LOCAL ATTORNEY STRESSES NEED OF VISION AT VESPERS

Greatest Achievements of Every Field Lie Before Youth of Today

HAROLD FLOOD LEADER

Professor Malcolm McDermott Will Speak at Vespers Next Sunday

Stating that the world is a challenge to youth, Mr. William L. Flood, prominent lawyer of Durham and solicitor for the 10th judicial district, pointed out that the greatest picture has not been painted, the greatest bridge has not yet been built, and, in fact, the greatest achievements of every field lie before and await the youth of today.

While this is true, it is likewise true that this age is an age of skepticism and an age in which the youth of today is faced with the greatest challenges of their lives. He stated that there were many opportunities in this age, and that if one would achieve success, he must have the vision to conceive a great idea. This vision is not only knowledge, but it is the power to see the importance of life, which is spiritual, and therefore eternal. It was shown that every great achievement began as a dream, and that it was the vision of the man who performed the task. The necessity of pointing ahead, of visioning an ideal, a goal was brought out very forcefully.

"The second thing which is necessary for the youth of today is the possession of the strength to support the dream," said the speaker. He pointed out that this is a time when the youth of today is faced with the greatest challenges of their lives, and that if one would achieve success, he must have the vision to conceive a great idea. This vision is not only knowledge, but it is the power to see the importance of life, which is spiritual, and therefore eternal. It was shown that every great achievement began as a dream, and that it was the vision of the man who performed the task. The necessity of pointing ahead, of visioning an ideal, a goal was brought out very forcefully.

MEETING HELD BY MINISTERIAL CLUB

Roth, Carriger, and Flood Speak on Faith, Hope, and Charity

The undergraduate ministerial association held its regular weekly meeting last Friday night in York Chapel. Harold B. Wright, the club president, presided over the meeting. The devotion was under the direction of Charles Hackney. The association quartet, composed of J. B. Dalley, James Phillips, W. C. Caldwell and Tom Carriger, sang one number. There was also a vocal duet by Mr. Phillips and Mr. Daley.

The theme of the service was taken from the 13th chapter of 1st Corinthians, and had to do with the three elements: faith, hope, and love. Ralph Roth spoke of the first of these, urging the members to have faith in their friends and fellow students, and above all, in God, and showing the tremendous importance of faith in our life. Tom Carriger then spoke on Hope, and showed the great value of a hope in good things for the future. Harold Flood, speaking of love, pointed out that the love for which we should strive is the love which will make us like Christ, and enable us to put ourselves in the place of others, which would eliminate much criticism of the actions and conduct of other people. It was pointed out that the only way to have the kind of love which Christ had was to follow Him in such a way that other folks can see Him in our lives.

The next meeting of the association will take place at 8:00 p. m. this Friday evening in York Chapel. At this meeting the program will be in charge of one-half of the new members, and the other half will have charge on the following Friday.

PROGRAM OF LECTURES SUGGESTED FOR FRATS

At the meeting of the Pan-Hellenic council last Wednesday evening, William Farthing, president of the Y. M. C. A., proposed a program of lectures to take place in the chapter rooms of the various fraternities on the campus.

The Y. M. C. A. will have speakers from among the faculty available throughout the school year and each fraternity may select from time to time any professor desired, to come to their chapter room and speak on a topic of interest to the group.

The plan was heartily received with the hope that it will prove beneficial to many.

SOPHOMORES IN FIRST MEETING UNDER NEW OFFICIALS

The sophomore class meeting of October 8th was opened by the installation of the officers for the following year by the former president, Nick Laney. Mr. Williams, the new president, introduced Vice-President Rosseter and Secretary Shaddock to the members of the class.

A brief business meeting concerning the social activities and the dues of the members was held.

Dean Wammamaker, the class adviser, gave a brief outline of the work done last year, the present work before them, and the great necessity for social activities in the student's life.

Hamilton to Speak to Graduate Club

Professor Earl J. Hamilton, who has just returned from a two-year stay in Spain, will speak on "The New Republic in Old Spain" before the Graduate club at its meeting on Thursday evening, October 8, at 7:30 o'clock, in Page auditorium, Room 102.

