Blue Devils Lose to Techmen in Hard Fought Game Last Saturday

TRINITY LINE STANDS LIKE A ROCK, BUT BREAKS GO WRONG WAY

GRIGG PLAYS GREAT GAME

Reidel Does Splendidly in His First Game—Students Are Well Pleased With Outcome for Big Season

Though defeated by the Wolf-Pack in the game Saturday, Blue Devil stock has advanced considerable since the initial scrum of the season. Playing on a rainsoaked, slick, and foreign field, against a team rated to win "a comparatively easy victory," the real gridders did honor to themselves and their supporters even in defeat.

A comparison of the two teams shows the State team to have averaged thirteen points per man more than the Trinity team, and of the eleven men who started the game for State all were versatile veterans, five of whom are now back again their third year of collegiate football and the remaining six their second year. On the other hand such was not true of the Methodist team. Only five of the men starting the game had ever participated in a varsity game, the other six being the products which Coach Jones has shaped from the mass of material with which he was presented from which to round out a team. On the State bench seven experienced men as reserve material while two experienced men along with more untrodden material constituted the Trinity reserve power. After considering these facts it is plainly evident that the outcome of the game caused a rise in Trinity future.

The outstanding man for the Blue Devils were Grigg and Lagerstedt. Near the latter part of the game when the Wolves were at their door these men were very instrumental in holding them back. Grigg, the husky tackle from Gastonia, was there to bar the path of the State backs who were plugging away at the line, and after practically every play when the men began to unravel Grigg was usually found in the midst of the pack. "Log" played a great game in the backfield, both on the offense and on the defense. Grigg's tackling and juggling his inexperienced teammates, and running interference constituted a busy day for "Log."

In the first half of the game Reidel stood out as a ground granger for the local club making runs for more than fifty yards during this period. Caldwell made several good punts, but the Wolf-Pack's kick ball caused him to tumble at a bad time for his team mates. Garrett when substituted for Reidel in the final minutes of the game was a real find. Spirit which made him a hero of former contests. To tell the whole story would be to say that the entire team played first class ball, and the only lack of Trinity supporters is that Ed Bullock was to have run the game but was absent from the lineup and is out for the remainder of the season. Some believe that with this veteran in the backfield the story would have been different.

Johnson and Laster were the stars for the Wolf-Pack, each gaining ground and scoring a touchdown. Johnson also scored the two extra points after each touchdown.

The first half of the game was truly a Trinity affair. In this session the Trinity men worked their "Crack-shooting" formation and then proceeded to play "rings around the Techmen's" rather than "ring-around-the-rose" as one sport writer described their novel plays. It was near the end of this play that the Trinity men struck the ball within five yards of a touchdown but lost in on downs. This was the closest call for the Wolf-Pack.

First Quarter

The Techmen won the toss and elected to receive, and defend the North goal. It was near the end of this play that the Trinity men struck the ball within five yards of a touchdown but lost in on downs. This was the closest call for the Wolf-Pack.

Second Quarter

Caldwell punted after a failure to gain on drives, and after several short drives and attempted punts on the part of the State team, the ball again came into possession of the Trinity men on their 20-yard line. Caldwell again punted, making 25 yards. In this play Log was removed from the game for roughness and State was penalized 15 yards the ball going to the Blue Devils. At

FACULTY LIST SHOWS SEVERAL CHANGES IN ITS LARGE PERSONNEL

TEN NEW MEMBERS HAVE BEEN ADDED TO TAKE CARE OF STUDENTS

TWO ON LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Prof. Cannon and Proctor Are Given Leave of Absence in Which to Do Research Work

In order to meet the demands of the ever increasing student body of Trinity, frequent additions have to be made to the teaching staff of the college. This year 10 men have been added, and one man is returning after a sabbatical leave last year.

George H. Mount has been added to the department of Psychology. He received his A. B. from Parsons College, his M. A. and Ph. D. from the University of Iowa, and he has been on the faculty of the University of Lehigh, Iowa, since 1921.

R. B. Childs comes to the college as professor of Education. He received his A. B. from Young Harris College and the University of Virginia, and did three years of graduate work at the University of Virginia. He was head of the education department at Randolph-Macon College for several years, and has been on the Trinity summer school faculty for several seasons.

N. A. Attilio is acting professor of Biblical Literature. After receiving his A. B. from the University of South Carolina, he went to Princeton and Boston Universities for graduate work. He is now on a leave of absence from King University, Chicago, where he occupies the chair Old Testament Interpretation.

