WAKE FOREST AND DAVIDSON FALL BEFORE BATS OF THE BLUE DEVILS

DEMPTER AND SORREL ENGAGE IN A PITCHERS DUEL AT ROCKY MOUNT

DAVIDSON BEATEN BY A 2 TO 0 SCORE IN GREENSBORO LAST TUESDAY

STATE PLAYS HERE SATURDAY

Blue Devils Win First Game of Series with Baptists on Neutral Ground—Turner and Chappell Star

In the spirit of pre-meditated murder the Trinity Blue Devils journeyed to Rocky Mount last Friday afternoon and vanquished the Wake Forest Pirates. The game was a score of 3 to 1, and thus blazed a brighter trail to the State championship honors. This game was the first real game of college baseball to be played in the State, and, although it is rumored that the score will not count in the race, the game was too valuable to Wake and Coach Jones gave his boys orders to show down when the time came.

The game was close throughout, and it was entirely a pitchers duel. Dempster, the veteran left twirler of Trinity, held the first position of the Methodist bats and Sorrel, the outstanding hope of Wake, opposed him in his boyish mood. Dempster struck out ten men while Sorrel overtopped him by fanning twelve of the Trinity players, but Trinity led in hits and showed general superiority in every form of the game. The last contest was more of a preliminary test of the strength of the two teams, and there is much interest in the second of the three games scheduled, which will be played at Wake Forest next Tuesday. Turner and Chappell were the outstanding hitters for Trinity, both of these men sending their hits far over the outfield and over the fence for home circuits. Although the Trinity team got the majority of men struck out, they were ending their hits far over the outfield and over the fence for home circuits. Although the Trinity team got the majority of men struck out, they were ending their hits far over the outfield and over the fence for home circuits.

The game with Wake Forest was one of the best that has been played in the State, and since the recent defeat of Wake Forest by Guilford, who was unmercifully beaten by the Methodists, Trinity's advance toward the State championship pennant has been greatly forwarded. The second game will be played at Wake Forest next Tuesday, and in all probability it will be as fierce as the first, for both teams are eager to clinch the second contest of the series. If Trinity takes the lead in the nomination of first, Wake Forest will be out of the race in the race, while if the Baptists are lucky, they will have another chance before they are finally eliminated. This game will be one of the most decisive of the season, and its outcome will foretell in a great measure which of the two contestants will be in the final round-up.

DR. PORTER SPOKE AT THE VESPER SERVICES SUNDAY

Pastor of First Baptist Church Talks on Spiritual Refinement as an Interesting Address

One of the most interesting and inspiring Vesper Services of the term was held last Sunday afternoon. Dr. Porter of the First Baptist Church made a talk upon "Spiritual Refinement." In developing his theme Dr. Porter held particular stress on the three-fold call as brought out in the story of the Woman at the Well. "Our fathers worshipped idols," "Men ought to worship," and "The Father seeketh such to worship him." He then showed how worship was a religious process.

Dr. Porter stressed particularly the point that what matters is Shakespeare and George Eliot were able to create such admirable characters from imagination how much more readily should we take the stuff that life gives us and make of ourselves even more admirable characters. Previous to Dr. Porter's talk, W. R. Brown sang a solo, "In the time of Moses."

NETMEN CLASH WITH STATE COLLEGE ON HOME COURTS

A Good Band of Tennis Will Probably Be Exhibited by Members of the Team

The Trinity netmen will open the season tomorrow afternoon when they cross rackets with the N. C. State College team on the home courts. The late opening of the spring has kept the men from training as much as they otherwise would have done, but during the past week they have been doing hard work under the supervision of Dr. M. I. White, and it is probable that a good band of tennis will be displayed in the coming clash.

The line up for the match has not definitely been arranged, but the following men will be likely to play: Burns, Johnson, Wilanant and Swearingen.

INTEREST GROWS WITH THE APPROACH OF THE DAY FOR POLING VOTES

SEVERAL ALLEGED MEN HAVE BEEN NOMINATED FOR OFFICES

VOTE AT DOPE SHOP SATURDAY

Every Male Student is Asked to Vote for Some Candidate—Australian Ballot Used

Interest in the approaching election of the officers of the Mens' Association increased somewhat as the final date for the filing of nominating petitions approached. Nominations for the officers of the Association closed last Saturday at midnight. The following men have been nominated, and the officers for the year 1924-25 must necessarily come from this number.

