TRINITY BASKETBALL TEAM SUCCESSFUL ON TRIP INTO VIRGINIA

EVERY MAN ON THE TEAM HAS SHOWN UP TO A GOOD ADVANTAGE

SIMPSON MOST CONSISTENT

Brilliant Team Work Proves Almost Irresistible and Results in Victories

For the first time in several years Trinity basketball team has invaded the Old Dominion State and brought home the laurels. Unfortunately the Trinity quint failed to get the University of Virginia's scalp, but they applied the knife slightly close, losing by three points. In this game Crute, star guard, sprained his ankle and had to retire from the game. Richmond University and Lynchburg College proved easy pickings for the Trinity boys, as did Lynchburg Athletic Club, Statesville and Davidson. V. P. I. was defeated after the hardest contest of the trip.

For the past few years Trinity basketball teams have encountered rough sailing when they struck Virginia soil, but Coach Burdette's lads threw off the jinx and traveled like a whirlwind. Simpson, although closely guarded in all games rolled up point after point for Trinity and shot fouls with deadly accuracy. Bullock at center surpassed all expectations and piled up points for his team. Carter, playing guard in the last five games, showed worlds of improvement while Crute played spectacular as running guard. Spikes alternated with Simpson in scoring points.

Statesville Legion

After trouncing Davidson to the tune of 37 to 25, the Trinity Blue Devils journeyed to Statesville and there defeated the Legion quint by a 38 to 26 score and thus duplicated their twelve point margin of the night before. Simpson and Spikes were the principal scorers, both scoring six doublebaskets. Pitt was the individual star for the ex-soldiers. Neil played a good defensive game and scored two baskets. Brooks, substituting for Crute, played a good defensive game. The short passing game of the Methodists completely baffled the Legionnairs, who never threatened seriously after the first half.

Trinity	Statesville
Simpson	Pitt
	Right Forward
Spikes	B. Pimble
	Left Forward
Bullock	A. Pimble
	Center
Crute	Guy
	Right Guard
Neal	Wallace
	Left Guard

Points scored—Trinity: Simpson, 18; Spikes, 12; Neal, 4. Statesville: Pitt, 14; B. Pimble, 2; A. Pimble, 6; Wallace, 4.

Trinity Benefactor Spent Last Wednesday in Durham

James B. Duke, of New York, spent last Wednesday afternoon and night in Durham to hold consultations with a few of his friends and business acquaintances on his way south where he will remain during the winter months. Although President Few has deemed it wise to withhold the purpose of Mr. Duke's visit to Durham for the present, it is generally understood that there is big news brewing. Much of Mr. Duke's time while in Durham was spent in personal consultations with President Few and Professor Flowers, and it is probably that Dr. Few will release a " scoop " within the next few days.

The party accompanying Mr. Duke on his southern tour was composed of G. B. Allen, H. Duckham, and Dr. Bauer.

TRINITY FRESHMAN TEAM LOST TO DURHAM SCHOOL BUT DEFEATED OAK RIDGE

Freshmen Show Form and Promise to Develop Into Good Material For Varsity Team

Coach Burdette has begun to pave the way for the one year rule at Trinity if such be desired. The Coach has organized a freshman basketball team and it has begun to take an active part in the athletic field. In order to keep up the interest in the work a schedule was arranged for this team. Two games have been played at home and a trip was made the first part of the week to Greensboro and the vicinity.

On Thursday night, February 8, the Freshmen were defeated by the Durham High School team 36 to 17. The "White Whirlwind" of the High School lived up to its name and passed the collegians of their feet. The Freshmen showed themselves to be sadly in need of practice in the passing department of the game. Green of the High School team led the scoring with 14 points. Graham for the Freshmen played his usual star game, scoring 9 of the team's 17 points and playing an excellent floor game.

The line-up was: Freshmen, Graham and Suit, forwards; Roane, center and Barnhardt and Hayes, guards. High School, Green and Kelly, forwards; R. Hackney, center and Vickers and B. Hackney, guards.

The Freshmen showed their best form of the season last Saturday night when they came from behind in the last half and beat the team from the Oak Ridge Institute by a 23-17 score in the Angier Duke Gymnasium. The cadets showed good form in the first half and also guarded well. At the beginning of the second half, however, with the score 12-11 in favor of the Cadets the Freshmen began a spurt and quickly piled up a substantial lead. From then on throughout the rest of the game the "Bats" were never headed. Graham and Roane led the scoring for the Freshmen while Lapsley played well for the boys from the Institute.

NEXT ISSUE OF ARCHIVE PROMISES TO BE LIVELY

Live Controversy Will Be Opened In Relation to Woman's Place At Trinity College

The new issue of the Trinity Archive, which will be the best of the year up to his time, will feature several articles on "Woman's place at Trinity College" written by four of the literary geniuses of the Trinity College Campus. Two of the writers are themselves women, Helen Cantrell, associate editor of the Archive, and Hearnina Haynes, the women's associate editor of the CHRONICLE. The new writing articles on this subject are by W. H. Lander, editor of the CHRONICLE, and a student who deems it wise to keep his name a secret, for reasons best known to himself.

These articles are sure to be of interest to all. They will deal with a question which has been discussed and rediscussed by both the male student and the co-eds of the school from the time when the College was first made co-educational to the present day. This question has been the cause of more quarrels between a man and his girl than any other question. It has been the cause of the unpopularity of more men at the Women's Building than any other dispute.

Besides the articles on the place of Women at Trinity there will also be other interesting features of the Archive. The edition will include two very interesting short stories along with the usual number of good poems.

COLLEGES IN STATE WILL TAKE PART IN ANNUAL TRACK MEET

ANNUAL INDOOR CHAMPIONSHIP MEET TO BE STAGED IN STAR WAREHOUSE

GREAT INTEREST IS AROUSED

Committee in Charge Has Profited by Experiences of Last Year and Plan Big Year

The second annual Indoor Championship Track Meet will be held March 9, in the Star Brick Warehouse. Great interest is being evidenced by schools and colleges throughout the state. The following colleges are already scheduled to enter the big indoor meet: Trinity, University of North Carolina, Elon, and Guilford. N. C. State and Davidson will very probably also be among the collegiate contestants.