H. J. Herring, '22, has been employed as assistant to the Dean. After his graduation from Trinity he taught in the Winston-Salem High School, at Winston-Salem, N. C.

R. N. Wilson has returned to the Chemistry department after his sabbatical leave to do graduate work at the University of Illinois last year.

P. N. Garber, Assistant Professor of History, is an A. B. graduate of Bridgewater College and holds a Ph. D. degree from the same school, and he was an instructor at Brown University.

William T. Towne, A. B. '21, Law '24, is Assistant Professor of Law.

W. A. Tatro, '25, Assistant Instructor of Physics and Inspecting Engineer of buildings, has two years of teaching experience.

Kelly L. Elmore, '22, Liggett-Meyers Research Fellow and Assistant Instructor of Chemistry, since graduation has been head of the Science Department of Roanoke Rapids High School.

BENEFACTOR'S DAY

This year's Benefactor's Day, a half holiday observed annually by Trinity College, will be observed by Trinity College, will be observed by a suitable and well-organized program, which will begin immediately after the dismissal of classes at the end of the second period Friday next. The program will be given in Craven Memorial Hall, beginning at the usual chapel hour.

The object of the exercises is to cultivate the spirit of benevolence and to give recognition to the generosity of all who have made contributions to the college.

This year the program will be devoted to a history of the college. Dr. W. H. Pegram will speak on "Trinity College before its removal to Durham." President W. P. Few will speak on "Trinity College in Durham." There will also be special music.

The exercises will be brief and after they are concluded, the students will be free for the rest of the day, all class work being suspended.

COACH JONES ADDRESSES AUDIENCE AT RECEPTION

Head of Trinity Athletic Pleads for More Real College Spirit and Urges a Policy of Clean Sports

Coach Jones sounded the keynote for better college athletics in a short speech at the "Y" reception Friday night, when he declared that his idea in producing teams is to put them on the field to win if possible but if the teams cannot win then they are to take defeat like men.

The old idea of winning by fair or foul play is viewed as obsolete by Coach Jones and the policy of the coaching department is to put every ounce of fighting spirit in the men that can possibly be put in them, but the fighting spirit is that of a clean sport.

The fact that this policy is already well established in the present football team is testified to by the absence of penalties in the game Saturday, other than a penalty or so which was for being off-sides. The football team will be coached in the same school, and with a similar attitude on the part of the student body the true function of the athletic side of college life can be more fully realized, and a real benefit will be derived from the presence of this training.

Freshman Badges Are Distributed to New Class by Council Officials

The Student Council of Trinity College is making special efforts to get the Freshman Class started off in the right way, and for this reason the class was honored by a special reception last Monday and Tuesday nights by the President of the Men's Association.

At the first meeting on Monday night the first few minutes were devoted to hearing the college yells. Warner acted as director of the informal pep meeting, and then opened up into a splendid address to the first year men. He advised them to catch the Trinity spirit, and to learn the college and to fall in line with its standards. "I really believe that the outstanding condition about the college is gentlemenly conduct," stated Dr. Wanaumaker in urging the new men to follow the conditions about the college. "There is a power somewhere that made Trinity students and its loyal instructors of the college. At the close of the meeting the Freshmen were given the freshman badge, and instructed to wear them until the Council has further orders.

SEVERAL PROFESSORS TAKE EUROPEAN TOUR

COLLEGE IS WELL REPRESENTED AMONG TOURISTS OF THE OLD WORLD

FOUR MEMBERS MAKE THE TRIP

Profs. Seane, Baum, Young and Peppel, Make Extended Visits to Europe for Pleasure and Study

Trinity was well represented in Europe during the past summer—four members of the faculty having visited points of interest in the old world. Those making the trip were: Professor Seane, Dr. Baum, Professor Young, and Dr. Peppel.

Professor Seane, accompanied by Mrs. Seane, left for an extended tour of Europe, on June 7. They landed in England, and then went to Scotland where they attended the International Sunday School Convention at Glasgow, Scotland, England and Scotland, and topped France, Italy, Germany, and Switzerland.

Dr. Baum landed in England and visited especially the cathedral towns such as Cambridge. From England, he went to Paris and into Italy as far south as Rome. On leaving Rome, he came back by way of Paris and through Switzerland and Holland.

Professor Young spent some time at Bordeaux and other points of interest in France. He also toured other countries of western Europe.

Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Peppel spent the summer traveling in Great Britain, Belgium, France, and Switzerland. In England they made a tour of the cathedral towns, visited the schools of Winchester and Eton and many of the colleges of Oxford and Cambridge, spent some time in Devonshire and the other picturesque lakes of the Lake District, and were

BULLOCK'S CONDITION

Ed Bullock will not appear in the Blue Devil line up this season. Injuries sustained in practice will keep this fighting Blue Devil from appearing on the gridiron. The loss of Bullock is a big blow to Trinity's hopes, and to the hopes of gridiron fans throughout the state who persisted in the belief that he would be able to resume his position before another major game. The best hope now is that Bullock will be in condition for the basket ball season.

FIRST FALL ISSUE OF ALUMNI REGISTER OUT

Interesting Article by Prof. Holton on History of College by One of the Main Features

The October number of the Trinity Alumni Register, the first since July, is just off the press, and is of unusual interest on account of several leading articles and especially the large amount of news that this issue carries of the activities of the Alumni during the summer months. An article on the Trinity College Summer School by Professor Holton is the feature article.

This article by Professor Holton gives a good bit of the former history and growth of the five preceding summer schools and adds quite a bit of interesting data concerning the most recent session this summer, when for the first time two separate sessions were held. Professor Holton points to the total enrollment for both sessions of 683, and makes the statement: "In my opinion the steady and almost remarkable growth of the summer school has been due in no small part to the loyalty of the alumni of the college and especially to the loyalty of former summer school students." Professor Holton stresses the fact that a strict standard of college and high school work has been upheld and concludes the article by attention the social activities of the students.

Other articles of interest are a message to the alumni from Wade Marr, '21, president of the alumni association, and another article by President Few entitled "A Good Start for a New Year." Editor Thielen has several well written editorials of both general interest and of particular interest to the alumni. Percy Mack's book, "The Trinity Age," is reviewed in a brief and concise criticism in which Mack's point of view is set out in two page articles. After a few introductory remarks, Mr. Thielen gives a recent editorial of the Charlotte Observer under the same caption.

The remainder of the number is concerned with college news, including a story on Trinity's new coach, George Buchheit, and other happenings of general interest. Under the head of Alumni Notes are found and unusually large number of marriage announcements and notices of changes of the various alumni and alumnae of the college.

Director Correll Gives Swimming Pool Schedule

The schedule for the pool this year is: Mon., Tues., and Thurs., for the boys, and Wed. and Sat., for the girls. It is open from 2:30 until 5:30 in the afternoon. Reservations are under way to open the pool for the faculty on Wednesday nights.

The pool will contact strongly with the swim club and for popular they will be the winter. Mr. Correll promises classes in swimming and life-saving as these classes prove themselves popular last Spring.

SECOND GAME OF THE SEASON WITH QUAKERS HERE NEXT SATURDAY

VAGUE REPORTS FROM THE GUILFORD CAMP TELL LITTLE

SEVEN LETTER MEN TO PLAY

According to the Scores of Last Three Years Saturday's Total Will Be Around 100 to 0

Will the Quaker spirit move?

Such is the question that is being discussed on the Trinity campus this week. Guilford, from the wooded hills of Guilford County, comes next on the Blue Devil list for an encounter on Hanes Field. The game that will be the first at the home arena, and for many of the students and Durham fans it will be the first exhibition of the already famous Jax Machine.

So far the Quakers have spent their time in practice for the Methodists and have not come out of their lair for a straight game. The regular season will pull is more of a matter of conjecture, for the Quakers have had the muffer on their information bureau. However the Guilford team will be going through with a drilling practice for the last two weeks, and rumors indicate that the team will be in first-class condition for their opening game at Durham.

Guilford begins the season with a squad of over thirty men, of whom seven letter men from last year will take the lion's share, but the regular season is feeling the loss of Laster, one of their star punters, and Shore severely. Smith, captain of the aggregation and right end, has been under the weather for the last few days, but will probably start the game. Herrel, right guard; Warwick, center; Noces, left guard; Herrel, tackle; Thomas, half back; and Frazer, quarter and probably the best of the team, are expected to begin the game on Saturday.

Of the other vacancies on the team, Guilford claims to have good material to put in. Murry of Bailey Military Institute, Warren of Spring Hills, White, Chesey, Reynolds, Mathews, and Wels are among the recruits who are showing good form.