President—W. S. Barnes, W. G. Bradshaw, J. E. Dempster.

Vice-President—W. G. Bradshaw, J. J. Farris, M. I. Pickens.

Secretary and Treasurer—W. F. Craven, J. P. Frank, G. P. Harris.

Voting will take place in the Dope Shop between the hours of 9 A. M. and 3 P. M. on Tuesday, April 15th. This election will be conducted according to the Australian Ballotting plan. The result of the election will be posted as soon as the votes can be counted.

It is urged that every male student of the college vote at the proper time when he thinks are best qualified for the respective offices. There should be considerable more interest taken in the nomination and election of the members of the Student Council. The men on the park must help to elect those who will be able to maintain the standards which they are here—not in regard to meek, for all are guests to the Athletic Association at the conference—and make any reasonable sacrifice to aid in the undertaking.

TRACK MEET FOR HIGH SCHOOLS TO BE STAGED

ALL HIGH SCHOOLS IN STATE HAVE BEEN INVITED TO PARTICIPATE

TO GIVE NUMBER OF TROPHIES

Three Cups Will Go to Schools Scoring Most Points—Thirty-Six Medals Given

True to the policy of progressiveness which has characterized the Athletic Association, a new event in athletic activities has been added to last. Plans are rapidly developing that will ultimately result in the beginning of the "Trinity State High School Championship Track Meet."

Every high school in the state has been invited to take part in this meet, and indications are that there will be more than a hundred contestants. The meet will be held on May 10th this year. The idea is to make this meet an annual event, and to give trophies which will attract the high school athletes of the state, thus creating interest in the event and in the Trinity as a college.

Medals have already been ordered—thirty-six in all. There will be a gold medal for the winner of each first place, a silver medal for second place in each event, a bronze for each third place. Cups will also be given to the three schools scoring the highest number of points. The cups have not yet been secured. The present plan is to ask the Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations of the city to sponsor the undertaking.

The order of the respective events: 100 yard dash; 220 yard dash; 440 yard run; 880 yard run; one mile run; 120 yard hurdle; high jump; broad jump; 12 lb. shot put; discus; and javelin.

Co-operation of every student, as well as the various organizations will be necessary if this movement is to be a success. The men on the park must help to elect those who will be able to maintain the standards which they are here—not in regard to meek, for all are guests to the Athletic Association at the conference—and make any reasonable sacrifice to aid in the undertaking.

PHI BETA KAPPA WILL HOLD ITS INITIATION AND EXERCISES SOON

DR. HAMLIN OF COLUMBIA WILL BE THE CHIEF SPEAKER OF PROGRAM

ELABORATE BANQUET PLANNED

Four Alumni and Five Under-Graduates Are Extended Highest Honor of the College

On Wednesday, April 16, the local Chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa Scholarly Society will hold its annual celebration and initiation exercises commemorating the fourth anniversary of the inauguration of the society at Trinity College. The initiation of the new members will begin at 2:30 P. M. in the Hesperian Hall, and at 6:30 the members will gather in the dining hall of Roshange Manor Building where an elaborate banquet will be served.

The public exercises are to be at 8:30 P. M. The Craven Memorial Hall, where Dr. A. D. E. Hamlin, professor of the history of Art and Architecture at Columbia University, will deliver an interesting address on the subject "The Gains of the Old World." The lecture will be illustrated with stereopticon slides. The public is cordially invited to be present.

Following the address by Dr. Hamlin, Dr. C. W. Popper, secretary of the chapter, will formally announce the names of the newly elected members. The names, which include four alumni and five undergraduates are: Alumni, Dr. N. F. White, '13, professor of English at Trinity; W. F. Taylor, '13, Director of the Technical and Research Laboratories of the Atlantic Coast Fisheries Co., and Prof. W. H. Hall, '09, of the Engineering Department of Trinity College; Undergraduates, Nora Campbell Chaffin, Maine Township, Johnson, C. G. Truitt, Jr., H. James and John Tate Manning.

Any student who has averaged 90 or over for six consecutive semesters and who has never failed on a course or on any subject is eligible for membership in Phi Beta Kappa, however not more than one sixth of a class can become members of the society. Alumni members are elected because of distinguished service they have won in literature, education, or science after leaving college.

