Match Between Hardaway and Connor
Was Outstanding Feature of the Meet

In a wrestling match which furnished more thrills than the score would seem to indicate, Coach Bill Bailey's team of clever grapplers easily defeated Guilford's team last Monday night in the Durham High School Gymnasium. The final score was 30 to 3, in favor of Trinity.

The entire team did excellent work; most of the bouts were characterized by careful, steady tactics, although there were occasional intervals of spectacular wrestling. Beautiful and speedy exhibitions were made for Trinity by both Matthewson and Ferrell in the heavier weights, while the diminutive Hardaway of the bantam Daniels also did stellar work. Trinity's team won every match by falls except one, which was lost on decision.

"Big Boy" Mathewson gained the distinction of throwing his man in 25 seconds with a double arm lock and body weight hold, while Captain Midgett threw two men (middle and light-heavy weight classes) and looked around for more worlds to conquer.

For Guilford, Ferrell did the best work, scoring the only points made by the visitors. The Guilford wrestlers were all powerfully built men, and in some cases they clearly out-weighted their opponents. The Trinity team showed the effects of good coaching, however, and completely out-classed the Quakers both in cleverness and in technique.

Separate matches in detail:

Bantam-weight
Guilford Connor vs Trinity Daniels
Hardaway, the neatly-built little wrestler, carried on the contest entirely in the aggressive. Several times he came near throwing his opponent, Connor, but was prevented because in his enthusiasm he ran off the mat with his man. It was a pretty, albeit brief match. He finally pinned Connor's shoulders to the mat with a double arm and body weight. Time 1 1/2 minute.

Feather-weight
Guilford Connor vs Trinity Daniels
After an interval in which several weights had been decided, Connor appeared rested enough to put up a good scrap. Daniels lost no time, however, and by quick and scientific work threw his man with an arm-lock, head-scissors, and body-lock hold. Time, 1 minute.

Light-weight
Guilford Ragsdale vs Trinity May
Ragsdale went to the mat with his opponent, and after several attempts, succeeded in putting his man's back on the carpet with an arm-scissors and body-weight hold. He wasted no time. Time, one-half minute.

Welter-weight
Guilford Ferrell vs Trinity McLellan
McLellan was considerably out-weighted by his opponent Ferrell. The first nine minutes ended with Ferrell slightly in the advantage; both contestants adopted very cautious policies early in the game. During the next three minutes, McLellan went to the mat with Ferrell and attempted an offensive attack. He came near being thrown by a nearly successful full-nelson. In the remaining three minutes he remained on the defensive, the heavier Ferrell pursuing a discreet and cerebral offensive. Ferrell won by referee's decision.

CONTESTS WITH N. C. STATE STATE COLLEGE BEING SCHEDULED

Trinity and State College are now negotiating for a series of two basketball games, and two baseball games, after clearing up all matters which might prevent the carrying out of the usual athletic relations.

In all probability Trinity will play State College in basketball on Tuesday, February 28, in Raleigh and on March 3, here. The dates for the baseball contests are May 7 for the game in Raleigh and May 11 or 15 in Durham.

There will be no Trinity-State football game next season.

Women's Student Government Association

Nora Chaffin became president of the Women's Student Government Association for next year, and Ethel Merritt on the election for the presidency of the Young Women's Christian Association at a joint election held Saturday afternoon in Southgate chapel.

The officers of the Women's Student Government Association for the next year are as follows: President, Nora Chaffin; Vice-president, Margaret Frank; Secretary, Elizabeth Ferguson; Assistant Secretary, Flora Bray; Treasurer, Nancy Kirkman; Assistant Treasurer, Lucy Glasgow.

The new set of officers of the Y. W. C. A. is: President, Ethel Merritt; Undergraduate Representative, Ida Green; Vice-president, Mary King Ellison; Secretary, Elizabeth Roberts; Treasurer, Jessie Hauer.

FRESHMAN TEAM HAS MET WITH SUCCESS IN GAMES PLAYED ON RECENT TRIPS

First-Year Team Has Won Three Out of Five Contests by Consistent
Team Work

The Trinity College Freshman basketball team made the first successful trip of its career when it left Monday, February 12 for Greensboro, where it was defeated by the Greensboro "Y" team after a hard fight. The Freshmen then beat the strong Oak Ridge team. Since that time the team has played three games, being victorious over both Meane and Apex and losing to the Raleigh High School team. These games are featured by the team work displayed by the whole Freshman team. Barnhardt guarded well in all the games and Roane was the high scorer for the team.

Greensboro Y Game
Monday night February 12 the Greensboro "Y" defeated the Freshmen by a score of 37-20. In this game the "Y" first team played a large part of the game while the Freshmen were supposed to be playing the second "Y" team. During the time that the second team was in the game the Trinity team caught up with and passed the "Y", but the Greensboro first team was inserted, and won by the score given above. The Freshmen played a very good game. Hayes led the team in scoring ability while Suitt deserves credit for his passing.

Oak Ridge Game
The Oak Ridge Institute went down in defeat before the Trinity College Freshmen Tuesday night February 13 by a 36-22 score. The game was exciting

THIRTY-ONE MEN WERE PLEGDED TO NATIONAL FRATERNITIES HERE

RUSHING SEASON CULMINATED
WEDNESDAY EVENING AS
BIDS WERE ISSUED

NEW RUSHING RULES USED

Fraternity Men Compose Approximately Eighteen Per Cent of the Student Body

Bid day has come and gone once more and the national fraternity roll has been increased by thirty-one members. Written bids were mailed out Wednesday and returned on Thursday. The eight national fraternities at Trinity had last Thursday as pledge day and the past week has been taken up with their initiations. There are now 126 fraternity men on the campus, or approximately eighteen per cent of the student body. This means that the percentage has climbed up three points since last year when it was only fifteen per cent of the student body.

The rushing season this year has proved to be an improvement over that of previous years in some respects. This year the Pan-Hellenic Council decided to wait until the freshmen has passed 12 hours before pledging and at that time he would be eligible for immediate initiation.

Alpha Tau Omega
The Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity have fourteen old men in the Chapter and initiated two new men Friday, W. B. Mayer, '26, Charlotte, and S. C. Bridges, '26, Raleigh, making a total of sixteen men.

