STARS

By Florence S. Small

And then the stars also.
He made the stars also.
What a gesture!
He made a lovely afterthought.
He made them on a whim—
A tiny fancy.

With trembling eagerness
And all absorbed,
Cardinals profligate,
He made stars by the hundred million
Thousands,
Like grains of golden pollen.

Then, when he had done, he dropped
Like a mackerel dream,
For in his mind was grown
The strange vision of man.

Golden slipped from his dreaming
Hands,
Words fell,
As coils through the fingers of a spent
Sift.

WEEKLY SOCIAL CALENDAR

Friday—6:00 P. M. Reception for all Duke students at Watts Street Baptist Church.
Saturday—8:00 P. M. Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. reception for all Duke Students in Union Building, University.

NELSON-MORSE WEDDING

IN PITACA
On Wednesday, August the thirty-first Professor Ernest W. Nelson of the law department of Duke University was married to Miss Rowena Morse, of Blaine, N. Y.

POPULAR PROFESSOR MARRIED IN AUGUST

The many friends of Dr. Paul N. Gisher, of the department of History in the University, will be interested to learn of his marriage to Miss Olivia Kild who occurred on August the twenty-first in Fall River, Mass., at the home of the bride.

DR. JOHNSON WEDS IN ILLINOIS

On June the sixteenth Dr. Franklin P. Johnson, of the Greek department of the University, was married to Miss Martha Rogers of St. Paul, Ill. Mrs. Johnson is a charming addition to the faculty group.

ENGLISH PROFESSOR WEDS

A marriage of wide interest throughout the country and of particular interest to the University community was that of Miss Frances Gray and Mr. Lewis Patton which occurred in Raleigh on August the twentieth. Mrs. Patton is a graduate of the University of North Carolina, where she took a prominent part in the activities of the Carolina Playmakers. Here she appeared in several of the plays produced by this group, in addition to writing some excellent drama herself. For two summers Mrs. Patton played with the Stewart-Walker Co. of Chicago. The college community is delighted to have such a charming talented member in its midst.
Mr. Patton is a member of the English department of Duke University.

TEA GIVEN ON SUNDAY FOR SOUTHWEST GIRLS

On Sunday afternoon both the old and new students of Southwest Hall were entertained at a tea in the east parlor of the dormitory. Miss Schabell, Mrs. Smith, and Mrs. Vance joined Miss Baldwin in greeting the girls. The party was artistically arranged for the occasion, bright fall flowers having been used to increase the beauty of the room. Punch was served, and the girls spent a delightful time in becoming acquainted with their new associates.

Y. CABINET WORKING ON PLANS FOR YEAR

Y. Cabinet came on Campus September 14 to Work Out Program

The members of the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet came in on the fourteenth and organized themselves into a Freshman committee to help the incoming freshmen in the process of orientation. They have held Cabinet meetings daily, and have made daily program for the freshmen. They met all the train, telling the new how to get out to the campus, and how to get their trunks out. A number of the members worked with Mr. Barnes on the program for the Freshman Mixer held in the new Union Hall Saturday evening, and also attended the mixer.

BIG SISTERS AID FRESHMAN GIRLS

Each Junior Girl is Special Friend and Counselor of One or More Freshman Girls

The Junior Big Sisters under the able administration of Rachel Copeland have been engaged in an incessant whirl of activity for the little Sisters, trying to help them, the terrible nightmare of registration through interminable lines, but being directed and relieved by chatty sales, counseling words have been offered to the heart-rending with the little of the occasion. Soon after the guests arrived the farewell speech was made by Miss Dorothy Jeanette. Following this refreshments were served. A clever program had been arranged, consisting of a complete speech, a debate, in which the decision was announced before the speeches had been made and musical numbers. The last event of the evening was the special speech of welcome, given by Miss Virginia Stevens, President of the Y. W. C. A. The guests backed into the room and departed in the same fashion. This event was one of the cleverest and most enjoyable that has been given since the new girls came, and the entire group was delightfully entertained by this novel party.

MISS JEANNETTE GIVES TEA FOR Y. COMMITTEE
Miss Dorothy Jeanette, chairman of the Y. W. C. A. social service department, acted as hostess at a delightful tea given in the social room in Southwest Hall evening. The event was in honor of the students who had arrived in the dormitory. The affair was delightfully informal, and the time was given over to introduction between old and new students. The attractive social room was decorated charmingly for the affair. The staging of the Duke songs was a feature of the evening. Tea and sandwiches were served by Miss Jeanette and other members of the "Y" cabinet.

