MEN WILL VOTE ON CHANGE IN CONSTITUTION THURSDAY
Amendment will be Avoxy with Chance of an Embarrassing Situation that Might Arise

Thursday morning after chapel the members of the Men's Association are to be called upon to vote upon two amendments to the Constitution. The most important of these deals with a very great need that is probably not well known to the members of the Men's Association and the Chairman of the Student Council are two separate and distinct offices. Up to date the presidents have all been elected as Chairman. However, the purpose of this amendment is to avoid the possibility in the future of these two offices being held by two different men. Such a case would be disastrous to student government on account of the divided authority and responsibility. The other amendment deals only with bills for taxation.

The amendments are as follows:
Article I. In addition to said Amendment of the Constitution of the Men's Association of Trinity College.

Article III
The President of the Men's Association shall automatically become Chairman of the Student Council.

Article IV
All bills for the purpose of taxing the members of the Men's Association shall first be drawn up and passed upon by a majority vote of the Student Council. Before a bill can become effective, it must be passed by a majority of the members of the Men's Association.

RED DEVILS LOSE IN HARD FOUGHT BATTLE

OPEN UP SPECTACULAR PASSING SYSTEM WHICH ACCOUNTS FOR A TOUCHDOWN

DEMONIES HAVE GOOD TEAM

Teams Appeared to be Pretty Evenly Matched, but Fumbles and Penalties Hurt Red Devils

The Freshman Red Devil Team lost another hard fought game in a contest with Wake Forest Baptist, Saturday afternoon. After the final whistle of the referee's whistle, which ended a game check full of thrills, the final score was 13 to 6, which special victory for the Young Demons and defeat for the Red Devils.

During the first half neither team showed any superiority, but in the beginning of the third quarter the Baptists marched down the field for the first touchdown. Charles carried the ball over and James made the extra point by a safe kick.

The Red Devils saw their natural color in the fourth quarter and started out in fair way to retaliate. They opened up with a splendid passing game and Swift carried the ball over for a touchdown. The try for point failed. Again they were in fair way for victory when they carried the ball within three yards of the goal, here Swift fumbled and Wake Forest recovered. The last glimmer faded for the Red Devils when Woodward intercepted a pass and rushed across the field for the second Wake Forest touchdown of the game.

In the fourth quarter the Trinity Red Devils displayed real football ability which did credit to Coach Taylor. They instigated a spectacular passing system which was responsible for the lone touchdown for the Methodists, made by Swift. In the last quarter the Trinity Freshman completed eight forward passes out of ten attempts. Trinity threatened twice in the last period. Once they were within Trinity's three yard line but Swift fumbled and the Young Demons recovered the ball. The Trinity Freshman again started their efficient passing system and was making fast headway toward the enemy goal line when the super passing was stopped because of penalties. The Demons then held for down and scored the ball. In the final minutes of the game Trinity's hopes of victory were shattered when Woodward, Statesville boy, intercepted a pass and made a spectacular run which gave Wake Forest Freshman their second touchdown.

JULIAN BOYD DELIVERS A PAPER ON TIMELY SUBJECT

Sigma Upsilon Hears Rostand's Cynano de Bergerac Discusses an Interesting Manner Thursday

Rostand's novel "Cynano de Bergerac" was the subject of the paper delivered to the Sigma Upsilon fraternity on Thursday evening, October 23, by Julian P. Boyd. Mr. Boyd presented his paper in an interesting manner, giving special attention to the idiosyncrasies and above all, the famous nose—of the chief character of the play, Cynano himself.

Cynano was a real character in history, and possessed many of the characteristics—in fact, most of them—of the Cynano in Rostand's famous play. Cynano, Mr. Boyd explained, the name Cynano was the cause of his fighting as many as one hundred duels during his lifetime. In his history, Mr. Boyd did not confine his paper to the humorous elements in the play. He also gave a brief history of the life of Rostand.

Before the meeting for the presentation of Mr. Boyd's paper the members of the men's literary fraternity were entertained at Southeby by the Chi Delta Psi, the literary fraternity of the women, initiation.

