

TRINITY WRESTLERS TO MEET WASHINGTON AND LEE ON MONDAY NIGHT

COMPARATIVE SCORES SHOW THE BLUE DEVILS WILL BE THE STRONGEST

SOUTHERN TRIP A HARD ONE

Coach Bailey Will Take His Team on a Hard Schedule After the Return Game With The Tar Heels

After sending the University wrestlers back to Chapel Hill with an 18 to 3 defeat, Coach Bailey has been giving his men a good rest and has been using the spare time to strengthen up any weak places in the new material. The team has been undergoing a rigid practice every afternoon, and indications are that the men are in the best condition that they have been since the beginning of the season.

The spring season will open next Monday night when the Washington and Lee opponents exhibit their skill in the New Memorial Gymnasium. This match promises to be one of the best of the year. The Virginians beat Carolina by a good score, but by the comparative score of the team, there is reason to believe that the hope is favorable for Trinity. For the comparative score gives Trinity the edge. At all events, however, the meet will be a good one, for the match will be between the two best wrestling teams in North Carolina and Virginia.

All of the old regulars are in form for the coming struggle. After the meet with Washington and Lee, on the night of the 18, the squad will start on its Southern trip. Without doubt the schedule is a hard one. And it must be remembered that the matches have been arranged very close together, and the team will wrestle with more men in one month. It is usually averaged in a month, the same men are on the team that have been trained by Coach Bailey for the last two years, and every student knows that these men can put up a fight when it comes to a pinch, and although the schedule calls for a hard week, there is every reason to believe that the Trinity material will be in top form when the referee reaches down to tap the winner.

February 21, Carolina at Chapel Hill.
February 22, Concord, N. M. C. A. at Concord.
February 23, Davidson at Davidson.
February 25, University of S. C. at Columbia.
February 27, University of Florida there.
February 28, Jacksonville, Y. M. C. A. there.

The lineup for these meets will be as follows:

115 lb. class: "Red," Johnson, and John Warkick.
120 lb. class: "Duck," Handaway.
125 lb. class: Archie Daniels.
140 lb. class: Henry Mae.
150 lb. class: "Revered," Milgert.
165 lb. class: "Big Boy," Ligon.
Unlimited Heavyweight: Umberger and Spruill.

PROF. GROSS LECTURES TO CHEMISTRY CLUB TOMORROW

Recent Discussions of Chemistry Club Prove Very Beneficial to All Members

The Chemistry Club holds its first meeting of the new term tomorrow evening at 7:15 o'clock in Science Hall. This club is made up of students who are especially interested in chemistry. The club has been active in the past fall and has issued out many questions of everyday importance which have been offered kindly problems to the general college student. The importance of this organization is that these problems may be discussed freely away from the atmosphere of the class room so that they are not misunderstood. The discussions in the club have been very successful in the past and will continue to become more and more important as the Club grows, and the students of the college community wakes up to the fact that this is the age of scientific research and thinking.

Tomorrow evening Dr. Gross, of the Chemistry Department, will lecture on the "Refining of Vegetable Oils." The student body is invited by the Club to hear this lecture. Dr. Gross is well known in the campus as a lecturer, and the value up to the fact that this is the age which is well worth listening to. The Chemistry Club, like all Trinity organizations is working hard for the development of the individual student. In this mind, the Chemistry Club wishes to present as many good lectures as is possible to the student body as a whole.

Delaware Paper Confirms Jones' Denial of Any Desire to Resign

That Howard Jones is content to Trinity College as hardly be doubted now, even by the most pessimistic. But in order to confirm the hopes of the trusting and to dispel the fears of the doubting we quote in part a story which was printed in one of the leading Iowa papers during the middle of last month. It explains itself.

"Cedar Rapids, Ia., January 14.—Coach Howard Jones will not reconsider his resignation from the University of Iowa despite efforts of alumni to get him to do so. This information was given out by Professor R. A. Kuover, secretary of the athletic council, after an interview with Jones.

"Jones exhibited a telegram from Trinity College, Durham, N. C., which confirmed his appointment there and said he would not reconsider.

"It was reported that the alumni and athletic council had made a new agreement which would retain Jones and that President Walter A. Jessup had refused to agree to it. This was denied by Professor Kuover."

VETERAN OF WORLD WAR TO SPEAK TO STUDENTS SOON

Commanding Officer of Port Bragg to Speak on Subject of National Defense

General A. J. Bowley, Commanding Officer at Port Bragg, a distinguished veteran of the World War, has been invited to speak to the students of Trinity at the regular chapel hour on Tuesday, February 10. This well known army officer, having seen actual service, realizes the importance of National Defense at this time in order to protect the Government from detrimental influences from the inside as well as from the outside.

Gen. Bowley thoroughly understands the conditions prevailing at the present time, and has made a careful study of this subject. Throughout the United States, during the past two years he has addressed meetings in all parts of the country and comes to the college district from Ohio, where he commanded the 1st National Reserve Officers Association, an organization with a membership of 50,000 veterans.

Lieut. A. H. Young, a Trinity student, who represents the Officers Reserve Corps, at Durham, N.C., has worked hard to secure the services of such a remarkable man, and it is hoped that all of the student body will avail themselves of the opportunity to get first-hand information on this subject by listening to a speaker of such caliber.