Kappa Sigma
The Kappa Sigmas had their initiation Saturday and initiated nine new men, making a total of eighteen members. The following are their new men: S. E. Rapar, '26, Lexington; Robert Baugh, '26, Elkton, Tenn.; John Everett, '26, Lenoir; A. K. and A. E. Weavers, '26, and T. A. Shaw, '26 all of Corinth, Miss.; W. S. Blakeney, '26, Monroe and W. B. Rowland, '26 of Durham.

Kappa Alpha
Kappa Alpha initiated seven new men increasing their roll to eighteen. The new men who were initiated Friday were: John Wyche, '26; F. G. Pierce, '26; Allen Pierce, '26; C. P. Vincent, '26; all of Weldon, N. C.; W. A. Underwood, '26, Asheboro; T. A. Aldridge, '26, Durham; O. C. Peeler, '26, Troutman.

Grades on Work

The 9019 fraternity at a meeting Monday night elected the following men to membership: L. S. Brady, '23; T. B. Bradley, '23; G. V. Allen, '24; E. B. Fisher, '24. The initiation will begin tonight with the horseplay and will continue until Thursday night when a banquet will be given at the Goody Shop.

This initiation is the second one of the scholastic year. The new initiates are men who have maintained an average of 90 or above in all scholastic work for four consecutive terms. Last fall at the annual initiation of the 9019 fraternity the following men were taken in on their scholastic records for the four consecutive terms that they have been in College: C. B. Hatch, H. A. Oliver, W. P. Leek, J. M. Keach, R. A. Crabtree, and T. D. Seerest.

The fraternity is now at work making preparations for the annual high school telecommunion contest which will be held at Trinity during the Easter holidays. Literature has been mailed to all high schools in North Carolina and parts of Tennessee, Virginia, and South Carolina. Many schools have already ac-

TRINITY'S ALL-TIME FOOTBALL TEAM WILL GO DOWN IN HISTORY

ALL-TRINITY FOOTBALL TEAM
PICKED BY CHRONICLE
FROM THREE TEAMS

HALL CHOSEN AS QUARTERBACK

After Careful Analysis Chronicle Chooses Team from Squads of Former Teams

Trinity College has put three foot-ball teams on the field since resuming the sport, and each of these teams has won an unlimited amount of praise. THE CHRONICLE, after due consideration of every man on these teams, has endeavored to pick an all-Trinity team from them. In spite of the fact that any one team picked would not receive the unanimous vote of the entire student body, THE CHRONICLE has seriously attempted to choose a team that will meet the approval of the student body as far as possible.

There can be little doubt concerning the end positions, for Carter and Neal have truly won the honors. For aggressiveness in attack and defensive skill these ends have few superiors in the South. Hucklebee is placed as sub end. He is by far the best end for defensive work. As for the tackle positions the honors must go to Leach and Hatcher. The former possesses handwork and aggressiveness in attack, while the latter has proved a bulwark of strength in offensive play as well as defensive.

At the two guard positions are B. B. Jones and Taylor. Jones was captain of the initial team and was an experienced and cool player. Taylor was picked by a majority of coaches as all-around guard last season, which honor he truly deserves. He proved to be a most valuable man by his ability to keep up the spirit of his team. Simpson, at center, has few peers in this section. For physical prowess, weight, alertness, passing and punting ability he far surpasses all others in his class.

In picking the halves much difficulty was encountered, but after careful analysis

POPULAR SPORT MONTHLY WILL FEATURE STORY OF EARLY BASKETBALL TEAM

Picture of Cap. Card and Football Team Will be in Article
by Henry Belk

The March issue of Intercollegiate Athletics, the national collegiate athletic monthly, published in New York, contains an article by Henry Belk, the official college reporter, on the introduction of basketball in Angier Duke gymnasium in 1906. The article appeared several weeks ago in the State newspapers and attracted wide attention because of its new value and, most of all, its human interest. The story is told by "Cap Card" in conversational style. Cap tells how he persuaded the college officials to allow the boys to organize a basketball team despite the objections of the faculty. The dear thought that "basketball was a girl's game, and as Trinity was not a co-educational institution, he didn't wish to encourage any feminine sports among the boys.

The sport magazine's acceptance of the story is a step forward in the publicity of Trinity College. That the magazine wishes to publish a story from Trinity College goes to prove that Trinity is at last coming to be recognized throughout the entire country as a college that produces athletic teams of merit. Intercollegiate Athletics is a magazine that circulates from coast to coast and publishes stories of athletic activities at the leading colleges and universities in the United States.

Along with the story of the beginning of basketball at Trinity the magazine will feature the picture of Cap Card

TRINITY QUINT LOSES TO CAROLINA TOSSERS IN EXCITING GAME

GAME WAS FULL OF THRILLS,
SPIKES AND BULLOCK
AMAZE AUDIENCE

GAME LOST BY SMALL MARGIN

Carolina Changed Method of Play in First Half After Trinity Had Gained Long Lead

Trinity was defeated by the Carolina quint last Saturday night in the Carolina gymnasium in a close hard-fought game. The score at the close of the game was 36-32. The outcome of the game eliminates the "Blue Devils" from the championship race and gives the University an almost undisputed claim to the State Championship. The game was one of the cleanest played between the rival teams in many years.

Trinity got off to a good start and the first score of the game was rung up when Spikes, the fast left-forward of the "Blue Devils" shot a pretty two-pointer "from past the middle of the floor. With this goal the Trinity team got off to a flying start. Simpson shot a pretty goal and Bullock got a long one from the middle of the court. Trinity soon led Carolina by a 12-7 score. At this stage of the game Captain "Monk" McDonald of the Carolina called time-out and seemed to exhort his team to do better deeds. This act on the part of McDonald has its desired effect, however, for led by right forward Green, the Southern Champions speeded things up. The Trinity team was apparently unable to meet this burst of speed and when the whistle blew to end the half the University team led by a 17-15 score.