Profiting by the experience gained from last year, the committee in charge of the meet will endeavor to make many improvements this year. The building will be well-lighted with many brilliant arc-lamps, in order that both contestants and spectators may not be inconvenienced.

Another big improvement in the arrangement of the meet will be the division of the event into two distinct parts. The High School and Prep

HISTORICAL SOCIETY OF ENGLAND HAS PUBLISHED BOOKS BY TRINITY PROF.

Amazing Facts in the History of England are Revealed by Dr. W. T. Laprade

Startling facts which will necessitate the rewriting of most of English history dealing with William Pitt, the Younger, have just been published by the Royal Historical Society of England in The Parliamentary Papers of John Robinson by Dr. W. T. Laprade, of the historical department of Trinity College. Robinson was Pitt's political campaign manager, and from the private papers of the manager Dr. Laprade presents facts to show that Pitt, for years played up to a paragon of virtue as a statesman and a man of the highest moral character, was in reality a very ordinary sort of politician and attained his position by the grossest misdeeds.

The foundation of these revolutionary facts concerning Pitt has its origin in a mass of hitherto unpublished manuscripts dealing with Pitt in the British Public Record office. Dr. Laprade, while doing research work among these old records, came across the papers of Robinson and immediately recognized their value as historical documents. For a century school histories and the literature of history have been praising the younger Pitt as an astonishing and brilliant statesman. Numerous writers among whom J. Holland Rose stands out prominently, have lauded the works and career of Pitt until he has been given a unique place in the history of England. A close study of the manuscripts soon revealed to Dr. Laprade the misapprehension under which historians have hitherto been laboring.

The expression of such a revolutionary opinion concerning the younger Pitt was

CONCERT BY MUSICAL CLUB WAS EXCELLENT MUSICAL EXHIBITION

BASKETBALL TEAM GOES TO CHAPEL HILL TO GET REVENGE NEXT SATURDAY

Trinity Quint in Excellent Shape For Coming Battle. Great Game Expected

Saturday night the Trinity "Blue Devils" will go over to Chapel Hill and engage the 1922 Champions of the South in mortal combat. This game bids fair to be as interesting and closely contested as the game in the Angier Duke Gymnasium, Saturday night February 3. When the whistle blows Trinity will begin the battle that will give her another chance for the championship of the State for 1923 or will eliminate her entirely from the championship race. As a result the team will undoubtedly give all it has to the winning of this game. This fact added to the fact that the Carolina team will more than likely be overconfident as to the outcome of the game should be a decided advantage to the Trinity team. On the other hand the University team will have the advantage of playing on her own court. Many Trinity students believe that this advantage will be very small as far as the sizes of the two courts is concerned, some even asserting that a large court will be advantageous to the Trinity men.

The players of the two teams will be very nearly evenly matched with the odds favoring Carolina. The Carolina forwards showed up better than the Trinity forwards while the Trinity guards showed up slightly better than the University guards in the former game. The opposing centers were to all appearances evenly matched, Bullock, Trinity's new center showing up very well in comparison with the all-Southern center from Carolina, Carmichael.

The stock of the Trinity team has gone up since it started its invasion of Virginia. Simpson seems to have become rejuvenated with the advent of Crute on the court, and Bullock has kept up the good work he started in the first Carolina game.

PITCHERS AND CATCHERS HAVE BEGUN THEIR WORK

Baseball Schedule is to be Released in Near Future of the Chronicle

With the appearance of balmy, spring-like weather, Coach Steiner had a number of men out for baseball practice, last week. The old familiar sounds—the thud and thump of the mits as they receive the old horsehide—was music to the ears of the small crowd of interested spectators who gathered to watch the first baseball practice of the year at Trinity.

Eight pitchers and two catchers, practically all of whom were new men, were out to show their wares to the coach and to Captain Red Ormand. The object of the brief work-outs last week was to get a line on the new pitching and catching material, and from the attitude of the coach, the prospects for some snappy batteries are exceptionally good.

Last year's perplexing problem, the lack of a good catcher, will this year be solved, and Tom Neal can again take up his old position on the second sack. In the work-out last Friday, H. Johnson and McDaris showed up well as catchers, while Joe Meehan, Barney Carter, and "Yankee-Guy" Winters, athletes reminiscent of last Fall football days, will also be seeking the position of catcher.

Among the new pitchers, Red Jackson, a promising carrot-top, handled himself in a way calculated to please the devotees of the Great American Sport.

COLLEGE MUSICAL CLUB CAME UP TO EXPECTATIONS LAST NIGHT

SHEETZ USED JAZZ BONES

Entire Club Deserves Much Praise For Season's Successful Performances

Trinity College is to be congratulated. The Trinity Musical Club, which gave its annual concert last night in Craven Memorial Hall, was all that the State papers said, and then some. Ever since the Musical Club made its annual tour in the western part of the State, rumors have circulated into the College community concerning the wonderful success that the Trinity musicians had achieved on foreign soil. Last night the Club confirmed these rumors so that the last lingering doubt in some freshman's cranium was swept into ignominious oblivion.

An audience of students and Durham citizens that numbered very nearly 1500 people was duly appreciative of the merit of the young musicians. Applause followed applause, and encore followed encore. Even the classical and operatic selections came in for their share of re-ceptions. But it was the Syncopating Seven and Harry Sheetz, with his jazz bones that took the audience by storm. People just couldn't get enough of Harry's jazz bones with the mandolin accompaniment. As usual "Squirt" Turcotte was the center of the visual attention. One could scarcely keep still in his seat as he watched "Squirt" beat the jazz out of his drum traps. Only once did he disappoint his admirers; that was when he suddenly dropped one of his drum sticks.

There was scarcely a dull moment in the performance from the time that the orchestra opened the concert with the "Bridal Rose Overture" until the grand finale, when the entire audience joined the musicians in making Craven Memorial Hall ring with the popular Trinity song. Only one thing was lacking to have made the concert a complete success, that was the "big man with the little instrument," otherwise known as Frank Warner. So much had been heard of Frank's success on the western tour in amusing the audience with his comic songs and his handling of the guitar and also that many people were disappointed last night when Charlie Jordan announced that Frank had not yet recovered from the mumps.