These desires of rendering a patriotic service to their country can do so by joining the Reserve in time of peace to be ready in time of war.

NUMBER OF MEN BEGAN TO TRAIN FOR TRACK SEASON MONDAY ON HANES FIELD

Some Old Men Have Not Yet Reported More Freshmen are Expected To Come

The first call for spring training for the track team came Saturday. The men met in the gym, and received instructions regarding further training. Monday, February 12, the men began training on the athletic field. It is true that there are several old men on the park who have not yet reported, but more freshmen are expected. The Captain urges that all men who show any signs of a track man report at once to the field for training, and also that all men who are holding back report at once to get the full benefit of the early training.

The most encouraging factor in regard to the track team is the presence of several old stars who are about to be hand. Captain Plunk has been training with his men; Barnhardt, the speed king, is expected to report soon; Hatcher, who is a double jumper, last season, is expected to report soon; and the latter part of the season of last year with the shot, will soon be in action; Hucklebee and Crute are a dangerous pair with the discus. The men who have been who made good in the low hurdles last season; Holick, the captain of the cross country team and rated as a distance man is strongly in action; and Ward a freshman, who was high school champion of the state on the low hurdles. Several other old men who all but had the coveted "T" in their position last season are back at the job with determination to turn their dreams into realities and capture the prize.

TWO HUNDRED RESPOND TO CALL OF THE STAGE

MORE THAN TWO HUNDRED STUDENTS SIGNED FOR TRY-OUTS OF SPRING PLAY

AN ABUNDANCE OF MATERIAL

A Number of Try-Outs Have Been Held in Order to Select Cast from Ambitious Actors

The student response to the call for the Dramatic Club try-outs totaled something like two hundred students according to the report of the publicity committee last evening. This is the largest number ever to come out for any dramatic production and is indicative of the rise in prominence of the College Dramatic Club within the last year.

Mrs. Paul Gross, dramatic coach, reports that there was an abundance of material among these two hundred applicants and that several try-outs had been necessary to select the cast. In fact the cast had not yet been selected when this paper went to press, although four try-outs had been and the number of applicants had been narrowed to the select few.

The Yellow Jacket, the play chosen for this year, is one of the masterpieces of contemporary drama and is a treat for amateur production. Yet Mrs. Gross believes that with the excellent material to pick from she will be able to present a play that is worth of any amateur dramatic club of only a few years' standing.

Delaware will commence just as soon as the cast can be chosen and will continue regularly until the middle of April, when the play will be produced.

Notice on bulletin board: "Found one fountain pen. Owner may get it back by describing the same." No name signed. We tried the magic, but the pen did not answer. Ours was a Waterman pen. Really worth something. It has been used on Dally's English exam. Please to come and pick it back on our table from when he got it. Nothing will be said.

Blue Devils Win Four Games In Six in First Week of Trip

MERCER AND UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH CAROLINA ARE LUCKY

Statenville, Davidson, Furman, and Howard College Fall Before Methodist Outlets

The Trinity basketball team has been on its trip for more than a week, and so far the percentage of victories lies on the Blue Devil side by a good margin. During last week six games were played and four out of the six were registered as scalp for the Blue Devils.

Owing to the distance of the games from Durham and the efforts in which they were played, it has been hard to keep up with the results, for the State papers have been unable to get only the scores with no data as to the details of the games.

Statenville

The first game of the trip was with Statenville. Athletic club, and these boys are still recovering from the effects of the dust which Captain Sparks left in their eyes when he reeled the ball up in the basket, and incidentally, it is possible that the Statenville athletes are as well of the bruises left by the 40 to 28 defeat. The game was started by the Blue Devils, Kinnel and Winters starting the game. The regulars went in about the end of the first half, and the result was almost a double sure.

VOTE OVERWHELMINGLY IN FAVOR OF ADOPTION OF BOK'S PEACE PLAN

HALF OF STUDENTS NEUTRAL

Only About Half of Students Vote, Many Faculty Members Withhold Their Opinion

About half of the student body went on record for or against the Bok Peace Plan at the class meeting Saturday. The sentiment of those voting was overwhelmingly in favor of the plan, the final result being 482 for the plan to 80 against it. The plan had been previously discussed in Chapel by Dr. W. H. Garrison and was also touched upon by some of the professors in their classes. The plan was discussed again at the class meeting; therefore the result probably represents the serious attitude of those voting.

The result by classes was as follows: Senior, 56 for the plan to 2 against; Juniors, 55 for to 19 against; Sophomores, 124 for to 20 against; Freshmen, 82 for to 28 against. The faculty also took a vote on the plan at their regular meeting. The result of their voting was 25 to one in favor of the plan. Many of the professors were unwilling to express their opinion.

The voting on the Peace Plan is part of an agitation to bring the plan before the people, and to stir up sentiment for a world peace. It is hoped by so doing that the senate will be driven into some serious consideration of the problem by the force of public opinion.

