

At Southgate

The freshmen girls of Duke University were entertained with a delightful tea, which was held in the social room of Southgate Hall Saturday afternoon for the purpose of making the town girls better acquainted with the dormitory girls. At four thirty, the guests began to arrive. While introductions were being made, the group was entertained by several piano selections from Miss Biggerstaff.

During the course of the afternoon, a lovely program was given. Miss Lola Self played piano on the piano; Miss Bessie Copeland read a short poem on autumn; Miss Biggerstaff sang a beautiful song and Miss Harbison gave a recitation in negro dialect. In a contest, which was held on "a variety of teas," Miss Beba Cousen was a tiny beauty. The climax of the afternoon, however, was reached when Dorothy Piller, Mary Holland, Margaret Bell, Margaret Borden and Miss Wyche served delicious refreshments, consisting of hot cocoa and cake.

The tea was greatly enjoyed by both town and dormitory girls, and it was with regret that the group broke up.

Members of the Student-Industrial Commission of the Y. W. C. A. spent the past week end at Camp Hollow Rock, twelve miles from Durham. This commission, which is one of the most interesting phases of Y. W. C. A. work on the campus, was organized in 1924 in order that both university women and women in industry might learn to know each other better. It is composed of six members of the college and five of the Durham Y. W. C. A. and six members from the Duke organization. Meetings are held twice a month at which time a special course of study is followed. The first year the city of Durham as a typical industrial center was studied. The second year the discussion was based on legislation for women.

Did Co-eds Have Big Time About Twenty Years Ago?

By MISS HELEN CHANDLER

Were the early days of Trinity college in Durham "the good old days," or is it preferable to be a student in the new era of Duke University now, or even after it is made? Before you decide for the latter too quickly, listen to some of the ways of old Trinity.

About twenty-six years ago there were about 25 co-eds on the campus and around three hundred men. The president of the college, Dr. Kilgo, was personally acquainted with every student and according to an alumni, Mrs. Z. R. Vance, this was conducive to harder work than present students do.

The Greeks lived in the old Mary Duke building, which was situated near the present site of Jarvis. Instead of the efficient student government with its multiplicity of rules and regulations there was an ideal chapter. Only one rule was ever heard of by our mothers in Trinity: students who wanted to leave town had to ask Dr. Kilgo's permission. Professors, ministerial students, and a few sedate women were allowed to take their meals in the Mary Duke building.

The social activities of these days were most likely to be boring to the class men and women of the campus now. Parties at the homes of professors were exciting events. Debauching instead of football, however, the enthusiasm of students and built up a school spirit. When the debauchery went to Raleigh, the whole student body followed and listened attentively to the oratorical songs and heated arguments of the two teams. Picnics, via wagons, to Hillsboro also found entertainment. And the high spots in the social life of the college were parties to which Mrs. Ben Duke invited her friends.

Classes were very informal. Sometimes they were assembled in the professors study and sometimes there have been the discussion held there. Once, moreover, the ordinary routine of class work was upset by a severe snow storm which made it impossible to get to class rooms. Dr. Kilgo, in his letter, "Society" went from place to place to announce the program for the day. (Perhaps it is to prevent a recurrence of this that the tunnel is being built.) During the storm, there

At The THEATRES

THE PARIS

Wednesday and Thursday
Theatre-drama having real trend in store for them at the Paris today and tomorrow. When Warner leads their classic, produced by Joseph M. Shaw, "The Paris" comes to the stage. This play, by the way, is a masterpiece of the French mind, and is a strong supporting cast really is to be expected. The play is a masterpiece of the French mind, and is a strong supporting cast really is to be expected. The play is a masterpiece of the French mind, and is a strong supporting cast really is to be expected.

Friday
Thrilling situations with comic and dramatic appeal characters "Young April" which is at the Paris for one day, Friday, Joseph Schickel, as a young prince, leaves his throne in order that he might marry the girl of his choice and thus the throne automatically loses the loss of the girl. It is an amusing situation but the local prize wins in the end.