All seemed to enjoy seeing the women initiate "ridiculous" but especially was this true of the men who were recently initiated into the Sigma Upsilon because not long ago they had to "ride the goat" before the girls.

The next paper that will be delivered to the Sigma Upsilon will be on Bernard Shaw's recent play, "Saint Joan." Gay Allen, who has been rumored to be an incorrigible worshipping at the Shavian shrine, will present this paper, November 6.

BIOLOGY STUDENTS HEAR GEOGRAPHIC BOTANY TALK

Prof. Wilkerson Lectures on a Subject which He Studied in Chicago Summer School

At a meeting of the Biology Club last Monday night, Prof. N. F. Wilkerson gave a lecture on one of the courses which he studied in summer school in Chicago this summer. His subject was "Geographic Botany in Relation to the Ecological Distribution of Plants." Prof. Wilkerson first explained his subject and then gave a detailed account of plant formations in many different geographic conditions. He showed the effect of environment on plant formation in all different kinds of climate and rainfall. A large map of the world was displayed in condensed sections of the lecture. The discussion of vegetation in some of the lower portions of the areas proved to be very interesting.

Prof. Weir, a new professor in the Department of Zoology, will speak at the next meeting of the club which will be held next Monday evening.

Chemistry Club Hears a Lecture on Powdered Milk

Mr. Stadden, of the Chemistry Department, gave an interesting talk on "Powdered Milk" to the Chemistry Club on Thursday evening. Mr. Stadden discussed the manufacture of all kinds of condensed milk as well as the processes of producing powdered milk. There are two methods now employed in the manufacture of powdered milk. These methods are the roller and the spray methods. In the first method the milk is condensed and then run between two big rollers which are heated by steam. The powder is then scraped from the rollers. In the other method the milk is also condensed and then sprayed into a chamber heated with hot air in circulation.

Mr. Stadden ended his talk with a discussion of the chemist's place in the manufacture of condensed and powdered milk. The chemist plays an important part in both the production of the manufactured article and the sale of the article to the consumer.

At the next meeting of the club which will be held Thursday evening, Mr. Moore will give a discussion on "Qualitation." The club extends an invitation to any who are interested in chemistry to hear this talk.

Y. M. C. A. LEADERS MAKING HEADWAY WITH 1924 PLANS

Students are Entering into Plans with Enthusiasm which Inspires Success

The program of expansion undertaken by the Y. M. C. A. and outlined before the students last Thursday morning is being carried forward as rapidly as possible by Mr. Kale and his co-workers. The executive staff is very active and the members are working diligently to expedite the business entrusted to them. If the students give their support, there is no reason why the results will be less than the highest expectation.

Liberal response has been shown towards the cause by the students. The endowment fund, most necessary towards carrying out the budget system is increasing steadily. 400 men have paid their assessments of twenty-five cents for each man. Those students who have not and the dues assessments are expected to do so at once. Unless the entire amount is collected, the scope of the plan will be materially limited.

The Wednesday night meetings of the Y. M. C. A. will be discontinued for the future. This year, more importance is attached to the Sunday Evening service than before. Good lectures are to be given every Sunday by members of the faculty and other persons who may visit here from time to time. Mr. W. R. Brown is the chairman of the Vesper Service Committee and is making vigorous efforts to have beneficial programs

This year, the Wednesday chapel hour is given the "Y" which has a program to submit. Many noted speakers of both sexes are invited to speak and will address the students during the course of the year. The list of speakers is still tentative but there is assurance that many will be obtained. Dr. Dean of New York City, who lectured to the students here last year will return to deliver other lectures. Other one of his type will also be present during the year.

Gym Classes Will Begin Next Monday, November 3

Gym classes will begin promptly at 2 p. m. Monday afternoon, November 3. Notices directing men to their proper classes will be posted on all bulletin boards not later than Saturday evening.

The regulations that governed gym attendance last year will be in effect this year. For the benefit of the new men the management announces that two hours of work will be required each week in the gymnasium, and one hour in any form desired. Report slips for the make-up hour must be deposited in the physical training box not later than six p. m. Saturday evening. Any failure to deposit slips as required will result in an absence charge.

