MANY VISITORS TO ATTEND CEREMONY OF NEW SORORITY

Many Social Activities Will Mark Installation of Kappa Alpha Theta Here

GRADUATES TO RETURN

Five Southern Chapters Located Florida, State, Newcomb, Vanderbilt, William and Mary, and Randolph; Many Alumnae Will Also Attend

The week-end of February 17-19 marks the installation of the Beta Rho chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority at Duke University. Beginning on Friday afternoon at four o'clock with pledging of the members of the Sigma Tau sorority, the events included in installation will run through Sunday afternoon.

Miss L. Pearl Green, grand secretary of the sorority, of Ithaca, N. Y., will have charge of the installation. She will be assisted by Mrs. H. E. Humphreys of Atlanta, Ga., who is district president of district number eleven of which Beta Rho will become a member. Mrs. Walter Patton, of New Bern, N. C., is district secretary of Kappa Alpha Theta, and will also aid in installation of the new chapter.

The five southern chapters of the sorority being located at Florida State, Sophia Newcomb Vanderbilt Randolph Macon, and William and Mary, will entertain one or more representatives present for the event.

The fifty-two Theta alumnae living in the North Carolina are expected to be well represented in Durham for the establishment of the new chapter.

A number of interesting events have been planned for the entertainment of these guests while they are visiting on the Duke campus. The Alpha Eta chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta will entertain in honor of the new chapter on Friday evening following pledging at a buffet supper for the guests and the members of Sigma Tau.

Saturday afternoon will be featured by a formal tea at which the newly elected chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta will entertain in honor of the new chapter officers. Members of the faculty, the administration, and students have been invited to meet the Theta visitors on this occasion.

Three graduate members of Sigma Tau will return for initiation, while twenty-one active members of the group will be taken into the order.

BAPTIST LEADER TO GIVE SPEECH

Dr. Gaines, President of Wake Forest, to Feature 1919 Civic Celebration

The 1919 scholastic and patriotic order, which completed arrangements for the annual civic celebration which will take place here on February 21 coincident with the spring initiation of candidates into membership.

Francis Pendleton Gaines, president of Wake Forest College and lecturer of the auditorium at the regular meeting hour and will also address the banquet for the new men and alumni which will be held in Union at 8 o'clock, the same evening. The day will be given over to the celebration of 1919 which will be in the form of a civic program.

At this meeting some of the alumni of the order will be present to renew friendships and contacts. Many members of the faculty are members of the order as well as others scattered throughout the state. The meeting last year which was addressed by former president J. F. Crowell, it is understood, will not be eclipsed by the meeting this year. At the banquet a eulogy will be paid to the late, Spencer Bassett who was recently killed by a trolley car in Washington.

Invitations to membership have been extended to eight new men, whose names cannot be disclosed at this time, and will appear in the issue of the Campus after their initiation.

THIEVES WERE BUSY ON CAMPUS SATURDAY NIGHT

It has been reported on the campus that about twenty-five suits of clothes, several top coats, shirts, sweaters, and many other personal belongings of the students were stolen from the dormitories Saturday night. The Duke-Durham basketball game, Dormitory number three had the greatest loss of any; although number two had many things stolen from it.

Students are warned to keep their rooms locked at all times. If they have not obtained a key from Mr. Tyrrell's office by depositing one dollar.

West Virginia Debaters to Engage Duke Tomorrow

The University of West Virginia will debate Duke tomorrow evening at eight o'clock in the university Auditorium. West Virginia will send a strong team here to meet Duke's experienced debaters. An interesting and vital question has been selected for this debate: Resolved, That the increased power of the Federal government, as shown during the last quarter of a century, indicates a wane tendency. The debate will be held on the open forum plan, which permits the audience to question the speakers at the close of the debate on any phase of the query that they desire.

Last Thursday in the Columbian Literary Society hall a preliminary was held at which time the representatives for Duke were selected. The men chosen by the judges to represent Duke were Paul Ervin, senior, Richard Horne, senior, and Everett Westphouse, sophomore. The men are experienced debaters, the first two named having participated in several inter-collegiate debates in the past, and the last named being an inter-city debater with an enviable record. Dr. J. W. Carr, Charlie Jordan, and Professor Wilson of the economic department acted as judges.

The debate tomorrow evening will be the second formal encounter in which Duke debaters have participated this season, the first being with the Oxford-Union debaters here before Christmas. An unusually extensive schedule has been arranged by the Debate Council this year and students are promised an interesting season. Rutgers comes here on the 22nd of March, Swarthmore on the 30th, and Birmingham Southern College is also scheduled to appear here the same month. Following this home-program Duke begins an extensive invasion of the South April 6 and engages five southern universities before returning on the 21st.

Furman University Glee Club Awarded Southern Championship Recently

South Carolinians Win Privilege of Entertaining National Contest at New York

DUKE CLUB IS PRAISED

Director of Local Club Reports Delightful Trip; President of National Association of Glee Clubs Praised Duke Singers

The Duke University Glee Club returned to the campus Saturday night about eight o'clock from Greenville, S. C., where it competed in the second annual Southern Intercollegiate Glee Club contest as representative of the State of North Carolina. The boys were tired and bedraggled after their long three hundred mile ride but were fresh in spirit and greatly encouraged over the splendid showing they made in the contest.

The contest was held in Textile Hall, Greenville, on Friday night, February 10 before an audience of approximately 4,000 people and was hotly contested throughout. The decision of the judges went to Furman university, representing South Carolina, in consequence of which club will represent the South in the National Intercollegiate Glee Club contest which will be held in New York City in March. The University of Alabama has honorable mention, and the Duke club performed with such excellence that the judges could scarcely undertake it with Alabama for second honors.

J. Foster Barnes, director of the local club, is highly pleased with its showing. In an interview yesterday he stated that the judges of the contest were in good luck and that the Duke club was the high training and quality of the Duke club. A. W. Pickens, of New York City, who is president of The National Association of Glee Clubs, personally complimented Mr. Barnes and the Duke singers and even went so far as to say that he considered them as the logical successors to the second honors. Dr. M. H. Dewey, who served as chairman of the judges in the contest and who is one of

TRUCKS CARRY AWAY OLD ENGLISH THEMES

Ruthless Destruction of Freshman and Sophomore Knowledge When Famous Essays Destroyed

The English department has begun spring cleaning somewhat early in the season, and probably this is an annual affair for the department.

One day last week a metallic Ford truck, driven to the rear entrance of West Duke, the steel-gray wagon bore a chauffeur, an unarmed guard, and two negro henchmen. A group of the mysterious riders darted into the building with two big trucks.

A few minutes later a dozen bearded fellows, dressed in the partly flannel truck bed. There lay epistles covering the period between the War of 1812 and the Civil War's midnight ride. The Ford expensed loaded away for loads of lost labor. Three hours later over 2,000 them were offered as an incense to Jupiter at the University's incinerator.

J. FOSTER BARNES

Duke Students Enter Race For Honors In Globe-Trotters Fray

The students of Duke university are tired of the most economical groups in this part of the country. It is estimated that they save fifteen thousand dollars each year from their travel expenses. This is the reason that the average distance "bummer" or "hijacked" by each male student here is about fifteen miles in a college year, and that the national fare for this distance is about fifteen dollars.

