Trinity who were able to grip 80 kilograms or over with their right hand, which is merely a closing of Roane's left hand.

The freshman class is made up mostly of men who have reached the average age of nineteen years and still have no idea of what their life's work will be. However, some have decided, and the teaching profession takes a toll of 41 from this class, more than any other single profession. The practice of medicine now attracts 37 freshmen, while 22 will in later years plead before the bar of justice. The men who have decided to preach number 19, while 10 others will be missionaries to foreign lands. The engineering profession will be increased by 13 and the bankers in the United States will number two more than when the class of '26 receives its diplomas.

Meanwhile, the other 198 who are undecided as to what to do, will drift on through college and then will settle down in any profession that fate may please them. Many freshmen in answer to the question as to what they were planning for a life's work left that place blank. It is supposed that the women who left this space blank have matrimonial intentions, while the men who did the same thing are evidently heirs to some fortune.

Musical Program Given at Y. M. C. A. Last Wednesday

The Schubert quartet, composed of Mrs. K. B. Patterson, Miss Florence Phillips of New York, Mrs. Bert Cunningham, and Professor K. B. Patterson, successfully entertained the Y. M. C. A. last Wednesday evening. The music of the quartet was of a superior quality and doubtless the best heard in the Y. M. C. A. hall for a considerable time.

A cello solo was given by Miss Phillips, and vocal solos by Mrs. Patterson and W. W. Turrentine. The mandolin club, composed of F. Warner, E. H. James, D. S. Johnson, and D. F. Dilling gave two selections which were very good.

EIGHT MEMBERS INITIATED INTO EKO-L TUESDAY NIGHT

Interesting Address was Delivered by
Miss Bullard—Hermia Haynes
Gives Interesting Talk

Eko-L held a very unique initiation Tuesday night in the Social Room of Southgate Hall. The eight prospective members were put through various crucial tests in order to give them the chance to demonstrate their physical prowess as an index to their mental capacities. After that they were branded with the mystic Eko-L brand and given a dainty feast of Manna, which dish sharpened their wits for the mental battle ahead of them.

The party then broke up to meet the Alumnae and invited guests at the Reeves and Michaels Cafe, where a delicious five course dinner was served. Aura Holton, president of Eko-L, was toastmistress.

Miss Bullard was the first speaker introduced, telling very interestingly the history of Eko-L. Hermia Haynes then briefly pictured the organization as it now is after which Miss Kennedy in an inspiring manner challenged the Eko-L of the future to surpass that of the present.

The new members of Eko-L are: Leslie Hunt, Hazel Thompson, Allen Parrish, Nora Chaffin, Agnes Judd, Elizabeth Newcomb, Marie Couch, Margaret Frank.

The usual Morning Watch Service, conducted by the Y. W. C. A. began Monday morning at 7:35.

Dr. F. C. Brown head of the English Department has been selected as the chairman of the Red Cross Roll Call in Durham County this year.

sulted in a touchdown for the Blue Devils, which may be credited to the quick work of the ends and Ike Taylor. Simpson added the extra point. Neal's recovery of a fumble put the ball in Oglethorpe's territory just as the half ended.

After Neal recovered the kick-off in the second half, the Blue Devils fumbled in the dangerous territory and gave Oglethorpe their chance to score. Morris's failure to score the extra point gave them their defeat.

The fourth quarter was a regular scrap from the beginning until the whistle was blown. The visitors put up a terrible struggle and carried the ball down the field to within a few feet of the goal but just at the critical moment the referee inflicted a 15 yard penalty for pushing. A forward pass was attempted but Bullock intercepted it and made a 15 yard gain. Meehan, on the next play carried the ball off-tackle for ten yards.

At the meeting of the Board of Trustees on Benefactor's Day the petitions drawn up asking them to take action concerning a publication fee at Trinity College were presented. It seems as if some important details were overlooked by the ones interested in this matter.

The Committee on Publications was not consulted previously. Largely due to these reasons action on the matter was deferred by the Board of Trustees until the next meeting of the board in June.

SIGMA UPSILON PROGRAM COVERS BROAD FIELD OF CONTEMPORARY WRITINGS

Contemporary French Short-Stories
Reviewed at Regular Meeting
By Dr. Cowper

A highly interesting program has been outlined by the Sigma Upsilon Literary Fraternity for the fortnightly meetings of this year. The short-story, the drama, fiction, poetry, and newspaper writing, along with the prominent producers of literary art, will be studied during the year by some member of the literary fraternity for presentation in the form of a paper.