Trinity began the second half with a counter offensive which for a while swept the Carolina team and threatened to win or Trinity. Bullock shot a goal at a hard angle from the middle of the court, and Neal got in a pretty two-pointer, and the team as a whole seemed rejuvenated. Carolina tied the score, however, and gained a five point lead when Carmichael shot a foul and Greene slipped in two field goals in rapid succession.

The outstanding stars for the Carolina team were Green and Carmichael, Carmichael leading the scoring for the game with four field goals and 10 fouls out of 18 attempts and Green getting 3 field goals during the course of the game. Trinity had no outstanding star. The work of all showed improvement over their previous games except in the shooting of "crip" shots. Bullock, Spikes, and Simpson getting three two-pointers each, Neal, two, and Crute one. Spikes also featured with his foul shooting, getting 8 goals out of 10 tries. Captain Simpson and Bullock both played excellent floor games and Crute guarded well.

The line-up and summary:

Trinity	Position	Carolina
Simpson, (C)		Green
	R. F.
Spikes		McDonald, S.
	L. F.
Bullock		Carmichael
	C.
Crute		McDonald, A., (C)
	R. G.
Neal		Mahler
	L. G.

Substitutions: Carter for Neal, Poole for McDonald, S. Field goals: Simpson 3, Spikes 3, Bullock 3, Neal 2, Crute Green 6, Carmichael 4, McDonald, A., 2, and Mahler. Foul goals: Simpson 0 out of 3, Spikes 8 out of 10, and Carmichael 10 out of 18. Referee Groger (O. M. L.)

PARAGRAPHS

Among other revivals, let's revive the old Kemo-daro-da-yell which has been dormant for several years.

When the fraternities got to their rubbing season, the co-eds were already on their second round this year. Such is life under the new rules.

We hereby nominate Mr. Lim for the job of cheer-leader.

If the class of '23 is to have its graduation exercises in the new gym, it will have to wait till the end of summer school at least.

Have you seen that fellow that can get up from the floor with five men on top of him? If you haven't, you ought to find him right away.

EXPANSION OF ATHLETIC PROGRAM SHOULD BE CONTINUED FURTHER

Just a few years ago the general run of athletic events at Trinity was something like this: In the fall—nothing much, except the traditional ten-mile inter-class relay contest; in the winter—basket-ball, which was Trinity's greatest game; in the spring—tennis, track and baseball.

It was in the fall of 1919 that football got started again, when class football was installed. Thus the game which was introduced into this part of the world by Trinity when it organized its first football team in 1887 was again implanted.

In the spring of 1920 Trinity and Davidson competed in the first inter-collegiate golf tournament held in this state. During the following year Trinity took an active part in the ground work for the North Carolina indoor track meet, which is now a permanent athletic event which brings hundreds of athletes to Durham every year.

Cross country teams have been organized within the past two years, and Trinity's runners have already won renown in this state and have been recognized throughout the South. In all probability Trinity will compete in the first annual Intercollegiate Carnival which will be held on April 28 in Atlanta. This meet is destined to be one of the greatest athletic events of the South within a few years, receiving prominence in this section of the country similar to that of the Penn. Relays in the East.

In the field of wrestling, Trinity has already made more progress than any other in the State, and the outcome of the matches of this week will indicate whether Trinity will win the 1923 State Championship in this sport or not. Wrestling did not attract an extraordinary amount of attention last year, but this year Trinity's team has won several spectacular victories and the wrestling matches are being followed with increasing interest by the students and the people of Durham. Coach Bailey and his squad have certainly worked hard in successfully introducing this sport, and the college is now aroused and interested in the leadership and success of the Trinity team over other competitors.

"Cap" Card is now planning to bring a volleyball squad into active work, and his intention is to develop a strong first team which will be ready to handle all comers.

With an increasing student body, the increase in activities of an athletic nature should be steadily maintained. Inter-mural competition in basketball is now taking place, and will be followed by contests in other sports. The freshmen basketball squad gives an added incentive for new men to try out for the varsity basketball team.

Trinity should now practically be ready to introduce another sport—the game of soccer, or association football, suggested.

Many students who are subject to "P. T." have been set on the field to play at this time, but the gym classes are so big that only a few students have met the elements of the game.

Should the student body really desire to play soccer, there is a possibility of having the game introduced and soccer could become a part of the intra-mural contests. Soccer is an international game which is a favorite with the athletes of France, England, and all of the South American countries, and is now being played at the leading institutions in the East. About two years ago it was introduced to N. C. State College by Professor Nelson, who played the game in England, and at least one game between the faculty and the students was played in Raleigh.

Trinity students at large should realize that with this increased athletic program, they all now have an opportunity of becoming participants in some contests, whether in the form of a dormitory team, a freshman team, a varsity team, or what-not. They should support these new branches, work for them, and encourage the fellow that is already at work.

NEED FOR REGULATION OF DATES OF MEETINGS AND OTHER AFFAIRS

When the freshman wrote home stating that "there was so much going on at Trinity that he could not keep up with events," he said a mouthful, according to popular usage. This rapid increase of activities going on every day in the week, running practically all year round, has aggravated the problem of the conflict of dates among the various meetings of organizations, as well as with athletic contests.

Several weeks ago the list of the meetings taking place on one night was printed in this paper. Each week that goes by sees this same situation repeated. In addition to this conflict of the various clubs, the various societies have had an unusually large number of meetings entirely postponed or shortened due to the realization of athletic contests. Other organizations find that their traditional meeting nights are often by chance broken into by a debate with some college, or some other event.

It seems that some system ought to be worked out whereby certain organizations should have the right of way to hold their meetings on specific dates, and other events arranged on occasions when no interference would be occasioned. Another remedy might be the one advocated last year,—that of restricting the number of activities each student might take a part in by establishing a definite limit to the scope of one man's extra-curriculum work.

NOTICE

BASKET-BALL

The Trinity-University of Virginia game will be played on the High School gymnasium floor, Friday night at 8 o'clock.

Tomorrow will be a holiday in honor of Washington's birthday, but no civic celebration will be held.

At the Y. M. C. A. tonight Dr. A. D. Wilcox will speak on "The Christian Ministry as a Profession."

The meeting of the Chemistry Club which was to have met on Thursday evening has been postponed on account of the holiday. E. P. Jones will address the club at the next meeting on "Chemistry and the Washbub."