Some students here have "bummed" as much as fifteen hundred miles in one trip, and a number of students traveled in a state of freedom on their trip to Annapolis last fall. It is true that some of the students are "bumming" but we believe that the average men here are at least five hundred miles of free travel from the American public opinion. The Duke club is not the only group that has not adopted this mode of travel, though we have no positive evidence to prove they have not. We do not believe that the students pictured in the state papers recently by a most liberal are typical "bummers"; for most of the Duke club members are of the little courtesies that are shown to us.

STATE AND CAROLINA CABINET'S VISIT HERE

The Duke Y. M. C. A. cabinet will entertain the Y cabinets of State college and the University of North Carolina at an informal dinner to be held in Union hall at five o'clock on next Tuesday evening. Ray Carpenter, president of the local Y. M. C. A., said last night. From fifteen to twenty representatives from each of the neighboring institutions are expected to be present.

There will be only a very few after dinner speeches. The purpose of the meeting is primarily to afford an opportunity for those interested in Y. M. C. A. work to get together and carry on personal discussions of various subjects. No set program has been planned. The visitors will be the guests of the management at the campus meeting Tuesday night.

WORLD MISSIONS TO BE DISCUSSED WITH VOLUNTEERS

Many Prominent Speakers Will Present Various Phases of Missionary Program

The local group leader of the Student Volunteer Union, J. D. Stott, announces that plans are being completed for the reception of the delegates to the Seventeenth Annual conference of the North Carolina Volunteer union, which will meet at Duke university February 17-19. A tentative program for the conference sessions is also announced.

The various aspects of this theme will be presented to the delegates by some of the most noted speakers, and the most broadened men today. Some of the speakers are: Edmund D. Soper, who is vice-president of Duke university and dean of the School of Religion. He has traveled extensively in the Orient in the interest of missions. Dr. Soper is also an authority on comparative religions. Other speakers are: Dr. H. Akagi, recently returned from Japan, and one of the ablest speakers of Dr. James E. Shepherd, president of North Carolina College for Negroes who is also a member of the State Intercollegiate Commission; Miriam F. Goodwin, "Miss Goodwin" has served as a missionary in Korea for three years; Rev. O. Paluma, a native African, and who at present is on the faculty of Paisley Academy at King's Mountain; and Dr. Elbert Russell, of Duke university, will preside the Conference Session, and will also speak on Latin America.

The local officials are gratified by the splendid cooperation shown by the various committees which were appointed to assist in the completion of the plans for the conference. The Y. W. C. A. has charge of the social hour for the conference Saturday night, the Y. M. C. A. committee is securing the buses for the delegates and also arranging for a display of books on missions, and the student volunteer group has appointed various committees to meet delegates and to direct them to their homes. 1919 DECLAMERS COMPETE HERE IN ANNUAL CONTEST

Eight Delegates From North and South Carolina Meet in Declaration Contest

DURHAM BOY IS WINNER

Delegates From Forty High Schools Compete For Places in Final Contest; Declamers Given Buffet Supper at Close of Contest

William Farthing, representing the Durham high school, was awarded the gold medal for the best declamation presented when the eighteenth 1919 inter-scholastic declamation contest was held last Friday evening at the university Auditorium. Mr. Farthing won the decision of the judges with the subject: "What Will You Do With Jesus?" He discussed Jesus as a scientific fact which every individual must inevitably decide for his own satisfaction. This is the second consecutive year that a Durham boy has won the medal for delivering the best declamation.

The judges of the contest were Dr. William H. Glason, Dr. Elbert Russell, Dr. Ernest Valtner, Dr. Glason presented the medal to the winner and congratulated him on his success, and stated that it was only after much deliberation that the judges could agree upon the winner, as each declamation was of a high order.

A preliminary was held last Thursday evening in which over forty representatives from North and South Carolina competed for places in the final contest. The winners in the preliminary who competed for the medal in the final contest were: Abraham Karch of Columbia, S. C.; William Parkhurst, Durham; Charles Little, Charlotte; Theodore Goldstein, Wilmington; Elmer R. Oettinger, Wilson; Teddy Edwards, Winston-Salem; Wendell Condit, Raleigh; and Charles Humphries, Wakefield, S. C.

Honorable mention was made of Chas. Humphries, who declaimed the subject, "Shall the Statue of Lee Stand in the Hall of Fame?" Much favorable comment was made by the audience on Farthing's forceful and dramatic delivery. He used for his subject "Calvin's Answer to Cicero's Denunciation." The winners of the preliminary who competed for the medal in the final contest were: Abraham Karch of Columbia, S. C.; William Parkhurst, Durham; Charles Little, Charlotte; Theodore Goldstein, Wilmington; Elmer R. Since May Day is the occasion for alumnae homecoming, the women will have complete direction of the activities. Some kind of program, as yet undecided will be presented on the night of May Day.

Misses Julia G. Grant and Emily Vossler directors of physical education, will have charge of the dances, always one of the most beautiful features of the day. Practices will begin as soon as the pageant is decided upon.

INTEREST SHOWN ON NEW CAMPUS

Many Visitors View the Progress Now Being Made On New Site

A Chronicle reporter had the pleasure to visit the new Duke campus a few days ago, and the developments that he saw there are indeed interesting. Roads are being laid out, the foundations of America's great institutions of learning. The track there was laid for the transporting of building material, and it will probably be removed in the near future. The buildings for the school are completed.

The foundation of the C dormitory, one of the new Union building have been laid, and excavations have been begun for some of the other buildings. Great foundations of building material are on the ground, and it is expected that when spring comes the work will go forward at a very rapid rate.

Much material for human interest stories could be gathered while the work on the new unit is going on. Your reporter has seen the new building, and also men and women with small children, there witnessing the birth of a great institution. One can easily imagine that some of the fathers and mothers who come to this scene of construction will find that their little ones will be campus leaders at the greater Duke University.

Duke University of the future will have a fine campus for the enjoyment of romantic scenes, and it is expected that many staid tasks and beautiful things will be seen in the new campus. It is well that the planning along the woodland path of the Roper road leading to the new campus is already being begun by ardent lovers.

Call For Pageants is Made to Student Body

Miss Dorothy Schallert, chairman of the May Day committee, requests that pageants for May Day be submitted to the committee within the next two weeks. The May Day committee has been appointed to the operation of a group of students interested in securing a suitable pageant.

ATHLETIC MANNERS

(Co-Ed Editor)

What Duke University students need primarily, at least during the intercollegiate athletic season is a course in athletic politeness. Visitors at recent athletic events on the campus must have gone away with a poor opinion of our manners, if they judged from the display of them in the gymnasium. A Carolina student at a game not long ago was heard to remark that he could not understand the attempted domination of the referee from the sidelines; that such behavior was not the custom at the state university.

A referee who is honestly trying to be fair in a game is not at all influenced by the cries of "Hotten!" and laughter remarks from the sidelines, but he must necessarily be bothered and annoyed by such outbursts. People with a feeling for courtesy are also irritated.

While visitors other than students may be at fault in causing this disorder, students are the leaders of it, and it is they who can remedy it. Of course it is understood that ball games are not society events, but there is athletic etiquette as well as social etiquette; cheering poor plays made by the visiting teams and hooting the referee are not "according to Hottel."

Perhaps the cheerleaders can help solve the problem.

WANT YOUR CHECK CASHED?

We have long noticed the need of a place where the students can more conveniently get their checks cashed. This need has become more apparent this year than ever before since the present management of the Duke university store specializes in service and efficiency and doesn't care to accommodate the students by cashing their checks as the operators of the old Duke Shop in the basement of West Duke were more willing to do. When a student has difficulty in getting his checks cashed at the university store, it is obvious that the university officials should take steps to facilitate the matter.