The entire Club deserves much praise. The orchestra, glee club, and mandolin club performed excellently, and received their merited applause. The vocal solos by W. R. Brown, Miss Rosa Warren, and W. W. Turcotte are worthy of special mention. Likewise Freeman Twaddell's piano solo was especially deserving of praise. Turcotte sang two popular

Rev. Butler Heard at Last Wednesday Night Y Meeting

Last Wednesday night Rev. S. M. Butler, graduate of Bucknell University, made a very interesting talk to the Y. M. C. A. He spoke on the condition of society as it is to-day. He also discussed the remedies that could be evolved to eliminate the evils that exist to-day. His talk was very impressive and forceful.

Plans are being made to secure some of the important speakers from nearby towns and cities to deliver addresses during the spring. These men will speak on choosing the professions of life. The program for the spring term will be interesting and helpful to all who will attend. A great deal is in store for those who will take advantage of these speeches to be given in the near future.

How is he going?

Well, we didn't want him anyway.

Tonight ends the period during which the upper classman has kept his mouth shut and let the freshmen have his way. Many of the poor fellows' dreams of their greatness will soon be shattered.

MAKE NECESSARY CHANGES

The time for improving the present system of Student Government at Trinity has arrived. The present state of mind of the student body is not unusual in its reaction to the workings of the system and before any discussion of the subject is attempted, much sober thinking and careful study of the question should be made.

The time for improvement is the present for two reasons: The regulation of college life and conduct on examinations has been carried on under this system for one term, and secondly, before another term passes a new set of officers will have been elected to office.

Much criticism has been voiced on the campus in regard to the great powers of the Student Council of the Men's Association, but it must be remembered that this body is the "official executive and legislative agent" of the Association according to the Constitution. Such are the general outlines of the powers of this council—the question of how it carries on its functions becomes another matter, which, by the way is a matter which is well worth studying.

The fact that half of the Student Council is made up of seniors, who naturally will not be members next year, and that the other members are the only ones who have a chance to be re-elected for service next year, makes it imperative that some action be taken to guide the future members in the right direction. They should be saved the trouble of threshing out elementary matters in their discussions, thus enabling them to mete out justice, keep up the standards of Trinity College, regulate the life of the campus, and rid the community of all students who are not able to conduct themselves within the accepted rules of propriety.

One great criticism of the Trinity student body in past years has been that it had no organization or unity of action. It never thought together or did anything in a unified manner. Up until last year the Greater Trinity Club was really the only organization which afforded a medium of student body action. The value of student action and the unity of the whole college has not been realized, and it appears that not only should the student body be better united, but that more knowledge of the workings, precedents, and methods of the Student Council should be imported to the men.

This paper has always been in favor of Student Government, it has fostered the movement since its inception, and made possible its realization by giving it due publicity. The policy of this regard is the same, and realizing that "campus sentiment must be overwhelmingly in favor of a rigid and impartial enforcement" of the system, (using the words of Dr. Henry Louis Smith, President of Washington and Lee), it is felt that the Student Body should assert its right to make constitutional changes and transform certain altering generalities of the code into more definite articles.

In Section 6, Article V of the Constitution we note that "It shall be the duty of the Student Council to draw up and submit to the Men's Association suitable by-laws to govern the Association, which shall be adopted by a vote of three-fourths of the members of the Men's Association." There can be no better time than the present for the completion of this task, so that as each year goes by the affairs of the students at Trinity may be governed with increasing satisfaction and justice.

CONGRATULATIONS TO DR. LAPRADE

One of the most signal honors which has ever come to Trinity College in the scholastic world has recently come through the medium of the honor bestowed upon one of the members of its faculty, Dr. W. T. Laprade, by the Royal Historical Society of England in selecting him to edit The Parliamentary Papers of John Robinson, a book it has recently published.

The originality of this work and its comprehensive treatment of an important subject in English history have already won for the author renown in the historical world and has created an especial sensation in the field with which it is more closely connected. While the major portion of the credit rebounds to Dr. Laprade, yet, because he is connected with Trinity, a considerable amount goes to the College.

THE CHRONICLE wishes to extend its congratulations to Dr. Laprade upon his achievement, and in doing so we believe we speak for the entire College community. It is true that to some extent "a prophet is not without honor save in his own country," but it is possible that after merit has won fame abroad the "home folks" may realize that some of its own members are of more than ordinary ability. In our opinion such is the case at Trinity, and though the average perspective has been narrow in the past, outside influences have enlarged it until it can now perceive "a good thing, even though it come out of Nazareth."

NOTICE

Tickets for Trinity-Gulfport wrestling meet will be on sale at College store Thursday, February 15 through Saturday, February 17; for Trinity-Davidson wrestling meet Monday, February 19 through Tuesday, February 20, and for the Trinity-University of Virginia basketball game, Wednesday, February 21 through Thursday, February 22.

OPEN FORUM

WE STAND CORRECTED

February 10th, 1923.

To The Trinity Chronicle:

In your issue dated February 7th, 1923, you say:

"In the history of the law school, only three men have failed to pass the state bar examination." This statement is incorrect. In the history of the law school, only two persons holding the certificate of Trinity College Law School have failed to pass the state bar examination; and one of these passed upon a second examination.

After any one "has read law for two years at Trinity College Law School and, upon examination by myself and associate professors, has been found competent and proficient in the course prescribed by the Supreme Court of North Carolina to be studied by applicants for license to practice law," a certificate to that effect is given him.

Without such certificate, no one taking the bar examination of North Carolina is to be charged or credited to Trinity College Law School.

Respectfully Yours,
SAMUEL F. MORDECAI,

IT'S TOO HOT

Mr. Editor:

To make a long story short, I would use your paper as a medium of communicating to the competent authorities that the Library continues to be in an overheated condition. There is no ventilation in the building. It is generally hot, and in such a situation that it is very easy to fall asleep in that sanctum. Yea verily, I've seen it done.

R. D. J.

REGULATE DETAILS

The first test of the Honor System adopted by the students of Trinity this year came during the recent examination period. The result was anything but what had been predicted, though it was actually what should have been expected.