KNOW-YOUR-OWN PARTY GIVEN BY LOCAL GIRLS
The local students of the Woman's Student Government Association entertained the Freshman girls at a Know-Your-Own party, which proved to be informational as well as delightful to the newcomers. Open decoration and discussion carried out in a very effective fashion the dominant idea of the affair. Chaired for the guests were arranged to represent the main streets of the city, and large signs indicated the principal business places. A unique contest had been arranged in the form of a series of questions of the Ask-A-Newcomer type. These questions tested the new girls on their knowledge of Durham. Miss Brown of Raleigh was first place in this event and was presented with a box of candy cigarettes. In second place was a different student of the city, two of the town girls entered dressed as negroes from Haiti, and sang several negro melodies. During the grand march the guests were presented with the favorite characteristics of the town's local industry. A delicious ice cream was served by Miss Manie McGrath, town girl representative, and other of the town girl business.

BIG SISTERS ENTERTAIN NEW GIRLS WITH PARTY

On Monday evening the members of the Junior Big Sisters held the new women students of the University, both new and familiar students at a charming informal party. The cheerful social room in Southwest was decorated with bright fall flowers, leading an attractive setting for the occasion. The Juniors had arranged an extremely entertaining program for their guests. Among the various events the Juniors presented a mock faculty meeting impersonating a number of the members of the University faculty. This latter glimpse of the instructors proved to be quite amusing to the new girls, several excellent numbers had been presented. Concluding the party, the Juniors turned the affair into a song meeting acquainting the newcomers with some of the songs and yells of the college.

A camp fire supper was served before the cheerful fire in the social room. Afterwards the group spent an informal hour in becoming acquainted.

The Cabinet sponsored discussion groups of the freshmen in Dormitories 3, 4, and 5, which were led by Dr. Childs, Dean Herring, Dean Arnold.

A committee is at present working on a revision of the constitution. The new constitution is to be patterned after that of the Association at the University of Illinois, which is reported to be one of the most efficient in the country. This week the department heads are busy making out detailed chronological programs for the year's work.

Former Student Dead

Edwin Royce, who was a student at Duke University last year, died of pneumonia following an attack of tonsillitis at Rutherford hospital August 18. The cause of death was listed as pneumonia, which was contracted at the Rutherford hospital near Cherryville, Duke students noted as pall bearers.

against the ruthless Sopho who in their fierce maraudings would strike terror to the heart of the timid Freshman were not for the assistance afforded by her staunch protector who likes nothing better than to be summoned to the rescue. A formidable look from an upperclassman is usually sufficient to quell the most blood-thirsty Sopho.

In addition various parties and informal feasts are given by the entire organization or by individuals. These affairs form a point of contact which often opens into life long friendships. The year approximately forty Freshmen in Southwest have been in charge of the Junior Big Sisters and a large number of town students. Just how many is not known yet, as registering had not been finished.

Duke University Band to Play at Game Saturday

Call is Issued For New Men
Interested in Musical Work
To Attend First Rehearsal
Tonight

J. F. BARNES TO ASSIST

The Duke University Band, under the direction of George "Jelly" Letwisch, in planning an elaborate program for the coming year. The first rehearsal will be held tonight, and all men desiring to play in the Band during the coming year are urgently requested to be present at the opening rehearsal. It has not yet been known where the rehearsal will be held, but announcements will be posted on bulletin boards and at convenient places in time to notify members and all new men who wish to line up with the Band for the present year. A special invitation is extended to the new men who wish to try for a place with the Band, and it is of great importance that every man be present at the rehearsal tonight, in order to get fixed up for a successful year.

The Band will play at the Duke-Farm football game Friday afternoon at Hanes Field. The rehearsal tonight is expected to put them in perfect shape for the performance that will mark their first appearance this year. The Band will also play at the "Y" social to be held next Saturday night.

The Duke university musical organization is indeed fortunate in having with them for the present year, J. Foster Barnes, who will direct the activities of the Glee Club for the coming year. Mr. Barnes is well known as a musician and comes to us highly recommended. Under his able direction a most successful year is predicted for the Glee Club.

NEGRO VILLAGE BUILT

Cooking, Sleeping, and Eating All Carried on in Little Negro Settlement Constructed on Property; Campus Made Ready For Great Building Program

The process of beautifying the new Duke university campus is rapidly nearing completion and the extensive building program is expected to get under way soon. The grading of quadrangles, excavating, clearing out lots, building walks and drives, filling in holes, and the general process of beautification has been going on for some time.