Yet there is some excuse for the university store's unwillingness to cash all checks that are brought to it. There is no money in cashing checks, and since making money is what the store is in the game campus monopoly primarily to do, it cannot deviate from its creed of securing profits first of all. The store is not to blame; yet it should, and often does, cash checks for small amounts. Before downtown shops will honor the students' checks, they must be endorsed by Assistant Treasurer Markham. We contend that Professor Markham is too busy and important a man to be continually bothered by students, chiefly freshmen, seeking his endorsement. He has been called from examination rooms for such purposes, it is understood. He is too valuable a man to be subjected to such worry and work. We do not mention the students' trouble in attempting to find him in his office.

Now we are of the opinion that the administration should devise some plan, or adopt some system, to make it possible for the students to get their checks cashed on the campus without the inconvenience and delay that they now have to put up with. Checks could be cashed at the treasurer's office at definite hours each day. A sub-office could with little trouble handle the checks. Or a miniature campus bank might be started in a central location near Union Hall.
Students could make deposits there and withdraw the money at pleasure. A competent person to serve as bookkeeper and teller could manage the place. Expense could be met by requiring each student to pay a fee of five dollars per year for the privilege of banking there. If this latter plan were adopted, all other places and stores would have to refuse possession to handle the checks in order to make use of the campus service and pay for its existence.

INITIATIONS SOON

Within the next few weeks every social fraternity on the campus will hold its initiations, and approximately one hundred-fifty first year men will be initiated into membership.
To these fortunate young men we extend our congratulations.
To those not so fortunate we extend our sympathy. In the past, not necessarily because the requirement in passing courses was met, but because of the fortunate circumstances which commanded them to membership in some fraternity.
We consider it a distinction in a measure to be accepted into a fraternity, but if all the fraternity means is a pile and a few secrets it is detrimental to life on the campus.

After the initiations are held we do not want to see any change in the new men, for it must be remembered that they are still freshmen, even though they have been taken under the protecting wing of some upperclassman. Sophomore is the worst ailment that is liable to result from fraternity membership, and nine times out of ten the man who develops this characteristic is one who didn't deserve to make a fraternity, and usually he will prove to be a detriment rather than an asset to his organization. It must be remembered that there are numbers of men on this campus who will prove themselves perfectly capable of being fraternity members in the future, and too there are many who should have made Greek-letter organizations who were overlooked, but there is nothing that is a perfect democracy, and we can find the same fault with the college world that we found with life before we came here.

If every fraternity man lived up to the ideals of his organization this would be an ideal community, but it seems that after the initiation is over the creed and vital parts of the ceremony are promptly and permanently forgotten. They should carry over into our association with others here on the campus and then fraternity membership should not be designated with the pin which is usually an empty symbol, but certain traits would indelibly stamp the fraternity man. Of course this is more theory than anything else, but it can be done if each organization would stress individualism rather than an attempt at mass production.
The reason many men become poor fraternity members after they get out of college is because the proper emphasis of a man's relation to his lodge has not been stressed while he was in college. Nine times out of ten his chapter has failed to give him what it should have.

What we've been attempting to say, and we believe we have said it, is that no man just because of his fraternity connection here on the campus has special rights not given to every other student. And above all the new "pin pushers" should guard against the idea of selfishness. Our campus has been almost entirely free from this in the past and let's keep it clean.

Carolina decides to give North Carolina students the advantage, while Duke aims at Cosmopolitanism. We wonder which policy is better?

THE LOUD BASSOON

T. J. S. Jr.

The performance given by the Carolina Playmakers at their little theatre in Chapel Hill last Friday night is a promise of a revival, and a needed one, in their work. Of the three one-act plays presented, the second John Kinfolks is a tragedy of the Mill People by Loretto Carol Bailey was by far the best. In its treatment of a perfectly possible and natural situation brought about by unfortunate economic and social conditions John Kinfolks harks back to the sort of thing the Playmakers did when they produced Pinto's a number of seasons past.

The splendid acting of Miss Noel Walker as the mother, Kate, was thrown into vivid contrast by the equally distinguished performance of Mrs. Bailey herself as the grandmother, Kinzie. Miss Leola Warden, the Katherine, the young daughter of Kate, was also quite sympathetic in her interpretation of the young, rather hard-boiled exponent of third generation. Two features make John Kinfolks significant: a generous and a sympathetic handling of humor
through conversation, and a restrained treatment of the great emotional climax up to which the closing scene of the tragedy leads. It is all done after the manner of the Greek dramatists.

Before leaving the subject of the drama, there is our own group of actors, the Taurians, to consider. What they did with Black-Hill's scene can be seen this evening, and the remainder of the week, by those interested. The question is what are the next two plays to be presented? Under the new system of an associate membership the choice of Taurians to have a vote in the final of the tragedy leads. It is all done after the
manner of the Greek dramatists.

To be presented about March 21: Musket, On no Bedside Post, White Lady Winchester's Fan, Noyes, Sergeant, The Olive Tree, Romantic, London, *Shaw
Andrews* and the Love, Friday, Truth.
To be presented about May 1: Farquhar,
Alcibiades, Sophocles, Antigone, Eur-ipides, Medea, Herodias, Mark Twain, *Dr.
Faustus*, Shaw, Arms and the Man.
In spite of the risk of correction in the present issue of the Chronicle, such is the list. A spirit of charity to us what could be done prompts the suggestion of Andromeda and the Love for the first play, and Mark Twain, *Dr.
Faustus* for the second. Lydippos might follow, if it could be properly cast. The same could be said of Andromeda, Medea,
but it is a safe guess that it is better to avoid plays from the Greek on the score of the audience and its education or lack of education in things done in the classical Greek manner.

The Social Philosophy of William Morris
is the title of one of the new Duke Press books. This study of a comparatively little known phase of literature
by Dr. Anna A. von Helmholtz-Phelan of the university of Minnesota. It is a beautifully bound and printed volume in anything but the usual university pres-sman. But the content of the volume is the important point for consideration.
There are three parts and eight chapters or sections to the study. Each division is logical and at the same time suitable.
The story of the many sided William Morris and of his drift towards socialism is as much a story of contrasts as it is one of changes. One wonders if the specialization of the present day could in any way make room for Morris, who was by turn a poet, an artist in architecture and in design, a printer, a manufacturer, and a socialist in the best sense.
A survey of the bibliography used by Dr. Helmholtz-Phelan reveals little written on her aspect of the subject prior to the publication of the present informing as well as delightful volume.
It is one of which Morris himself was proud. The study is a most interesting. In bringing out Lydippos the Duke Press has again issued a book written by a member of our own faculty, and at the same time the Press has brought out a volume in a field new to its booklists as far as subject matter is concerned.

Dr. Johnson, assistant professor of Greek in the university here, has approached the study of Lydippos from the standpoint of his work and from a critical study of, and an attempt to identify in existing sculpture copies of the work of Lydippos. The success of Dr. Johnson's efforts can best be measured by those interested more deeply in ancient Greek sculpture, but the thoroughness of his organization of material is apparent to those who know less. The volume has sixty one plates illustrating examples of Greek sculpture. These very black and white plates add much to the intrinsic as well as the material value of the Lydippos study.

The students need many more perspectives of this nature, since much receptions, and banquets can be had lost their interest and attraction, if de-

Student Thought

With The Editors

Thursday, February 2, was celebrated at Meredith College as Founders' Day, according to news received from the Tri-Post. J. W. Broughton was the chief speaker at Chapel exercises held in the morning which were attended by both students and visitors from Raleigh. In the afternoon the faculty was at home to visitors, and the day was closed with a reception by the Student Government in the evening.