Phi Beta Kappa is the oldest of the Greek-Letter College Societies or fraternities, and is, in fact, the progenitor of the entire college fraternity system. It was organized December 5, 1776, when the first meeting was held at the College of William and Mary. Ten presidents of the United States have been members of the society, beginning with John Quincy Adams and including Roosevelt, Taft, Wilson and Coolidge.

Old Greece Will Be Subject For Classical Club Meeting

The Classical Club will hold its regular meeting on Tuesday evening, April 9, at 7 o'clock in the usual place. The subject of discussion will be Miss Steele's historical novel "The Spartans," which has as its background the stirring events and in particular the memorable battle of Thermopylae in which the Spartans won immortal fame for valor. C. C. Jennings will tell the story of the novel and give its historical setting.

Presentation of the Yellow Jacket Proved a Great Success

STUDENTS URGED TO ATTEND THE BLUE RIDGE CONFERENCE

Drive to Begin Soon for Delegates to Go to Biggest Student Conference Held in the Entire South

Within a short while the drive for the Trinity delegation to the Blue Ridge Student Conference will begin. This conference meets June 17 to 26 and will be attended by about 500 delegates from 100 colleges in the South Atlantic States. It is one of the biggest conferences that meet in the South for personal benefit, and for getting in touch with southern student life. The conference will be characterized by student leadership, discussion of student problems, practical plans for life work, ideal college spirit, and addresses by prominent speakers.

Besides the inspirational element of the conference proper there is great opportunity for social and physical betterment. The beautiful mountain territory in which Blue Ridge is located affords the best possible opportunity for recreation. Anyone who is interested in attending should see the local "Y" officers soon and make the proper arrangements.

FRESHMEN LOSE A RAGGED BALL GAME TO THE FROSH AT CHAPEL HILL TUESDAY

Pitchers for Both Teams Allow But a Very Few Hits—Barnes Hurt

Coach Neale's Trinity freshman baseball aggregation lost the first game with the Carolina freshmen Tuesday afternoon, the score ending 6-2. The pitching of Hanes for the Tar Heels was the feature of the game, this youngster allowing only two hits and fanning seven batters. Tart, of the Trinity club, also played an exceptionally good game, holding Carolina to four hits, three of which were fanned. Tart, however, fanned hits in the seventh inning rated four runs for the Tar Heels. The fielding of second baseman Sides, younger brother of the Carolina coach, was also a feature. Both teams made a large number of errors, and it was by taking advantage of the errors that the Trinity freshmen won the game. The Carolina nine scored out of the victory.

Score by innings:
Trinity.....000 002 000—2 2
Carolina.....200 100 405—4 2
Batters: Tart and Schellie; Hanes and Carlier.

AGED SERVANT OF COLLEGE DIED ON TUESDAY MORNING

"Uncle" Jeff, Janitor and Custodian of the Play House, Worked for the College and Boys

Trinity students were surprised Tuesday morning when crossing the college campus, not to see the college flag flying at its usual position in front of Craven Memorial Hall. The reason was due to the fact that "Uncle" Jeff Adams, aged 68, who has been in the employ of the College for the past thirty years and who has served as custodian to the flag for the last five years, passed away at an early hour Tuesday morning.

It seems that "Uncle" Jeff had been in very good health until early Monday night when his nose began bleeding violently. The bleeding was soon checked, however, and "Uncle" Jeff retired to his room. About three o'clock Tuesday morning he awoke from his sleep, and calling to his wife told her that he was feeling ill and that he wanted her to summon a physician. Before medical attention could be secured, however, he had quietly passed away.

The exact cause of the death is not certain, but it is thought that the old colored man died of heart failure or some form of high blood pressure.

Columbia Postpones Program on Account of New Business

The regular program of Columbia Literary society was postponed last Saturday on account of an extra long business session. The program, however will be given next Saturday evening. On the Saturday following classes will convene. All Trinity students are urged to attend. The program is as follows: "Resolved, that France is justified in her occupation of the Ruhr," Friday College debate will clinch this. On Monday a well prepared team here presents week, and if Trinity is to win, their team must have the support of the students here.

DIFFICULT PLAY PRODUCED BY TRINITY TAURIANS IS HIGHLY PRAISED

SETTING TYPICALLY ORIENTAL Love, Laughter, Philosophy, and Pathos Were Main Themes of the Chinese Play

Craven Memorial Hall was a veritable Chinatown last Friday evening when the Taurians presented the Yellow Jacket. Long before the play started exotic Chinese costumes gilded in oriental fashion in and out among the crowd, but arousing the true Americans. And then when the curtain began to ascend, like a demon fog rising from a mountain lake in all of its shimmering beauty, the spectators found themselves held spell-bound by the lure of the Oriental tale being told and apparently carried in a typical Oriental setting.