A spur-track leading from the main line to the new campus carries supplies and equipment to the construction camp. At convenient places along this spur-track houses for the storage of supplies have been erected.

What was only a short while ago an almost barren wilderness has been transformed into an efficient construction camp. On each side of the village was a row of one-roomed, tent-roofed shanties, with approximately a dozen shanties in a row. Each of these one-roomed structures sheltered a family of at least four people. Cooking, sleeping, eating, entertaining, sewing, washing, and everything connected with family life was done in one room. One would think from the crowded conditions in this little village that there could be little or no social life and recreation. But on this particular Sunday afternoon the inhabitants of this queer little village seemed to be without worries or cares. Little pickaninies were playing in the yard and on the door-steps, engaged in the playful pastime of making mud-pies and other games that appeal to children. The grown-ups were lounging in chairs or sitting in lawn chairs, place tables and laughing heartily. Everyone was apparently enjoying this casual, yet, natural life, and was content and happy in their secluded village.

The hundreds of laborers engaged in the work of making Duke University one of the greatest institutions in the country are rapidly preparing the campus for the beginning of the elaborate building program, which will get under way as soon as the grounds have been cleared and leveled, and the campus has gone through the process of beautification.

DELTA TAU DELTA COME HERE SOON

Delta Delta Club Here Receives
Approval in Recent Conference; Final Decision To Made in January

The establishment of a chapter of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity at Duke is anticipated as a result of the recent action of the annual convention, held in Savannah, recommending the establishment of a chapter to the next chapter, sometime within the next two months, Norman McLeod, of the new chapter, the newly elected president of the fraternity, will visit the fraternity here, and after that visit the final action of the arch chapter will be taken.

The local fraternity was represented at the convention by Everett Weather, spoon and Paul Vessey, two Durham boys and by Prof. C. E. Ward of the Duke faculty. The Duke fraternity has been in existence for three years as a local and is regarded as one of the strongest local organizations on the Duke campus.

A convocation will be held at Carolina sometime in January and it is thought probable that the installation will occur at Duke immediately after this year.

LIBRARY SECURES MANY NEW BOOKS

New Cabinets and Furniture
Installed; Complete Library
Purchased By Prof. Webb
During Summer

During the year 1926-1927 the Library bought more than $45,000 worth of books, in addition to the library purchased in France this summer. New cabinets have been installed to take care of the cards for these books, and the library force is busy getting them cataloged. The library purchased in France through the agency of Professor Webb, the first shipment of which is now on the way, is one of the best libraries in French literature in existence. Composed of 12,000 volumes, it includes only the best of French literature, together with works on bibliography, art, and history, which aid in understanding it. It was the private library of Professor Gustave Lanson, a prominent scholar and author. He sold because of lack of room in his new house, and stipulated in the contract that the library is to be kept intact.

New furniture has been installed in the library, increasing the capacity of the reading rooms considerably. It is as good furniture as is to be found in any library, and is very comfortable as well as attractive.

The new model Parker Duofold introduces pressureless writing—and stays in perfect order no matter how first cost shall be your last.

No hand can distort its point—yet it yields to any style of writing.

We have 35 years on 47 major improvements. Made sixteen million Pens, over 32 patents on Pens and 12 on Pensils and Desk Sets.

We discovered how to combine capillary attraction with gravity feed. Thus a feather-weight touch starts ink-flow; the light balance of the Pen is almost enough to keep it writing.

Barrel is covered Parker Permalite—Non-breakable—25% lighter than rubber formerly used. They come in several colors—Jade, Green, Red, Black, Flashing Black, Marbled Yellow and Lapis Lazuli—Blue—all tipped with the finest nibs.

People are thronging the pen counters to sample this pressureless writing. Only one can hold the pen in the hand and write at the same time.

DUKE PROFESSOR ATTENDED MEET HELD IN EUROPE

Dean Soper Preparing Book on Activities of Recent Congress
Held at Lausanne

FAITH AND ORDER PARLEY

Of particular significance in the movement toward ultimate unification of Christianity was the World Conference on Faith and Order, an assembly of denominational representatives of over forty nations held recently at Lausanne, Switzerland, according to Dean Edmund D. Soper of the school of religion at Duke University, and noted scholar of religion, who has just returned to Duke University and will continue instruction here.