Auburn College celebrated last night Friday, February 16. At that time practically all honorary organizations on the campus gave gifts. The Y. M. C. A. sponsored the program and a cash prize was awarded to the successful contestant.

Dr. Thornton Whaling, internationally known theologian and lecturer, has just completed the McNeal lectures which are annually given at the University of North Carolina states the For Road. Dr. Whaling discussed the Rights of Science, Science and Philosophy, and Science and Religion.

The Crimson-Wave of the University of Alabama announces that this will be the greatest year in debating that that institution has ever known. The debate program which has just been announced includes engagements with West Virginia, Oregon State, University of Oklahoma, Texas, Tulane, Florida and Duke.

SNAPSHOTS AND CLOUETS

MAMMAE CARROLL

Duke's entrance into national politics has aroused a great deal of interest and speculation. That the administration should permit the University Auditorium to be used for the purpose of opposing a measure of the Congress of the United States, and that at least two faculty members, prominent and influential,
should speak publicly and openly against the measure, are generally regarded as an indication that colleges and universities may play an increasingly important part in politics in the future. Dr. Russell's criticism of America's intervention in Nicaragua and his frank discussion of the facts in the case show that armed force as a means of restoring peace and harmony is a failure, that marines in Nicaragua are unwelcome and unnecessary.

The attack upon militarism was continued Thursday night, when Dr. Potea, president-elect of Wake Forest and one of the most notable educators in the state, spoke at the University Auditorium
in opposition to the proposed Navy Bill now before Congress. The speaker denounced America's policy of espionage and suppression, and declared that the limitation of free discussion of public questions was one of the greatest of all perils facing this country. Dr. Potea's speech was the climax to a movement recently begun to induce the students to sign a petition against the Navy Bill,
which will be presented to Congress.

It is not known what influence this petition will have upon the deliberations of our national legislators. Whether the bill passes or not, there are two sides to the question. The other side of the question may be summed up as follows:
The best and surest way to prevent war
is to be prepared to defend yourself against a foreign foe. The fighting instinct is one of our basic instincts which we rely upon when all other means of settling disputes have failed. Many fortunes of this nature, since danger to this instinct, and consequently, it is sheer madness and folly to permit other means to increase their armaments and the United States scraps her best ships and ignores her army and aviation.

The students need many more perspectives of this nature, since much
receptions, and banquets can be had
lost their interest and attraction, if de-

Blue Embers

DESIRE

This busy city
Tires me,
Its noise
Rings in my ears.
I am going
To slip into the woodlands
And hear the cardinal
After the rain
As he sings
In his gray moss-net
Studied with jewels
From the twilight dampness.

"The Four Seasons," was printed in the Archives recently.

INSPIRATION
I gaze into a fire—
I gaze and dream . . . and think!

But
As the coals fall into ashes
My thoughts fall back to earth.

If I were a poet, maybe I might have Thoughts yet lit by firelight—Firelight within me. —M. B. R.

development of the social, cultural, and esthetic qualities of the mind is to be considered a purpose of a college education.
If the development of such qualities is not considered a part of a college education—then colleges do not educate. Courtesy, manners, ambition, and the most vital things in the life of an individual depend not upon the study of technical and mechanical subjects, business and politics, but on a study of the liberal arts. Plays, music, musical concerts, and often lectures, are forms of entertainment which give incentive to that part of the brain often neglected and allowed to fall into disuse, and a well-rounded mental development is impossible without this incentive.

THE HOUR OF MOTHS
By Robert P. Tristram Coffin
The little moths with eyes like pearls
Gaze at the through my pane.
This holy night so full of wings
Will not be mine again.

The earth is turning towards dawn,
The stars go ever west,
An early bird still half in sleep
Titters on the nest.

So few the moments left to be
Along with silent night,
A sole and single candle flame,
Peace, and the turning earth.
So still it is that one could think
His body were a tree
Or lacework of a moth's white wing
Whose every rib can see.

Or say loving thing whose skin
Drinks the holy night,
And knows its beauty by a sense
More delicate than sight.

The trees in worship fill the world
With prayers beyond and wise,
On all the affairs of the night,
Burn the moth's cool eyes.

Musical Fraternity Gives Dinner at Washington Duke

The Lambda Phi Gamma musical fraternity entertained elaborately on Thursday evening at dinner at the Washington Duke Hotel. Each member of the fraternity had invited a special guest for this occasion. This affair, which proved to be exceedingly delightful is expected to be an annual affair of Lambda Phi Gamma's in the future.

Miss White and Alpha Delta Phi's Entertained by Miss Haywood

Miss Zoe Lee Haywood was charming hostess to Miss Margaret White of Hollins College, the guest of Miss Margaret Holcomb, and the members of the Alpha Delta Sorority. Bridge was played by the honor guests and a number of invited guests. The high score prizes fell to Mr. William Pearce and Miss Elizabeth McKenney. Mr. Pearce received a deck of cards while Miss McKenney was presented with a bridge set. The honor guest—Miss White—also received a lovely prize.

The Valentine scheme was used in the refreshments, brick cream shaped as hearts, with floral and angel-fond cake was served.

Alpha Delta Phi's Honor Inspector at Hope Valley

Mrs. Rowe, national inspector of the Alpha Delta Phi sorority, was elaborately feted by the Omicron chapter of the sorority on Monday afternoon when the chapter entertained at a delightful bridge tea at the Hope Valley country club.

The club had been charmingly decorated for the occasion and bright operas added to the attractiveness of the spacious club room. Bridge was played at seven tables where the valentine idea had been effectively carried out.

Following the game, tea, sandwiches, and cookies were served. The high score fell to Mrs. Rowe while she also received the honor guest's prize.

In addition to the active members of the sorority and pledges the following guests enjoyed this event: Mrs. W. L. Wannamaker, a patroness of the sorority; Mrs. Rowe, the honor guest; Miss Ellen Huchabee, Miss Marie Tyler, Miss Margaret Zachary, Miss Pauline Weber, Miss Celene Phillips, Miss Margaret Royall, Miss Rebecca Kirkpatrick, Miss

The Duchess of Southgate to Miss Goucher

Dearest Lily,
Everyone is entertaining gale! Really the organizations and individuals seem to be trying to do each other in this matter of parties, teas, and dinners. The Tombs let off with an entirely new function—dinner for the Delta Phi Rho Alphas. It was a splendid affair too with dinner at Union Hall and the morning picture afterwards at the Auditorium.

The say it's to be a regular event in the future. It must have been an inspiring sight to have seen so many husky athletes in one crowd—all of them probably refusing dinner because they were in training.

Lambda Phi Gamma has inaugurated the same custom by entertaining a number of invited guests at dinner at the Washington Duke last week.

The Senior girls usually entertain on Sunday afternoon for the faculty at intervals during the year, and last Sunday marked the first Senior tea of the year. It's a very revealing thing, too, to the literary profits on for whom you've been cultivating a hero-worship, slipping tea and favoring you with polite conversation instead of information on the Italian Renaissance.

Plans for May Day are getting about as we are told, and now that the queen and court have been selected it doesn't seem so far away. Then too, this warm spring weather that we had last week-end had a feeling of April in the air, with a little rain for good measure and tennis—all of which is too exciting!