This will be the first meeting of the present school year and a large attendance is expected. The public is invited to attend.

The registration at Colgate is reported at 909, one less than the maximum number allowed.

Novel Facts And Figures On New Chapel Divulged

Exterior Work is Practically Complete Except for Tower; Carillon Bells Will Be Installed Soon; To Be of Tremendous Size and Beautiful Tone

A large number of interesting facts and figures were obtained recently by a tour of the new chapel. The great size of the building may be learned by its dimensions. The chapel will be 300 feet long, 120 feet wide, which includes the nave and transepts, and the tower will rise to a height of 204½ feet.

The exterior work of the chapel is complete except for the finishing of the tower, which is expected to be completed by November 15. The new tower will contain a carillon of 42 bells—the largest of which weighs 11,200 pounds and has a diameter of 5 feet 9 inches. The bells will be played by an electric keyboard and in beauty of tone will rival the great 104-ton carillon of Florida.

The bells will enter the building by means of the tower windows and will be supported by steel girders and columns. The chapel will have the highest tower in the state. It is estimated that it, when completed, may be seen from any point within a radius of 25 miles.

LOCAL BAND PERFORMS DURING GAME SATURDAY

The Duke band performed in the style Saturday at the first home game of the season. Marching and maneuvering with mid-season precision, the band did much to add zest and color to Wade's home debut and the alumni homecoming.

The musicians gave a short exhibition of marching at the half. After this the letters "Y, M, I" and "D, U" were formed with the playing of the respective school songs.

The registration at Colgate is reported at 909, one less than the maximum number allowed.

FORMER EDITOR VISITS THE CHRONICLE OFFICE

William H. Lander, A.B. '28, '29, editor of the Cynosura in 1922-23, visited the campus after an absence of four years, during which time he has been stationed with the United Press bureau at Rio de Janeiro and Madrid.

Before going abroad Lander served in the United Press office at New York and Pittsburgh for three years.

Lander, who directed the destinies of the publication nine years ago, saw a great contrast in the university then and now. During his day the work of publishing the weekly was carried on in his own room.

"That bully old slogan hits me just right—

...no bamboozlin' about that!"

SURE! When a word fits, you know it! "Satisfy" just fits CHESTERFIELD. A smoker picks up a package, and he likes its neat appearance — no heavy inks or odors from ink. That satisfies him.

Then he examines a Chesterfield. It is well-lit; it is neat in appearance; the paper is pure white. And that satisfies him.

He lights up. At the very first puff he likes the flavor and the rich aroma. He decides that it tastes better—neither raw nor over-sweet; just pleasing and satisfying.

Then he learns it is milder. That's another way of saying that there is nothing irritating about it. And again he's satisfied!

Satisfy—they've got to satisfy! The right tobaccos, the CHESTERFIELD kind, cured and aged, blended and cross-blended, to a taste that's right. Everything that goes into CHESTERFIELD is the best that money can buy and that science knows about. CHESTERFIELDS do a complete job of it. They Satisfy!

Chemistry Building Tour Reveals Rare Equipment

Recently Completed Structure is Most Modern of its Kind in South; Will Furnish Exceptional Opportunity for Chemical Research

A notable contribution to the southern quadrangle has come with the completion of the new chemistry building, which bids fair to become a very cherished spot to students in the study of medical science and an amazing piece of architecture both from symmetry of design and imposing creation. Set in the midst of the science group this final piece of architecture closely resembles those buildings nearby and fits into the general scheme of things. Interested in the advancement of science, the new plant is equipped with four floors and a wealth of laboratory instruments. The very last word in modern chemical machinery is available to men of this school. Being endowed with an eye for usefulness as well as beauty the latest additions stand out as unique for its kind.

Starting with the basement, there is an operating room for the material used in conducting extensive research. It is also in these quarters is a storage battery arrangement whereby two currents, direct and alternating, are to be had when needed; store (recreation) machine shop refrigeration room glass blowing facilities and research laboratories comprising the other convenience to be found on this floor. Elevator service starting here and running to the top of the building is another feature.