At the regular meeting of the Sigma Upsilon Fraternity on last Friday evening Dr. F. A. G. Cowper, of the French Department, gave an illustrated talk on "The Contemporary French Short-Story." Instead of reading a prearranged paper, he read selections from a recent book, entitled, "Twenty-Nine Tales From The French," translated by Mrs. Alys Eyre Macklin. Dr. Cowper read part of the introduction which was written by Robert Herrick in order to give his hearers an estimation of the value of the contemporary French short-story as compared with the American or the English short-story. After explaining that the collection of short-stories which were contained in "Twenty-Nine Tales From The French" had been taken from the daily French newspaper which made it a custom to apportion a section of the paper to a daily short-story, Dr. Cowper read the following short-stories from the book: Bout-de-Bibi—Major Six Stripes, Alfred Machand; The Barber's Miracle, Teutant Bernard; Force of Circumstances, Frederic Boutelet; The Debt Collector, Maurice Level.

Following is the program for the year as outlined by the Sigma Upsilon Fraternity:

October 20, Some Aspects of Contemporary Poetry, Dr. N. I. White. November 3, The Contemporary French Short-Story, Dr. F. A. G. Cowper. November 17, Ibsen, John Brudgers; December 1, O'Henry, C. H. King. December 15, D'Annunzio, H. C. Sprinkle. January 5, Masefield, B. B. Harrison. February 2, Rostand, J. D. Seceest. February 16, H. G. Wells, H. A. Oliver. March 2, Benavente, W. H. Lander. April 6, A. C. Benson, Mike Bradshaw. April 20, American Newspaper Paragraphs, Henry Belk. May 14, Booth Tarkington, A. W. McDougal.

Anglo-Saxons Dominate in N. C. Declared Prof. Wilson

In one of the most interesting meetings of the year Professor R. N. Wilson addressed the Chemistry Club Thursday night on the "Natural Resources of North Carolina." He spoke of the soil and its productions, minerals, fisheries, and many other phases of North Carolina's vast domain. Especially did he stress the lumber industry and the waterways in the state. He said that North Carolina was one of the most important lumber producing states in the union.

"North Carolina's peach industry is fast surpassing that of any other Southern state including Georgia," declared Professor Wilson. He spoke of the pride that the peach raisers took in their crop and the confidence they have in the superiority of their brand.

Professor Wilson closed his address in a discussion of the population of North Carolina. The great number of native born people in the state was one of the points he mentioned. Among this element a great majority are Anglo-Saxon.

After the meeting, refreshments, consisting of waffles and coffee, was served to all present.

Class Football to Begin Soon After Thanksgiving

Class football is scheduled to begin soon after Thanksgiving. It is probable that the players on the victorious teams will be given their class numerals, although the plans have not been fully matured.

The Intramural basketball season will come early in January. Following this the class basketball will be next and the management is planning to have a series of inter-fraternity games. There has been mention of a cup to be purchased and presented to the winner of the series.

Business or Gone to Other

In tracing the members of the class of '22 we find that for the most part they have entered the teacher's profession or have taken up post-graduate work in some other college or university. Among those who are taking post-graduate work are: R. D. Ware, Vanderbilt University; S. A. Maxwell, Yale Theological seminary, and Coma Cole, University of Pennsylvania.

The graduates who are teaching this year are scattered over the state, and some even in other states. Trinity is well represented in practically every first-rate high school in the state. The following graduates are teaching: Helen Lyon, West Durham Grammar school; Elizabeth Avera, Nashville; Louise Berry, Grifton; Mable Cherry, Winston-Salem; Lucy Dunnagan, Whittiers; Penelope Nichols, Clayton High School; Susienne Parham, Principal of school near Greensboro; Jessie Phillips, West Durham; Irene Price, Carolina College; Lillian Ramsey, Dunn; Ethel Robertson, Louisburg; Elizabeth Walker, West Durham; Thelma Howell, Sunbury Consolidated School; Lina Bishop, East Durham; B. ## BLAKENY WON FIRST PLACE IN CROSS COUNTRY TRIAL

Several Durham Stores Gave Prizes
to Men Placing in Cross Country Event

The trial for the cross country team which was held Saturday was featured by the excellent showing made by Blakeny, who returned long before his next opponent. The course covered by the contestants was something over three miles and was covered in less than eighteen minutes. Blakeny arrived at the destination way ahead of his nearest opponent, and thereby won first prize. Coach Burbage is well pleased with the showing made by the men.

Hargrave and Mabry entered next and won prizes. The following prizes were awarded: Two meal tickets by the Goody Shop, $2 in trade at the Owl Pharmacy, $3 and $2 in trade at the Dope Shop, $2 in trade at E. E. Briggs Co., $3 by Markham and Rogers, and two "T" pipes at the Whitted Sport Shop. The men have the privilege of selecting the prizes as they placed.

Sunday afternoon in the Hesperian Hall, a tri-chapter meeting of the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity was held composed of the Trinity, State, and Carolina chapters. Several members of the Raleigh alumni were also present.

W. F. Ricks spent the week end at home in Mt. Olive.