MUSICAL PROGRAM OF RARE QUALITY GIVEN AT VESPER

Artists from Town Co-operating with Glee Club and Orchestra Gave Program

A large and appreciative audience was made to one of the first programs of the year last Sunday afternoon in the weekly Vesper Services. The musical organizations and talent of the College community co-operated in rendering a musical program that was both beautiful and inspiring. The following program was rendered:

Overture.—Trinity College Orchestra

Chorus.—Trinity College Glee Club
Solo.—Miss Margaret Highsmith
Overture.—Trinity College Orchestra

PROFESSOR FLOWERS SICK IN PHILADELPHIA

Professor R. L. Flowers, Secretary of the Trinity College Corporation, is in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, taking a rest cure and treatment at the Polytechnic Hospital on 14th and Lombard Streets. He will probably be there several weeks.

Sprinkle Discusses Religious Life of Wilson

The meeting of the ministerial hall Thursday evening was characterized by an intensely interesting speech by C. Sprinkle, Jr., on Woodrow Wilson. Although the various phases of the life of Wilson were discussed, the religious side was the one dwelt upon mostly by the speaker. The new officers for the coming year were installed. W. L. Clegg is the new president.

Upper classmen complain that after putting up new curtains in his room he is introducing a new order, he is so besieged by visitors that he could not account for the sudden outburst of popularity. He was put at ease by the mention of one of the least-travelled freshmen visitors. "Aint you starting a new fraternity?"

TRINITY COLLEGE SUMMER SCHOOL WILL HOLD TWO SESSIONS OF SIX WEEKS EACH WITH MORE EQUIPMENT

NOTED GERMAN TO LECTURE TONIGHT

Dr. Von Schellen-Gewertz, head of the Economics Department at the University of Freiburg, Baden, will lecture to the Trinity College community this evening in Craven Memorial hall at 7:30 P. M. He has come to the States to lecture under the auspices of the American Association for International Conciliation.

FAMOUS MARIONETTES TO GIVE PERFORMANCE HERE

Tony Sarg's Dolls Will Perform Saturday Night in Craven Memorial Hall

Trinity students will be afforded a rare treat next Saturday afternoon and evening when Tony Sarg, the man who has created famous with his small life-like dolls, will perform in Craven Memorial Hall under the auspices of the Woman's Club of Durham.

The marionettes are small dolls which are made to perform the actions of a man being through the use of strings. The dolls are manipulated by means of strings concealed from the eyes of the audience. As many as 10 strings are often used, and the manipulator of the dolls can make them do almost unbelievable things, a ventriloquist causing the dolls to utter life-like sounds.

Three popular stories will be presented by the marionettes during the local performances. In the afternoon "Little Red Riding Hood" and "Hansel and Gretel" will be presented, and in the evening the old romance "Don Quixote" will be featured. The latter story is known by every man and woman who is a lover of good literature.

The admission to the afternoon performance, which will begin at 2:30 o'clock, will be 50 cents and 75 cents and that of the evening performance, which begins at 8:00 o'clock will be 75 cents. Tickets may be secured from J. D. Seerest, who is acting as representative for the Trinity Dramatic Club.

Members of the Faculty Have Caught the Spirit of Athletic Extension

Stans of Every Description are Found Among Members of the Newly Organized Group

Since Coach Steiner came to Trinity it has been his policy to extend athletics until every Trinity man has a part in the athletic activities. Just whether he is responsible for the latest move in the athletic circle of the college is yet uncertain, but it is not uncertain that the faculty now has an athletic club.

"Perhaps dreams of past achievements on the glorious fields of their respective Alma Mater have revived in the dignified element of the college community the desire to prove their prowess in the sports of the day. Or it may be an attempt to rejuvenate themselves physically in spite of the nerve-wrecking trials encountered in the instruction of our unappreciative frosh.

Without going into the cause and taking the facts of the matter as known, it is found that the athletic club was every Tuesday and Thursday at seven o'clock in the gymnasium for the purpose of participating in various games and exercises. Volleyball and basketball have been the favorite sports so far; however it is understood that some of the more dignified persons prefer to "kill time" and therefore the average attendance is only about fifteen members.

There are several stars among the members besides the instructors of the physical departments of education. Professor Peterson is outstanding because of his ability to solve the "problem" of the opposing team and break through the defense. Dr. Carroll is well versed in the "history" of the game and is a valuable man because of his understanding of the development of the various situations. Professor Robinson through the use of the floor mat is mentioned and others are now in the limelight.

STUDENTS TO GET CREDIT FOR TWELVE SEMESTER HOURS THIS YEAR

ORDWAY IS SOCIAL DIRECTOR

Principal of Birmingham Schools Will be Social Director and Acting Dean of Women

Two sessions of the Trinity College Summer School will be held this year according to advice received from Professor Holland Holton, head of the Department of Education and Director of the Summer School.

Though the committee on summer school extension is not yet ready to publish curriculum, it is understood that the plan for a larger and more comprehensive summer school than ever before has been worked out. An attendance which will break all previous records in numbers is anticipated by the committee, especially since there will be two sessions of the school.

The first session of the Summer School will open on June 10 and will close six weeks later on July 21, while the second session will open on July 22, and close August 30. Thus a total of twelve weeks of summer instruction will be given for credit, and it will be possible for students to credit for two regular courses of six semester hours each.