Entering the building from the main entrance on the first floor one is ushered into a lobby leading off from which are the various halls, the laboratories in comfortable classrooms and studies. Immediately to the rear of this lobby is located the main lecture hall, which is equipped with a seating capacity of 275 students. Freshmen work mostly is carried on in the four laboratories situated here. One hundred and twenty are taken care of in each laboratory by a series of desks, about which five may group themselves.

On the second floor, the analytic and physical chemistry divisions are found. In the front of them is a large library, though it is not now complete, will eventually be so. Adjacent to these laboratories are balance rooms which might at any time be cleared for experimentation. Equipment on both the second and third floors are air, hot and cold water, vacuum, direct and alternating current, steam and gas service. To serve as a resistant to heat and corrosion, a special stone top for the desks is used.

On the third floor is the organic chemistry departments. Because of danger from explosions and fire which are liable to occur at any moment in the course of experiments, hoods with seven wire glass coverings have been provided to prevent serious injuries. Research room, stock room, a first-aid room and shower for careless students who might catch fire—all these make up arrangements on the third floor.

The building as a whole is wonderfully and logically arranged, having a floor area of 47,000 square feet and 25 double research rooms. A roof over the main auditorium and a bay window effect seem to be an architectural flourish in the Gothic fashion. In the future two laboratories which are now definitely designed and equipped for special procedure may undergo changes while vacant rooms at the present will serve later as low temperature rooms, photographic rooms, gas analysis rooms, combustion, bomb and animal rooms and a special room equipped for X-ray and photochemical research.

Electric devices of the most delicate kind have been installed in each room. Likewise all rooms are mechanically ventilated so that poisonous fumes can be quickly liberated from the building.

RHODES SCHOLARS TO BE NAMED SOON

Two students will be nominated in North Carolina for the 1932 Rhodes scholarships, each providing three years of study at Oxford university, on December 3, according to Dean Wilbur C. Davison, of the Duke medical school, who is secretary of the state commission for the selection of scholars.

According to Dr. Davison, 32 scholars, each worth approximately $2,400 a year, are awarded annually in the United States. The 48 states are divided into eight groups of six states each. Competition is first carried out in each state, two candidates being selected to appear before the district committee. Four of the 12 committees appointing these committees are then chosen for the scholarships which will become effective in October, 1932.

North Carolina students are expected to make a large number of applications, which are being received either by their own college or university officials or by local agents. A meeting of the state committee will be held at Duke university on Saturday, December 5, to consider all applications.

North Carolina is included in the same district as South Carolina, Virginia, Florida, Georgia and Tennessee. Grady Pratt, a former Duke Junior, represented this state among the 32 scholars chosen last year.

DUKE DOCTORS CONDUCT SEVERAL STATE CLINICS

Members of the Duke hospital staff are constantly in demand as speakers and for conducting clinics throughout the state.

At a recent meeting of the Gaston County Medical association, of Gastonia, Dr. Christopher Johnston read a paper on "The Complications of Diabetes." Dr. Alfred B. Shanks, Duke's orthopedic specialist, in August, opened the Rotary crippled children's clinic of Rocky Mount. Dr. Shanks conducted the initial examinations and gave advice for treatment.

THREE NEW BOOKS RECENTLY ISSUED BY DUKE WRITERS

Korstin, Carroll, Rippy are Latest Authors of New Treatises Here

In addition to the recently issued book, "Seedling and Planting in the Practice of Forestry," written by James W. Tommey, of Yale, in collaboration with Clarence F. Korstin, director of Duke forest, there have been two others of value written by Dr. Carroll and Dr. Rippy of the department of history here.

"French Public Opinion and Foreign Affairs," by Dr. B. Malcom Carroll, assisted by the Century Company, has attracted much attention among students of the evolution of public opinion from 1870 to 1914. The Portland Oregonian recently reviewed the book and stated that this book in addition to treating of the effects of public opinion on public affairs, domestic and foreign, brings to light some new points of view.

Evidence is offered, this review continues, that public opinion in France was not responsible for the Franco-Prussian war and that the effect of the Emu dispatch in Paris was misinterpreted. This is a book of great timeliness. It illuminates European disposition, reveals the conflicting attitude of suspicion and distrust among European nations which exists even in spite of changes in government, shows how diplomats and the press are able to arouse public sentiment, and indicates how easily another great conflict might be kindled.