In the first place the Honor System did not prove itself the unguessed success which its proponents had predicted—it failed to totally eliminate dishonesty, it caused a considerable amount of confusion, and it did not bring about ideal conditions under which examinations should be conducted.

On the other hand the opponents of the System were proved to be in error when they asserted that the Honor System by removing restrictions would result in license, which would cause increased dishonesty. Nor did the childish fear that the Honor System would bring about "trailing" materialism, neither did the prediction hold true that no student would report a fellow student for dishonesty and that hence there would be absolutely no restriction on the student without a moral consciousness.

Though both the proponents and opponents of the Honor System were mistaken, the recent test did not result in mere negativities. The well-nigh unanimous opinion of the student body is that he first test shows that the System is right in principle and that it is much more satisfactory than any other method of conducting examinations ever tried at Trinity; that a successful beginning has been made and that with experience the System will gradually develop towards a perfection which will bring about conditions as ideal as the imperfections of men and women will allow.

But along with this decision that the Honor System is right in principle, there has arisen a belief that the Student Government Authorities made a serious blunder in failing to provide minor rules and regulations to govern student conduct on examinations. While there is no need to quibble about what is honesty and what is dishonesty, there are some disputes as to what is the proper conduct on examination in regard to minor details. Should smoking, chewing gum, talking, walking about the room, leaving the examination room, and other such things be allowed? Though the principle of honor is fundamental, these and other details must be regulated arbitrarily.

By leaving these up to the individual, the Student Council paved the way for confusion and dispute during the recent examinations. Some students desiring absolute quiet criticized students who felt that the strain of prolonged silence was undesirable and unnecessary. Some students thought that a gentleman could smoke in a room where there were no women, while others deemed such conduct reprehensive. A few thought that under the Honor System it was proper to leave the room to go "catch a dope"; but when they did so, some of the remaining students threw up their hands "in holy horror." Which are right?

Report has it that on one occasion the President of the Men's Association reproved a Senior for talking on an examination and said that talking and smoking were not permissible. But how does he get that way? Other students who pass as gentlemen quite as often as the distinguished President, did talk and smoke on examination. Did they violate the code of honor which says that Trinity men shall conduct themselves as gentlemen? While His Excellency may believe that there should be no smoking or talking, it does not necessarily follow that other students must have the same beliefs upon the matter nor that they are reprobates if they fail to follow his dictum. If he is opposed to smoking, would he be willing to give up his chewing gum (supposing that he chews) if someone thought that as objectionable as smoking; is he willing to conform to all the various conceptions of his propriety which exist in a diversified student body of nearly a thousand men and women draw from every station of life?

As long as details of conduct are left up to the individual, the greenest freshman is as free to follow his own conventions as is the President of the Student Council; furthermore he is as much entitled to thrust his opinions upon others as is His Majesty. Hence the confusion and disorder which was prevalent to some extent during the past examinations will continue until the student body, through organized channels, provides suitable regulations to govern student conduct. These rules should be sane and sensible, should represent the pronounced convictions of the majority, and should be limited to those which are absolutely necessary to define what the student body considers proper conduct.

Lynchburg Elks

On February 8 the Methodists defeated the Lynchburg Elks 35 to 27. Crute and Spikes were the Trinity stars. Spikes tossing seven field goals during the contest. Again the Blue Devils puzzled the Elks by their short passing game, and time after time they shot easy ones from under the basket. Fritz Crute had to retire from the game and was replaced by Brooks. Simpson, although closely guarded, played a good floor game and made most of his free shots. The following is the line-up:

Trinity	Lynchburg Elks
Simpson	Carrington
Right Forward
Spikes	Campbell
Left Forward
Bullock	Johnson
Center
Crute	Oppleman
Right Guard
Brooks	Holmes
Left Guard
Points scored—Trinity: Simpson, 10; Spikes, 14; Brooks, 1; Crute, 10; Elks: Carrington, 17; Campbell, 4; Oppleman, 4; Johnson, 2.

Lynchburg College

Friday the Trinity quint defeated Lynchburg College in a heart-breaking contest, 36 to 33. The game was fast throughout, and both teams played a clean brand of basketball. At the end of the first half the score stood 25 to 19 in favor of Lynchburg, but the Methodists spurred in the last half and rang up ten points before the Virginians were able to tally. Most of the shooting was done by one man on both teams, Simpson starring for Trinity with ten field goals and four fouls, and Witt ringing up a total of 25 points. Brooks was the defensive light of the game, substituting for Crute who had to retire on account of injuries. Spikes played a good passing game. The line-up is as follows:

Trinity	Lynchburg College
Simpson	Oliver
Right Forward
Spikes	Thomas
Left Forward
Bullock	Witt
Center
Carter	Suttenfield
Right Guard
Crute	Woodside
Left Guard
Points scored—Trinity: Spikes, 6; Simpson, 24; Bullock, 4; Crute, 2. Lynchburg: Witt, 25; Thomas, 4; J. Oliver, 2.

University of Virginia

The University of Virginia proved to be the first barrier in the way of a perfect road trip for the Methodists. In a hard fought game the Old Dominion quint came out on top by a 28 to 25 score. The game was one of the roughest and most exciting contests ever witnessed at the University. Simpson and Bullock were the stars for Trinity, while Walp and Lewis proved to be the chief scorers for the Virginians. Trinity was unable to solve the Virginia defense to advantage. Brooks was the defensive star for the Methodists. Bullock played his best game on the trip. The line-up is as follows:

Trinity	Old Dominion
Simpson	Lewis
Right Forward
Spikes	Stanley
Left Forward
Bullock	Miller
Center
Crute	Brown
Right Guard
Brooks	Walp
Left Guard
Points scored—Trinity: Simpson, 19; Bullock, 6. Virginia: Lewis, 11; Stanley, 8; Miller, 4; Walp, 4.

Richmond University V. P. I.

After defeating Richmond University Monday night 30 to 22, the Trinity quint journeyed to Blacksburg where V. P. I. was met and defeated by the close score 34 to 33. The latter game was closely contested from start to finish, and during the early stages the edge seemed to be with V. P. I. Just prior to the whistle at the end of the first half Captain Simpson made an almost impossible shot from an awkward position. This goal gave Trinity a lead for the half, the score being 17-16.