Miss Sarah F. Ordway, principal of the Birmingham Schools, has been secured for the position of social director and acting dean of women for the two sessions of summer instruction. Miss Ordway is a teacher of wide experience and a woman of attractive personality. She comes to Trinity highly recommended for the position and with excellent reputation for making herself popular with young people.

Though the Trinity Summer School was instituted only five years ago, it has grown by leaps and bounds until it is one of the most popular and best equipped summer schools in the South. Every year several hundred students, especially school teachers from all parts of North Carolina and from sections of adjacent states come to take courses which will give credit towards a degree or merely to work off the required college units to maintain their rating as school teachers of a certain class in connection with the ratings of the State Education Department.

W. W. PEELE GIVES SERIES OF LECTURES TO STUDENTS

Pastor of Trinity Church Held Chapel Services During the Past Week

Reverend W. W. Peele, '08, pastor of Trinity Church, delivered a series of Chapel talks at the annual hour in Craven Memorial hall last week. Topics which he chose were timely and of a wide range of interest. Especially did his discussions of modern problems that exist in society interest college students.

Chapel attendance showed a slight increase during these talks, and they were the subject of some discussion among groups of students scattered over the campus.

Dr. Peele has been very popular among Trinity students since his arrival in Durham as pastor of Trinity Church last fall. Although the Trinity congregation is fairly new in the City, there is no doubt that the new church has not yet been erected to take the place of the one which was burned last year, many Trinity students are in the City to hear the sermons of Dr. Peele.

Moreover, Dr. Peele is a Trinity man. Several years ago he held important positions on the faculty of the College, and at one time he was head of the Department of Religious Education. At present he holds one of the highest positions in the North Carolina Conference, and his popularity is on the increase.

PARAGRAPHS

After initiation the disillusionment!

Despite the rumors to the contrary, some students have found out that this is not merely a winter resort.

To paraphrase an old doggerel: "And many men are flunking now who have never flunked before."

About one hundred and fifty inflated balloons burst last Saturday when the Yellow Jacket stung.

Our idea of a zero in occupation is trying to listen to a dry lecture while being gassed by chlorine gas drifting from the science room.

Now that rubbing snow is over we are in favor of a return to normalcy. That is, a re-adjustment so that the Freshman will find his place.

Since so many Plum Blossoms were turned down in the try-outs we suppose there will be many plans that will live to blight unseen and waste their sweetness on the Southgate air.

When Sherman made his memorable comment on war, he had evidently never been to college nor had he ever been raised by a Greek letter fraternity.

If you will be any Wu Ho Gai, I'll be your May Day Guy. Together we will make a life, or else we'll kill all joy.

Just after the recent revolution a freshman appeared at the Dean's office and asked if he might take Trip 1 this spring.

"This new prof. is going to prove an asset to this college," said the doubtful senior as he received a passing grade on the former's course.

The tender leads begin to shoot, "The spring is on the way. The timid fawn begins to bow. For lo, my friend, it is their hour."

INVESTIGATION NEEDED

The Honor System has been with us for a little more than a year now, and it is high time that it were being called to account. Not that it is altogether bad. For there are many good qualities still struggling for pre-eminence in it. But there is the rub.

These better qualities are being submerged, while the unhealthy status is gathering dangerously near the Trinity Ship of State. We do not wish to be misunderstood. Our criticism of the Honor System is not against the Student Council or any one set of men in particular but against the entire system in general and against the indifferent and careless attitude which the majority of students have assumed toward this experiment in self-government.

Item one: The principles and rules of the system are often clearly enough stated to distinguish the Honor System from the student government. Item two: The student body as a whole, and especially the Freshmen, have not been sufficiently educated in the workings of the fundamental principles and the value of the Honor System.

Item three: Because of this lack of proper emphasis and education the student as a whole treat the matter entirely too lightly and frequently confuse it with the student government machine. Consequently they feel no individual sense of responsibility.

Item four: The Honor System has proved almost a failure in places where it is most needed. Especially has it shown its weakness in the matter of English themes and short stories, as well as in all written work, such as term papers and the like. Likewise it has evidenced a decided weakness on examinations and quizzes because of the unwillingness of students to assume personal responsibility for the malfeasances of others.

Though these criticisms may not be all inclusive and though they may not be fully justifiable, they at least give in brief form our criticism of the Honor System as we have gathered it from observation and by sounding student opinion.

Justified or no, investigation and a showing of results is needed if the Honor System is to survive. No better service could be done the College than for some one honestly to investigate the facts of the case and to present them for student survey and information.

BIG THINGS AHEAD

Though no official announcement of College extension plans has been made as yet, there are some pretty substantial rumors afloat that Trinity will soon launch a mammoth building program, one that will surpass any program adopted hereof and one that will place this College pre-eminently in the forefront of rapid expansion, educational facilities, and architectural and campus beauty.

This is only one of the unmistakable signs of the progressive policy of this institution. Another, and a more spectacular one, is coming of Howard Jones to direct Trinity affairs under a five-year contract. With this famous western coach at the helm this College should soon be able to cope with the fiercest contestants for inter-collegiate athletic honors in the South.