Dr. F. Fred Rippy has completed another new book, "The Capitalists and Colonists," another in the series of "Studies in American Capitalism," that has just been issued by the Vanguard Press of New York. This book is coming out at a time when a great deal of attention is being given to the study of the relations between the United States and South American countries, and undoubtedly should be read widely.

ARCHIVE STAFF IS ORGANIZED; FIRST ISSUE OCTOBER 10

Stewart is Book Review Editor; Pritchett Acts as Associate Editor

PIERCE OUTLINES PLANS

Attempts Will Be Made to Enlarge Its Field of Readers in Near Future

At the first meeting of the Archives staff held on Friday evening, September 25, at the home of Mrs. J. H. Pritchett, mental heads were appointed for the current year. Editor Orval W. Pierce announced at the same time that several new innovations will be introduced this year in an effort to break away from the former cut-and-dried appearance and contents of the magazine.

James Stewart has been chosen to organize and edit the Book Review section. The post of Associate editor is to be filled by Marshall Pritchett, Co-ed editor by Elizabeth Bollock, Alfred Williams and Elizabeth Williams. Pierce has also been elected business manager and co-ed business manager, respectively.

The new general policy of the Archives was to be to handle the contents in such a way as to enlarge its field of readers and at the same time publish a high quality of material. The contents will be made available sources. Toward this end, dramatic review and book review sections are to be added. The first issue, which will appear on October 10, will contain a survey of the most important works of the summer months. This will include Wills, Collier, Shadows of the Road, Martha Eddy Remarque's "The Road", Thomas Hardy's "Lighthouse by Sea", James Gould's "Cassius S. San Pedro", and John Pease Bishop's "Many Thousands Gone," the recent Storaker's Magazine for $5.00 prize money. The first issue will also contain an eastern North Carolina negro plantation study.

Considerable emphasis will be placed upon the artistic make-up of the magazine this year. A new and original color scheme has been planned for added attractiveness. Sketches, short stories, and essays will be studied of regional interpretations, preferably local color.

The new staff has expressed itself as being conscious of the position a literary magazine or real merit may take on the campus, and under the direction of Editor Pierce, every effort is being made to revitalize the Archives with that goal in mind.

SOCIOLOGY PROFESSOR CONTRIBUTES TO BOOK

Dr. Charles A. Ellwood Assists in Writing of "Religion in Higher Education"

In a new volume just published by the Chicago Press, entitled, "Religion in Higher Education," Dr. Charles A. Ellwood, professor of sociology at Duke, is one of the prominent contributors. This book is regarded as an important treatise in the field of sociology.

The chapter written by Dr. Ellwood is a discussion of the implications for religion of current trends in social science. It was originally read as a paper at the conference of church workers in Chicago, last January. The Duke sociologist maintains that religion finds its firmest root in ethics and that it is a fundamental part of any social science.

Among the other prominent American sociologists who contributed to the volume were: Dean Robert R. Wicks, of Princeton university; Dr. Charles W. Gilkey, of the University of Chicago; Rufus M. Jones, of Haverford college, and many others.

DUKE LIBRARY RECEIVES ADDITIONAL DONATIONS

Dartmouth College Library, Illinois State Library, and Miss Harriet Skogh are Donors

The Dartmouth college library and the Illinois State library are among the recent donors to the local law library, bringing the total of books received by donation during the last year to more than 2,200 volumes.

The shipment has just been received at the office of Mr. Harold G. Rags, assistant librarian. It consists of one hundred volumes of standard legal texts and treatises. Among these are works of such outstanding authors as Story, Chitty, Greenleaf, Coke, Sugden, Wheaton, Kent, and Wharton. According to Dr. Harlow, director of the Law school, these volumes are of great value at the present time because the Law library is building up an extensive research collection along these lines.

A considerable number of Session Laws of the state of Illinois has been received from the Illinois State Library through the courtesy of Miss Harriet M. Skogh, superintendent of the General library division.

McDougall, Returned From England, Tells Of Travels

Local Psychologist Spends Eight Months in Travel; Conclusions From Observations Expressed in New Book, Chronicle Reports; Sees Conditions Optimistically

Dr. William McDougall, internationally famous psychologist, has just returned from an eight-month stay on the British Isles. During his absence from Duke Mr. McDougall visited many of the universities of England and Scotland, lecturing at some, but for the most part observing some of the striking changes which have taken place in those universities in the last few years.

It is interesting to note, incidentally, that although Mr. McDougall, a native of Scotland and England, is one of the world's outstanding psychologists, nevertheless, his own country is far more backward and far more reluctant to branch out into the field of psychology than any of the other ranking nations of the world.

"For the most part," says Mr. Russell, "the universities of England, and as a matter of fact the entire island, have managed to keep the field of psychology closely within the general field of philosophy, so that today there is no more than a dozen professors in the British Isles who are strictly speaking, professors of psychology."

Another striking observation made by Mr. McDougall concerns the introduction of a chair of psychology at Cambridge university, the first of its kind to be introduced on the island. And, so, Mr. McDougall believes, psychology is gaining attention as an individual science in the universities of the British Isles. There are also immense developments of the science laboratories at Cambridge, particularly in the field of biology.

logical experiment and development; at Edinburgh the attempt to build many new science laboratories is also evident.

In addition to his academic observations, Mr. McDougall also made some interesting statements concerning the welfare of England and its people. He believes that as a whole, the general condition of the masses is greatly improved. Even those who are unemployed are taken care of by means of the dole system, which guarantees all men at least sufficient food to prevent starvation. Further, he stated, there are no signs of extreme poverty, for all seem to watch out for the welfare of others; if not, the government does take care, for all this has been achieved for the purpose of providing a stability in the working classes, but not without an enormous scale of government expenditures, most of which is taken directly from the treasury.

Further questioning revealed that Mr. McDougall's opinion with regard to the condition of Great Britain as compared to that of the United States is: that because of the manner in which the British government has intervened, and because most of the relief work comes indirectly from the pockets of the richer classes of people, the conditions appear to be a little better. This does not mean, however, that Great Britain has in any way escaped the unfortunate economic depression which is gripping the world today. She has merely faced the problem squarely and is thereby attempting a solution.

Villanova Brings Strong Squad Against Wademen

USES NEW ATTACK

Coached by Harry Stuhldreher, One of Rockne's Four Horsemen

IS FIRST SOUTHERN TRIP

Duke Has Won One of Previous Tilt and Villanova Has Taken One

Harry Stuhldreher, field general of Notre Dame's peerless backfield of 1924, the quartet whom Grantland Rice immortalized as "the four horsemen," makes his first excursion into the Southland as a coach this Saturday, and it is bringing to Durham against Wake Forest a powerful team, composed of a veteran line and a mighty promising backfield. After the game with the Blue Devils in the victory over the V. M. I. Cadets last week, the team will have to rise to great heights to win.

Led by Captain Eddie Koblitz, tough, rugged product of the anthracite coal fields of Pennsylvania, and including Rudy Tom Edwards, the Oklahoma giant, Mike Terry, Jim Milne, Dick Hickey, Tom Carr, Marty Geaney, and Bill Potts, the latter a youngster whom Quaker City sports writers are calling the most sensational sophomore backfield man in the Keystone state, the Wildcats are held ready for anything that Duke may offer.

Ed Hunsinger, teammate of Stuhldreher who carried the "Four Horsemen" to fame, last year was scouting the Blue Devils since the opening of the season, and Stuhldreher is leaving Philadelphia with his squad, hopeful of leading last year's record unblemished, and of giving Villanova's second victory, in three games played to date. The Wildcats have had about nothing sensational in their opening games, using only five different plays to "wipe out" Loyola 20-0, and beat twelve against Gettysburg last Saturday.

News has leaked out that Stuhldreher has revolutionized his system, and in view of the supposed power of the Devils eleven and the famed wizardry of Wade, the Villanova coach's new attack will make its debut on Saturday. The Duke starting lineup will probably be as heretofore, and Villanova will see the following new players: the Devils Carr or Connel at center, Koblitz and Milne or Connel at the guards, Edwards and Rosen or the injured Hickey at the tackles, while Terry and Vic Dellabella will fill the end posts. Toby Cavanaugh will call the signals, and he will call upon Potts, Hunsinger, and Cavanaugh to carry the ball. Tarter and Beaudine, reserve (Continued on page six)

EXHIBITION RACES FOCUS ATTENTION FOR CINDER MEET

Doxey, Woodward, and Simon May Run in Interclass Events, October 24th

MEDALS TO BE AWARDED

Distance Events Are Only Ones Omitted in Otherwise Full Track Program

Plans are being made for an interclass track meet to be held on Saturday, Oct. 24th. All competitors who wish to participate must report to Coach Tuttle at one. Medals will be given to the individual winners.

There will be twelve events including only the mile and two mile races. Plans are in progress to have Woodward, Doxey, and Simon to race in an exhibition as the distance fans will have plenty to interest them. These three men were stars on the same team in 1927 and 1928, having raced in the Penn Ketches and are holders with Ashworth of the Southern Intercollegiate four mile relay record. Simon was captain of last year's track team and is probably in better condition, but Doxey and Woodward should show some of their old-time form.

In the meantime, the cross country men are playing away faithfully. The varsity held a time trial on Friday, and the three and a quarter miles were covered in eighteen minutes and twenty-eight seconds. Jerry Bray led the way home followed by Lewis, Bradsher, Hulse, and Garvin in that order. Nichols, Martin, Edwards, Carlson, and Starratt also made creditable showings. Final trials for the meet with Davidson on October 17th will be held this Friday. The race will be over a five mile course.

The freshmen continued to show speed and more strength was added to their squad when Jerry came through very nicely in a trial over a mile and three-quarter course. Heilmann just nudged out Erskens at the finish of a splendid race and Berry was a scant fifty yards behind. The time was nine minutes and fifty-five seconds. Horsting, Jeter, Crist, Nickolas, Westworth, Henkle, Casper, and others also showed up well, and the varsity on Friday will decide who will represent Duke in the first meet of the year.

stated mostly of starts, turns, and conditioning events. No trials or races have been held as yet.

Without a doubt the freshmen will have an excellent team. Forty fresh are fighting it out for places on the team. Coach Pearson as yet is not able to pick a probable first team out of such a group of excellent material.

JOHN BROWNLEE

Speedy backfield who was Duke's main offensive star in Saturday's game, with numerous gains through the Cadet line and around end.

CONFERENCE FOES HAVE BEATEN ALL CAROLINA ENTRIES

Vanderbilt Wins Over Tar Heels; Florida Trounces State Wolfpack

GATORS SURPRISE FANS

Carolina, Duke, and State Will Kick Big Five Tilt as Consolation Measure

All possible hope for a North Carolina team to open the Southern Conference this year vanished Saturday when both N. C. State and the University of North Carolina were defeated in conference encounters, therefore, virtually eliminating them from the race. South Carolina put Duke out last week, but the dropped the Carolina contest as well. It is generally conceded that one marker in the loss column eliminates a team from the race, as each season finds one or two teams undefeated.

In their opening conference tilt of the season, N. C. State at home to the University of Florida, and took the short end of a 3-0 count. The Techs were rated the underdogs in the battle, but not for such a one-sided score as resulted. The Techs of State held the Gators pretty well in check in the first half, but the closing stages of the fray found the going a little rough for the Raleigh lads. Shaw Buek, Florida's field general, showed the Techs his heels in a 75 yard touchdown trip in the second period for the only score of the first half. However, as the teams renewed the battle in the second half the Floridians seemed somewhat unstopable. As the third stanza was three minutes old, Hughes, a star fullback, traveled 30 yards in a touchdown jaunt, being followed by a successful 41 yard pass and 60 yard dash, both resulting in six pointers. The Florida lads took to straight football for their closing marker as they marched down the field for 60 yards and a touchdown.

The Techs were unable to complete with their opponents, either in the air or on the ground, therefore they offered no scoring threats before their home admission.