No one will be allowed on the gymnasium floor at any time with street shoes.

FRESHMEN TO PLAY IN CHARLOTTE ON FRIDAY

DAVIDSON KITTENS TO BE MET BY RED DEVILS IN THE KITTENS LAIR

ODDS FAVORS THE KITTENS

The Kittens are Undeafed but the Devils Expect to Give Them a Taste of Canip Mixed with Quinine

When Red Devils meet wild kittens there is bound to be a fight. And that is what the Red Devils expect when they meet the Davidson Kittens next Friday in Charlotte. The Kittens seem to have the edge on the Devils, having an unbroken record of five victories. Last week the defeated the Clemson Bulldogs who had it all over the other Freshmen teams of the Palmetto State. It seems that the odds were generally conceded to Clemson in this game, but Captain Gray's men had little trouble in piling up a 13-0 victory.

On the other hand, Coach Taylors men have put up some strong fights, but their have not been un-mixed with gall. Saturday the Red Devils went down before the young Dacons in a terrific struggle. Victory has seemed to be within their grasp in all the games they have played, but it has not always been forthcoming. The struggle promises to be an interesting one, and who knows when the Devils will put on that little extra spurt of enthusiasm chalk up, what couldn't be chased as a surprise, but at least a diversion.

Both teams seem to be excellent at the passing game, but the Kittens seem to have more punch at the line. The game should be as interesting as a variety game and will probably be the hardest the Red Devils will come up against this year.

Vesper Services Are Good Despite the Bad Weather

In spite of the very inclement weather, there were quite a few students present at the Vesper Service held Sunday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. hall. Mr. Bradley, a student of Carolina, was the speaker of the occasion. He is connected with the Student Volunteer Band of the University, and the theme of his speech was concerning this work.

Mr. Bradley in his speech dealt with the work done and the work needed to be done by the Band. A listener could readily tell by observing the way in which he put himself into the subject that his heart and soul are entwined to the work of this great organization.

THE AFTER-DINNER-DANCE PLAN

Following several weeks of discussion among the women students in Southgate, a plan has been submitted for a three weeks trial. The committee composed of Margaret Leibetter, Hannah Henry Clark, Lillian Frost, Mary Starkridge, and Elizabeth Roberts, working with the dean of women have decided upon certain changes which have gone into effect.

On two nights, Wednesday and Saturday, there will be no after-dinner-dance. On nights other than regular date nights the girls who have dates are required to go either to their own rooms or the social room, or to go walking with other girls. A young man will call a girl by signing a card with his name and the girl's name. These cards can be obtained from the maid or girls who are paying for the after-dinner hour. When the card has been sent up callers should wait in the parlor. If the girl prefers to walk outdoors she must, when she meets her date, come back to the parlor. It is permissible to go to the Owl with after-dinner-dates if the couples walk down the street outside the stone wall and do not walk through the campus. Seniors who have time to go to a definite destination after dinner may go through the campus to that destination but the idea is not to be seen strolling on the campus after dinner. The essential point in this scheme is a careful discrimination between strolling, which means to wander on foot; rove; saunter; and walking, which means to move by steps at a moderate pace. The devotees of walking after-dinner-dates will half the springtime with lengthened days which will give ample time for after-dinner dates to stroll before dark. In the meantime the East and West Parkers in Southgate will be made as home-like and livable as possible to make the places interesting during the winter months. Victrolas and magazines have been placed in these rooms already, and other improvements will be made if the plan, which the committee has provided, succeeds. If, however, the girls and boys fail to co-operate more radical changes may be made which will entirely do away with the after-dinner-social hour.

Alpha Delta Pi Sorority held its first initiation of the year on Saturday night, October the twenty-fifth in the social room at Southgate. Margaret Wynnemaker, Lois Hackney, and Elizabeth Parker were taken in. After the ceremony the girls returned to the chapter room where an informal feed was held followed by the inevitable "ball session."

October the twenty-first Lida Dale Rose was pledged Kappa Delta.

Chi Delta Phi, literary sorority, last week initiated three girls, Elizabeth Roberts, Louise Seshall and Evelyn Miller. The program rendered in Southgate auditorium by the initiates on last Thursday evening was very amusing and clever.

Mary King Ellison, '24, and Hunter Holloway, '23, were visitors on the campus last weekend.

Caroline and Charlotte Avera were guests of their sisters Jane and Mary Avera, Sunday.

Miss Alice Bobbitt of Greensboro College is the guest of Olivia Brance.

OPEN FORUM

dear Editor,

I seen in your paper which came here out a week when its not late in the postmaster hasn't got nothing else to do to article in Editor of Yre paper one year hence. Now, I ain't offering no complaint of yere paper cause it makes fine wrappers for my lunch and my lady says it makes good fire, but I would like to express my opinion of it's content as well as what wrote such an impudent article.

You Smart Acks up there need n't fret jee because I've been out at Trinity College a little over four (4) months the ye can put anything over on me, cause I ain't yet lost my power to wield a mean pen nor my cents of humor. I may her forgot a few uncouthish rules or misspelled a few words here and their but my smooth, easy-flowing elegant style is just what it uter best.

And as for my missionary job out here I ain't none of yere concern business how many heathens I convert or send to hell either for that matter. Of course I did n't hev no ideal last year that I would hev as many children in need a short time. But the workings of Nature are wonderful, my children love me more than the Shakers did last yere, and moreover they bring me apples, and peaches, and grapes, on all sorts of good things to eat, which the Shakers did not do last year.

I hope You will oblige yore truly by bring that irrelevant young gen that tried ter make fun of me and give my regards to all the boys including Vandy on Prexy and Bobby and Dick and Hull and Josh Hopkins.

Most Respectfully Yore,
Ye Olde Editor.

DR. CUNNINGHAM SPEAKS TO CROWELL SCIENCE CLUB

Microscopic Life of Chesapeake Bay is the Subject of Interesting Lecture on the Life of Fish

Speaking under the auspices of the Crowell Scientific Society, Dr. Cunningham of the Biology Department gave a lecture on "The Microscopic Life of Chesapeake Bay" last Monday evening. Dr. Cunningham has been working on this subject for the last six or eight years. The work was done in collaboration with the Bureau of Fisheries. The microscopic life was studied in the bay in an effort to find out if there was enough food in the water for a larger number of fish than was then in the bay. Dr. Cunningham described the methods of collecting the microscopic organisms and preparing them for study. He explained how he and his assistants counted and classified the thousands and thousands of microscopic plants and animals during the course of the work. Many slides were shown on the screen which helped his audience to get an idea of the nature of his work.

Dr. Edwards Addressed the Ministerial Band Friday

Friday evening at seven o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. Hall the Ministerial Band held its regular meeting. The attendance including Professor Ormond, Spence and Edwards, was good. The program was very good. Professor Spence made a short talk which was followed by Dr. Edwards' talk on "The Value of Science in a Minister's Education". To point out the many needs of a knowledge in ministerial work and his talk was very interesting to those who heard him.

Tennis Schedule to Include Faculty and Varsity Match

The tennis squad composed of Whitcomb, tennis, Burns, Rogers, Georces, Swearingen, and Lyons is rapidly rounding into mid-season form. The playing of Swearingen, Burns, Rogers, and Farris is exceptionally good this early in the season.

If the weather permits the club will play for club standing during the week, and later on a match will be arranged between the Faculty and Varsity. The University of Virginia, Guilford, and Wake Forest will meet Trinity on her home court. These games, together with a trip to Davidson will complete this season's schedule.

Chief Frank Bennett Sang to Students This Morning

At the chapel service this morning Chief Frank Bennett of the Durham Fire Department was present at the request of the committee in charge of the services and delighted the students with some very excellent singing. Mrs. Bert Cunningham was the accompanist. This is the first time this year that Mr. Bennett has appeared at Trinity, although he is a great favorite with all students who have heard him sing before.