The Quakers are working for the opening game. They have been at hard practice for two weeks, and as yet they have not been damaged by hard games. Reports from the college say that Coach Deak will lead the regular scrimmage about Wednesday and devote the rest of the week in perfecting trick plays and a few of the regular team.

Whatever Guilford has in store for the Blue Devils remains to be seen. They may appear next Saturday with a dazzling team, but the record of the last two years points to something different, and if precedent holds good, the score will stand about 100 to 0 with the Quakers on the field and the Blue Devils on the sidelines. The successive scores for the last three years are as follows: 1921, Trinity 28-Guilford 0; 1922, Trinity 43-Guilford 0; and 1923, Trinity 60-Guilford 0.

The past is against them, but the eventual spirit may take a sudden break, and Coach Jones is taking no chances. The Quaker has been hindered by the rainy weather in taking their regular scrimmages, but daily drills have been going through in the gym. From what was evidenced at Raleigh on last Saturday, after the Quakers have begun the game they will be wishing that they had used a stone wall for a charging machine, for that Blue Devil line is hard.

Hipps and Neely Chosen Spouse Depart for Yale

Mr. Teague Hipps, who graduated at Trinity last year, is a visitor on the campus last Thursday and Friday. He was on his way to Yale University, where he has a fellowship this year. At Yale he will study Religion and Biblical Literature.

Only a few fellowships are offered each year by Yale, and it is quite an honor to receive one. While at Trinity Mr. Hipps was one of the best and outstanding men of the campus in religious work. Besides being president of the Y. M. C. A., he took an active interest in all religious activities.

During the vacation Mr. Hipps married Miss Ida Green, a Junior at Trinity last year. His wife will accompany him to Yale, and she will be studying music until her husband completes his training at Yale.

PARAGRAPHS

Three big rals for Howard Jones!

Watch Trinity in 1928 should be charged to 1924. With a line like a rock wall and a fighting backfield the Blue Devils will be firing up the old steam roller before long.

Did anyone watch that Grig boy go last Saturday? It seems like Trinity is going to get a tackle on the mythical all-time eleven this year.

The Freshman who was inquiring for the room in which English I Common was being taught has no doubt realized by this time just how far wrong he was in his calculations.

Why the weather is the absorbing question of the campus, but as Mark Twain said, it is a question much discussed and yet nothing is done about it.

Credentiation is on the increase. The Wake Forest Law School has enrolled one woman student this year. The Baptists seem to be enlarging in all directions.

The official ban against dogs must have been misinterpreted, for on the morning after the proclamation a new canine made its appearance within the stone wall.

Physical torture begins next week, and from the rumors it may be necessary to organize a special senior class in order to take care of delinquents.

The college driveways may be rough, but there are a few solid spots to be found in wet weather, and they certainly seem like gold paved streets to the weary ones who returned from State College last Saturday.

A freshman has explained why there are no cake-eaters at State: the mud is too deep for the latter.

The freshmen have their badges, and now if the seniors will only get their cases, these two outstanding classes will be ready for the year's work.

THE TRINITY SPIRIT

To Coach Jones the State game may have revealed several defects in the football team, and in the same way the game revealed one outstanding defect in the spirit of the Trinity Students, that is, no spirit at all. The students have been in evidence at the College a spirit that there are a few teams in the State that are invincible, and that come what will, the other team will get the breaks even when Trinity should win.

This attitude was shown last Saturday. State game was expected to win by a fair margin, and the students went to Raleigh with more curiosity than spirit and when the game looked as if it were lost, the prevailing comment was about the old "I told you so" style. The pep was gone when the team needed encouragement, and the support of the students was not forthcoming when such an effort would have been of invaluable aid to a hard-pressed squad.

Lack of confidence is a contagious thing, especially in an athletic contest, and it shows itself so plainly that it debases the men who are weakening, and its reaction acts as a stimulant to the opposing side. Such was the case at the trip, for while the State students were urging their men on with every display of enthusiasm and confidence even when State won on the defense, the Trinity supporters were scattered about the bleachers, and in spite of the efforts of the cheer leaders, the spirit of hopelessness seemed to pervade a practically lifeless crowd.

The team fought, and even in the losing moments they kept up the struggle, while from the Trinity side there came only an occasional yell that showed all the more plainly that the mass of students were disheartened. The team made a name for themselves, and their fight against the earlier predicted odds was great, but the real failure of the game happened on the sidelines.