The Valentine dinner worked out into an absolute riot, and Monday and Tuesday found all the Southgate residents looking over evening dresses and wondering how they would find in the lining half dressed in elaborate attire. It was a huge success, and I'm hoping that it will be done again soon. It's so marvelous to parade nonchalantly into the dining room garbed in a new black evening dress that positively breathes sophistication, and slowly enjoy dinner without a thought for the outrageously long assignment that your elation professor will expect prepared for eighty thirty the next morning.

Another episode will explain more of the social events that are bedecking the campus program now. But along with all the gaiety there is one stout individual who practices abstinent custom of quizzing, so

Lovingly yours,
Dol.

Ann Walker Garrard, Miss Elizabeth Boland, Mrs. John Harry Sykes, Miss Margaret Holcomb, Mrs. Lewis Patton.

Miss Warwick Entertains Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority

Miss Katherine Warwick was hostess to the members of the Zeta Tau Alpha sorority at her home in the Aycock apartment. Attractive decoration had been effectively used in the living room where bridge was played. Following the game the high score prize—a dainty lace handkerchief—fell to Miss Mae Pearce Jones. The hostess served delicious refreshments to her guests.

Lambda Chi Alpha's Give Bridge in Union

On Tuesday evening the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity entertained at a delightful bridge party at Union Hall. Valentine decorations had been effectively used. Following the game delicious refreshments were served. About fifty were present at this affair.

Valentine Dinner at Southgate Is Elaborate Affair

The Valentine dinner which was planned by the Woman's Student Government Association and which was given at Southgate Hall on Tuesday evening proved to be one of the loveliest affairs that has been given for the dormitory girls. The dining room in the dining hall was decorated for the occasion and the girls dressed formally for the affair. An orchestra added to the gaiety of the setting. The Valentine idea had been effectively carried out in the decorations and the menu.

First Senior Tea of Year Given For Faculty

The first tea of the year to be given by the Senior girls for the faculty members was held on Sunday afternoon. The West Parlor of Southgate Hall had been prettily decorated for the occasion. Red tapers lighted the tea table, which was lovely with a lace cloth. A silver tea service added to the beauty of the stately setting. The approaching Valentine season was suggested in the color scheme—red and white—which had been used.

Senior girls served tea, sandwiches, and clever, heart-shaped cakes laid in red.

A number of the members of the faculty and their wives called during the appointed hours.

Tombs Fraternity Fetes Members of Delta Phi Rho Alpha

A new custom was inaugurated by the Tombs fraternity when this group delightfully entertained members of the Delta Phi Rho Alpha—women's athletic order—on Wednesday evening at six o'clock. The fraternity members and their guests had dinner at Union Hall and followed this event by the morning picture at the Auditorium.

Women of Senior Class Honored by Community Club

The Community Club of Duke University entertained at Southgate Hall on Tuesday afternoon honoring the women of the senior class in the university. The Southgate parlors had been attractively decorated for the occasion.

The tea table was lovely with a lace cloth and shaded tea. Delicious tea and sandwiches were served. During the afternoon Mr. Leftwich delighted the guests with a number of violin solos.

An interesting feature of the afternoon was the book shower which was given for the college infirmary. Each member of the club brought a book for this purpose.

The committee having charge of this event was as follows: Mrs. J. M. Ormond, chairman; Mrs. Z. B. Vance, Mrs. E. W. Nelson, Mrs. G. D. D. Vance, Mrs. W. L. Whitely, Miss Louise Sealbott, Mrs. S. A. Pearce, Mrs. Russel Cavill, Mrs. O. G. Sawyer, Miss Alice Baldwin, and Miss Elizabeth Abridge.

TOWN GIRLS WIN FIRST PLACE AT RECENT JUBILEE

Durham Girls Are Awarded Loving Cup For Clever Burlesque on Southgate Girls

Was Second Annual Post-Exam Jubilee: Students Support Jubilee Well Despite Other Campus Attractions on Same Night

The Post-Exam Jubilee, sponsored by the Duke University Y. W. C. A., was presented to a large and enthusiastic audience last Wednesday evening at the university Auditorium. The program was delightfully entertaining and included a carefully selected variety of features which portrayed every imaginable characteristic of comic, semi-tragic, and burlesque drama. At times the program was bubbling over with ultra-modern wit and humor, but the marriage ceremony, accompanied with prophetic signs and copious weeping, and the tragic duel between Hamlet and his rival, gave the audience a taste of tragedy and pathos, although in semi-farce form.

The Delta Phi Rho opened the program with a presentation of "An Athletic Wedding," the bridesmaids and attendants dressed in costumes representing various sports, golf, tennis, baseball, basketball, football. The next feature of the program was "An Operatic Tragedy" by Zeta Tau Alpha, which gave the audience a hint of how ancient belles and gallants carried on their love affairs. This classical comedy skit was awarded honorable mention by the Forum Club. The Forum Club then presented "Oh, Hamlet, Hamlet," and made a great hit with its versatile and polished interpretation of the triangular love affair of Shakespeare's famous play. The actors knew their lines perfectly and rendered this little skit in a most delightful manner. The judges could well afford to give the Forum Club honorable mention and many considered it the best feature of the program.

The Auditorium rang with applause when announcement of the judge's decision revealed that the Town Girls were awarded the cup for their presentation of "Orphan Annie." The purpose of this skit was to prove that a spirit of friendship and cooperation existed between the town girls and the "back" girls. The theme of the town girls' selection appeared strongly to the audience and evidently was the deciding factor in the judge's decision.

The Alpha Delta Phi impressed the audience by their surprising and ingenious acrobatic stunts, in their turn. The Sigma Chi men in the ditty gave an illuminating view of "A Dark Subject." Indeed,

DUKE SOPHOMORE WINS VALUABLE SCOUT AWARD

Alton G. Sadler, wide Eagle Scout of the Tar Heel Boy Scout district and now a member of the sophomore class at Duke, has been chosen as one of the four Boy Scouts at large over the nation as one of the recipients of the Harmon Foundation Scout Scholarship award.

Announcement of the selection of the Rocky Mount youth was contained in a letter received a few days ago from James E. West, national scout head. The value of the scholarship is one hundred dollars in cash to be used to defray educational expenses. The other Scouts selected at large for the honor reside in Minnesota, Florida and North Dakota.

It was a very, very dark subject. The S. P. E. boys followed with a clever skit, "The King's Breakfast," a delicious and appetizing novelty which was also awarded honorable mention by the judges. The Kappa Delta completed the well-balanced and cleverly presented program by giving their interpretation of "Shakespeare in Modern Dress," a take-off on a scene in "The Taming of the Shrew."

INFIRMARY HAD MANY PATIENTS LAST WEEK

Since February 6 nineteen students have been confined to the college infirmary for some period during the week. Those included in this group are as follows: Tom Davis, Jr., Peter F. Cortis, A. B. Book, E. W. Atkins, A. L. Widenhouse, L. A. States, J. J. B. McFarly, H. C. Arns, William Penn, Jr., Roland Haynes, Henry Kistler, W. T. Hamlin, W. J. Wingate, J. B. Rowe, Fred Evans, Morden Buck, B. F. Slayter, Roy M. Booth, and H. L. Wise. Of this number only three are still confined to the infirmary—Fred Evans, Morden Buck, and H. L. Wise.

The number of outside patients treated during the week, that is for various minor ailments such as colds, coughs, and the like, is about one hundred and twenty-five. The amount of illness among the students last week was about the same as usual, that is, so more than the ordinary week.