LORRAINE WYMAN TO SING FOLK SONGS TO COLLEGE STUDENTS ON WEDNESDAY

Program Will Include Folk Ballads From Europe, Canada, and Kentucky

The concert to be given by Miss Lorraine Wyman, the celebrated singer of folk-songs, on February 28 promises to be highly entertaining according to the program which has just been announced by Miss Wyman. The songs will be divided into three groups: songs from France and Belgium, songs from Kentucky, and songs from Canada and England. With each group of songs Miss Wyman will wear the native costume of the country that produced the ballads. Many of the songs, especially those from Kentucky, have been collected by Miss Wyman herself. Only recently she has been working under a Government research department of Canada, where more than 4,000 folk songs have been collected.

Miss Wyman will be accompanied by Mrs. Louis Smith, who will play the piano for her. The concert will be given under the auspices of the Trinity College Dramatic Club, and the publicity committee of the club is now at work trying to induce all students who have not yet signed for tickets to sign immediately so that the citizens of Durham will be given an opportunity to buy cheap seats.

Following is the program of the concert:

- Songs from France and Belgium
- Le Semeur, by Bourgeois Desoulayre.
- Le Retour du Marin, by de Sivry.
- Le Grillon et la Fourmi, by L. Sinigaglia.
- La Mentuse, by de Sivry.
- La Boiteuse, by Deems Taylor.
- Songs from Kentucky
- Billie Boy.
- Lord Thomas and Fair Elender.
- The Ground Hog, by Wyman-Brockway.
- The Nightingale.
- The Road's Courtesan.
- Songs from Canada and England
- La Chanson du Moine, by Gustave Ferrari.
- A St. Malo, by Gustave Ferrari.
- En revenant de Varennes, by Julien Tierset.
- Lord Lovel, by Charles F. Manney.
- O dear what can the matter be, by Arnold Bax.
- Heave Away!, by Cecil Sharp.

Athena Society Discussed Several Important Topics

Athena Literary Society held an interesting meeting Monday at four o'clock. The main feature of the afternoon was a very enlightening talk by Miss Kennedy on Women and Graduate Work. This talk was both edifying and gratifying. The per cent of women doing graduate work is very small but the work done compares favorably with that done by men.

The remainder of the program consisted of talks on: Valentine superstitions, Lucy Glasson; Washington's Ancestors, Annie Garis; Washington the Boy, Willie Crowder; Washington the Man, Lillian Frost; Washington in War, Cornelia; Washington in Peace, Nannie Crowder; The Life and Works of Longfellow, Ethel Freeman; Frivolous Facts about the Great and the Near-Great, Mary King Ellison.

Brooks Society Hears Mr. Newsum on "Chapel Talks"

At the regular meeting of Brooks Literary Society on Tuesday afternoon, Mr. D. W. Newsum gave a most interesting talk on Chapel Talks of Bishop Kilgo. Mr. Newsum was private secretary to Dr. Kilgo while he was president of Trinity College and thus gave an intimate, personal touch to the discussion of the life of this extraordinary man as president of our beloved Alma Mater.

OPEN FORUM

To the Public:

We, the members of the Columbian Literary Society, being a collective body of students organized for worthy constructive purposes, take this occasion to announce to the citizens of this campus community that the Columbian Society has put itself on record as supporting without any qualification the principles and purposes of student government, and that we hereby pledge our individual and collective efforts toward promoting and maintaining the measure of success thus far realized. Columbian sentiment is overwhelmingly in favor of rigid and impartial enforcement of the "honor system," and we as members accept willingly the responsibilities which it imposes.

THE COLUMBIAN LITERARY SOCIETY.

THOS. B. BRADLEY,
President.

NO NEED FOR MINOR RULES

To the Editor:

Rules, Rules, Rules. Will some of the students, even A Senior, never get away from the idea that the College will collapse if the students are not governed as children? Some, including A Senior who wrote the article for the Open forum for the last issue of The Chronicle, seem to hold this view. The Honor System itself carries the idea that minor rules may be abolished and that gentlemen know how to conduct themselves on examination; and if there are those who have not yet learned how to conduct themselves as gentlemen, they will be looked after by their fellow students.

That the Honor System is right in principle, and that a successful beginning has been made is admitted by the author of the article referred to. After he has admitted these facts, he states that the proponents of the Honor System were mistaken in their beliefs as to what Honor System would accomplish. He bases his conclusion on these facts: (1) The Honor System did not totally eliminate dishonesty. (2) It caused a considerable amount of confusion, and (3) It did not bring about ideal conditions under which examinations should be conducted. To conclude the argument the Senior adds that "the recent test did not result in mere negativities." (He might have expressed his idea better had he said that it amounted to little more than the cube-root of a vacuum). To discuss the above points is useless, for they have been discussed before the student body by college professors who have said that such ideal conditions could not be expected at the beginning of student government. The students heard our own college professors, in their chapel talks Monday morning, bear testimony to this fact.

After considering the above points, does it not appear that the Honor System did measure up to the standard, in every respect, which its proponents set for it? If your answer is in the affirmative, what, then, was the object of the article? Was the Senior aiming at constructive criticism of the Honor System, or was he merely throwing bricks at his Excellency?

After having considered the content of the article, those in earnest about the success of the Honor System must see the motives back of the article and must realize that no good can come from such a motive. Surely the Senior must have had a feeling of remorse as he listened to the talks made in chapel Monday morning.—B. R. H.

CONCERNING LIBERTIES IN EXAMINATION HALLS

To the Editor:

The passing of the examination period has left the honor system an undoubted success, but a majority of the advocates of the system know that its success was impeded by the attitude taken by a certain minority of students. The liberties taken in some instances necessitate the serious consideration of the entire student body.

In passing judgment upon the effectiveness of the honor system at Trinity College we should by no means make a comparison with the plans adopted by other schools. A great amount of liberty in an honor system does not assure a great amount of honesty. It will be found that there are limitations to every honor system—limitations which, if based on common sense, and limitations which, if disregarded, will handicap the success of the honor system at Trinity. Any violation of these restrictions, therefore, merits the unbiased consideration of the advocates of the honor system.