The students have their part to play as well as the men in uniform, and in a way their part is just as important. Why not some of this old idea that the boys are against it? The other colleges don't have it, and why should Trinity? Trinity has the team and the coaching staff. Something big is going to happen, and it's up to the students to climb on the bandwagon and help carry the thing along. Only one game of the season is gone. There are eight more coming, with the second on next Saturday. Let's redeem ourselves with the team, and show the men who do the fighting that the student body consents to more than a crowd of spectators.

THE OPEN FORUM

There is one feature of The Chronicle that seems to be misunderstood by the majority of the students. Each year the editors have reserved a column for the students to voice any sentiment or criticism that they might wish, but this privilege has never been taken seriously. Now and then an occasional article has appeared, but as a rule very little interest has been in evidence.

This year the Open Forum column will be reserved again and it is hoped that it will be put to use. This column is the only way by which the students have of giving publicity to their thoughts, and any thinking being done about the college, surely some of it merits a place in the college paper. The editorial section cannot express the wishes of the majority of students every time, and it is possible that the editorial staff may overlook some things which need commenting upon. The purpose of the Open Forum is to allow any student, whether they be critical or otherwise, to be expressed openly.

If there are men and women about the college who wish to comment upon something that is going on or that should go on, the Chronicle will be very glad to publish their views, even if such an article smacks with destructive criticism of the paper itself, for it is from outside sources that the defects of the publication are first brought to light. So if there are any thunder stored up among radical and conservative thinkers about the college, arrangements have been made so that they may be efficiently and effectively hurled into the channels of the college weekly newspaper.

FIRST VESPER SERVICE IS VERY WELL ATTENDED

In Spite of the Unfavorable Weather Many Students Gather to Hear Interesting Addresses

The first Vesper Service of the year was well attended last Sunday afternoon in spite of the unfavorable weather. A. F. the opening lyrics, Miss Mary Yakeridge read a selection from the Scriptures, and Rev. W. R. Brown led the prayer.

One of the features of the service was a solo by Mr. Brown, who was accompanied by Miss Baldwin. Dr. Few then addressed the gathering on the topic of "Why We Come to College, and he ably pointed out that students came to Trinity to try to learn to live wisely, successfully, and usefully.

To seek the truth in order that we may live the truth is one of the purposes which have been set before the students mind, was one of the main points of the address. Dr. Few also stated that the Bible was not to be taken as a record of facts, but as a standard and guide upon which to base one's character building.

One should be good for the principle and not for the reward, was another outstanding theme of the speaker. "New is the time," Dr. Few stated in his closing remarks, "to seek the right standard for the years, and to live up to it whatever may be the price. Miss Eckerling closed the program by reading a selection from Henry Van Dyke's poem and requesting everyone to return to the service on next Sunday afternoon and to bring a friend also.

Maltose cats and aristocrats are snobs.

OPEN FORUM

Those who have been here in years before have learned to resign themselves to several variations of conditions with an oriental calm, and freshmen may well learn to regard those conditions as a part of the unavoidable hardships of obtaining an education. Nothing is more absurd than that nothing will be done to relieve the time honored if worth proking situations of campus existence, and they have existed from time immemorial, and sensibly will continue to exist through eternity.

One may, however, express it even about weather conditions, athletics and junior service. It is a futile expression, but, the aggrieved party may gain some momentary relief and satisfaction through venting his feelings. This college represents a community of some twelve hundred persons and it has a postal service that would disorient a cross roads settlement. No criticism is made of the personnel, but I protest long and loudly about the hours during which we may commence with the postmaster. For about three hours each day we of the community may receive our mail and buy postage stamps with which to dispatch our billets doux, provided we have the bodily patience that will enable us to stand in a weary line. Three hours is absolutely insufficient time to carry on the business of handling the postal needs of the community. It is fairly certain that the volume of the college mails is as large as for any village of twelve hundred people. Any North Carolina village with a population of twelve hundred that has not full time post office service would vote the Republican ticket unanimously in the next election. Its Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club would throw several varieties of its spasm and bill and the Congressmen of the district would risk mayhem upon his person if he ventured into such a village.

However, as stated before, the college community suffers in silence as poor, dumb, driven cattle, having achieved a serenity that would permit it to the desire of Buddha, believing perhaps that the rock shall inherit the earth.

I, for one, yearn for postman longing for full time post office service on the campus.

J. L. CLUTE.

Memorial Reception Will be Held Friday Evening

The Memorial Methodist church reception is an annual affair that is anticipated with as keen interest by the students and faculty of Trinity College as the Christmas holidays, or a Thanksgiving giving feast.

