Rushes Have Come to a Close In "That Academic After..."

The Sixth annual innately rushing day closed Tuesday morning, November 30th. During the week the rush nightly attracted sixty-eight men of Duke University, who were divided into a very friendly fraternity brotherhood. The six weeks of informal rushes was in itself an achievement, but the week was made memorable by the splendid spirit which was shown by the entire student body in support of the various organizations that were in a rivalry of enthusiasm and success.

For six weeks the different fraternities had conducted the informal rush, in which every man was expected to become the chief topic of conversation in his home, and the main method of operation was the making of friends.

As a result the men were more enjoyable and more interesting than usual. In addition to this they were very much more cooperative in the various operations. The politeness and friendliness of Duke men was very apparent in the way the men talked and conducted themselves in the different operations.

It was the policy of the fraternities, however, to keep the men quiet and not to let them become too

excited, as the result would be a general confusion and disorder.

The informal rush was not very successful in its results. The number of men that attended the various operations was not as large as expected, but the very pleasing.

Intra-Mural Basketball Ball Gets Started

The intramural basketball program at Duke is at last getting underway. Under the able direction of Coach A. C. Jarvis, the team is making splendid progress. The start of the league season is in sight and the “Blue Devils” will soon be doing battle on the hardwood court.

The interest in the sport at Duke is evidenced by the large number of students enrolled in the program. The teams are composed of many of the top athletes on campus and are expected to provide exciting competition.

The season promises to be a thrilling one, with many exciting matches to be played. The teams will be divided into several divisions, each with its own championship tournament. The winners of these tournaments will then compete for the overall championship of the intramural basketball league at Duke.

The games will be played on the university's own courts, with the cooperation of the campus facilities. The schedule for the season will be announced soon, and all interested students are encouraged to participate.

The intramural basketball program at Duke is a great opportunity for students to get some exercise, have fun, and compete against their peers. It is a sport that appeals to both males and females, and is open to students of all skill levels. Whether you are a seasoned player or just want to have fun, there is a place for you in the intramural basketball program at Duke.

Blue Devils Before Them

The position of the Blue Devils, the Demon Deacons of Wake Forest University, was in the spotlight on Nov. 8 when they faced the Duke University Blue Devils at the Duke End Zone. The Deacons were looking for 20 inches of the end zone, but did not get it, and the Blue Devils were pushed back a yard. The Blue Devils were down on the Demon Deacn 20-yard line in the first half, and the game ended with the Blue Devils only 20 yards away from the end zone. The Deacons did not fully succeed in the goal of the game, as the Blue Devils pushed them back to within 20 yards of the end zone in the first half.

Racette, who was off side at the goal line, and Emedson starred in the second quarter. The Blue Devils, who had the ball on the Demon Deacons 20-yard line, were stopped on a field goal attempt, and the Blue Devils were pushed back further into their own end zone. The Blue Devils were eventually forced to punt the ball to the Demon Deacons, who were then able to advance the ball to the Blue Devils 20-yard line.

The game finally ended with the Blue Devils only 20 yards away from the goal line, but the Deacons were unable to score the final touchdown. The Blue Devils were forced to punt the ball away, and the game ended with the Blue Devils only 20 yards away from the goal line.

THE THE CHRONICLE

YESTERDAY AT 4TH STREET HEADQUARTERS

Among the many varied activities connected with the inauguration of the school are the exercises for the enjoyment of the pupils of the college.

The program was also extensively noticeable because of the presence of the first Duke band, playing all at Miss Nelis, Musical Director, at the finish.

On Monday, November 9th, at 3:00 o'clock, the band was inaugurated by the President of the college, Mr. McKinley J. Stiles, at a reception to the student body. The band was formed and has been accepted by the college administration with much enthusiasm.

On Tuesday, November 10th, at 8:00 o'clock, Mr. Stiles inaugurated the band at a reception to the student body.
