Many Students Try for Cleared Places in Cast of Spring Play

REHEARSALS BEGIN SOON

Selection of a Cast is Always Great Concern of the Players and Students.

Although the tryouts for the Spring Play were held last night, the cast of the play was not decided upon, as the final decision was to be made later in the week. But some of the players have already been chosen for their respective roles, and these players are being prepared to take their places in the cast. The tryouts were held in the school auditorium, and the players were divided into groups, each consisting of two or three students. The tryouts lasted for about three hours, and during this time the players were given a chance to show their talents in acting and singing. The tryouts were judged by the judges, who are members of the student council. The judges were given a list of the roles that were to be played in the play, and they were asked to select the best candidates for each role. The judges were given a chance to ask the candidates questions about their acting and singing abilities, and they were also given a chance to watch the candidates perform. The judges were given a chance to give the candidates feedback on their performances, and they were also given a chance to select the best candidates for each role. TALK about “alliteration’s artful all”... the prince certainly raised the “P” box but that trip. But let that go! The advice is just as serious and sound as though it were couched in the careful diction of an English reader.

Just get yourself a Jimmey-pipe and fill the bowl to the brim with Prince Albert. Light up, and let the first fragrant whiff tell you that no other tobacco is like P. A.--or can be! Cool and sweet and fragrant. P. A. has everything a fellow ever wished for in a smoke. P. A. can't bite your tongue or parch your throat.