These limitations are so elementary and so universal that the violation of them indicates a lack of culture and refinement which is supposedly inherent in college students. The honor system is nothing more than a gentlemen's agreement; it assumes that Trinity students are gentlemen and that the same decorum will be observed during examination as if the professor were in the classroom. There are no further limitations; but does it mean a restriction upon the liberties which come with the honor system if a student cannot talk during examination? And do these liberties include smoking in the classrooms during examination? Apparently so, if we judge by the actions of certain students.

How great the number is who desire these liberties, it is impossible to say. Even if it is a small minority, however, it remains the duty of those who respect student government to invade against those who desire to talk, to smoke, or to leave the classroom during an examination. Are these desires justifiable? Certainly not; they are no more justifiable than would be the refusal of a citizen to sacrifice certain privileges in order that society might gain greater or less freedom. Talking in class may be an indication of implicit reliance upon honesty, but it does not indicate thoughtfulness upon the part of the one talking; it causes the student to run the risk of incurring suspicion; and, the most important of all, it disturbs those who desire the examination to be conducted quietly. Even less can be said for smoking, certainly it is a mistaken idea to claim that the honor system extends the privilege of smoking to the few who desire it when it is opposed by the wishes of the majority. Smoking is disagreeable to some persons, and obviously an examination cannot be administered best in a classroom in which smoking is indulged. Nothing need be said of the student who will smoke in a mixed class; his actions discredit the assumption that every Trinity student is a gentleman.

It is hoped that those who desire the privileges of smoking and talking during examinations are very few, but however small the number, they should bear in mind the wishes of the majority. It is disconcerting to many students to have other students talking, smoking or leaving the room frequently, and when the majority demand absolute decorum in class, it is clear that they have a perfect right to do so. Those who desire these privileges, then, should forego them out of deference to the will of the majority, to say nothing of the criticism that would come from outside sources if examinations were conducted under such conditions.

It is hoped that this criticism will be constructive. It frequently happens, however, that the effect of constructive criticism is somewhat disparaged by personal prejudices; consequently the name of the writer is withheld in the hope that the criticism may be judged for its true worth. This much may be said, though: he is a supporter, but not a member, of the student council.

CALL FOR RENEWAL OF BASKETBALL SPIRIT

To the Editor:

There are four periods in the history of basketball at Trinity. I will speak very briefly of the first two of these periods and will dwell on the other two for a longer span of time. When inter-collegiate basketball was introduced at Trinity the student body was only mildly interested in this as a competitive sport due to the fact that it was a new thing and to the fact that baseball reigned supreme as the chief sport at the school. At this time the team itself was inferior to some extent to the other big teams in the State.

As time went by enthusiasm among the students began to pick up and as a result the team was considered as one of the best in the State. This reputation was due principally to the Trinity spirit rather than to any increase in the strength of the team.

Then came a time at Trinity when basketball was the major sport of Trinity. In 1914 when the great war broke out in Europe the Trinity team was regarded as one of the best in the State and could give any team in the South a good fight. As time went on the team grew even stronger and between then and 1920 the team won the undisputed championship of the State (1917 and 1920) and on another occasion won the championship when the N. C. State College forfeited the deciding game due to a dispute over the referee. In 1917 the team lost only two games one, to a little school in Florida, on account of overconfidence, and the other to the University of Virginia, thereby losing the championship of the South.

In this span of time Trinity spirit was at its highest pitch and the team was as strong as it has been up to this time. In these years it was said that Trinity was unbeatable on its home court, and so it was. Some attribute this to the fact that the court was smaller than the courts of the other big teams of the State, but these persons failed to make it clear just why these teams were unable to beat Trinity on their own courts. Others attributed this to Trinity spirit.

In 1920 the team seemed on the decline and since that year the success that followed the team in former days was lacking. Apparently the team had lost its strength. The spirit of the other days was lacking. Due to the re-establishment of football as a competitive sport at Trinity and to the loss of such men as Martin, Ferrell, Hathaway, and Starling from the 1920 team, the popularity of basketball declined and has been steadily declining. To the decline of interest in basketball rather than to the weakness of the team do I attribute the fact mentioned in the opening sentence of this paragraph. The school has failed the team in its reconstruction period.

Chi Tau Fraternity Held Its Annual Initiation

Eight men, four members of the freshman class and four upper classmen, were selected as members of the Chi Tau Fraternity at the annual initiation services held Tuesday evening. An elaborate banquet at the Marlborough Hotel ended the ceremonies, with Henry Belk acting as toastmaster.

The new members initiated were: Herbert Williams, '24, Wilmington; L. P. Wynne, '24, Williamson; W. J. Smith, Jr., '25, Bethel; Robert Long, '25, Roxboro; L. S. Laprade, '26, Pon Hook, Va.; A. A. Wilkinson, '26, Asheville; Earl P. McFee, '26, Asheville; and Chas. W. Porter, '26, Asheville.

Other members present were Henry Belk, J. O. Sanderson, W. L. Taylor, N. Wilkerson, D. T. House, Jr., M. L. Wilson, M. T. Hines, W. E. Evans, W. E. Smith, R. E. Evans, D. L. Farmer, D. L. Maness, and Chas. Hoover.

Beta Pi Fraternity Held Initiation Last Night

The Beta Pi Fraternity, banqueted at the Marlborough Hotel dining hall last night. Dr. W. J. H. Cotton, of the Trinity College faculty, an alumni member of the fraternity acted as toastmaster of the occasion and J. S. Barage, a member of Lambda Chi Alpha was guest of honor at the meeting.

The new members of the fraternity were: Hugh A. Scott, '26, Goldsboro; W. S. Sharpe, '26, Elm City; and E. G. Overton, '25, South Creek.

The old members of the fraternity present at the banquet were: Dr. W. J. Cotton, Wayne Baruch, L. S. Elkins, R. W. Sanders, C. S. Hammond, J. L. Sharpe, C. W. Shuster, A. C. Edwards, H. A. Oliver, R. G. Dayton, J. H. Burn, S. S. Burke, C. Mc. Aulay, and R. A. Burch.