Saturday
Collision of giant sea liners, a nauty at sea and threats of planktoning are some of the features which are in the "Sea Wolf" which will be here for one day. The play is taken from Jack London's, "The Sea Wolf" one of Mr. London's greatest works, and the picture is all that could be desired.

Sunday and Monday
No classes, no work, no studies, but that nothing to do with grades but is concerned rather with youth and life in the background. "The Plastic Age," B. P. Schullberg's newest play which is at the Paris Monday and Tuesday. The picture is adapted from Percy Mack's lively novel of college life and is directed by Wesley Bugles. Clara Bow and Donald Keith play the romantic story of college life. In the supporting cast are such stars as Mary Astor, Henry B. Walthall, David Butler, Joan Standing, J. Gordon Edwards, Jr., and Felix Vail.

THE SAVOY
Wednesday and Thursday
Learns to laugh is the slogan of the picture, "Poker Faces" to be seen at the Savoy today and tomorrow. "Poker Faces" is from the pen of Edgar Franklin and is one of the most laughable comedies ever attempted. Laura La Plante and Edward Everett Horton are featured in the delightful play and are in every respect highly capable of doing their stuff.

Friday
Eidit Banquet "In a Woman's Heart" is the play at the Savoy Friday. It is one of Miss Bennett's most powerful vehicles and is a fall of both comedy and drama. Miss Bennett can be remembered as playing opposite Douglas Fairbanks in "Robin Hood."

Saturday
Art Acad, the three-devil of western films, the terror of the sagebrush will be at the Savoy Saturday. Art has become one of America's greatest western stars because of his remarkable riding prowess.

Monday and Tuesday
"High Steppers" Mary Astor's latest and reputed to be her greatest vehicle is a picture of unusual variety and interest. It is adapted from the popular novel, "Tells Apparent," by Sir Philip Gibbs, and depicts Miss Astor unusual opportunity to exhibit her powers of dramatic portrayals that have made her one of Hollywood's real stars.

ORPHEUM
Paul Reno and his company of sixteen with new scenery, new equipment and unusual shows will be at the Orpheum all this week and the entire next week. The show is drawn from a larger circuit where it was received with applause by the hosts of people who had the opportunity to see the exhibition. There will be several changes of program this week and next. Four completely new animal acts are ready for showing next week, while there will be a new show both Friday and Saturday of this week in addition to the excellent performance that is running now.

Urging students to learn to distinguish between the essential things of life and to work toward a definite goal was the essence of the address delivered by Dr. W. P. Few, president of the university.

Dr. Few cited several instances to show the inability to recognize important factors had brought disastrous results while the faculty attempted to discriminate in favor of more important elements had not only meant lasting friendship but success in life.

JUNIOR CLASS GIRLS HOSTESSES TO BOYS

Junior Party Held in Gymnasium of Southgate Featured by Grand March

The young women of the Junior Class were hostesses to the Junior men at a party in the Southgate gymnasium on Saturday evening, Nov. 6. The men received invitations asking them to visit Friday last. The gymnasium was converted into a veritable fairland by a canopy of multi-colored crepe paper, soft shaded lights, cut flowers, and autumn leaves. A full yellow moon shone through the pine trees on the assembled guests.

The grand march, accompanied by the music of the orchestra, seemed as a means of getting acquainted. Each time the music stopped the partners changed until a round of the entire circle had been made. A little play, "A Roman of Fairland" was given. The beautiful princess, under the influence of a wicked aunt was forced to reject Frederick, Scoundrel, Junior and Senior suitors from Fairland and was compelled to accept an old decrepit Latin professor. The Latin professor was however, a handsome young prince who was charmed by a wicked fairy until moments should accept his offer of marriage.

After the play, a wishing tree seemed as a means of becoming further acquainted. The orchestra furnished an excellent music through out the entire party. After punch and cakes were served the company dispersed for the evening.

"Are you much bothered by insomnia?" "No I always sleep like a top." Perhaps that accounts for your being perpetually dizzy."

Gain after gain for natural tobacco taste

TT stands to reason—the better the tobacco, the better the taste. And when matched to bring out the natural tobacco character—better still.