Dean Soper, at present devoting himself to preparation of a book to be a popular account of the World Conference meeting and its influence upon the unification objective, relates that present theologians and scholars from all parts of the earth were present to assist in determination of differences and similarities in the conceptions of faith and order held by various denominations of Christians. Some 400 representatives of various Protestant denominations, of the Anglican Church, and of the Holy Orthodox (Greek) Church were participants in the meeting at Lausanne. Roman Catholics declined an invitation to be represented.

DUKE PROFESSOR RECEIVES DEGREE

Professor Holland Holton
Takes Advanced Study for Past Year at Chicago

Professor Holland Holton, head of the Educational Department of Duke and director of the summer school, returned from Chicago shortly after the opening of the summer school where he had spent a year taking research in legal phases of school administration in North Carolina. Professor Holton had been working for the Doctor of Jurisprudence degree for several years and finished the requirements for this degree this summer.

During Professor Holton's absence Professor Proctor acted as head of the Education Department.

sight of. The purposes of the Y. M. C. A., in general, will be as follows:

"To lead students to faith in God through Jesus Christ and truth.

"To lead them to membership and service in the Christian Church.

"To influence them to devote themselves in the united effort with all Christians to make the will of Christ effective in human society."

The Board of Directors will be composed of men from the administrative group and the city. There will be twelve or fifteen men. Dr. Few, president of the University, has consented to serve on this board, and along with him the following men will be invited to serve: Dr. Soper, Mr. Myers, Dr. Flowers, Dr. Wansamaker, Mr. Branscum, Mr. Garber, and Mr. Barnes. The men from the city who are invited are yet to be selected. To these men the cabinet will be responsible for its actions and policies. This Board will have full authority to shape policies and programs. The members of the Board of Trustees are to come from the leading men in the Southern Conference and the section covered by this Conference. It is hoped that this Board will serve several purposes and mean much in the way of stabilizing the new organization. The membership of the organization is to be restricted but not on a monetary basis.

FRESHMAN MIXER GIVEN SATURDAY

Outstanding People Introduced to Freshmen in Social Gathering
at Union Hall

Practically all the new men attended the Freshman Mixer held Saturday evening in the Union building. They were entertained by a musical program given by Mr. and Mrs. Barnes, and led in a number of singing games by Mr. Barnes to get them acquainted. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes and Mr. Arnold were introduced to the freshmen, and Mr. Carpenter introduced the Y. Cabinet. According to all reports the men enjoyed the whole program, even the limonade which was served during the evening.

The cabinet as introduced follows: C. H. Carpenter, T. S. Evans, C. G. Weaver, Jr., Harold McGarby, Linton Pope, Joe Caruthers, Charlie Gay, Moody Smith, Paul Ervin, Robert Drayton, T. S. Stearns, R. Stearns, Luther Angle, Thomas Hewitt, John Woodard, W. R. Morton, and W. A. Hart.

above topic. Some of the prospective speakers for the coming year are Dr. Clarence Poe, Gov. McLean, and Britt Wilson, with other prominent men in the different professions.

It seems at last that the "Y" has found its mission on the Duke campus, and has pledged itself wholeheartedly to its work. Predictions point to a Y. M. C. A. in the near future which will be a very potent factor in the religious and social life of the college community.

HESPERIA WILL GIVE SMOKER AT MEETING

Plans For New Year's Work Matured;
All Men Interested in Forensics
Invited to First Meeting

The Hesperia Literary Society is one of the oldest activities on the campus, and for a number of years it has provided unity of the campus leaders. On Tuesday night, September 21, it will hold its first meeting of the academic year in its hall on the second floor of East Duke building.

The activity of the literary society is devoted entirely to the development of oratory and public speaking, and its membership is limited to those interested in such work. Each year an inter-society debate is held, and in the past few years Hesperia has been able to bring her lead to three contests.

The first meeting of Hesperia will be largely for the benefit of the new men at which time an informal smoker will be held. At the same time a model program will be arranged in order that the first year men present may understand more thoroughly the work of the society. Every new man who has had previous training in debating or anyone wishing to become more familiar with public speaking and parliamentary order is cordially invited to attend.

One of the most enjoyable features of the Hesperia society is the annual reception held each spring. Other events such as smokers and the like are used to vary the program.

The officers for this year are H. L. Hester, president; R. G. Tuttle, vice president; J. G. King, secretary; and Harold Carhart, treasurer. The faculty advisors and honorary members are Dr. R. L. Flowers, Dr. P. N. Garber, and H. J. Herring.
