A TOUCH OF OLD SPAIN

These entertainers have been brought to the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition in Philadelphia where 150 years of American Independence is being celebrated, by the Los Angeles County, California, Chamber of Commerce. The westerners have built a fine old Spanish mission in the Palace of Fine Arts, Civil, Fashion and Agriculture Display and there show the resources and advantages of their native birth. The musicians and dancers entertain all visitors who enter the palace to rest a bit after "doing the exposition." The Exposition continues until December 1.

The General Electric Company has devoted years of study to material-handling and transportation problems. In its own vast shops the handling and moving of materials and products have been simplified to the highest degree, thus providing a daily demonstration of the value of electricity.

A series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEE-1.

90,000 Wheelbarrows in one hand

A button is pressed. An electric motor goes to work, followed by another and still others until twenty sections of a belt conveyor four miles long are in operation!

Through an abandoned mine runs this giant wheelbarrow carrying nine thousand tons of coal per day in a steady stream from the miners to the coal barges on the Monongahela River. One man controls it with no more effort or concern than pressing a switch button. Electricity pushes it.

Not only conveyor belts of all sizes, shapes and kinds, but also hoists, tractors, cranes, elevators, stackers, locomotives, and other material-handling equipment have gained flexibility, dependability, and ease of control through electric motorization.

Moving things in one way or another is the educated man's work in life. And electricity, ever at his command, is moving more and still more of the things which move this new world of ours.

PRINCE ALBERT has been the campus favorite since the days of long-haired fullbacks, high button shoes, turtle-neck sweaters, and hand-painted dormitory cushions. This same wonderful tobacco is even more popular in these days of plus-fours.

And no wonder. Throw back the hinged lid of the familiar red tin and release that rare aroma of real tobacco! Tuck a load into your pipe and pull that fragrant P. A. smoke up the stem! That's Prince Albert, Fellows! Nothing like it anywhere.

When problems press and your spirits slip over into the minus column, just get out your jimmy-pipe and load up with this really friendly tobacco. P. A. is so kind to your tongue and throat and general disposition. Buy a tidy red tin today.

JESS HAWLEY TELLS FOOTBALL SECRETS.
Noted Durham Coach Reveals
How A Light Team Can Win
By Rhythm.

Jess B. Hawley, famous Durham football coach whose team last year smashed time and again heavier opposing lines, winning every game played, says that the secret of the spectacular success lies in rhythm.

"Rhythm, more than anything else, is the factor responsible for such success as I have had as a football coach," he writes in the Durham issue of Popular Science Monthly, revealing how he has applied science to football to obtain his spectacular results. "Timed unison in thinking and acting gives eleven eager men on a football team an almost irresistible advantage over an otherwise team that has not learned to co-ordinate the actions of individual into team rhythm. It is one of the most essential factors in a successful football team, both as an offensive and as a defensive measure. I have proved this, time and time again, during my years of coaching at Iowa and at Dartmouth."

It is an engineering feat, he points out, that eleven men, timing their motions with an exactness that enables the eleven to hit the opposing line as one man can smash through much heavier opponents with an ease that would be utterly impossible if the shock of attack were untimed, uncoordinated, without rhythm.

"Possibly the best example of the value of rhythm in football I can cite is a play made by Dartmouth in the Chicago game last year. Dartmouth kicked off to Chicago. On the ends, of course, went down to the ball. A Chicago player tried for it, but missed. The ball struck his headgear and bounded toward Sage, of Dartmouth."

"Now remember, every Dartmouth player was acting in timed unison. Sage saw the break, knew that if he broke chutes and tried for it, he probably would recover the ball for Dartmouth, but he also knew that the Dartmouth line was three or four strides behind him and that Captain Parker was in unison and movement with him. He would throw Parker's playing off it he broke unison. By count, Sage continued his play, which was to get his man out of the way for Parker, so the latter could get the ball and get away with it.

"Sage did just that. Rather than break the perfect team rhythm, Sage passed up the opportunity to grandstand. He unobtrusively could have recovered the ball, and just possibly might not have been downed in his tracks. But he knew, without once turning his head to see, that Parker was in rhythm and that Parker would be on the ball at the exact instant Sage was blocking the Chicago player, while the Dartmouth line was getting into action."

"The result was that Parker ran thirty yards for a touchdown."

In the systematic planning of team structure and development, says Hawley, the successful coach should analyze each player for the following inherent qualities, listed in the order of their importance: Courage, physical skill, and mental capacity. The last two include ability to understand theory and plan its details, fast decisions and initiative, and co-ordination of brain and brawn.

"Courage, the great self-offering heart of a man, that is vital," declares Hawley. "Without courage, intellectual capacity, brawn, skill—all sink into nothingness."

"Two years ago Larry Leavitt, Dartmouth fullback gave a striking illustration of what sheer courage will do. We had gone up against a team that displayed unexpected ability. Leavitt was not in the best physical shape, and we were expecting him back for the last time. To ward the end of the last half, however, the score was a nothing-to-nothing tie and the ball was in our possession in the middle of the field."

"Leavitt begged to be sent in. He was. With him the team found just one weak spot in the opponent's line—just one. Again and again Leavitt plunged through that spot. Hurt, tired, and battered, he would sit up. Every time he hit he gained from three to four yards, never more, never less. With tears in his eyes, but with joy and tremendous courage in his heart, he fought on, until he had smashed his way across the goal line—winning the game for Dartmouth."

Observation of a large python in the Melbourne zoo disclosed that the serpent fasted eighteen months, then took its food regularly. An iguana (lizardlike creature) fasted nine months, then greedily gobbled eight or ten small fish at a time.

FOOTBALL CAMP OPENS TODAY.

Football camp, which has been in full swing since Thursday, September 2, broke this morning and all candidates for berths on Coach Jimmie Dehart's varsity this fall reported to their regular meeting. Now, however, will continue every afternoon in preparation with the opening game with Guilford at Hanes Field, Saturday afternoon. Hundreds of out of town spectators are expected to assemble at Hanes field Saturday afternoon for the opening game.

Captain Jimmie Thompson, varsity captain for two years will pilot the aggregation against the efforts of Guilford when they invade the sacredness of Hanes field, Saturday. No announcement of the regular first team has been announced. It is likely that no definite mention of the men likely to get the first roll will be made until the squad is ready to leave the gym Saturday. At any rate, it is impossible to get a definite indication concerning the men for the first affair.

The team has undergone light scrimmages since early after the camp was organized, with special emphasis on skill practice, held several evenings in the gym.

Jack Caldwell and Big Pickens, and other varsity men, but on account of exhaustion, will be missed on the varsity lineup this fall.

ON THE SESQUI LAGOONS

Here are Americans, visitors to the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition in Philadelphia which celebrates the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, riding about the lagoons in an Italian craft, a gondola, from which they view the buildings and displays from many lands. In the distance can be seen the mammoth Sesqui Stadium; to the right is the signal tower of the United States Coast Guard building and exhibit, and to the left is one of the Japanese pagodas which dot the exposition grounds. The Grecian pavilion is one of the permanent structures on the site before the city government decided to build the Sesqui at the front door of the great Philadelphia Navy Yard. The Exposition continues until December 1.