The reception will begin at 5 o'clock Friday evening, and a cordial invitation is extended to all students and faculty members of the college community. Any old student of Trinity can testify that a very pleasant evening will be in store for all who attend.

JOINT "V" RECEPTION WELCOMES NEW STUDENTS

Professor Spence Toast Master—Talks, Laughter, Music, Refreshments, Feature the Program

The Y. M. C. A. hall, together with the Columbian and Herpetarian Literary society halls, was the scene of a delightful reception last Friday night when the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. extended a formal reception to new students. The halls were splendidly decorated for the occasion, Talks, laughter, music and refreshments were the pleasing array of features which helped convey an idea of welcome to some 400 freshmen, and to re-visit Trinity in the minds of many old students.

Professor H. E. Spence as master of ceremonies kept the house merry. Dr. Few, Miss Baldwin and Coach Jones were the principal speakers of the evening. Representatives from the various student organizations gave assurance of welcome to new students to join in the student activities. These representatives were: W. S. Barnes, president of Men's Association; Miss Jessie Hauser, president of the Woman's Association; W. B. Brown, publications; Miss Margaret Ledbetter, Y. M. C. A.; Frank Warner, Musical Club; Frank Craven, Literary Societies; W. A. Kaine, Y. M. C. A.

After the formal program the students gathered in the two literary society halls where refreshments were served, and an informal get-together and acquainted social hour was enjoyed. The music of the evening was furnished by a local orchestra and a student saxophone chorus.

TRACK PRACTICE WILL START FIRST OF WEEK

CROSS COUNTRY RUNNERS TO BE CALLED OFF NEXT MONDAY

COACH BUCKHEIT IN CHARGE

First Class Meet Comes in October—The Other Meets Will Be Open Only to the Upper-Classmen

Another college sport got under way Monday afternoon when a number of men reported to Coach Buckheit as competitors for berths on the Cross Country Track Team. The following squad most of last year's were out: Bolich, the Captain of last year's team, Redmond, May, Beverly, Withrow, Hatcher, and Clegg. Captain Hatcher has not reported as yet on account of indisposition but is expected out at once.

Although the schedule is not complete it is certain to be composed of some very interesting meets. The first meet is a class meet on October 18th. The following week is with Washington and Lee at Lexington, Virginia. The incomplete schedule is as follows:
October 18th, Class Meet.
October 21st, Washington and Lee, etc.

November 15th, Wake Forest, etc.
December 6th, State Meet, at Wake Forest.

The sport will not be confined to upper classmen exclusively. Coach Buckheit is very desirous of developing a strong Freshman Team as a nucleus for future Victory Teams. A very attractive schedule is in the process of being composed and will be announced in an early date. A request is made that all freshmen who want to try out for the Cross Country Team report to Manager R. E. Long Thursday afternoon at four o'clock in the gym.

For the last several years this sport has been increasing rapidly to the interest it receives from the student body.

"Working Your Way" Made Feasible

Writing Life Insurance has enabled many a man to pay his way through college. It is a dignified calling and a true social service.

To induce your fellows to form habits of thrift—to obligate them to put by a little of their income—to safeguard them against future loss of earning power—is a form of effort that brings real satisfaction as well as profit.

These are only a few of the reasons why the Insurance business today is attracting the very best brains of America.

Write for the full particulars of a plan whereby you can assist your self through college, and at the same time prepare for a profitable and satisfactory business career.

Co-Ed News

The "Dope Shop" at the present time has much competition, for the girls at Trinity now have a goodly "dope" at all of their own, and with Miss Virginia Land as chief proprietor a successful season is expected, for the proceeds go to the budget of the Y. W. C. A. Everything from canned goods to candies can be purchased between the hours of ten and eleven P. M., the regular time for night-night feeds.

The regular weekly meeting of the Y. W. C. A. will be held to-night, at which time a reception will be given to the newly elected members of the association. The feature of the evening will be a play in which Miss Y. W. C. A. goes off to college. Her costume represents the various committees and activities which make up the "Y." program, as program, reception, membership, publicity, etc. Her career is full of interest from beginning to end.

Miss Groat, girls athletic instructor, has been her coaching for the year and classes have already begun active work. Correction work, tennis and basket ball will consume the time until after the holidays, and by that time teams may be turned out which will equal any in the country.