Hesperians Debated on the One Year Rule for Trinity

Although the attendance at Hesperia was cut down considerably because of the bad weather Saturday night, a very interesting program was rendered. Three orations by Clegg, Shikawa, and Brady started the program off and were followed by a number of extemporaneous speeches.

The debate of the evening was held on the subject, "Resolved, That Trinity College should adopt the one-year rule in all athletics."

Following the debate a motion was made to adopt the resolution proposed, endorsing student government but they failed of adoption by a vote of 20 to 5. Afterwards a committee was appointed to look into the matter and to recommend any action it found necessary.

Lenoir College, at Hickory, is now in the midst of an intensive campaign to raise $850,000 for the expansion of the college. The last issue of The Lenoir, the college weekly paper, is devoted to the interests of the campaign, and for that issue the circulation ran up to 5,300.

FARRISS READ PAPER TO SMALL CROWD ON MONDAY AT HISTORICAL SOCIETY

New Constitution Was Presented to Society for Adoption by C. H. Smith

At a poorly attended meeting of the Historical Society J. J. Farriss, Jr., presented a paper on the history of the Lowrie gang in Eastern North Carolina during the Reconstruction period.

The Lowrie gang was active in Eastern North Carolina during the Civil War and during the few years following the war. The speaker reviewed the history thoroughly and brought out several new viewpoints which have not yet been introduced by historians. First, the speaker told of the conditions in Robeson county which led to the start of the gang and the chief motives that motivated their beginning.

The last part of the history was taken up with the numerous murders and robberies committed by the Lowrie band. It was brought out that some of the most prominent citizens of the county were murdered and that every farm house had been subject to the devastating attacks of the Indians.

C. H. Smith, representing the committee for the creation of a new constitution for the Society, reported the new document to the Society. It was decided to print several copies of the constitution and post them where the students can see them. Action will be taken on the new constitution at the second meeting of the society.

The plan of drawing up a new constitution is two-fold. First, it is to replace the old one destroyed several years ago, and second, to stimulate interest among the students. Heretofore, it has been the custom to let some of the professors appear on the program and let the students be the audience. The purpose of the new document is to make the students rather than the professors the participants in the programs. The constitution with by-laws will be typed and placed on the bulletin boards by next week.

Mrs. Harvey S. Pardee and two children, Ruth and Etta, of Chicago, Illinois, are visiting their sister and aunt, Miss Esther Evans.

SECRET PRESENTED PAPER AT SIGMA UPSILON FRIDAY

Life and Works of Edmond Rostand Was Subject of Literary Discussion

The Life and Works of Edmond Rostand, one of the foremost of modern French dramatists, was interestingly discussed in a paper read by James Seerest at the last regular meeting of the Fortnightly Club. Chapter of the Sigma Upsilon Literary Fraternity. In addition to sketching the life of the dramatist, Seerest read extracts from the best criticisms to Rostand, and then read passages from and sketched the plots of three of the author's best known plays: La Princesse Lointaine, Cyrano de Bergerac, and Chantecler.

Edmond Rostand was born April 1, 1868 in Marseille, of a well-to-do and cultured family, especially interested in poetry and music. He received an excellent education in the classics both in the lycées of his home town and Stanislas College, of Paris. He was elected to the French Academy in 1901, and became commandeur de la Legion d'honneur in 1911. On December 2, 1918 he died from an attack of influenza, while visiting Paris. His best known dramatic productions are, Les Romanesques, La Princesse Lointaine, La Samaritaine, Cyrano de Bergerac, L'Aiglon, Chantecler, and Dernier Nuit de Don Juan.

Two schools of critics have arisen in regard to the works of Rostand: One school brands the poet's dramas as romantic melodramas, and the other school of critics hails Rostand as a genius to be ranked in the class of Shakespeare. Both schools admit, however, that his works had a reception extraordinary in the history of the stage. All of his plays are written in lyrical and musical verse, and are for the most part romances, either of comedy or tragedy.

The customary light feed followed the literary program.

At the regular weekly meeting of the Y. W. C. A., Professor H. E. Spence gave a talk on the opportunity for and meaning of Social Service with especial emphasis on the relationship of well-trained, wide-awake, social-minded college women to the world in general.

WOMEN PLAN TO STAGE A BRILLIANT CELEBRATION THIS YEAR ON MAY DAY

Hunter Holloway to be Crowned Queen of May and Sara Dashiell Will be Maid of Honor

The third annual May Day festival conducted by the women students of Trinity College promises to be the most brilliant celebration of its kind in years. Miss Hunter Holloway has been elected Queen of the May, and Sara Dashiell will act as Maid of Honor. The festival will probably begin on Saturday night, April 28, with a carnival somewhat similar to the one last year although all the clever stunts will be new. The coronation of the May Queen will take place Tuesday afternoon, May 1, in front of East Duke, according to custom.

The festival this season marks the third year of the May Day revels, introduced by the Dramatic Club, then a woman's organization exclusively, for the first time in the spring of 1921. During the first festival a carnival was held in Angier Duke gymnasium and two plays were presented by the Women's Dramatic Club in Craven Memorial Hall. Martha Wiggins was crowned May Queen at the coronation. Last year another carnival was held in the gymnasium, and the Women's Glee Club gave a concert in Craven Memorial Hall during the May Day revels. Edna Beasley was crowned Queen of the May, according to the ancient English custom. During both festivals the women students maintained a tea room in East Duke, where vivacious waitresses dressed as Dutch maids served delightful refreshments.

The attendants of the May Queen will be as follows: Iva Jennette, Helen Cantrell, Elizabeth Kramer, Elizabeth Aldridge, Flora Meredith, Anne Ratledge, Lucy Taylor, Herminia Haynes, Lillie May Stanford, Georgia Albrecht, and Ethel Merritt. The following committees are at work planning the program for the festival: Tea room, Elizabeth Aldridge and Lillie May Stanford, chairmen; carnival, Catherine Cox and Elsie Beavers, chairmen; coronation, Imogene Barrett, chairman; central committee, Hunter Holloway, chairman. Miss Kennedy is ex-officio member of the central committee.