At the start of the second half Spikes literally ran wild. He made spectacular shots from almost every position on the court. During the contest he rolled up eight field goals, six of which were made in the early stages of the second half.

In the final stages of the game the Virginians staged an exciting rally, but failed to overcome Trinity's lead.

The line-up and summary follows:

Trinity	V. P. I.
Simpson	Rutherford
Right Forward
Spikes	Carroll
Left Forward
Bullock	Brittingham
Center
Brooks	Sutton
Right Guard
Carter	Rhodes
Left Guard
Substitutions—Trinity: Winters for Carter; Carter for Winters.
Individual scores: Simpson, 14; Spikes, 16; Bullock, 4; Rutherford, 8; Carroll, 2; Brittingham, 4; Sutton, 2; Rhodes, 17. Referee: Thompson.

"CAP" CARD

"Cap" Card, the popular physical director of Trinity College, who is spending a few days in the city in the interest of Camp Etawah, has been greeted while here by a number of former Trinity men who knew him when he himself was in Trinity as a student.

"Cap" was one of the greatest baseball players Trinity ever had," said a citizen yesterday, in talking of the matter. "I remember as if it were yesterday his playing back in the years of 1898, 1899, and 1900. He was the best centerfielder I ever saw."

"He was offered a job with the Boston National baseball team, and if he had entered the professional ranks he would have been one of the greatest players the game has ever produced."

BANQUET WAS STAGED BY RALPH ALUMNI AS THE BEGINNING OF CAMPAIGN

President Few Spoke to Alumni on the Bright Prospects for Greater Trinity

Speaking before a gathering of the Wake County alumni of Trinity College last night at a banquet in the Bland Hotel, Raleigh, President Few sketched the rapid rise of the College from its earliest history in Randolph County to its present rank among the greatest southern educational institutions. The purpose of the meeting was to organize a Trinity alumni chapter as has been suggested by the alumni secretary and to launch the extensive alumni fund campaign in Wake County. This chapter makes the fifth organization of Trinity alumni within the last ten days, the other four having been organized under the direction of R. E. Thigpen, assistant alumni secretary, in the following towns: Hamlet, for Roanoke County; Lumberton, for Roberson County; Tarboro, for Edgecombe County; Laurinburg, for Southham County.

President Few praised the administration of Governor Morrison very highly last night in his address before the alumni. "Governor Morrison's administration will receive credit for many good deeds, but it is to bulk large in our history for at least two things—for what it has done for good roads and public schools," was his declaration. After denying that there are any private colleges in America, Dr. Few illustrated the Trinity attitude through all its history by briefly outlining the development of the College under the administrations of Braxton Craven and Bishop Kilgo. He pointed out by means of references to the policies and actions of the College administration the broad influence which Trinity officials have exerted over the promotion of the free public school system which now exists in North Carolina.

"You are familiar with my latest attempt at cooperation," said Dr. Few in closing his address, "and while this has been somewhat discouraging, I assure you that I will always do my best to make Trinity College with all its influence and its resources contribute the largest possible good to the greatest number."

"But Trinity is an endowed college, and, if it is to render the largest service, it must have the support of its graduates and its constituency. There lies the significance in a meeting like this."

No members of the old pitching staff have as yet appeared for a warming-up, other duties have claimed their attention for the time being. Jimmie Simpson, veteran Sou'waw, has been too busy on the basket ball court to come out. Jess Sanderson, John Dempster, and others, will soon be twirling the ball, however, in preparation for real spring practice.

Carroll Summers, manager of baseball, stated yesterday that the baseball schedule is acquiring definite shape and will be ready for publication by next Wednesday.

JARVIS AND ALSAUGH TIED FOR HONORS IN BASKETBALL

Great Interest and Much Rivalry in Being Shown in Intra-Mural Basketball Contest

The Aycock basketball team that the Alsbaugh crew used a "Rabbit Foot," "Horse shoe," or some other form of magic in the game between the two factions Monday night. After leading the Alsbaugh team in the first half, with a score of 29-12, the Aycock had found at the end of the game that they had been stripped of their laurels by a score of 34-29. Sanders was a star for Aycock in the first half, but in the second half he failed to continue his good work. The entire team from Alsbaugh exhibited a good brand of basket ball in the second half.

Jarvis defeated the artists of the hardwood floor from Branson in a less spectacular game with a score of 25-19. There was some good football tactics exhibited by several of the men, but the referee, himself a follower of the game, Borling, wanted the game to be full of pep so he did not interfere except at rare intervals.

Each night the floor overflows with young hopefuls, but Coach Steiner calls for still more men to take part in these games. He urges that all the students take part, in so far as they are able, in the games that are to be played in the near future.

A tip is being passed around that Thursday night the undefeated teams from Jarvis and Alsbaugh will meet and that this game will perhaps be an important factor in deciding the winner of the championship.

The standing of the teams at present is as follows:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Alsbaugh	3	2	1.000
Jarvis	3	0	1.000
Aycock	2	2	.500
Branson	1	2	.333 1/3

WONDERFUL FUTURE FOR TRINITY IS DISCLOSED IN DREAM OF TTUDENTS

ELABORATE PLANS FOR A GREATER TRINITY. RAISE COLLEGE TO HIGH PLANE

College Is Planning Development To Accommodate 3,000 Students In Near Future

Under the able administration of Dr. William Preston Few Trinity has gone forward with a very elaborate expansion program that surpasses even the fondest dreams of those connected with the college. The future will reveal the development of an educational institution that will vie with the greatest in the nation in achievement, in equipment, and in progress—to say nothing of contributions to the science of education and the welfare of mankind.

The immediate plans call for the completion of the gymnasium, which will be ready for next fall; the erection of a first class law building and the establishment of a religious training school, to be housed in a special structure. These plans are actually underway and within a few months these departments should be well equipped for the progress of the work.

Twenty years from now it will seem as if some one had touched Aladdin's lamp, for the Trinity of tomorrow will be far nobler and grander than any of us have dreamed. Dr. Few, and those looking forward to the growth of the College, have thought in terms of the future and have laid the foundation for great development. Even now alumni return to Trinity to find new evidences of life and growth that have taken the place of the old landmarks. The new order of things ever changes and gives way to the higher and better.