When the master of ceremonies—orchestra if you choose—drifted languidly out before the audience, his droop speech, manners, and appearance proved irresistible, and the play was greeted as a success before it had even fully started.

The Yellow Jacket is a Chinese tale of love, laughter, philosophy, and pathos, that almost smacks of pathos. The plot centers around the avowal of Woo Sin Vin the Great, who endures to have one of his wives die for her, the heir to the throne, notwithstanding in an elegant manner; but he is felled in his wicked plans, and the young prince, Woo Hoo, lives to conquer all obstacles and finally win the throne and a fair lady for a wife.

Such a play as the Yellow Jacket was a very ambitious undertaking for amateur players like the Taurians, but so well did they carry the play across that they established, at one fell swoop, a name for themselves. The Taurians are probably the first college students in the country to attempt to stage the Yellow Jacket, and their coach, Mrs. Paul R. Gross, has a right to be proud of them. This was not the case, however, to mean that the presentation of the Yellow Jacket was flawless. In places the acting gave hints of crudity, but as a whole was very commendable. Practically the whole cast starred, but the suffering of the property man, S. W. Jenkins, the chorus, J. D. Socrat, and Duffell, Borden, who stood away prominently as indeed good for amateurs.

The transmuting of this Oriental drama into a stage play is a monumental stage is one of the most difficult tasks imaginable. Every detail is exotic to our American stage, but this is one thing that the Yellow Jacket so popular everywhere it has been presented in America. To the uninitiated and to the bourgeoisie the entire play may seem rather crude and out of place in this Oriental reality that the play area its reputation as an artistic production.

For the success of the play the cast must divide honors with the musicians, who provided real Chinese music to the electricians, who even produced a thunder storm on the stage, and to the costume committee, who imported—through the kindness of the Chinese—Chinese costumes. Of course most of the credit must go to Mrs. Paul R. Gross, who coached the play, but every member of

TRINITY-DAVIDSON DEBATE WILL BE HELD NEXT WEEK

Forensic Teams Will Clash Over the Subject of Foreign Occupation of the Ruhr District

Upholding the negative side of the query: "Resolved, that France is justified in her occupation of the Ruhr," Friday College debate will clinch this. On Monday a well prepared team here presents week, and if Trinity is to win, their team must have the support of the students here.

This will be the last inter-collegiate debate staged here this year. The remaining debate will be against Emory at Emory.

PARAGRAPHS

Keep off the Outlets! and incidentally the Grass.

Well, I guess the Wildcats know now what House can do.

The Chronicle has received quite a few knocks recently, but it is gratifying to note that an article "Supporters" says that it compares favorably with the "Rutherford Broom."

It was a pity for the boys to ruin the glorious record Secret set in his entrance to college hall, but it had to be done.

"It's a pity that the shucker can't have two college careers, one for educational purposes after his sheiking course has been completed.

Recent revelations show that other editors besides "Ye Olde Editor" have had a rocky road to travel.

It seems that Dempster had something on the ball Friday besides the cover.

Can you imagine what Romeo would say if he should use some of the tactics used by his imitators.

What frat is Proxy bootin'? He doesn't wear garters.

The boys will get dyed if they're in the pool after the girls. The rules ought to be changed.

Shakespeare had to go to chapel too! "It worries me, it worries me, and that's such a wint' and snow, Makes of me that I have much ado to know my self."

Quite a few of the august students are now wondering "Why did I eat that class. Why oh Why oh Why?"

Even Chinese widows and mother-in-laws have characteristics that strikingly resemble those of other countries.

The editing of this issue of the Chronicle has been entirely in the hands of J. C. Whinnant, one of the associate editors. He has written all the editorials and paragraphs, assigned the news stories, directed the headline writing and general make-up of the paper.

COMING ELECTIONS

The question of the coming election of officers of the Men's Association should be a matter of vital concern to every male student of the college community.