TRINITY BOYS HAVE BAD WRECK ON RALEIGH ROAD

Harris and Wilkinson of the Publicity
Department Get Painful Gashes
as Cars Sideswipe

The two seemingly injured war veterans when you have seen about the campus since Saturday are none other than R. P. Harris and Albert Wilkinson who were severely cut and bruised when the automobile in which they were riding sideswiped a car driven by J. R. Barry. No one seems to know exactly how the accident occurred, but it is certain that the Trinity publicity bureau did not get to witness the Trinity-State game.

Mr. Wilkinson received a severe cut on the face which required 15 stitches to close. Mr. Harris was not so severely injured, and will no doubt be able to continue his reportorial work.

Ministerial Band Holds First Regular Meeting

The Ministerial Band held its first regular meeting of the year last Thursday night at 8:30 o'clock. As this service was the first official meeting, no new members were allowed to join, for it is a custom not to take any new members at the first meeting. Those who wish to join, however, will be given a chance at the next regular meeting which will convene on Thursday night of this week.

Following the regular business session, Professors Ormond and Albridge made short talks. These talks proved to be very interesting and instructive. The president, M. W. Lawrence, also gave a short talk, in which he outlined the work for the coming year.

The officers of the Ministerial Band for the coming year are: M. W. Lawrence, president; P. J. Kiker, vice-president; W. C. Maxwell, secretary and treasurer; Edgar Neese, chairman of the program committee; and J. E. Jerome, chairman of the extension committee.

SEVERAL PROFESSORS TAKE EUROPEAN TOUR

In Stratford-on-Avon at the time of the Shakespeare Summer Festival when the poets plays are produced. The chief attractions for them in Scotland were the Walter Scott country and the Perthshire Highlands, especially the beautiful Loch Earn. They made a comprehensive tour of Belgium including the battlefield of Waterloo and the battlefields of the World War, the Ypres salient in particular. From Ostend in Belgium along the northern coast of France to Deauville in Normandy they visited the most popular seaside resorts and watering places. At Chamonix in the French Alps they made the ascent to the side of a mountain of the Mont Blanc chain on the new aerial cable railway, traveling in a car suspended from the cables by a trolley, and they tell will take about being swung out into space at giddy heights.

This juncture Reistler carried the ball for four successive times gaining a total of 30 yards, and threw the worst score of the game into the Wolf Pack by going to their 5 yard line before losing the ball on downs. State pointed and a pass Reistler to Lagerstedt to Caldwell netted the Methodists 12 yards. The whistle blew with the ball on their 45 yard line.

Third Quarter

Thompson received the ball on the 25-yard line. After a five yard penalty, Caldwell kicked the ball to the opponents 30-yard line. Following and 11-yard pass by State, the game was colorless until a fumble by Caldwell gave State a decided break and also marked the turning point of the game. A series of passes placed the ball on the Trinity 5-yard line at the end of the quarter.

Fourth Quarter

At the opening of this quarter 2 yards by Johnson and 3 by Lassiter brought the first touchdown of the game. Johnson scored the extra point.

The Wolf Pack followed up their first score with a hard attack, and with the aid of two intercepted passes placed the ball in a position from which Johnson scored the second and last touchdown on the fourth down and in the last minute of play. Soon after the next kick off the final whistle sounded.

Beacons of the sky

Between Cleveland and Rock Springs, Wyo., along the night route of the air mail service, tall beacons have been placed every twenty-five miles.

Revolving on great steel towers, General Electric searchlights, totaling 1,992,000,000 candle-power, blaze a path of light for the airplane pilot.

What the lighthouse is to the ocean navigator, these beacons are to the conquerors of the air.

This achievement has been made possible by engineers of the Illuminating Engineering Laboratories of the General Electric Company, working with officials of the Post Office Department. A startling achievement now will be a commonplace of life in the new America which you will inhabit.

TWENTIETH LAW SCHOOL SESSION OPENED SATURDAY

Dr. Mordecai's School Recognized by American Bar Association—Takes Place of Joe Ruff

On last Saturday the Trinity Law School inaugurated the twentieth session of its existence under the direction of its veteran dean, Dr. Mordecai. Eight men of great promise and ability who are well-known on the campus constitute the senior law class, viz.: C. W. Bandy, J. W. Ellis, C. S. Hammond, C. E. Jordan,

A. W. Mowshaw, T. G. Neal, Dent Turner, and W. F. Young.

The junior class is composed of eleven men: B. R. Holt, W. T. Burke, Jr., C. B. Smith, C. H. Smith, J. D. Johnson, E. C. Brooks, Edgar Watson, George Lench, Owens, Sandersen, and William.