There's character in Chesterfield—natural character—the natural mellow and good taste of fine tobacco perfectly blended. How else account for Chesterfield's record as America's fastest-growing cigarette for four consecutive years? How else than through a natural goodness which men find in no other cigarette?

Duke Primed For Wolfpack Armistice Day BLUE IMPS SWAMP WILD KITTENS

Boie to Farley Passing Combination Works Well in First Half
JANKOSKE FROSH STAR

All scoring in Duke in first half and Kitten hold Imps away from goal during last periods with traditional fighting spirit.

Duke Imps decisively defeated Davidson Wild Kittens Saturday when the heavier freshman aggregation out ran, out passed, and out kicked the youth aggressive representatives of Davidson. The Wild Kittens showed wonderful fight throughout the game in spite of the fact that Duke piled up 31 points and seemingly had the game with in the proverbial toe kick in the first half.

Jankoske established himself as one of the best backs in the state when he tore through the Davidson line time after time for first downs.

CAROLINA BASKETBALL SQUAD IS CALLED OUT FOR PRACTICE

Coch Ashmore, head instructor of Carolina's basketball squad, has issued formal call for the hosts of basketball material at Chapel Hill to report at the Tin Can for practice. It was stated in reports received from the Hill. Uniforms will be issued to all men.

Three practice days will be observed at the beginning of the season, announcements said, but in a short time, the full time program will be observed.

SPORT LIGHTS

The Blue Devils have had a real work out in preparation for the battle with State tomorrow at Raligh. With no game on the schedule for the past week the time has been well spent in working toward the contest with State. Tomorrow's victory scores give Duke a decided advantage and also should win by about two touchdowns, but such is the luck in football that no game is won until it is put in the refrigerator and locked up. Such will be the case Thursday and a host of Duke supporters are preparing to go over to the Capital to see the thing work itself.

Many of the Blue Devils have been on the injured list for the past week but most of these are coming into fairly good shape and the Duke eleven should be in good condition tomorrow with all the regulars in the lineup. State held Davidson, one of the strongest contenders for state honors, to a 2 to 0 score and can be depended to put up a stiff fight while Duke is out for revenge. The Duke team files for could have been much better and they are very anxious to make matters by winning up the season and good shape.

If such is the case a state championship is in store for them yet. They have two last games on the schedule up should have little trouble with these opponents if they continue in the present fashion.

CROSS COUNTRY MEN WILL MEET W. AND L.

Kasket Mead of the Subacute With Team Still in Crisped Condition

The Duke University varsity cross country team will run its second meet of the season with the Washington and Lee team next Friday at Lexington. The Duke varsity team has been practicing intensively since their defeat by Carolina last week, and Coach Dehart expects to have a much stronger team in the coming race.

The W. & L. Mead is one of the hardest on the Duke schedule and Coach Dehart has been running his men over a new series of miles instead of the old three mile one. He has paid more attention to developing their stamina by less time on their spirit work. In order to get them in shape for the steep mountainous course.

The varsity team still remains crippled with the loss of last year's runners, and with Captain Ford on the sick list, not having yet recovered from his operation. However, Woodson continues to lead the pack here in their daily runs, and will for the W. & L. race. Woodson continues to lead the pack here in their daily runs, and will for the W. & L. race. ## RELAY TEAM LOSES TO CAROLINA MEN

Leads Until the Last Quarter When Ervin Weakens and Lets Carolina Take Lead

With the worst job any has ever had in college, Duke's university's mile relay team, an invasion in their track sport, met defeat at the hands of the great state Carolina team last Saturday in the halves of the Carolina - V. M. I. football game.

Zimmerman, running the first lap for Duke, turned in the fastest time of the running in the quarter in 55.25 seconds giving a four yard lead to Goelwin, Duke's second runner. Goelwin continued to hold the lead given him, showing his heels to the flying Milford, and when Lisker, running the third lap, for Duke, took the baton he had a four or five yard lead. Little and last place from the start and increased his lead to seven yards.