And neither is the progress limited to an expansion of material equipment and a strengthening of athletic powers. The same spirit has permeated the more academic circles. Almost every department of the College curriculum has been strengthened and broadened by the addition of more instructors and professors. Plans are already underway to provide additional buildings for the Religious Education Department, the Science Department, and the Law School. This will naturally entail a widening of the curriculum, especially in these departments. And though it perhaps seems a bit harsh to say so, we also believe that numbers of failures among the Freshmen and their subsequent departure is a sign of the higher times ahead. Our reasoning is simple; the academic standard of the College is being raised.

So the policy of Trinity in the future seems to be pretty definitely outlined. This College will not lower its standard or engage in the mad scramble for popularity for admittance every year. Instead she will distinguish herself in every field of collegiate activity that the word of students will make a path to or door and thus render blotted publicity unnecessary.

RESIGNATION

We regret to announce the resignation of James J. Farris, an associate editor of the Chronicle, who has been associated with us for the past year and a half, because of his increased responsibility at his home in High Point since the recent death of his father. Farris is unable to maintain active connection with our editorial staff.

The editor wishes to express publicly his appreciation of the services of Farris as a past and his disclaimation to any further resignation. Serving one year as a reporter and a half year as an associate editor, Farris has always exhibited a high grade of work and has won the just esteem of the editorial staff.

There remains only three associate editors to try for the editorship in the spring. Each of these men will be given an opportunity to edit one issue of the Chronicle without any assistance except from the editorial staff. The dates of these issues will be announced later.

PRELIMINARIES HELD FOR ANNUAL SWARTHMORE DEBATE

Tweedell and Clegg are to Represent Trinity in First Debate on Open Forum Plan

W. Freeman Tweedell and Lemuel Clegg were the men selected to represent Trinity in the Swarthmore debate, which is to be staged in Craven Memorial Hall the evening of February twenty-sixth. W. A. Kale was chosen alternate. The preliminaries were held last Friday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. hall. These debates were selected over a wealth of good material and should make the debate interesting.

No matter what the outcome of the debate, Trinity will win, for under the open forum system Trinity will be represented by a man on each side. But even so the Trinity men may not debate the Swarthmore men, at least the debate will be interesting by its difference.

Recognition of Bolsheviki Government Subject Debated

Columbia's program last Saturday evening was featured by an unusually good debate. The subject for discussion was "Resolved that the United States should recognize the Bolsheviki government of Russia." The affirmative composed of Stanford Brookshire and W. A. May presented very effectively the argument that enormous economic benefits would accrue to both nations in the event of our recognition of Russia and, furthermore, the Bolsheviki government has proved by its length of standing that it is a capable and stable government. The principal contention of the negative, represented by Howard Butler and F. C. Mason, was that by recognizing the existing regime in Russia we give our sanction to communism, that we concure with the Bolsheviki in their aim to abide by the principles of international law. The judges rendered a decision in favor of the affirmative.

After the debate J. P. Boyd, R. B. Martin, and C. W. Randy made short extemporaneous talks.

CAMPUS CHATTER

Ye Olds Editor has spent a strenuous week. Although he usually has little difficulty in keeping his list which is going on in the College community, he must confess that this week has been too much for him.

Fraternally rubbing would be enough to cop any man of limited speed and energy. But just when a Ye Olds Freshman is a glimpse of a gassing Freshman he is tricked away in an automobile and covered with a blanket and hidden in a closet, why he sees several other earlings lugging heavy suitcases and rushing heavy hearts and heavier feet on the railroad station.

And as he rushes toward them to learn the reason for their sudden departure, he catches a glimpse of, say, denure man from Southgate who has turned her steps toward Craven Memorial Hall, where she will be given an opportunity to exhibit her potential dramatic ability.

Of course nothing else matters then. And Ye Olds Editor joins the throng of would-be actors in order to test Shakespeare's analogy drawn between the world and the stage.

"Am anxious to watch them, both men and women. There are all kinds: the

FRESHMEN BACK AFTER AN ABREVIATED TRIP

CANCELED REMAINING GAMES

Misunderstanding With Greensboro High School Manager Over Game at Gata City

The Freshman Basketball team showed up on the campus Thursday morning two days in advance of their scheduled arrival due to a slight misunderstanding over a scheduled game with the Greensboro High School quint. The freshmen were due to have played three more games on the trip but were forced to return to the college because of a lack of pecuniary backing essential to the continuation of the trip.

The Red Devils played their first game of the trip against the Davidson freshmen, losing to the Wild Kittens by a 24-18 score. The work of Captain Rhodes at center was the feature of Trinity's play. He was at all stages of the game the center of his team's scoring and was also prominent in the scoring and of the game. The work of Sapp at forward and Laird at guard was outstanding for the Davidson Frosh. It is interesting to note that these same men piled up 20 of the Davidson Varsity's 30 points against the Blue Devils on the succeeding night.

Going from Charlotte to Monroe the freshmen played the Monroe High School Tuesday night, February 5, beating this team for the second time during the coming season by a 31-29 score in extra five-minute period being necessary to decide the game. The playing of Butler and Brookshire predominated for the Red Devils. These daily Trinity forwards covered a work of door space and shot goals from all angles.