JANUARY ALUMNI REGISTER ADVOCATES MEDICAL SCHOOL

President Few Writes Letter in Which He Makes Clear His Views on Medical School

The Trinity Alumni Register for January is off the press. Besides the regular presidential letter and the campus, editorial, athletic, and alumni notes, there are five articles of general interest. The January number not only sets forth necessary news concerning the college but contains articles advocating the many needs of the college as seen by outsiders.

The letter of the President gives his views about the much discussed medical school proposed, and makes his position clear as in favor of a joint medical school insofar as the plan would be compatible with the doctrine of separation of church and state. The various happenings about College for the past half year are given in "On the Campus," and following is a resume of the fall term activities.

The alumni notes depict the increasing activity of the college alumni and their activities through the newly inaugurated organizations. An article by the assistant alumni secretary describes the development of the revolving fund and outlines the districts with their directors for collecting and handling the various quotas for the fund. An enthusiastic plea for fraternity houses at Trinity is made by M. A. Braswell, '20, and W. N. Evans, Jr., '20. That Trinity women are active is proved in the alumnae department.

The editorial page announces the resignation of the editor, Professor Holland Holton, effective April 20. No successor has been chosen. Attention is called to the fact that the summer school for preachers opens June 6, and the regular summer school June 15.

"Six Months of the College" by S. B. Underwood, '06, gives an intimate picture of life at Trinity from 1899 to 1904. Humorous incidents about Trinity professors are laughingly treated in "16. The Register needs more of the like. A letter to the alumni by Professor R. G. Adams calls upon them to be watchful for printed matter of historical value that may be secured for the library.

Virginia-Trinity Contest to be Hard-Fought Affair

The basketball game with the University of Virginia on Friday night promises to be a well-matched contest. Coach Burbage's warriors are eager for the fray, confident that they will be able to get revenge for their defeat at the hands of the Virginians on the recent trip through the state of Virginia. Although the Virginia men won the game from Trinity by a margin of three points, Trinity was at a disadvantage because of the size of the court, the absence of Neal, and the injury of Crute.

It is true that Virginia has lost only two games out of thirteen, while Trinity's season has been a bit disappointing at times. But even the correspondent at the University recognizes the ability of the Trinity warriors, for he wrote in an article to the Durham Herald last Sunday: "Since the victory over Trinity here was only by a small margin, the Virginia players will be in for a tough scrap, if not a beating, when they play in Durham."

Neal will probably play in his old position as guard for Trinity. It is uncertain as yet who will fill Bullock's position or Crute's. If Crute, Bullock, and Carter are disqualified from playing, the Trinity team will be handicapped indeed. These men have provided much of the strength of the team, and although Spikes and Simpson are in their best form, they will feel keenly the need of Bullock at center and Crute at guard.

At the regular meeting of the Physics Club Tuesday night the semi-annual elections of officers was held. W. S. Barnes was elected president, J. R. Killian, vice-president, and Mary Myers secretary and treasurer. Business matters were discussed at length and future programs planned.

The discussion of the evening was led by Sease who talked instructively on Radio Waves. Their production, nature and use were taken up at length.

The baseball diamond in Hanes Field has been scrapped and put in good condition for the coming baseball season. The management states that suits will be issued to letter men as soon as the weather man permits.

A good assortment of baseball goods has already arrived at the college store, and the followers of the game have all been over to saving the bats and swat at imaginary benders.

The pitchers and catchers are working regular each day, and the call for men will be issued within the coming week if the weather permits.

The Biology Club held its regular meeting last Monday night at its accustomed place. The feature of the program for the evening was Ormonds paper on Blood as a Circulating Tissue. The topic covered by the writer was interesting as well as valuable, and the content showed marks of careful preparation.

Five new men were elected to membership of the Biology Club. The following are the newly-elected: Chesson, Brown, Teague, Meacham, and Fanning. Several men were elected also as associate members, namely, Green, Daniels, and Kale.

BLUE DEVILS SUFFER DEFEAT AT HANDS OF STRONG DURHAM TEAM

NEITHER TEAM SHOWED ITS BEST AND GAME WAS SLOW AND WITHOUT THRILLS

CRUTE AND MANGUM ARE STARS

Trinity Team Made a Come-Back in Second Half But Was Too
Late Then

After returning from Virginia with the laurels, the Trinity Blue Devil quint was defeated by the strong Durham Y. team Thursday night on the latter's court by the narrow margin of 37 to 33. The game was without thrills and neither team showed unexpected ability. There was, however, some good basket-ball during the game, and incidentally, there was some poor basket-ball. Trinity's guarding was good, but Mangum, with sheer ability, caged six baskets from the floor in the first half. Crute caged four goals from the floor.

During the first half the Y team had a decided advantage, using a passing system that the Blue Devils had difficulty in solving. The ball was relayed to Mangum by this system and from his hands it was caged six times. In the last half Trinity became more aggressive and gained a decided edge, but the lead was too large to overcome. Spikes caged the ball two times from the center of the floor.

The line-up and summary:
Trinity Durham Y.
Simpson (2) Mangum (16)
Right Forward
Spikes (17) Starling (2)
Left Forward
Bullock (4) Perry (9)
Center
Crute (8) Hettlin (6)
Right Guard
Neal (2) Erwin (4)
Left Guard
Substitutions—Trinity: Brooks for Neal, Carter for Brooks.

Throughout the outside being in doubt until the last minute of play. Lapsley and Shields starred for Oak Ridge while Graham was the star for the Freshmen. The team work of the Freshmen was the best they have displayed this season.

Mebane High Game
Friday night February 16 the Freshmen defeated the Mebane High School team 34-21. Mebane was unable to cope with the superior passing and goal-shooting of the Freshmen. Moss and Roane shot several pretty goals and were easily the stars of the game. They were aided considerably by the passing of Suitt.

Raleigh H. S. Game
The Raleigh High School defeated the "Rats" Saturday night in a close game by a 27-21 score. The Freshmen fought hard in this game but were unable to beat this strong Raleigh team. Moss and Roane were again the stars for the Freshmen. The Freshmen missed the floor work and caging ability of Graham who made the trip to Chapel Hill with the Victory.

Freshmen vs. Apex
Monday night the Freshmen team defeated the Apex High School by a 32-24 score. The Freshmen were superior to the high school lads in every department of the game. Suitt was the outstanding star for the Freshmen. He played his best game of the year. Captain Barnhardt played his usual consistent game at guard, guarding his man closely and passing well.