BOXERS DEFEAT GEORGIA'S TEAM

Duke Mitmen Take Sweet Revenge On Innocent Visitors

Winning four of the bouts by the Judges' decision and taking another by the knockout route, the Duke university boxing team defeated the University of Georgia outfit in the Duke gym here last night. This was the second defeat the Georgians have suffered since invading North Carolina.

In the lightweight bout Carper of Duke put the K. O. to Mitchell of Georgia in thirty seconds. Carper was out weighed by several pounds and Mitchell had the reach on him, but the Duke fighter displayed a fast and hard punch which floored the heavy Georgia opponent.

St. Amand, heavyweight of Duke, showed great skill and fast work against Kemp, of Georgia, and out-pointed the Bulldog throughout the three rounds. Mildard Warren, brother of the famous old Warren easily disposed of Shensky, Georgia pug.

Summary:
115-pound class: St. Amand, Duke, Judges' decision over Kemp, Georgia.

125-class: Jester, Georgia, Judges' decision over Max, Duke.

135-class: Smith, Duke, Judges' decision over Patrick, Georgia.

SCOTCHMEN SUPPORT MAY QUEEN CANDIDATE

Brotherhood of Scots Nominate Harry Bivens for Campus Honor; Is Defeated

A dark horse was defeated in yesterday's May Queen election. After much discussion as to the merits of "Slippy" Kirkpatrick and Harry Lee Bivens, the Brotherhood of Scots unanimously decided to support Miss Bivens as its candidate for the nationally known and justly famous honor of May Queen.

This action was taken from a purely economic standpoint and was the result of much sober thought. The Scotchmen felt it their duty to consider the economic as well as the social interest of the institution in such a vital matter.

The reasons for this act were that the order found that as Miss Bivens possessed such a Venus-like form, it would have taken exactly nine and one-quarter inches less material for her than for any other candidate. The Brotherhood also found that its illustrious beauty preferred a corsage of dandelions to one of roses, a train of shaggy dogs to one of beautiful women, a trossess of chrysanthemums to one of silk, a crown of thorns to one of gold, and a plain oak throne, or a flag-pole, to one of richest mahogany.

The Sisterhood of Scots Ladies agreed to support Miss Bivens for the honor, due to her social standing, moral uprightness, and beauty.

The petition was signed by the Loyal Order of Scotchmen.

CAMPUS BEAUTIFYING PROJECTS CONTINUE

More Than Million Squares of Grass Will Be Required to Sod the University Lawns

Dean Hunt is still very busy beautifying the campus. At the present grass is being planted. This grass is taken from the outskirts of the city, in blocks one foot square and an inch thick. Seven laborers and two trucks under the supervision of Mr. Hunt are being used for this work. One hundred blocks are hauled a load, and about 40 loads are hauled a day.

One hundred and forty-seven thousand cloths are required to sod one acre of land, and about 1,000,000 are going to be used. This will be a total of about 3,000,000 pounds of dirt and grass added to the campus.

Several of Duke's former or future stock farmers have calculated that a year's crop of this grass would be enough to adequately feed 250 cattle for one year. One of our embryo engineers has figured out that if these blocks were placed end to end in a straight line they would reach 189.7 miles, or the equivalent of almost two round trips to Greensboro.

KNIGHT OF BROOM HAS SERVED LONG

George Wall Claims to Have Been Janitor For Forty-Five Years; Still Going Strong

George Wall, Negro janitor, claims the distinction of being Duke's oldest servant. In fact, if medals were awarded for distinguished janitor service, George Wall would possess more than he could well wear, for he has served this institution for more than 45 years—and is still going.

George does not know exactly how old he is. He says "they say" he is 68, but he appears to be well beyond the three score and ten milestone. He is certain, however, that he was born in Randolph county, North Carolina, before the Civil War. His father, who was a slave, was sent to war and was never heard of again.

The veteran janitor began his life work at old Trinity, Randolph county in his early twenties. By 1892 he had become so attached to the institution that he followed it to Durham. George has served as janitor on this campus for 35 years.

Although George's memory is waning, he remembers Dr. Braxton Craven, early Trinity College president. For years it was President Craven's duty to awak-

NUMBER OF STUDENTS ON HONOR ROLL LARGE

Young Women Make Good Scholarship Records at North Carolina College for Women

Greensboro, Feb. 15 (CP).—Miss Mary Taylor Moore, register of N. C. College for Women, reported that 102 students, about one-fifth the total population, have their names on the honor list for the first semester of the year 1927-28, because of the excellence of the work done during that semester. No student who averaged below a two is named on the honor roll.

The count of honor students according to classes is as follows: freshmen, 22; sophomores, 36; juniors, 42; seniors, 59; one graduate and two special students are also on the list. Five of these have the special honor of making no grade lower than one, the highest given. Three of these five are seniors and two are sophomores.

The number of collegians on this semester honor roll is somewhat larger than was on that of the last semester for the year 1926-27. Last year the count of the classes ran: freshmen, 22; sophomores, 32; juniors, 40; seniors, 50, and one special, totaling 145 to this year's 162.

FRESHMEN SWAMP U. N. C. TAR BABIES

From Start to Finish Blue Imps Lead the Way

The Blue Imps of Duke, playing in their last form of the season, had a trouble during the Carolina Tar Babies in a well played game, preliminary to the Carolina-Duke varsity contest Saturday night in the Memorial Gym. The score was 44 to 30.

The Blue Imps had the upper hand throughout the contest. High score man of the evening was Jerry Station, Duke substitute, who was sent in the early part of the game. Edwards and Brown were high scorers for the Tar Babies with seven points each.

The Duke Freshmen started with a rack and piled up a lead of nine points before the Carolina Babies registered their first goal. The entire Imp quiet played an aggressive and snappy game with Rogers and Croson being the outstanding performers. George Rogers, forward, rang up ten points to his credit, while the long Mr. Croson was instrumental in checking the Carolina fresh from scoring time and time again with his excellent guarding.

Line-up: Carolina (20) Duke (44)
Neiman (4) Crouch (3)
Right Forward Rogers (10)
Left Forward Croson (2)
Center Schlosbach (9)

Brown (7) Right Guard Hayes (6)

Substitutions: Carolina: Hart, Crouch (2), Sims, Duke: Dorey, Alford, Murray, Station (45), Whitelaw (2).

DEVIL FISH MEET DEFEAT BY W. & L.

First Inter-Collegiate Meet Ever Held in Local Pool

The Duke university fishes opened the 1928 swimming season by giving the Washington and Lee fish a hard battle, and losing to them by a close score. The Devil fishes showed up very well in the first inter-collegiate meet ever held in the Duke pool, and their fine showing means a great wealth of material at this school that will develop as this sport has time to get adjusted at this institution and begin to play sport along with the rest of the sporting events.

This final meet drew a large crowd which was amply repaid by the beautiful diving done by men of both teams and by the splendid showing made by the Earhardt brothers. Fred Earhardt, captain of the Duke team, placed first in the 100 yard back stroke and at the same time setting a new pool record of 1 minute 15 seconds for the sprint.

Due to a strict rule, Duke lost the relay race. Each contestant must be tapped on the leg before he can start and it seems in this race one of the Duke men made a default, thereby losing a race that they had unofficially won.

Summary: 50 yards, free style, Earhardt, Duke, first; Farrell and Fengerhede, both W. and L., second and third, time 26.2.

100 yards, back stroke: Mofeat and Cook, both W. and L., first and second; Alford, Duke, third, time 1:17.5.

Diving: Smith, W. and L., first; Gibson Duke, second, Comer, Duke third.