When Ervin, Duke's last runner, running as anchor man, received the baton, there was a sudden quietness among the Carolina cheerers as they knew they had to choose to win the race against such a sprinter. He held his lead for the first hundred yards until Lisker, and able to withstand the strain and his surroundings, gave out on him, and Samuels, the Carolina runner again led by little until he and Ervin were racing neck and neck. However, on the home stretch he passed Ervin, who was struggling hard to maintain on his feet, and won the race in the last time of three minutes thirty nine seconds.

STUDENTS PRESENT PAPERS ON BIOLOGY

Miss Fulton and Brocken Present Studies from Works of German and French Scientists

The regular weekly meeting of the Biology club was held Monday night at 7:30 in the Crowell Science Hall. The meeting opened with a reading of the minutes of the two previous meetings and applications extended to the members who were in charge of the social given one week before. Then followed readings of two interesting papers, the first by Miss Kim E. Fulton on "A Cytological study of Leptotheca subteranea," taken from the Archives for Protistology. The second was by Catherine Brocken on "Some Microscopic studies," taken from the Archives for Protistology. After the papers were read, several questions were raised concerning the papers, and the discussion ensued, which was immediately followed by adjournment.

Devils Have Lost Two Games With State

DOPED TO WIN THURSDAY

Part Holiday Will Be Given and Many Duke Students Are Expected to Migrate To Raleigh To Witness The Contest.

Next Thursday, the day of the celebration of the end of the war, the Blue Devils will meet the Wolf Pack, the whole schedule this far, Coach Dehart's words should be as victorious over the N. C. State military organization as General Froh's men were over the military of the German army.

Rise Devil Eleven have met Wolf Pack but two times since the resumption of the football season by Trinity College. In 1924 Trinity, met 1924, and last year Duke lost, 20-0. This time, however, while the State team, is much weaker than last year's, the Blue Devils have strengthened naturally.

The two teams have had only two previous encounters. In this season, Duke beat Ervin, 25-0, and was beaten by Carolina, 6-0; and in 1924, Duke beat Ervin, 25-0, and was beaten by Carolina, 12-0. Comparative scores give Duke, therefore, an advantage of one, of touch and maybe two or three touchdowns.

Signa Chi Entertains Pledges At Banquet

Students Members of Fraternity and Pledges Present—Attend Dance Afterwards

Members of the Signa Chi fraternity entertained pledges at a special banquet Saturday evening at the Washington Duke hotel as the first event of the social season. During the making of the new members and pledges were present.

Following the banquet both members of the fraternity and pledges attended the annual Carolina V. M. I. dance in the ballroom of the hotel.

Other entertainments are being planned by the fraternity. It is anticipated, but as yet nothing definite has been announced regarding the fall and winter program. It was expected that beginning some more other entertainments at Duke will give pleasure and diversion to the new men. A total of 121 men, the largest number ever played by fraternities, are to be initiated after examinations.

MID-SEMESTER EXAMS WILL BEGIN NEXT WEEK

Mid-semester examinations will be held again next year in all departments, in all second year courses, in all second year language courses, and in such other courses as the individual departments may see fit to give. The examinations will last one hour, and will be held on the first of the regular mid-term examinations. Examinations have been scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week.

It is thought that the mid-semester exams will furnish a means of checking up on the work of those students who are having trouble in an apprehensive work. In addition it is hoped that the system will be of benefit to the students who are having heavy mid-year examinations. Periodic reports will be sent out, as is the custom, to the parents of the students.

HAVE A CAMEL

No other cigarette ever had so many millions of friends

WHEREVER you travel, by sea or by land, in places of work or palaces of pleasure, you find the friends of Camel. And since the art of increasing life's comfort through smoking was discovered, no other cigarette ever made and kept so many friends.

Why does Camel lead the world? Because only the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos are bought for Camels. Because Camel is given a blending that, regardless of price, can be found in no other cigarette. Because the world's largest tobacco manufacturer organizes neither cost nor effort to make Camel the utmost in cigarettes.

Camel rewards its friends with never-ending peace and satisfaction. Through the day and into the night, it's simply impossible to smoke enough Camels to tire the taste. We invite you to answer, now, the world's most popular smoke invitation—Have a Camel.