Senior Class is to Hold Elaborate Banquet May 1

For the first time in the history of Trinity College, the Senior Class is to give a banquet, the same to take place on the night of May 1 in connection with the annual May Day Revels. The class has already voted an assessment of three dollars for every member for the event, and has appointed a committee to look after all the details.
This committee has already begun to function. Several meetings have been held at which general plans have been discussed and various suggestions debated. The general committee has appointed numerous special committees which are engaged in working out the details for the banquet.

It is expected to make the banquet one of the biggest things of the year, and that it will become a permanent affair in the student life of Trinity College. A few prominent alumni are to be invited, and there will be short speeches from them, as well as a number of other features to be furnished by the members of the class themselves. The whole thing promises to be a great event and the members of the Senior class are looking forward to it with the keenest anticipation.

SPRIT WAITED TOO LONG TO MOVE QUAKERS AND TRINITY GRAPPLERS HANDED THEM A CRUSHING DEFEAT

 Middle-weight

Guilford vs Trinity
 WARRICK VS MIDDETT

Midgett made an attractive figure as he stepped on the mat in the blue tights of the Trinity wrestler. For the first minute, Warrick, a well set-up Guilford lad, seemed to have a slight advantage. Midgett allowed Warrick to carry the encounter most of the time, at the same time putting up a good defensive. Warrick met his inevitable fate, however, and in two and one-half minutes he succumbed to an arm-lock and body-weight combination.

Light heavy-weight

Guilford vs Trinity
 NICHOLSON VS MIDDETT

After three encounters had taken place, Midgett once more went to the mat, this time with the powerful and muscular Nicholson. Nicholson out-weighted Midgett by about ten or twelve pounds, and he was built like the proverbial "brick house." Several times he succeeded in getting a suffocating headlock on the Trinity wrestler, but was unable to make the most of his advantages. An arm-lock, head-lock, and body-lock by Midgett came very near being the undoing of Nick, who managed to save himself from a fall by desperate defense tactics.

A heavy fall to the mat, caused by a combination crotch and arm-lock by Midgett, left Nicholson too weak for further resistance. With a repetition of the arm and body lock, Midgett pinned his opponents shoulders to the mat for a fall. Time, 6 minutes, 40 seconds.

Heavy-weight

Guilford vs Trinity
 HAMMOND VS MATTHEWSON

"Big Boy" Matthewson seemed to be in a hurry to finish his match, so he lost no time in getting his man to the mat. A quick gyration of blue-tighted legs and bare, muscular arms was all the spectators saw until 25 seconds later, when the referee slapped Matthewson on the back; Matty rose from off his prostrate opponent with an air of much satisfaction. A double arm-lock and body-weight hold did the work.

Referee: Sapiro, (U. N. C.)

Time-keepers: Garrett and Leach.

The entire match was a clean and enjoyable affair, and was attended by a fair-sized crowd of sport-loving fans of both sexes. The coming matches with Davidson and State are being looked forward to with much anticipation by all Trinity students.

THIRTY-ONE MEN WERE PLEGED TO NATIONAL FRATERNITIES HERE

 Pi Kappa Alpha

Pi Kappa Alpha has six old members and will initiate five new men Saturday. The new men are: Everett English, '25, Monroe; George Harris, '26, Albemarle; R. B. Babbington, '26, Gastonia, S. W. Burck, '26, Wilmington, and E. C. McDaris, '26, Cleveland, Tenn.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Ivey Allen, '26, Oxford; W. L. Brown, '26, Greenville; R. P. Harris, '25; Fayetteville, and W. F. Jackson, '25, Roanoke Rapids, were initiated into Sigma Phi Epsilon Saturday night in Raleigh where a joint initiation with the chapter at State College was held. This makes a total of fourteen men in the chapter.

Sigma Chi

There were thirty-two visitors and alumni present at the Sigma Chi banquet Saturday night which was given for their five new initiates. The initiates were: Frank M. Warner, '25, Durham; Edward L. Cannon, '26, Birmingham, Ala.; G. Tereble Garrett, '26, Rockingham; John A. Ramsey, '26, Martinsville, Va., and C. H. Timberlake, '26, Lexington. This makes a total of twenty-two men in the chapter.

Pi Kappa Phi

At initiation services Saturday Pi Kappa Phi initiated W. B. Phifer, '25, Monroe; H. T. Tucker, '26, Madison; Roy Downey, '25, High Point; and Garland Green, '26, Raleigh. These new men make a total of thirteen men in the chapter.

Delta Sigma Phi

Delta Sigma Phi, with ten old members initiated four new men yesterday. The new men were: W. F. Craven, '26, Durham; S. E. Royal, '26, Mt. Olive; J. H. Westbrook, '26, Rocky Mount; J. P. Clendinen, '26, Atlanta, Ga.

'ysis of each man's ability the honors go to Lagerstadt and English. These two men, although relatively light, show speed, headwork, passing ability, and defensive strength. Both are experienced men and work smoothly. For full-back here is little doubt as to the choice of Crute, who is a consistent punter, excellent passer, and dependable defensive and offensive man. His experience and ability to size up plays places him easily in the forefront.

In selecting a quarterback, the writer found a complex situation, as several dependable men vied for first honors. For headwork, speed, and general prowess "Rock Hall" of the initial team, stands as first choice. Fritz Smith, although possessing a world of sheer nerve and headwork, lacked size and speed. Meehan as a late comer and had insufficient opportunity to show his real worth.

Garrett and Bullock run the first halves these seconds and are, therefore, the choice for sub back-field men. For the line Hucklebee, at end; Caldwell, at tackle; and P. D. Midgett, at center and guard complete the sub-linemen. All of these men played in varsity games and acquitted themselves in a creditable manner.

The above team possesses speed, aggressive ability and defensive ability. The backfield has three men who can pass a ball deftly and possesses an attack difficult to stop. English can be switched to quarter when necessary. The line, although exceptionally light, possesses enough speed and experience to verbalize this and is both strong on the defense as well as the offense.

Summary and line-up:
