RADIO WAVE TESTS ARE MADE BY DUKE FELLOWDepartment of Physics Helps
Government to Secure Valuable
Information

The Bureau of Standards is at present conducting investigations in long wave transmission, in charge of which is Dr. H. L. Austin, probably the leading expert in America in the work of radio wave transmission.

In the spring of 1928 the Bureau of Standards called Professor C. W. Edwards of the Duke University to assist in making a comparison of the strength of the city of Durham due to transmission stations in America and on the continent of Europe.

This investigation involves a study of the attitude of the so-called Heaviside reflecting layer, which plays such an important role in clear transmission. This experimental work was assigned to J. C. Beaman, fellow in physics at Duke, under the direction of Professor Edwards.

A considerable amount of new apparatus had to be developed in setting up the experiment. The Bureau of Standards has furnished a large quantity of expensive equipment which the strength of signals may be automatically recorded at very brief intervals throughout the day.

These strong signals are recorded from most all of the stations of the world. The Duke station exchanges the daily record with the Bureau, and a careful study is being made of them. Already important information has been secured and it is hoped to be presented to the International radio congress, which will be held at Washington, D. C. in May.

DUKE TRACK MEN
MEET TAR HEELSBoth Teams Have Several Stars
Who Have Great Track
Possibilities

State track fans are looking forward to the Duke-Carolina meet which will be held on Thome field next Wednesday. In the past, this meet has brought forth outstanding performances and many records have been broken in its progress.

Some of the most outstanding track stars in the southern conference will give a demonstration of their prowess, and it is expected that several records will be broken. For the past three years, Duke and Carolina have had a hard fight for state honors with Carolina carrying the margin of victory. This year there will be another close race for honors with Duke College also holding a favorable position.

Duke's best events are the distance runs, the jumps, and the weight events. Alverth, Woodard, Dancy, and Simons, who broke the southern four-mile relay record at Atlanta last Wednesday, will hold the foremost position in the events from the half-mile on up. Carolina's stars in this department are Henderson, Brown and Sims. In the weights, Duke holds preference in the shot-put and the javelin, while Carolina will not do like the discus event. Harper of Carolina recently made the platter 135 feet, which is above the state record. Dumson and Ashton do the discus in good style as well as put the shot. Two sophomores, Turner, of Duke, and Nelson, of Carolina, are about evenly matched in the pole-vault, but going well over eleven feet. Turner defeated his opponent last year in the freshman meet which gives him a slight edge. Duke will have Pettrell and Freeman in the high and broad jumps and Roberts in the high jump. The Tar Heel jumpers are Nelson, Bagley and Sandifer. All these boys know their stuff and are about evenly matched. The ones who can grant the most identifiably will probably win out.

The next event on Duke's schedule is the Penn Relays which will be held in Philadelphia April 26 and 27. Duke will send several of her stars to enter the big time events. The four-mile relay team will no doubt make a good showing.

Ruth W. Morris has been teaching in a mission school in Brazil for the past three years. Her address is Colégio Piracicabano, Piracicaba, Estado de São Paulo, Brazil.

John E. Abernethy has been an instructor in Mathematics at the University of North Carolina for several years. He has been in the doing research in applied Mathematics at Houghale & Sims, care of South Reef, Copenhagen, Denmark.

George V. Allen is studying International Law at Harvard. His address is 50 Perkins Hall, Cambridge, Massachusetts.

Rev. and Mrs. M. L. Gier (Dorothy Kano) are located at Clatter, North Carolina where Gier is pastor of the Methodist church.

COUNCIL PREPARES SCHEDULE OF FINE ENTERTAINMENTS

Plans to Bring to Duke University Some of Foremost Attractions of Today

HAS A SPECTACULAR FEATURE

Entertainments Council Composed of Representatives from Faculty, Student Body, and Women's Club; Paul Whitman May Come Here Next Year on Entertainments Program

Plans are now under way for the purpose of bringing to Duke University during the coming year some of the foremost entertainments available in America. It is hoped that two such attractions as the Cincinnati symphony orchestra and Paul Whitman's orchestra will come here each season during the coming year. The Public Lectures committee plans to have on the entertainments program several other attractive features.