The Freshman squad then journeyed over to Greensboro, and finding the disagreement over the scheduled game for Wednesday night, Manager Stamey was forced to cancel the other games with the Oak Ridge Institute and the Guilford Sem and return home.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB HELD AN INTERESTING MEETING

Secret Read Paper on the Life and Works of Irish Poet, William Yeats

The Poetry Club of Sigma Upsilon held a call meeting last Thursday night in the English Office. After the regular business procedure, the meeting was turned over to J. D. Sechrest, whose paper on William Butler Yeats was the feature of the program of the evening. The meeting was one of the best of the year. Secretly said Yeats was one of the great Irish poet and writer from every angle, and the selection from the works of Yeats was very entertaining. After the program light refreshments were served.

ATOM TO BE SUBJECT OF A LECTURE TO PHYSICS CLUB

Professor Hatley to Give Lecture on this Interesting Subject Students Invited

Much has been said during the last few years about the atom and its structure, yet there are many who do not know anything at all about this infinitely small particle of matter called the atom. The atom presents many interesting things to the student. And possibly the most interesting thing about the whole matter is that there is so much more to be learned of the structure and behavior of the atom.

Professor Hatley, of the Physics Department here, is especially interested in the atom and has studied it for some time. He is to lecture on the atom next Tuesday evening at the regular meeting of the Physics Club. The Club has consented to throw open the lecture to the whole student body, believing that it will be very interesting and of some material value to the general student. The lecture will be given in the Physics lecture room at 7:30 o'clock next Tuesday evening.

BLUE DEVILS WIN FOUR GAMES IN SIX IN FIRST WEEK OF TRIP

Davidson was taken on for the next round, and the Charlotte fans saw one of the fastest and best games of the season. The Wildcats were in good form and put up their usual hard fight, but the accurate shooting of the Methodist quint was too much for the Presbyterian, and the Blue Devils left the city with another victory of 40 to 30. The game was adjudged by the Charlotte sport writers as the best seen on the Charlotte court this year, and the impression of the alumni of the merits of the team was most favorable.

Furman Coach Burlage then led his warriors into South Carolina and Furman suffered the same fate as Stateville and Davidson. The details of the game are not available, but according to rumors the game was fast and hard fought, with Spikes, Bullock, and Simpson as stars of the contest. It is known, however, that the Blue Devils came away carrying the big end of the 32 to 29 score.

Other Games The second stroke of bad luck overtook the team in the next game with the University of South Carolina. Neither the score nor the details of the game are available at the present time, but it is known that the Blue Devils suffered their second loss of the year when they met the University of South Carolina. Bad luck seemed to still follow the team, and in the return game with Mercer resulted in a 31 to 18 defeat on the night of February 8. The Methodists seemed to be tired of their slump, and they came back in the next game with Howard College and defeated the Howards 30 to 26. Spikes was the star of the game, and Richardson was given special notice for his splendid defensive work.

FRESHMAN QUINT TOOK EASY GAME LAST NIGHT

FIRST DEFEAT OF WHIRLWIND

Freshmen Played a Spectacular Game While Durham Boys Were a Bit Off Form

The Freshman quint Tuesday night retaliated for the defeat that the Durham High School lads handed them the night before on the Freshman's own court. Tuesday night, although the "White Whirlwind" was playing on its own court, the young Blue Devils walked away with a 27 to 7 victory.

This was the "White Whirlwind's" first defeat after fifteen straight victories. For high school lads they have been playing an excellent brand of basketball. Tuesday night they were entirely outplayed, but it must be admitted that they were a little off form.

The work of the Freshmen was spectacular throughout the game. The passing, shooting, and guarding was extraordinary. Rhodes for the Freshmen shot 12 points, and every man on his team shot as many as one foul goal. Out of nine chances for four goals, the team scored eight shots.

But the Durham team succeeded in shooting only three out of nine chances for four goals. Kelly was the best player for the high school, shooting five of the team's seven points. Bennett kept down the Freshmen's score by his close guarding.

Durham opened strong, but could not hold the place they tried to get, and the ball remained in possession of the Freshmen most of the time throughout the game. When the high school lads got their hands on the ball they were able to connect with the basket.

But: "I was talking to your girl yesterday."

Jin: "Are you sure you were doing the talking?"

But: "Yeah."

Jin: "Then it wasn't my girl."

Mother: "William! You've been fighting again. Your nose is bloody, one eye is black—your teeth—oh, you are a sight! Do you know how you look?"

William: "Tut! Tut! Ma, what does a hero care for looks?"

FRESHMEN LOSE GOOD GAME TO DURHAM HIGH QUINTET

Two Extra Periods Were Necessary for Victory—Excellent Passing by Both Teams

The Red Devils of Trinity College were defeated by the White Whirlwind in a fast and spectacular game Monday night in the Memorial Gymnasium by a 25-21 score. Two extra periods were necessary for the final count. The score being tied 19-19 at the end of the second period, and tied at 21-21 at the end of one extra five-minute period. The boys from the Durham put on an extra burst of speed in the final three-minute overtime period, and the game was in rapid succession and holding the fresh men scoreless. The game was close throughout, and the final outcome was in doubt until the final whistle ended the game.

Both the Red Devils and the Whirlwinds displayed a pretty passing game at all times. The high school lads probably scored in this department of the game. Neither team had any one outstanding. Although the high school attack centered about Kelly and Hackney, and later in the game around Satterfield. The Freshman offense was centered around Captain Rhodes for all the members of the team fighting with the old Trinity spirit at all stages of the game.

