The Chronicle, the local newspaper for Duke University, please visit their website or contact them directly.
We believe that the statement made by Dr. Few in the editorial is entirely correct, as it appears to be entirely correct. However, a few minor points in the article need to be clarified. The article states that "The Chronicle" is published every Wednesday morning. However, it is not clear what the "Chronicle" is referring to. It could be a newspaper, magazine, or other publication. Additionally, the article states that Dr. Few's method would involve "the application of a new method of grading, differential and multiple credit systems, and the elimination of the final examination." However, it is not clear what these terms mean or how they are related to the topic of college football.

A SEDARUM ON A UNIVERSITY

In the current climate of college football, the "football nation" has recently evaded criticism. Originally, students demonstrated that there is a place in the college curriculum and the general public that is concerned about them. Now, however, concerns are trying to make serious challenges against the present system. There is a little college called Wake Forest, but eventually, after all, who is more to blame? The student who finds that the experiment they are making is completely insincere, but, keenly as we realize this, even if we do feel that the experiment they are making is completely insincere, the student who finds that the experiment they are making is completely insincere. The student who finds that the experiment they are making is completely insincere.

Unfortunately, students and student publications have not yet realized the full force of the situation. As the Duke Daily Herald, The Philadelphia Daily News, and The Student Daily Herald have pointed out, it is not only the current system of college football that is threatened, but also the entire structure of the student system. These are the institutions that have been entirely taken for granted, and the authorities have not yet realized the full force of the situation. However, I believe that the student has the right to speak. However, I believe that the student has the right to speak.

In this article, I will try to fill a two-month gap between the student's view and the authority's view. From the standpoint of the student, I do not think it would be in the interest of the students to be an expert in any of the arts. However, I believe that the student has the right to speak. CONCLUSIONS

In conclusion, I believe that the student has the right to speak. As the Duke Daily Herald, The Philadelphia Daily News, and The Student Daily Herald have pointed out, it is not only the current system of college football that is threatened, but also the entire structure of the student system. These are the institutions that have been entirely taken for granted, and the authorities have not yet realized the full force of the situation. The middle-aged taxpayer has been invited to join the college faculty and to decide upon the course of studies which he thinks are needed, but certainly not be less influenced in his decisions than the present students. Ten or twelve hours a day toils the coolie. If he carries all he can, he moves one ton one mile in one day. For that he receives twenty cents. Cheap labor! Yet compared with our American worker, receiving at least twenty-five times as much, for an eight-hour day, the coolie is expensive labor. In America we move one ton one mile for less than one cent. The coolie, working by hand, accomplishes little; while the American, with electricity's aid, accomplishes much.

Plenty of electricity and cheap electricity—these are two great advantages which America enjoys over the rest of the world. While our present generating capacity is 20,600,000 kilowatts, new developments call for 3,000,000 kilowatts more per year. To college men and women—potential leaders—will fall the duty of finding more and still more work for electricity, with less and still less toil for our workers. For the task is but begun!

DAVIDSON WINS OVER DUKE 32-31

Game Was Hotly Contested from Start to Finish—Bulusen and Harkeness Miss.

The Duke University squad beat the Davidson Wild Cats in Davidson Field Friday night by the score of 32 to 31 in a game fought to the bitter end and full of thrills from the initial whistle of the officials. It was the first intercollegiate match won by the North Carolina basketball. The Wildcats had slight advantage throughout the game, with the exception of the first few minutes, when the Blue Devils took an early lead of three to two. Shoreless was not long in regaining the lead. The Blue Devils, however, were not more than two points in front of the Blue Devils and at the end of the first half the score was 17 to 15 in favor of Davidson.

Harkeness, for Duke, and Harkness for Davidson, were the high point men in scoring. Harkeness was the leading scorer of the whole game and Harkness missed but two. Harkeness, too, was playing for Duke and the Blue Devils were unable to contain Harkeness in the final minutes. The final score was 32 to 31 in favor of Duke.

South Carolinians Put Up a Strong Fight, But Ultimately Duke wins.

The game was hotly contested from start to finish—Bulusen and Harkeness Miss.

The Blue Devils were able to cinch the win of the first half of the season with a decisive victory over the University of South Carolina. The Carolinians were led by their star forward, Harkeness, and their center, Harkness, and Bennett, were the strongest players on the court.

At the end of the game, the Blue Devils were in the lead by a score of 22 to 18. The final score was 36 to 32 in favor of Duke.

The Blue Devils' victory margin was 14 points, and it looked like it would be enough to carry the day. However, the Carolinians fought back, and the game ended 32 to 31 in favor of Duke.

The Blue Devils' victory was the result of a hard-fought game, and it was all the more impressive because of the Carolinians' strong defense. The Carolinians were led by their star forward, Harkness, and their center, Harkness, and Bennett, were the strongest players on the court.

The Blue Devils' victory margin was 14 points, and it looked like it would be enough to carry the day. However, the Carolinians fought back, and the game ended 32 to 31 in favor of Duke.

Money is Stored Up Power

A dollar represents to the owner an equivalent amount of stored up power at his command. This power is powerful in the direction of the owner's will, and it can be used to influence other people. The power of money is the power of influence, and it can be used to manipulate others for the owner's benefit. The power of money is a powerful tool in the hands of those who know how to use it.