Looking at the College from a material standpoint, we may visualize the future plant. With the increased student body, the enlarged faculty, and administrative offices, the business of the College has grown to the point where a separate building for administrative purposes had to be erected. In line with the general architectural scheme of the community, an imposing administration building has been erected east of the East Duke building, and there the faculty, consisting of several hundred highly trained men, have their offices; the executive forces of the college are provided for in this building. East and West Duke have become inadequate for class room purposes, and another similar building has been built on the old athletic field. The Crowell Science Hall has given way to a modern plant for scientific purposes, and the various departments are now provided with ample laboratory equipment, etc. The old Park School has given way to a much needed School of Engineering, where ample space is provided and equipment furnished so that our engineering department is efficiently standardized. The Library has been enlarged to take care of the growth in its facilities, and now the stack room is large enough to house a million volumes. The three thousand students attending Trinity are housed in several new fire proof dormitories that are the last word in the construction of such buildings. Even this is insufficient, and the various national fraternities have residences along Buchanan Road that fit into the general development of Trinity Heights. The co-eds have increased their number, and now an imposing Co-ordinat College is conducted on the western hill. Southgate Building is set off by a similar edifice for the education of Trinity women.

Between the western hill, on which Southgate rears itself to the skies, and the West Duke Building, a beautiful miniature park and aquarium has been developed. A babbling brook trickles through the hollow and feeds the pool, in which myriad of gold fish swim lazily about in the autumn sunlight. The landscape architects have been busy and the campus, a rolling mass of green, presents a delightful picture as the first chill of autumn begins to penetrate the foliage of the shrubs and trees.

Far and wide, the athletes of the college are hailed as heroes, for our teams have gone forth as many warriors of sports and our standing in the athletic world is in the same plane with that of the best institutions of the country. Many classic games are played in the enormous Hanes Bowl, which is banked by an enormous stadium, with a seating capacity of ten thousand. There are two gridirons, two baseball diamonds, and a one mile cinder track, together with other necessary features for the proper development of sports. Just east of the bowl is the gymnasium, with offices for the dozen directors of the various departments and under the supervision of the Graduate Manager of Athletics. The Gymnasium is modernly equipped in every respect and the swimming pool is in constant use.

Verily the vision is marvelous. Is it possible of realization? Yes.

MOVEMENT TO KEEF OFF THE GRASS AGAIN LED BY TOMBS

Organization Put Committee to Work on Definite Proposal for Publication Fee

At the meeting of this organization on last Sunday night it was unanimously voted that every Tombsman should keep off the grass himself and at the same time finally create a sentiment in favor of staying off. Many paths have already been made because the students seem to feel that since the grass was dead during the winter that walking on it would not hurt it. Since spring will soon be here and the grass will begin to grow the Tombs felt that it was not to early to begin the good work.

The Student Council has already passed a regulation in regard to this and the Tombs are co-operating in order to help beautify the campus. It will be remembered that such a movement was begun last year by this organization which met with success.

The matter of giving certificates to the letter men every year was brought up for discussion. A committee was appointed to investigate the matter and it is expected that by the end of this year that the Tombs will begin to issue these certificates as has been the custom in other schools for several years.

The Tombs also went on record as being in favor of a publication fee and appointed a committee to investigate the matter in order to find out just what would be the best plan to pursue in putting across the publication fee.

DEBATING PROGRAM THIS YEAR TO BE BIGGER AND MORE VARIED THAN EVER

Bradley, Brady and Jackson Will Debate with Universities in the North

The Debate Council has prepared an inclusive and varied debating program this year, which bids fair to eclipse that of other years in number of debates. Several debates have been added this year, all of which will make debating more representative among the students at Trinity.

New York University will be debated on March 21 in New York. The team will then go to Swarthmore, Pennsylvania, and debate Swarthmore University on March 23.

At the preliminaries held last Saturday night in the Y. M. C. A. hall to select representatives for the Trinity debating team to debate Swarthmore University and New York University on a trip to be taken March 20-23, J. L. Jackson and L. S. Brady were selected for the team and W. R. Brown selected as an alternate. T. B. Bradley is the other member of the team, having been selected immediately after the Inter-society debate held January 19.

Other debates to be held during the year are Emory University, the date of which has not been decided; the Freshman Triangular debate with Carolina and Wake Forest; and the annual debate of the Athena and Brooks Literary societies. The dates of these debates will be announced later by the Debate Council and also the dates for the preliminaries.

According to the plans worked out this year, each literary society will assign a certain amount to defray the expenses of the debating teams. The new plan has placed debating at Trinity on a sounder basis and has also added new interest.

WRESTLING TEAM TO MEET GUILFORD AND DAVIDSON

Teams to Grapple in New High School Auditorium on Will Start on Virginia Trip Feb. 25

The next two weeks will mark the beginning of wrestling activities at Trinity. Two teams have been scheduled to take place before the team leaves on the northern trip, and a third meet is pending. On February 19 the grapplers will meet Guilford College, and on the 21st they will meet Davidson. Both of these bouts will be held in the High School Auditorium. Reserve seat tickets will be on hand at the Dope Shop next Monday, and Saturday will be the last day that seats can be obtained free of charge.

The team accompanied by Manager Bridges and Coach Bailey will leave on the 25th for Lexington, Virginia, where they will meet Washington and Lee University on the 26th and Virginia Military Institute on the 27th. Negotiations are underway for a third match with the University of Virginia, but no definite arrangements have been made. State College will be met here before the team leaves on the trip if the athletic council of that college will permit the team to meet Trinity.

Coach Bailey says that his team is in excellent condition, and barring the loss of one man, will be in good shape for the trip. Some of the wrestlers are a little overweight, but will take off the extra weight by the end of the week. The following is a list of the wrestlers and their class: Bray, heavyweight; Matheson, light-weight; Midget, middleweight; May, welterweight; Danner, lightweight; and Hardaway, featherweight.

"New Nationalism" by C. H. Smith Fetturee Columbia

The Columbian meeting was held short Saturday night on account of the Freshman basketball game. Culver H. Smith, the only orator of the evening, chose as his subject New Nationalism.