With the addition of William T. Towe, an assistant professor of law to replace Joe Ruff, no change has been made in the faculty that has been so instrumental in attracting recognition for the school from the American Bar Association, a distinction that only three other Southern law schools can boast of.

Unslacked Lime on Football Field Causes Serious Burns to Players

A most unusual accident, and one that is practically unique in the history of football troubles, if the facts of the sport writers are correct, happened during the game with State last Saturday. For some reason the State gridiron had been covered with unslacked lime, and the steady rain was the only other ingredient needed to make the mixture of mud and lime a blistering ointment. Practically every member of both teams received burns, some men of each team came near being dangerously injured.

Jack Caldwell, half back for the Blue Devils, was taken from the field with one eye full of rainsoaked lime, and only immediate medical aid saved a valuable man for the team. Legerstedt also received painful burns about the arms and legs. He was taken to Watt's Hospital on Sunday morning after an examination by Dr. Speed. Latest reports state that Legerstedt will return to college today, but in all probability will not appear in the line-up Saturday unless Gairford proves stronger than expected.

Grigg, Aldridge, and practically every man that touched the ground had several blisters to show the next day, and reports from Raleigh indicate that the Wolfpack were even in a more serious condition, several of the Tennesseans having various lesions. Various reasons have been advanced for the presence of the unslacked lime on the field. State claims that the agricultural department had been experimenting in an attempt to grow grass on the gridiron, but the general opinion seems to be that the field had been marked off with unslacked lime just before the game, although the first application may have been put on earlier.

COACH KEY TAYLOR NEEDS MORE "FROSH" CANDIDATES

Forty-Five Football Men Answered the First Call, But More Needed—Schedule Underway

Again Coach Key Taylor issues a call for freshmen football candidates. He is especially anxious that all heavy men who have any football inclinations, whether they have ever played football before or not, report at once for training. Approximately forty-five men answered the first call. Out of this number there are many promising men, but the team is not picked. The field is wide open for competition.

Thus far a definite schedule has not been worked out. A good schedule, however, is under way. A game has been arranged with Oak Ridge for the 25th, and one with Wake Forest Freshmen for the 25th. Other games are pending. Coach Taylor says there will probably be a game here the 10th.

There are two classes of people who play saxophone, fools and college students.

CHANTICLEER TO BE MADE BEST POSSIBLE

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF BROWN PLANS MANY NEW FEATURES FOR ANNUAL

PHOTOGRAPHER HERE FRIDAY

Business Manager Urges Men to Subscribe—Annual to Be Out by First of May if Plans Go Well

Although the college opened for most of the students only last week, the editor and business manager of the 1925 Chanticleer have already spent many days making plans for the biggest and best annual in the history of the college. W. B. Brown, who was on the editorial staff of the 1924 Chanticleer, is Editor-in-Chief, and he has chosen Julian Boyd, Frank Craven, Miss Mary Eskridge, and Miss Annie Blair Anders as his staff of assistants.

The White Photographers, who have already established quite a reputation with past readers of the annual, will be the work again this year. Their representative from New York will be here at noon Friday to begin his task of procuring the likenesses of the mighty seniors, the seniors-to-be, the various groups, individuals, and scenes about the campus. The Benson Printing Co., of Nashville, Tenn., will again publish the Chanticleer, and Editor-in-Chief Brown states that he intends to have the copies ready for distribution by May the first.

Emerson M. Thompson, business manager, and his managerial staff will handle the financial problems, and have the task of procuring subscriptions for the book, since the college, as yet, has no publication fee. Everyone is urged to cooperate with the Editor and the Business Manager in every way possible.

Frank Craven Elected Cheer Leader; Wagner Assistant

The student body remained for a few minutes after chapel Friday morning for the election of cheer leaders for the coming year. Mr. W. S. Barnes, President of the Men's Student Government, announced that Frank Warner, popular cheer leader of last year, would, because of good reasons, be unable to serve as head cheer leader for this year. The house was then thrown open for nominations for head cheer leader and Frank Craven and "Jinx" Wagner were nominated. Frank Craven was elected and "Jinx" Wagner was chosen assistant cheer leader by acclamation. "Red" Underwood and "Red" Wall were nominated for the remaining places with the former receiving a majority.