200 yards, free style: Smith and Swink, both W. and L., first and second; Derickson, Duke, third, time 2:45.8.

100 yards, breast stroke: Earhardt, Duke, first; Reis, W. and L., second; Strayhorn, W. and L., third, time 1:35.2.

100 yards, free style: Earhardt, Duke, first; Mofeat, W. and L., second; Bravley, Duke third, time 1:01.5.

220-yard relay: Washington and Lee, time 1:04.4. Duke disqualified and race given W. and L.

Blue Imp Five To Meet Wild Kittens

Friday night at 7:30 in the Memorial Gymnasium the Blue Imps twice victors over the Carolina Tar Babies, will meet the Davidson Wild Kittens. The Fresh are in a fair way to win the championship and Davidson reportedly has a strong team; so, a large crowd is expected to attend the contest.

BLUE DEVILS GO GOOD IN VIRGINIA

Wins Turned In Over V. P. I. and W. & L. Generals Last Week

Duke's famous midwest basketball team invaded the Sore Back state last week, and incidentally returned with two victories under their belt. On Tuesday night they played the Gobbles. The V. P. I. Cadets lost by 31 points, the final score being 34 to 3. Buchert's finesse had little or no trouble winning from the cadets; the final score was a fair showing of the exceptionally fine playing that the Devils displayed. Cummings and Farley, the two smallest players on the Duke team, tied for high scoring honors when they each made ten points. This game was a good work out for the Duketers, getting the stiffness from their travel off, and it certainly worked wonders as the Devils ran wild in their game on the following night, Wednesday.

On the Wednesday game at Washington and Lee the Devils easily defeated them with a score of 33 to 41. At no time during the encounter were the Devils in danger, they leading in score from the first whistle till the final one. Werber, Duke forward, was entirely too good for the Generals, piling up a total of 22 points with little or no trouble. These two games not only showed the great strength of the Duke men but also showed that they are only a short way from being tri-state champions. To date they are tri-state runners-up in the North Carolina U. In South Carolina the Devils are rated highly having showed under the Gamcocks. In Georgia the Duke men are divided after having won out the Georgia Bull Dogs, and Virginia has only to look back to the splendid exhibition put up last week.

PHYSICS CLUB PROGRAMS TO BE MORE ATTRACTIVE

The Physics club, one of the oldest organizations at Duke, under the leadership of H. W. Heins, its president, is now making plans to make its monthly meetings more attractive and interesting to its members.

Implementing this new policy, a social has been planned for Friday night, Feb. 17. Efforts are being made to secure moving pictures for the occasion which will be interesting to the feminine guests of the club, and at the same time be of a scientific nature. It is planned to have the social in the Auditorium.

President Heins explained that in the past the programs of the club have been rather too technical to attract all of the members. On account of this lack of interest shown by some of the less learned members, the adoption of a new policy was thought advisable. Slight modification of the usual meetings, it is thought, will provide both entertainment and instruction.

At the present the Physics Club has eighteen members with about thirty or more students applying for admission. Meetings of the club are held once a month in the Physics building.

PRESIDENT FIVE RETURNS FROM EDUCATORS' MEET

President William F. Few returned on Saturday from Memphis, Tenn., where he addressed the sixth meeting of the Educational Association of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Dr. Few's trip was "The Gifted Student and the American College" in which he sought to point out the special needs of the talented student.

CAROLINA BEATS D. U. BASKETEERS

U. N. C. Cinches State Title By Win Over Fighting Blue Devils

The University of North Carolina got clear title to the state basketball championship last Saturday night when they defeated the Devil Basketeers for the second time this season, the final whistle catching U. N. C. with 32 markers while the Devils had scored 25. The smooth working Tar Heels were a little too good for the Duke youngsters. They were too good if we count height goodness, for all of the Tar Heels were entirely too tall for the Duke midgets. This seemed to be Carolina's chief advantage as the Duke men could not get the tip-off. So far as stirring is concerned the Devils had it all over the Tar Heels, but Turner was too tall for Werber and it was useless for him to try to get it.

DUKE GRAPPLERS OUTCLASP U. N. C.

Blue Devils Nearly White-Wash Carolina Matmen.

Last Saturday night, while the Duke Basketeers were dividing the basketball program with Carolina in Memorial Gymnasium, the Duke grapplers were over at Chapel Hill swamping the Carolina mat artists by the score of 24 to 9. Duke won six of the seven matches, three by falls and three by time decisions. Throughout the meet, Duke showed superiority in strength, speed and aggressiveness. This decision victory is especially outstanding when one remembers that Carolina won the state championship last year.

Hank Culp successfully defended his southern championship by winning over Houghton by a fall in six minutes and forty-five seconds. Houghton put up a game fight but he was no match for the heavier and stronger Duke man.

Cole of Duke, in the 128 pound class, also pinned his man. This was the shortest match of the evening. It took Cole only three minutes and thirty-two seconds to put Albano's shoulders to the mat.

Applewhite, in the 112 pound class, was the other Duke man that won by a fall. He threw Moore of Carolina in eight minutes and thirty-two seconds. Moore was on the defensive throughout the match trying to prevent being thrown but Applewhite was too strong for him. The three other matches that Duke won were gained by time decisions. Jones won over Twiford in the slowest match of the evening. Twiford prevented being thrown by running off the mat every time he was caught hold of. Starnes, of Duke, in the 135 pound class, won a compass bout over Wood of Carolina. The match was close, but Starnes gained a two minute and thirty-five second time advantage. Goode won over Thompson also by time advantage.

The closest match of the evening was Warren of Duke and Abbott of Carolina. Abbott won time advantage of one minute and thirty-five seconds after a hard struggle.

Summary: 115 pound class: Applewhite, Duke, pinned D. Moore, Carolina.

125 pound class: Goode, Duke, got time advantage over Thompson, Carolina.

MITMEN LOSE TO TAR HEEL TEAM

Duke Men Lose By Close Judges' Decision in Meet Here

The Blue Devil Mitmen lost to the Carolina Tar-heelers in the second match of the season between the two teams. Saint Annand, scrappy Blue Devil 115 pound class man was a judge decision over Coley of Carolina. This was the only match won by the Devils, Smith, Carper, and Warren, other Devil fighters lost on decisions, but the opinion of the crowd seemed to be that all of these men should have had their fights. Conmings of Carolina won on a technical knockout over Hardaway of Duke. The 112 pound bout was very slow, both men taking the defensive. In the unlimbited class, Hank Culp lost by a judges decision to Shurford of Carolina after putting up a mighty pretty fight and standing a lot of punishment.

Summary: 115 pound class—W. Annand (D) decision over Coley (C). Extra round.

125 pound class—Cummings (C) technical K.O. over Hardaway (D).

135 pound class—Allen (C) decision over Smith (D).

145 pound class—Captain Butler (C) decision over Warren (D).

158 pound class—Brown (C) decision over Carper (D), extra round.

175 pound class—Sapp (C) decision over Rankin (D).

Unlimited Weight—Shurford (C) decision over Culp (D).

Referee: Dorman (State). Judges: Reas and Johnson. Length of bouts: three 3 minute rounds.

135 pound class: Starnes, Duke, got time advantage over Wood, Carolina.

135 pound class: Abbott, Carolina, got time advantage over Warren, Duke.

135 pound class: Cole, Duke, pinned Albano, Carolina, in three minutes.

175 pound class: Goode, Duke, got time advantage over Twiford, Carolina.

Unlimited weight: Captain Culp, Duke, pinned Houghton, Carolina in six minutes.