The Query for discussion was Resolved: That the United States Credit Towards an A. B. Degree for Extra-Curricular Activities. Owen Reese and B. R. Holt spoke extemporaneously due to the absence of the men who were originally on the program. O. B. Alder and Abernathy appeared on the negative.

The decision was in favor of the affirmative with Reese as best speaker. Alder was best speaker on the negative.

General debate and the customary extemporaneous speeches were disposed of in order to shorten the program.

Hesperians Debated on Ku Klux Klan Interesting

The last meeting of Hesperia did not come up to the average chiefly because of the small attendance of its members.

The debate, Resolved, "That the North Carolina State Legislature should enact a law forcing the Ku Klux Klan to unmask outside its lodge halls," was the one redeeming feature of the meeting. The affirmative showed that the Klan should be forced to unmask because of the deeds done by it and in its name that were unlawful, because of its exclusion of Jews, Catholics, and negroes, because of the many cowardices within its ranks, and because of the fact that the little good done by it could be done without the masking of its members. The negative brought out the fact that the good done by the Klan could not be done were the masks not worn, and used as an illustration the recent boxing episode at Trinity showing that the participants would not have been caught had they been masked. The affirmative team composed of W. L. Clegg and C. G. Knox won the judges decision over E. B. Fisher and H. L. Carr of the negative.

The extemporaneous speakers of the evening were not especially good. J. H. Bunn spoke on "Improvements Hesperia Should Make," "Why Everybody's Hesperia Biology VII," by B. L. Umberger; "How examinations interfere with one's studies," by R. A. Underwood, and "The Orpheum program during examination week," by J. E. Coltrane were the other impromptu speeches.

Louis E. Jarrett was the only new member admitted into the Society at the meeting.

Rev. W. S. Harrell, pastor of Christian Church of Durham, will address the Y. M. C. A. next Wednesday night on a subject of interest to the college community.

FOLK LORE SINGER WILL GIVE CONCERT HERE THE LAST DAY OF THE MONTH

Miss Wyman, Celebrated Singer of Folk Ballads to Appear in Memorial Hall

The campaign for the promotion and advertising of the concert to be given by Miss Lorraine Wyman, of New York, at Craven Memorial Hall on February 28, is now in the hands of the publicity committee of the Trinity Dramatic Club. Efforts are being made to induce every student of the College to sign for at least one ticket before the sale of tickets is thrown open to the citizens of Durham. Dr. F. C. Brown spoke for a few minutes after chapel exercises Monday morning upon the request of the Dramatic Club and told something of the reputation of the celebrated singer of folk ballads of German, English, French, and American folk-lore. The students were then given their first opportunity to sign for tickets. Although there were only 183 tickets signed for that morning, the campaign will be continued at class meetings, and probably a canvass of the dormitories will be attempted until at least 300 students have agreed to purchase tickets.

Miss Wyman comes to Trinity highly recommended by all students of folk-lore, and she is without a doubt the foremost singer of national folklores in this country and probably in the world. She will appear in the native costumes of each of the countries whose folk ballads she sings. The entertainment will be instructive as well as entertaining, and a large attendance at the concert is anticipated by the publicity committee of the Dramatic Club. The concert at Trinity will be the only one given in North Carolina by Miss Wyman, although her southern tour will include the leading cities of Virginia, South Carolina, and several other southern states.

Born in Evanston, Illinois, the daughter of Julia Wyman, who will be remembered as one of the first artists to give recitals of French songs in this country, Miss Wyman has specialized in French and English folk-songs. She has also published two volumes of Kentucky mountain songs, "Lonesome Tunes" and "Twenty Mountain Songs." Recently she has been working under a Government research department of Canada, where more than 4,000 folk songs have been collected.

JANUARY ARCHIVE SHOWS WORLDS OF IMPROVEMENT OVER ITS PREDECESSORS

Monthly Magazine Needs Constructive Articles and General Reading Matter

The January issue of the Archive is off the press. Viewing the issue as a whole, one cannot help but notice the marked improvement over the former issues. Although it contains a much larger amount of material than its predecessors, it is woefully lacking in a sufficient number of constructive articles, however, measures up to the standard. The issue contains two short stories, one of which (Two Round Trips) is exceptionally good. "The Add Test," by M. B. J., is a short story possessing some merit, and the author shows ability in handling a relatively large subject. In "Fireside Reflections" we find in condensed form a wealth of true philosophy. "National Policy Responsive to Popular Will," by R. D. W., is a well written and timely article which throws light on the future prospects of democracy and which emphasizes that we should "make democracy safe for the world."

Two poems appear in the issue, both of which reflect credit on the magazine. "Memories," by C. O. Erwin, expresses a well known thought in a delightful manner, while "Come Out With Me," by Robert James, is peculiarly inviting to the reader. Wayside Wares is full of wholesome humor and is featured by "Our Gymnasium." The editorial section constructively takes up and discusses important situations in present college life. The Exchange Department has yet to reach a high standard of usefulness.

School events will be run off in the afternoon, while the collegiate events will take place at night. This arrangement will make the affair a much more orderly procedure than that of last year.

"It's going to be a real 'whang' of a meet," said Secretary "Footsy" Knight, in response to an inquiry for advance dope on the subject. "The lighting system will make the war-house as bright as day. Delays and misaps will be eliminated, and the different classes and events will follow each other in rapid and well-ordered succession. The division of the meet into two separate classes will be a big feature of the program."

From the spectator's point of view, the Indoor Meet should prove a success in every way, furnishing many spectacular thrills and exciting movements.

Among Trinity athletes to take part in the meet are several men who did creditably in last year's meet. "Slats" Shankle, joint-state-record holder of the high-jump event will be a very likely contender for first place in the jumping events. Captain Shankle tied with Homewood of N. C. State for the high jump in the previous indoor meet; later, in the Outdoor Interscholastic Meet, Shankle won both the high and the broad jumps. Barnhart, Schuster, Durham, and Mabry are expected to give good accounts of themselves in the dashes and in the longer running events.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT HAS OPERATED FOR ONE TERM

Project Began With Class of 1922 and Was Put Across by Big Vote

Trinity has just completed her first term under the guidance of student government. As yet the success of the plan is not absolutely assured, but in such a government experience is lacking and it will take time to put it on a firm basis.