DR. CLARKE READ PAPER TO CLASSICAL CLUB MONDAY

Paper was Written by Dr. Gill, Who Was Head of Latin Department Until Death

One of the most interesting papers of the year was read at the regular meeting of the Classical Club on Monday evening when Professor T. N. Gates read a treatise on superstition, prepared by Dr. W. F. Gill, former head of Latin Department, who died here in 1917.

This paper traced the part played by superstition in all religion so far as we have record, declaring that superstition was the religion of yesterday. As proof that the ancients drew no distinction between superstition and religion, Dr. Gill pointed out that the same Latin word meant both religion and superstition and was interpreted either way.

So interesting did the paper prove that plans were made by the Club to continue lectures on this subject to show its connection with the rise and growth of Christianity.

STUDENTS ARE INTERESTED IN INTRA-MURAL ATHLETICS

Several Dornitories Have Already Met on Basketball Court—Big Games Ahead

Since the institution of intra-mural athletics here two years ago interest in this form of amateur athletic contests has been on the increase among College students. This year the work is getting well under way according to advice received from Herman Steiner, physical director.

Numerous games have been scheduled among the various dormitories since examinations, and some contests have been played. Under this head of intra-mural athletics comes also the class athletic contests, the inter-fraternity games, and the like. Every sport engaged in by varsity teams is followed in the field of intra-mural athletics, though the football contests were modified somewhat because of the lack of sufficient uniforms.

One of the games which will be the center of much interest is the basketball contest between the Freshmen and the Sophomores, which will be played next Friday afternoon. This game has always attracted much attention because of the comic elements which are revealed.

As for the inter-fraternity contests, the Pi Kappa Phi has challenged any other fraternity to meet them at any time on the basketball court. Otherwise they claim the championship.

MEMORIAL SERVICE WAS HELD TO HONOR GREAT WAR PRESIDENT SUNDAY

Y. M. C. A. CONDUCTED SERVICE

Miss Eskridge Made an Interesting Talk on Wilson the Man From Student's View

"Woodrow Wilson was a prophet, and prophets always die before they accomplish their purpose—they would not be prophets if they did not," Dr. Laprade declared at the Woodrow Wilson memorial service held in the Y. M. C. A. hall Wednesday evening.

Soon after the ex-president's death was reported, the Y. M. C. A. officials announced that the regular weekly Y. M. C. A. service would be given over to a memorial service, and on Wednesday evening probably a larger number of students were in the hall than have been in at any other occasion this year.

Dr. W. T. Laprade, head of the History Department, was the principal speaker of the evening, though Miss Mary Eskridge made a splendid talk on "Woodrow Wilson the Man From Student's View."

Eskridge carried her paper to personal sketches and glimpses of the great man's life. She showed the human side of his life.

"It would be easy to eulogize Mr. Wilson," Dr. Laprade said in beginning his speech, but the professor did not wish to eulogize him, and he did not. His entire speech was given over to discussing Mr. Wilson, ideas, methods, his successes and his failures.

Throughout his entire speech, Dr. Laprade represented Mr. Wilson as John D. Rockefeller's recent work as a tragic hero. The speaker did not seem to think that Mr. Wilson even expected to live to see his ideals executed, but he started the great work that he expected someday to have fulfilled.

Before America entered the war, Dr. Laprade explained, President Wilson constantly spoke of a peace without a victory. This was America's motto until the war, of course everything possible was done to win the struggle. And America did win the war, "but," said Dr. Laprade, "Wilson's vision was lost."

In speaking of Mr. Wilson's preparation for the presidency, Dr. Laprade declared that Mr. Wilson was better prepared for the work that he did than any other man who has ever held the office. He was both a writer and an educator, and set about deliberately to prepare himself for the office.

"Let us merely try to understand him," Dr. Laprade said. "His program was a world program, but we were not able to catch his vision. He was misunderstood because he was a prophet. Prophets are always misunderstood. In his program, Wilson suffered martyrdom, and Mr. Wilson was a martyr to his cause."

Special music was provided for the service.

DR. GLASSON WILL BEGIN SABBATHAL HOLIDAY SOON

Professor of Economics to Make a Detailed Study of Methods of Other Colleges

Dr. W. H. Glasson, head of the economics department, has been granted a half year's absence by the College. He is planning to leave Durham about the middle of the month.

Dr. Glasson will first go to Washington for three or four weeks, which time will be spent in research work at the Library of Congress. From Washington he will journey to the Pacific Coast going by the Southern route. On his way he plans to stop over in Texas and Arizona, spending some time at the Universities of each state.

Los Angeles will be the center point from which he will visit all points of the Pacific coast. He will spend some time at the University of Southern California, Pomona College, Stanford University, and other leading Universities and Colleges of that section of the country.

In general the object of Dr. Glasson's trip is to study the equipment and methods of other educational institutions of the country. Dr. Glasson, however, says that part of his time will be spent in seeing the country. According to his present plans he will not return to Durham until next September.