For some reason there has been an attitude taken by the students which has prevented the Association from meeting with the success during the past year which it should have had. There has been a lack of co-operation on the part of the student body and the council, and despite persistent efforts on the part of the council the desired results have not been accomplished. At the approaching election there should be a fusing of the attitudes of the two bodies. We should not only vote for a man but our burden is greater, he must be supported in the carrying out of the principles and rules laid down by the Association.

The opportunity to vote is a not a privilege, but it carries with it a duty and an obligation. Every student owes it to himself and the college to give this matter his serious consideration and then to cast his vote for the man whom he deems most capable to fill the position which he has responsible position and whom he will support in the future working of the council. The enormous idea which seems to prevail, "Oh none of my affairs let the council to the best they can," should be discarded and each man should rise to the occasion and accept his share of the responsibility.

In consideration of the candidates for these offices political, fraternal, and other affiliations and prejudices should be discarded, and the capacity of the candidate to carry on the work which the present council has started toward the up-building of the Association should be the basis upon which the present election should be conducted. Men who are leaders, men who see all sides of college life, and men who are men should be elected to these offices.

THE CHRONICLE BOARD

There has been at least one good result of the wrangle over the question of paying for the expenses which the editor of last year's Chronicle incurred in carrying on the college paper. That is in regard to the dispute which presently arises as to how the surplus—provided there is one—shall be divided between the editors and the business manager. Formerly the Chronicle boards have shown themselves to be derelict in their duty of managing the paper. Once a year they met in a perfunctory manner, and the editor-in-chief and the business manager, and felt that they had discharged their duty to the societies faithfully. The editor and the business manager were left to themselves to dispute about the surplus—or the deficit, as the case might be. This dereliction of the Chronicle boards in the past has virtually relinquished any financial responsibility by the societies, and has given rise to the embarrassing situation in which last year's editor has been placed.

This cannot, or should not, be over in the future. For in the debate Saturday night in Columbia Literary Society, it was brought out that the governing board of the Chronicle had in 1907 amended the by-laws in a manner of which recent boards have been apparently totally ignorant. In the issue of May 8, 1907, the following statement is made: "The board passed an amendment to the by-laws by which the editor-in-chief was to receive any profit which may be made from the publication. It will be divided as follows: forty per cent to the business manager; forty per cent to the editor-in-chief; and ten per cent to each of the two Literary Societies." It is to be hoped that the present board will profit by this provision by making a closer supervision of the management of the Chronicle, especially for the purpose of preventing in the future such situations as the one which has arisen out of the dereliction of last year's Chronicle board.

HELP BUILD THE LIBRARY

It has been a practice among the students from year to year to sell old books to second-hand dealers who pay hardly enough for the books to compensate the students for the time and effort spent in collecting and carrying these books to the book store. Evidently these books are not valued by the students, and they are glad to get them out of the way at any price.

Since but very little is realized from the sale of the books, would it not be better to make a gift of them to the library, and thus build up an institution which is of benefit to every Trinity student.

It is true that the library would not especially need every book which would be presented, but, nevertheless, these books would be preserved and probably be of some use to the college community rather than a loss as in the previous practice. Furthermore a number of valuable books would doubtless be collected in this manner, for histories, books on education, economics, and other subjects of this nature are always handy for reference.

In this connection there is ever an opportunity for the students to build up the library. During the summer vacation no opportunity should be allowed to pass for securing rare volumes for the library. Many pamphlets that are very valuable to the library are not considered so by individuals, and thus a little attention on the part of the student body would add appreciably to the library.

FRESHMEN WIN ANNUAL CLASS TRACK MEET

JUNIORS FOLLOW WITH CLOSE SECOND WHILE SENIORS SCORE LEAST
LAGERSTADT IS HIGH SCORER

Hargrove and Jones Tie for the Second High Individual Score Close Meet

Running on a slow track the class of '27 was winner over the other classes in the closest of the annual class track meets in several years. The freshmen scored 49 points and were followed closely by the Juniors who scored a total of 40½ points. The Sophomores followed the Juniors with a score of 34½, while the Seniors were low scorers with 2 points. Excellent material was shown in the class meet especially among the members of the freshmen class, "Snail" Jones, Ketchy, Beverly, and Redmond showing up very well.

Prizes were offered for individual scores and the contestants were naturally anxious to figure in on the prizes. E. W. Lagerstadt was high scorer with 35 points followed by C. E. Hargrove and Enel Jones with 33 each. Ketchy was fourth with 10½, Barnhardt, fifth with 9, Allen, sixth with 8½, and Redmond seventh with 7 points. Seven other contestants scored five points each.