The programs are dependent on the sale of a sufficiently large number of tickets to Duke students and faculty members to attract the necessary funds for getting the attractions here. It is hoped that when the students, juniors, sophomores sign course cards each spring they may also sign for entertainment tickets if they so desire. Tickets will be paid for at the beginning of school next fall, and they will be good for one semester. The student price will be two and one-half or three dollars.

The work of arranging entertainments for the university community is in the hands of the Entertainments Council which is composed of faculty and student representatives on the Public Lectures committee and of representatives of the Women's Club. The members of the Council are Dr. W. H. Bussanaker, chairman, Dr. Frank C. Howe, Dr. Clement Veltner, Dr. J. O. Bostwick, Dr. R. B. Kinsinger, Mrs. W. H. P. Fawcett, Mrs. E. B. Johnson, Mrs. M. C. Fawcett, Mrs. H. B. Gorman, Miss Alice M. Baldwin, Dr. H. C. Sprunt, Thornton, Norman Hoffman, Mrs. A. Savage, Russell Harris, Albert Brundage, J. H. Harrison, and Nicholas Owen.

According to a statement given out recently by Dr. Wussanaker a committee of the council is now preparing a tentative program of entertainments for next year. Some definite projects are probably by now before the student body in the near future.

FRESHMAN CLASS WILL HAVE PARTY SATURDAY

Girls Are to Come to Party Without the Usual Escorts; Refreshments to be Served

The freshman class will hold a big party for all members in the recreation room of Dormitory No. 1 on Saturday evening at eight o'clock. This party is one of the series of social events planned by the officers of the class for the entertainment of the yearlings this spring. Considerable interest has been expressed among the membership by the plan of the officers to have all Southerners girls attend the party without being escorted by their respective "big friends". In this departure from the customary procedure in such matters, the officers hope to see eventually a more active participation as the part of a greater number of girls in the social life of the campus. It is hoped that this will break the ice, and that in the future the young ladies will not attend their usual retirement at attending parties unaccompanied.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA WINS STUNT PRIZE WITH CLEVER SKIT

Pi Kappa Alpha Takes Second Place in Affair Sponsored by Beta Omega Sigma

PLAY TAKEN FROM OPERA

Sigma Phi Epsilon Awarded Third Place with a Representation of a Night Club; Professors Greene, LeSourd, and Gregory are Judge for Fair Which is Well Attended

The Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity won the best play given by the Beta Omega Sigma fraternity in the annual stunt night event last Monday. The Pi Kappa Alpha took second place, and the Sigma Phi Epsilon chapter took third place.

The R.O.S. stunt night was the great success of its kind ever held on the Duke campus. Even though the weather was unfavorable, the attendance was good with a large crowd to see the fraturation parties in the stands.

The Lambda Chi Alpha presented a play taken from the opera "Alto." Judging from the play, the production was a real success. The play was a comedy, but he had a standing army of comedians in all styles of clothes. Only by constant practice could such a play have been so good.

The Sigma Phi Epsilon gave a regular stunt night in four acts. Bill Parling acted as a ventriloquist. Among Johnson, dressed as a comedian, presented a wonderful scene with interruption from the audience. The "I. O. U. Brotherhood" paid a debt with one dollar. Given below, the best individual scenes of the evening and "Dance South and Her Abandoning Baiting," was dressed as a dancer dancing and singing "Mambo." The play was well received by the audience. It was accompanied by a male chorus girls.

Sigma Phi Epsilon gave a "Night Club" play. The play was a comedy. "Shanty" Mitchell was a wonderful scene at the stage. The play was well received by the audience. It was accompanied by a male chorus girls.

Lucas, Albert Brundage, J. H. Harrison, and Nicholas Owen.