Women and Cigarettes

"They're not much good for they're ill. No fun unless you have one all to yourself. Unless you're careful you'll get burnt. You'll walk a mile for blue kinds, and other brands—they satisfy. Occasionally they bite your tongue. They're not so good for you, but once you get the habit, it's hard to stop. They are not good for athletes."

We know that it is impolite to look over one's shoulder, but this freshman didn't seem to mind:

"Dear Marv,
"I didn't pass but one course, but don't you and paw worry for I am still getting my education, being as that was the course as I passed."

Stranger: "What do you think about fraternities?"

Bright: "I'm going to live by my wits."
Boy: "Why die so young?"

"So you desire to become my son-in-law?"
"No sir; I don't. But if I marry your daughter I don't see how I can get out of it."

Some of the Freshmen are so dumb that they think Seniors study after they make the Phi Beta Kappa.

Second Co-ed: "Well, I never suffered from the heat when I was out with him."

Co-Ed News

The Society Circus presented by the Senior Class last Saturday evening was rather diversified and altogether very creditable entertainment.

The dance of the dancers and the Peppery Pipe brought out real show girls wearing the fluff pink, yellow, or green costumes, and the most mischievous of clowns.

Monsieur Giuseppe, the ventriloquist, who was really Elizabeth Kramer, and his loquacious infants, were quite amusing. This gifted trio entertained the audience several minutes with their comical puns upon various persons and on enlightening dissertation upon cats.

The music of the renowned Garber Davis Orchestra, however, called forth the greatest storm of applause. These blackfaced men with their marvelous instruments were jazz artists of high order, but it is to their conductor, Frank Pitts, that much credit is due. With a speed never before revealed and amazing agility, she directed some of the most barbaric jazz ever heard at Trinity College.

Operation Performed

Dr. Killum and Dr. Kurum, imperiously by Frances Leichter and Leo Taylor, performed a most intricate operation. After a lengthy contention over whether the patient had a cancer or tumor and a careful sharpening of knives over the body of the helpline patient, the operation was made, and Dr. Kurum removed a cancer (a can, sir) then Dr. Killum operated, and he found the trouble to be tumor (two more). After the removal of the tin cans, the patient recovered rapidly.

The boxing match between Battling Wilson and Rough Hong Riley, who were really Esther Eads and Bette Evans, was reminiscent of the battle between David and Goliath. Battling Wilson was knocked to the mat once, but was able to arise and to give his heavier and more practiced opponent a blow which rendered him unconscious and ended the battle.

Other noteworthy features of the Circus included the Hopkins Trompe of Aerobats, the Gish Sisters and their Trained Dogs, and the high diver, Missesville Featherweight who dives like a rock. The Circus was brought to an end most fittingly by selections from the wonderful Garber Davis Orchestra.

Natural History Club

The Natural History Club held its regular meeting on Monday, February 11, in the Crowell Science Hall. Olive Smith spoke on the subject, Solution of the Problem of the Perpetuation of the White Race. She pointed out that the white race should predominate because of the scientific discoveries which is its mode and its superior intelligence. The chief fact which she brought out, however, was that the race which will finally predominate in the world is the one whose reproductive rate is highest.

Chi Delta Psi met with Frances Ledbetter on Thursday evening, February 7. Nancy Kirkman read a paper on the life and letters of North Carolina's most illustrious son, Walter Blaes Page. She spoke of his ancestry, boyhood near Aberdeen, education—particularly of the year at Trinity College, career as a journalist, and of his diplomatic service—which was marked by sagacity and foresight. In conclusion, the speaker made the comment that he died for his country no less than did his nephew, Allison Page, who was killed at the front. After the program, a salad course was served by the hostess.

Miss Marion Jellicorse, National Inspector of Zeta Tau Alpha, spent the week-end as the guest of the last chapter.

Occupation of the Ruhr by France Debated by Hesperia

The Hesperian hall was the scene of a heated debate last Saturday night upon the question as to whether or not France was justified in her occupation of the Ruhr district in Germany. This debate was especially interesting as it was upon the same query to be used in the debate with Emory University this spring. The negative team composed of W. S. Barnes and W. J. Bullock, who spoke extemporaneously, was unanimously decided over the affirmative team composed of C. S. Clegg and E. A. Widenhouse.

M. W. Lawrence delivered an oration upon Woodrow Wilson in which he brought out the great service the man rendered and the place which he occupies in the history of the world. W. M. Lieberman gave a voluntary oration on the Old North State.

The Freshman had just informed the outman agent that he wanted a berth. "Upper or lower?" asked the agent. "What's the difference?" asked the Freshman.

"A difference of 50 cents in this case," replied the agent. "The lower is higher than the upper. The higher price is for the lower. If you want to go lower, you will have to go higher. We sell the upper, lower than the lower. In other words, the higher is the lower. Most people don't like the upper, although it is lower than lower on account of being higher. When you occupy the upper, you have to get up when you go to bed and get down when you go up. You can have the lower if you pay higher, because the upper is lower than the lower because it is higher. If you are willing to go higher, it will be lower."

But the poor freshman had faint—Exchange.

He: "There are an awful lot of girls who don't want to get married."

She: "How do you know?"

He: "I have asked them."

Mary had a little lamp.

It was well trained no doubt,

For every time a fellow called,

The little lamp went out.