Some of the feature events of the afternoon were the high jump, mile run, 200 yard dash, and javelin throw. Jones, a freshman, won the later two events with fine form. Beverly, a freshman, showed up on the high jump, and Redmond, also a freshman, ran a pretty mile.

First place, in the events were won as follows:

2 mile run, Mabry (Sophomore).
1 mile run, Redmond (Freshman).
440 yards, Barnhardt (Senior).
High hurdles, Ross (Freshman).
Low hurdles, Lagerstadt (Junior).
880 yards, Gaston (Senior).
High jump, Beverly (Freshman).
Dimeus Brown, Lagerstadt (Junior).
Javelin, Jones (Freshman).
Shot Put, Hatcher (Senior).
Pole Vault, Hargrove (Sophomore).
100 Yards, Ketchy (Freshman).
220 Yards, Jones (Freshman).
Broad Jump, Hargrove (Sophomore).

Co-Ed Basketball Game Cuts Hesperian Program Short

The regular meeting of Hesperia last Saturday evening was very short on account of the irrevocable appeal of the basketball game staged in Memorial Gymnasium.

R. E. Fisher was the regular orator of the evening. His subject was "The Future Occupation of the East." R. A. Widenhouse favored the members of the hall with a voluntary oration entitled "Remarks on Radio." In view of the fact that not all of the debaters of the evening were present it was moved and carried that the debate be dispensed with and the Society adjourn in favor of the young ladies of Southeast who were studying a basketball game in the gym.

CAMPUS CHATTER

Although Ye Olde Editor consented to turn over his editorial autograph in toto to his associate editors for a few weeks, he could not tear himself from the Campus Chatter column. Then, too, he was just a little afraid that one of his associated editors might say something in it that would cause talk. And that would be deplorable.

Ye Olde Editor perceives, among other things, that even in the higher circles no evil is quite so bad as the exposed evil. Thus the not or never not goes without reproach, while Ye Olde Editor gets riled over the coals for revealing the family skeleton. 'Ost la vie.

A question that Ye Olde Editor has been pondering in his mind for some time is this. Which is the more important, the alumni or the students of a college? There seems to be little doubt as to which asserts the greater influence on the policy of the institution.

The last editor of the Chronicle has at last come into his own. The Columbian Literary Society voted last Saturday night to give him a grant for expenses of his editorship during the past scholastic year. All of which goes to prove that a man's greatness grows in proportion to the distance he left behind.

LAW FRATERNITY HOLD MOCK TRIAL THURSDAY

Aspiring Statesmen to Display Ability in Prosecuting and Defending Before Bar

On Thursday night, April 10th, the Sigma Nu Phi Fraternity (Legal) will hold a mock trial. A man, prominent in the social and educational life of Trinity College, is to be tried for the murder of his wife. Evidence is against the man, for a post mortem examination showed that the woman was killed by a blow on the head, and the defendant was seen leaving the home hurriedly just before the victim was discovered.

It is rumored that many interesting facts will develop from the testimony. The solicitor has secured additional counsel for the State and they are exerting every effort to secure conviction. A jury is being impounded from the men and women readers of the college.

The trial is open to the public.

OPEN FORUM

To the Editor:

The suggestion made in Chapel Monday morning that the two literary societies be relieved of the responsibility for the publication of the Chronicle is indeed timely. If anything, it is a bold suggestion, rather than an imperative one.

At the time when the literary societies assumed responsibility for the publication of a college paper, the work done by the two societies was greater than that of any other student activity. The societies were able to focus student opinion upon any particular question more than any other student organization. Today, instead of being the strongest organization, the literary societies rank secondary in importance to other student activities. Half of the entire front page of the first Chronicle which was ever issued was devoted to the activities of the two societies; today a mere squib of society activities, and thus no mention is made whatever. This interesting contrast only emphasizes the fact that the literary societies no longer represent the whole student body, and consequently should no more be charged with the responsibility for editing the student publication than the Tomba in the 90's or any other organization which does not embrace the entire student body. Furthermore, if, through the laxitude of Chronicle boards, the Chronicle is to be a source of expense to the literary societies—as was the result of last year's management—then the literary societies certainly ought to be relieved of a burden which is unfairly heavy for them.

Not should the student body wait until a publication fee is imposed before relieving the societies of this responsibility. The Chronicle can be made self-sustaining; it can be managed by a board elected by the student body just as well as by a board elected by the societies—perhaps better; and certainly the student body can bear a possible deficit better than the organizations which represent such a pitiful minority of the student body.

WAKE FOREST AND DAVIDSON FALL BEFORE THE RATS OF THE BLUE DEVILS

another sweeping victory for Trinity when the Wildcats from Davidson fell before the Jones machine by a 5 to 0 defeat. The game was fast and well played, and in every phase of the game the Trinity team showed itself to be better. Bushe, the man who caused the humiliation of Trinity in the last game at Gastonia last season, decided to attempt to retrieve the same at Greensboro, but the fates were not favorable, and he was driven from the mound in the beginning of the third inning.

Sanderson took the mound against the captain pitcher of the Wildcats, and for four innings the Davidsons were unable to get a hit.

Trinity began the game with a bang, and before the last Wildcat had wildly waved the air with his bat, the Blue Devils had registered up down hits. Spikes, Sanderson, and Smith were the main hitters for Trinity, and Alford was probably the best that appeared for Davidson. Sanderson distinguished himself by dropping his hit in the deep corner of left field, and Spikes drove the ball at will to all parts of the park.

The first run came in the initial inning when Smith led off with a hit, was advanced to second on Tyoe's sacrifice, and was scored later when the Davidson players became confused in the infield. The second inning offered no thrills, and both sides failed to score. In the third the Blue Devils opened up, and with a series of well placed hits they scored three runs. Bushe retired to the showers and was replaced on the mound by Laird, who finished the game. Laird suffered the Methodists to hit him freely.

but Trinity scored only once more in the final part of the game.

Sanderson pitched a beautiful game, and although he seemed to get into a hole once in a while, he seemed to take a pleasure in showing the Wildcats that they were trying to cheer too much. Smith played right field during the entire game, and he covered this outer position with the same speed and sureness that he has formerly done at third. Brown held down the third sack again, and while his corner was comparatively cool, he played a good game. The whole team looked better than ever, and their hitting eye seems to be getting ever crisper each game. To say the least, Davidson was up against a much stronger team, and they were outclassed in every department of the contest.

This last sweeping victory brings Trinity nearer the championship goal. Two of the main opponents have been defeated, and a third one will probably take the same route next Saturday when the team from N. C. State comes over to Durham for the opening game with Trinity. Carolina will be met on the Saturday before Easter, and the interest of the students of both Carolina and Trinity is centered on this game, for it will be among the most spectacular battles of the year and will go far in deciding which team will be on top at the last of the season. The Blue Devils are going strong, and already they have shown that they are out for Easter, and the interest of the students of both Carolina and Trinity is centered on this game, for it will be among the most spectacular battles of the year and will go far in deciding which team will be on top at the last of the season. ## CAMPAIGN TO COLLECT ANNUAL MISSION FUND

PROFESSOR CANNON SPOKE ON WORK OF KING IN EUROPE

STUDENTS ASK TO CONTRIBUTE

The Money Raised is to Be Expended by Sent King in Aiding European Students

The Council of Religious Interests is conducting during the present week the annual student campaign for a missionary offering to be expended through Hiram K. King, '23, in his work with the students of Europe. This work has been an annual feature of Trinity activities ever since the world war. King himself, while a member of the senior class in the year following the war, was chairman of the student delegation to the Des Moines Convention of the Student Volunteer Movement. Becoming interested in missions he returned to college and headed a canvass for funds among the students of the college and over a thousand dollars was subscribed by members of the college community. This first fund was expended through the Board of Missions of the Southern Methodist church. In every year since this first canvass the funds subscribed by the college community have been through the Board of Missions of the Southern Methodist church. In every year since this first canvass the funds subscribed by the college community have been through the Board of Missions of the Southern Methodist church. In every year since this first canvass the funds subscribed by the college community have been through the Board of Missions of the Southern Methodist church.

During the recent Mission Institute here, Bishop W. B. Beauchamp, under whose supervision Trinity's representative works, paid a fine tribute to King's efforts, stating in an address in chapel that he is probably the most effective example of the Methodist mission in work with students.

For the past few years there has been a quiet movement under way, gaining force annually, for the religious organizations of the college to undertake the entire support of King's work. This would be in line with the practice of leading American colleges. Yale University conducts a work in China known as Yale in China. Princeton has a Princeton in Peking. Other colleges support workers with foreign student groups. The present appeal, however, is to follow the custom of previous years and seek to raise a fund to be expended through King for needy students.

Prof. James Cannon, as chairman of the Religious Council, made a full presentation of the canvass and its aims in chapel this morning. The plan as outlined is that each member of the student body is asked to contribute at least fifty cents, to be paid if at all possible at the class conferences on Saturday, and if not by that time, then before the Easter holidays. Payments are to be made to the regular class treasurers, and the general treasurer of the fund, W. A. Kels, president of the Y. M. C. A., will forward the funds to Mr. King. Prof. Cannon stated also that if any member of the community desires to direct his money to other causes, and will designate such cause in making his subscription, the Religious Council will receive and forward it to its proper destination. Special mention was made by Prof. Cannon of the Bernardo Homes and the Near East Relief. Both of these charities have been fully presented here this year, but at the suggestion of the Religious Council separate appeals are not made for such objects but all are asked to take part in a special united appeal so that the community as a whole will be relieved of a number of small appeals and can concentrate on one general effort.

Co-Ed News

In the first game to be played by the girls in the new gymnasium, the junior basketball team lost in a very one-sided contest to the freshmen last Saturday evening by a score of 46 to 10. The outcome of the game was never in doubt, as the freshmen took the lead early, and not once did the juniors threaten to stage a come-back.

The freshmen played an exceptionally good passing game, and the stellar work of "Bill" Woods and Mary Avera was the feature of the game. "Bill" Woods displayed a positively uncanny ability to shoot goals, and her propensity for making good, difficult shots, helped her to ring in eleven goals. Mattie Louie Long was the next highest scorer, piling twelve points for her team. Mary Avera caged five goals. For the juniors, Herbie Glasse played a good game.

In spite of the fact that the two teams were decidedly unevenly matched, the game was interesting throughout, and it was witnessed by a large and sympathetic crowd.

Line-up and summary:

Miss Alice Ballentine spoke before the Brooks Literary Society last Saturday evening on the living poets and prose writers whom she has known.

Speaking first of the English poets, she talked about John Keats, who is considered by many critics to be probably the greatest living poet. She described him as being a sensitive, kindly, thoughtful scholar, whose general appearance is dramatically opposed to the beautiful, brutal, and vigorous poetry which he writes. His poetry is a direct reaction against Victorian poetry, and it includes "The Everlasting Yarn" and "Dauber."

Delta Phi Ebo Alpha has challenged the winning chess team to a basketball game, and next Saturday evening at eight o'clock the freshmen will defend their title in the Memorial gymnasium. As the Delta Phi Ebo Alpha team includes players of high caliber, a very closely contested game will be inevitable.

QUAKERS FALL BEFORE SLUGGING METHODISTS

HOO DOO AND SMITH STAGE REAL PITCHERS' DUEL FOR FOUR INNINGS

SPIKES AND JOHNSON BAT 1000

Turner and English Field Well-Club Opened Up in Fifth-Smith Injured

In their second game of the 1924 season the Trinity Blue Devils sent the Quakers down to defeat by a 4-0 score in a game which hit fair to be an excellent exhibition in its early stages but which the Methodists broke up in the final innings by consistent slugger.

For four and a half innings Sanderson engaged in a spectacular pitcher's duel with neither team having a decided advantage. In Trinity's half of the fifth, however, things began to happen. In this inning Turner singled and came home on Spikes's triple. Spikes himself summated in on Johnson's sacrifice fly. In the next inning Tove singled and Sanderson doubled. Both came in when English threw wild to first after fielding McDuff's roller cleanly. Spikes started off the seventh with another triple to right-center and speeded home on Johnson's long double to center, followed infield hits by Sanderson, English and Spikes.

The features of the game for Trinity were the hitting of Spikes and Johnson, both of whom hit on every accredited trip to the plate, the pitching and hitting of Sanderson, Trinity's midday captain and mound artist, and the alright fielding of Turner and English. The features of the game from Guilford's viewpoint were the hitting of Cummings and J. W. Frazier and the fielding of C. Frazier, J. W. Frazier and Smithfield.

Trinity's star third-baseman, "Cammy Ball" Smith, suffered an injury in the third inning when a batted grounder took a bad hop and hit him in the mouth breaking his upper jaw. The injury while very painful will not keep Smith out of any games this spring.