In what might generally be called an upset of the day, the Wildcats of Davidson (Continued on page six)

MATMEN AND PUGS REPORT TO COACH WARREN FOR WORK

Boxers Have Only Four Letter Men Back; Wrestlers Have Just Three

LIGHT WORKOUT TAKEN

Lighter Weights in Both Sports Show Lack of Experience as Practice Begins

With Martin, Riddick, Rankin, and Starnes either ineligible or out of school, boxing prospects for the incoming winter are none too bright. The veterans Brewer, Hyatt, Wents, and Captain Balch will unquestionably form the nucleus of this year's team, for they are all stars from last season. All of these stars fight in the heavier weights, and Captain Balch has taken on pounds which further complicates the situation. Among the forty candidates who reported for practice at 4:30 on Monday there were Edwards, Scott, Lloyd, Gross, Miller, and Fuller. All of these have had considerable experience and are working hard for positions on the team. "Bill" Bryan, from the football squad, and the Miles' brothers, now running cross-country, are expected to report as soon as their respective sports close. Of these, Edwards and Scott will probably compete for the 120-lb. berth; Lloyd will try for the 110-lb. division; and Miller and Gross are leading candidates for the 135-lb. class.

Wrestling practice also began last Monday when Coach Warren called the candidates together and delivered a short lecture on the fundamentals of the sport. A large number of aspirants for the various weights were present, and after the talk they were given a light work out to loosen up muscles and prepare them for the upcoming season. The program for the fall will consist principally of calisthenics to develop strength.

Call for Freshmen and Varsity Tennis Thursday

All men interested in coming out for either varsity or freshman tennis are to report to Coach Gregory on Thursday afternoon at three o'clock ready for practice. All men who can possibly be there are urged to be at the courts for this first practice on Thursday.

FRESH OPEN WITH STATE TOMORROW

Blue Sides Face Five Game Schedule in Defending State Title

Certain! The overtures of pre-season drill have failed and the Duke freshmen modern chorus is awaiting the opening whistle to begin the 1931 campaign. Facing the Imps tomorrow on Riddick Field will be the yearlings of N. C. State, who, likewise, are raring to go. State felt the lash in last year's opened with a stinging 10-0 defeat, but the local coaches are expecting plenty of trouble from the Wolflets this time.

Duke offers the target of the State championship, which the Caldwell warriors won in 1928. Tomorrow the title is at stake in a struggle which is likely to see plenty of action.

Coach Caldwell, at press time, had not announced his starting line-up. It is a certainty, however, that the team will not be lacking in weight and ability. Making the trip will be players on squad A and several on squad B.

Besides the schedule that has been (Continued on Page Six)

GIVEN FREE

with every Parker Duofold Pen Purchased Below No. 100

Saves you $5 to $10

The Parker Duofold is like two pens for the price of one. Attaching a tapered pen-end converts this Pocket Pen into a Desk Set Pen—removing the taper restores it to a Pocket Pen. Thus, if you get a Parker Pocket Pen, all you need to have a complete Desk Set is a Parker ball-and-socket Desk Base to hold the Pen at $2.50 and upward. You need not buy a special desk. Thus Parker Duofold's double-duty feature saves you $5 to $10.

Twenty-five thousand Parker pens throughout the United States are now demonstrating this, and saving money for hundreds thousand pen buyers, so that Parker Pen buyers can have two pens in one. This gift offer ends Nov. 15—unless all free tapers are gone.

But until that time, every purchaser of a Parker Duofold is saving money on a pen taper free, whether he buys a Desk Base or not. There's a Parker dealer near your college. Stop in and see this demonstration before this offer expires.

Special to Parker Pen Owners: Dealers will also give you the Taper End FREE, so you can convert the pen you have, if you get a Parker Desk Base. The Parker Pen Company, Janesville, Wis.

A nerve system for energetic skyscrapers

Long before the huge bulk of a new skyscraper loomed up, Bell System men have planned its nerve system—the maze of telephone cables and wires so vital to its business activities.

From the inception of a building design, telephone engineers work hand in hand with the architects. They determine the telephone needs of thousands of future tenants. Then they plan cable shafts rising from cellar to roof and the grid of under-floor ducts that will put telephones within easy reach of every occupant.