The movement for student government was begun by the class of 1922 but not until the latter part of last year was the matter pushed to the fullest extent, and at that time the Men's Association was organized with J. L. Jackson as president, Mike Bradshaw, Vice-president, and J. D. Seerest as Secretary. Every man at Trinity is a member of this association. A constitution was adopted and a student council which had the power of governing was authorized. This council was to be composed of seven men, with the president of the Men's Association automatically becoming a member of the council. There were to be two men from the senior class, two from the junior, one from the sophomore and one from the graduate school.

At the opening of college this year the members of the council were elected by the different classes. T. B. Bradley and T. B. Ashby were chosen to represent the senior class, Carl King and J. B. Hazards were made junior representatives while G. B. Caldwell represented the sophomores. As yet the graduate school has not elected a representative.

The honor system was also adopted this year. By this system every man was put on his honor in regard to his conduct while at college. In case a man violates the honor system it is the duty of his fellow students to take steps in correcting the wrong in the best way possible.

In the matter of quizzes and examinations the Council decided that it would be best for the professors to leave the room. This custom has been followed during the last examinations and has met with the approval of both the faculty and students.

Any punishment inflicted by the Council is subject to the approval of the Dean and any case may be appealed to him. Several cases have been handled this year and the Council has succeeded to a great extent in satisfying both the persons involved and the college officials.

It will take time and experience to get this system to working smoothly with the co-operation of the faculty and the students this new form of government should be a decided success.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY OF ENGLAND HAS PUBLISHED BOOK BY TRINITY PROF.

a touchy matter; consequently Dr. Laprade laid the facts before Mr. Hubert Hall, the patron saint of all who carry on investigations in British records. Mr. Hall became so interested in the discovery that he secured the papers of John Robinson and engaged Dr. Laprade to edit the papers for the renowned Royal Historical Society. The volume which has just been issued was the result.

This book not only uncovers facts which will amaze many historians, but it also tears the glamor from one of the most picturesque and foremost characters of English history. Whereas Pitt has hitherto been considered an ideal statesman, Dr. Laprade's discovery will drag his name down to the common plane of the political demagogue. Thus another myth of the George Washington type has been analysed by a student of history and found to be composed of this air.

English Department Added New Man to Lighten Burden

Dr. Paul F. Baum assumed his duties as a professor in the department of English following mid-term examinations. Dr. Baum has taken charge of several sections of English I and II. His addition to the department alleviates the crowded condition of the first and second year sections and brings the department to a higher state of efficiency. There are now five professors in the English department.

Dr. Baum was an instructor at Harvard and Radcliffe from 1915-1922, and he comes to Trinity after having taken an extended European trip. A native of Delaware, he spent most of his early life in central New York. Receiving his A.B. from Hamilton in 1909, Dr. Baum followed it with work at the universities of Munich, Vienna, and Lausanne. The degree of A.M. was conferred upon him by Harvard in 1912, and from 1913-1914 he studied at the Sorbonne, Paris, later returning to Harvard where he received his Ph.D. degree.

Bill Huckabee, '23, has re-entered school for the second term.

FIRST SUMMER SCHOOL HELD AT TRINITY WAS FOR COUNTY TEACHERS

WORK BEGAN FIVE YEARS AGO
AT INSTANCE OF DR.
E. C. BROOKS

DR. BOYD WAS FIRST DIRECTOR

School Has Had Rapid Growth—1921
Enrollment was 228 and in 1922 it was 306

By PROF. HOLLAND HOLTON
Director of the Summer School

In 1918 Trinity College had no summer school but that summer Dr. E. C. Brooks, head of the Department of Education persuaded Durham County to operate in accordance with certain suggestions he had presented to the State Board of Examiners for a four weeks summer school for teachers in the service and prospective teachers. The actual direction of the school was in the hands of Holland Holton, '07, who at this time was assistant superintendent of the Durham County Schools; and the other instructors in the school were Mrs. M. Louise Bullard, then residing on Trinity Campus and Miss Matilda O. Michaels, '10.

The whole thing was quite a Trinity affair; and it was so successful in the opinion of Dr. Brooks that when he became State Superintendent of Schools in January 1919 he asked the General Assembly to appropriate $50,000 to operate similar schools in as many counties of the State as would pay half the cost. More than fifty counties operated such schools in the summer of 1919.

Durham and Person counties held a joint summer school on the college campus that summer; and since this was limited almost altogether to courses suitable for teachers of limited training, the College maintained a six weeks term for teachers desiring regular work. This was done largely at the instance of Dr. W. K. Boyd and Prof. R. N. Wilson with the active encouragement of President Few. If Professors Boyd and Wilson had been less insistent and the President had had no more faith than that first summer's work justified, the summer school might still be only on paper. The attendance of students taking regular college work was about fifty; but the work offered was of regular college standard, and no student was admitted to college credit who could not meet the requirements of the College in its regular term.

In 1920 the school had grown to the point that a regular Director was elected. Dr. Boyd served in this capacity. The enrollment of students doing regular college work increased to a few more than one hundred of whom 25 per cent. were taking work for A. M. credit. This year the school scored heavily with the public school teachers of the state by getting the complete records of all teachers of the State Department of Education within three days after the summer session had closed. To the teachers this was an important item, since their salary rating depended upon summer school credits received. One large summer school that year did not completed its records till December.

In 1921 the enrollment of the summer school again doubled, 228 students registering for work of college grade, and in 1922 306 enrolled. The school has continued to have the record for prompt filing of all records and for the large proportion of students taking graduate credits.

In 1921 and 1922 the State Department of Education published complete reports of all the State summer schools exhibiting tables showing the average preparation of the students enrolled. Trinity stood first in the table for each year.

A feature of the Trinity College Summer School making possible exceptionally good college work is the strict limitation upon the size of classes. Graduate classes are limited to twelve, fifteen, or (rarely) twenty students. Undergraduate courses to which graduates are admitted are limited to twenty-five students. These features of the Trinity School have caused a large amount of favorable comment.

"Shall I go over the top?" asked the allative barber posing his shears.
"Yes, as soon as your gas attack is over," answered the weary customer.