TRACK MEN'S 1928 SCHEDULE FIXED

Runnersup in 1927 State Meet Have Shift Schedule

The Blue Devil tracksters will start their 1928 season on March 30, taking on as their first opponents the team from over at the "Hill." The Devils had a hard luck season last year in the meet with Carolina, losing by a margin of one point. Press-room reports indicate that there will be a different tale to tell on the night of March 30th this year as the Dukemen have been sending out some encouraging reports.

Each Duke's proteges are breaking into the big time circuits this year. The Devil relay team being entered in the North and Southern relays which are sponsored by the University of Pennsylvania and Georgia Tech, respectively. In addition to these meets, the Devils are entering the South Atlantic meet at Richmond, Va., on the 12th of May. They will enter dual meets with the University of North Carolina, N. C. State, and Davidson, and will take part in the State meet in Greensboro on May 4th and 5th.

Last year in this State meet the Devils had a run-of hard luck, but even in the face of that they took second place. It is expected that they will push up around first place this year and bring back all the honors with them from this meet.

Dad Revin, last year's star sprinter, duck, and hurdle man is captaining the 1928 edition of the Blue Devil tracksters. He is considered to be one of the outstanding men in his events in the state.

The schedule is: March 30th, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

March 31st, Washington and Lee at Durham.

April 1st, Georgia Tech Relays at Atlanta.

April 23rd, North Carolina State at Durham.

April 28th, Penn Relays at Philadelphia, Pa.

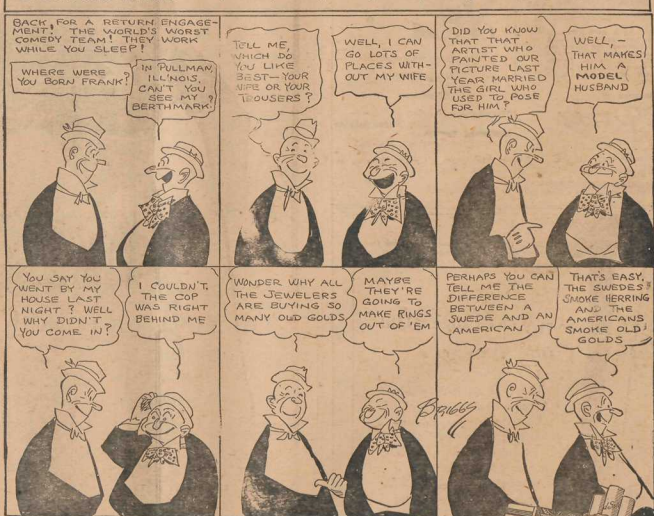

May 4-5, State Meet at Greensboro.

May 12th, South Atlantic Meet at Richmond, Va.

The "Beenary" an old, Park school landmark, has been razed. The University officials considered the old house an ever-threatening fire hazard endangering Branson hall and the old Lanier building. The "Beenary" was formerly a famous boarding house.

CAROLINA BEATS D. U. BASKETEERS

the tip-off with such a great disadvantage.

Carolina's passing game was also a great factor in their win, the Dukes not having a hard time to get possession of the ball. However when the Devils did get possession of the ball it was hard on Carolina as the ball always found the basket which meant two more points for the Devils. Col. Candler, Duke substitute for Captain Kitch, who has been on the Virginia trip was second high scorer of the evening. Hackney, of Carolina was one count ahead of Candler to be high man of the encounter.

Duke was a few points behind through out the affair except for a few moments when the score was 9 all. It seems now that the Devils could not force ahead as every time the Dukes would get a marker the Tar Heels would do likewise, and this was continued during the entire game. The whistle at half time saw the Tar Heels leading with the long end of a 17 to 11 count.

The second half was as much a jinx to the Devils as the first as in this half the Tar Heels were just as lucky or just as superior, and Duke's chances at this years championship were thrown to the winds when the gun came off the exciting game giving the tightly packed audience their first breath of fresh air as well as the first comfortable moment since the beginning of the game.

I have smoked Edgeworth for twenty-one years and will soon start on the twenty-second.

I'll admit to having tried other brands, including the famed high-class, high-priced blends and mixtures, enough to appreciate and satisfy myself of the superiority of Edgeworth. In all these years I have never had one can of Edgeworth that varied in favor or otherwise.

Quadrangle Pictures

The moving picture which are shown at the Duke auditorium every Tuesday and Friday night under the auspices of the university officials and the Y. M. C. A. will henceforth be known as the Quadrangle Pictures, Ray Carpenter, president of the Y. M. C. A., stated last night. The name is to apply only to the movies and not to the auditions.

On Friday night "Devil Horse" starring the famous pale stallion, Rex, will be shown as the first officially named Quadrangle picture. Rex is one of the most famous of moving picture animals. Several years ago a Pelic man bought Rex from a group of Westerners who were about to kill the horse because of its unusual wildness. After much time and money had been spent on his training Rex was finally developed into the best cinema-quadrangle artist. "Devil Horse" is a thrilling story depicting the fiery black horse in all his wildness and desert glory.

"Metropolis" is the well known picture booked for showing here Tuesday. It is an interesting German picture directed by Fritz Lang. "Metropolis" is an UFA production and a Paramount picture.

WORLD MISSIONS TO BE DISCUSSED

one hundred and twenty-five delegates, representing more than twenty-five institutions have already registered and registrations are still coming in.

On Saturday evening, February 19, the Y. M. C. and Y. W. C. A. of Duke University will present a one-act play, "The Color Line," in the University Auditorium. This play was written by Irene Taylor MacNair, a former missionary to the Orient. She served for six years as the principal of the Nan girls' school in the heart of Siam, five days by horse or elephant from the nearest railroad. This one-act play reveals in a vivid manner one of the problems of present day China. Out of her own experience and deep conviction the young author speaks to us of the race problem and its relation to a vital Christianity.

"The Color Line" was presented for the first time in Detroit in December where it ran for three days as a part of the program of the Student Volunteer Convention. The play aroused a great deal of comment and discussion among the three thousand or more delegates who attended the Detroit Convention. It is being presented in Durham as a part of the Annual N. C. Student Volunteer Conference which will be in session at Duke, February 17-19.

the best musical directors in the South praised the Duke club very highly also. There were many other compliments of the student extended and the audience itself declared its high approval with repeated ovations.

The trip was very successful. Mr. Barnes has had charge of the local club only one year and his accomplishments are most wonderful. In this short period of time he has literally put Duke on the map in the musical sense. Due credit, however, must be allotted to the personnel of the club itself. Mr. Barnes expressed his appreciation for its loyalty and faithfulness and the gratifying manner with which it has responded to training.

Bruce Alexander, the student director who had charge of the club in the contest, was especially commended by Mr. Barnes. Bruce has had only a few months experience in such capacity but he handled the club with almost the ease and accomplishment of a veteran. Mr. Barnes expects to enter his club in the same contest next year and doubtless with added training and experience, even more gratifying results will be obtained.

Quality sent P.A. to the head of the class

YEARS ago, P.A. showed a clean pair of heels to the field of smoking-tobaccos. It has maintained its lead ever since putting more distance behind it every year. There must be a reason why P.A. is the world's largest-selling brand.

There is! Open a tidy red tin and get a full breath of that class-by-itself fragrance. Then tamp a load into the bowl of your pipe and light up. The first pull tells you why more men smoke P.A. than any other brand. Cool and smooth and mellow and mild—not for one pipe-load, but always. Try this long-burning tobacco, Fellows. You'll say so!