There's a real thrill in working out these plans, for without telephones the immense structures of today would hardly be practicable.

Homecoming Day Enjoyed By Three Hundred Alumni

"Get-Togethers," Class Reunions, Conferences, Tours of the Campus, Luncheon, Football Game, and Theatre Party Feature Program of Day for Returning Grads

Almost 300 alumni, representing several states, returned to the campus Saturday to participate in the annual Homecoming Day program. According to Henry R. Deane, manager of the Alumni Office, 1931 Homecoming proved an outstanding success from every point of view. Those of the graduates who had never seen the new campus in its completed state were very much impressed, while the many social gatherings on different parts of the campus during the day made the event a very enjoyable one.

The day's activities began at 9 o'clock with registration in the Alumni Office. Alumni "get-togethers" occupied the morning hours, together with class reunions, conferences, and tours of the campus. At noon a barbecue luncheon

RECORDS REVEAL REGISTRATION OF 300 MOTOR CARS

Registration Conducted for Protection of Students' and Professors' Cars

MANY CARS ARE INSURED
North Carolina Leads With Over 75 Cars; Virginia, Pennsylvania, South Carolina About Even

The administration, in its attempt to enumerate and register the automobiles, trucks, and other rubber-tired vehicles on the campus, has finally managed to show the student body that their efforts are surely in the interests of student protection, and has thus far registered and recorded the license numbers of over three hundred cars.

Including all the curious phenomena, reported to have once been cars, and starting from the infant Austin continuing up to such productions as the Buick and Cadillac, the figures show that students from thirty-three states have brought their cars with them and in relieving the gas congestion between the two campuses. Naturally, North Carolina leads the states in the number of cars represented, with Virginia, Pennsylvania, and South Carolina coming about even. The remainder of the cars are about even distributed among the remaining twenty-nine states.

An interesting fact noted in the survey of the registered cars was that most of the cars, whether they be expensive or ramshackle, have at least some kind of insurance covering either liability, theft, or fire.

SEVENTY-FIVE ATTEND SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS

Herring Conducts Discussion on the Importance of Little Incidents in Shaping Careers

Hymn singing and sentence prayers opened the Open Forum Sunday school class conducted last Sunday under the leadership of Dean Herring.

Dean Herring continued his interesting discussion from last Sunday. He enlarged upon the previous topic of discussion which was the great influence that little details and incidents have upon our lives. He cited various incidents in which a minor occurrence or spoken word has altered the entire career of some noted and famous men.

The class as a whole was asked to cooperate in enlarging the scope of the work the Open Forum was endeavoring to carry out. There were approximately seventy-five students present.

INITIAL PEP MEET HELD LAST FRIDAY

Dean Wauwamaker and Martin Green Address Students; Duke Band Plays

The first of a series of pep meetings was held last Friday night in Page auditorium; almost the entire male student body was present as well as a few fair visitors from the other campus.

Dean Wauwamaker and Martin Green each delivered short addresses expressing their views on the subject of school spirit and enthusiasm. Dean Wauwamaker requested that the student body show every courtesy possible to students accompanying, and the players on a visiting team while they were our guests. The quality of good sportsmanship was also discussed.

Jelly Letfwich with the university band helped the enthusiastic students to put over the school songs in real style. Head Cheerleader Bud Fisher and his cohorts then put the crowd through some fast snappy yells and the meeting broke up with almost everyone hoarse but happy.

Special invitation to all these meetings has been sent out by B. O. S. to all freshmen, who would never think of declining such a friendly gesture.

COURTESY TO VISITORS STRESSED IN ASSEMBLY

Wauwamaker Reminds Student Body That Reception of Guests Should Be Hearty

At the regular Thursday morning assembly held October 1 in Page auditorium, Dean W. H. Wauwamaker spoke briefly in regards to several matters of interest to the student body.

Dr. Wauwamaker also reminded all students visiting to register them at once in Dean Arnold's office.

He then spoke for a few minutes concerning the manner in which visitors to our campus, including visiting football teams, should be received. He stated that, if the past students have been a bit lax in showing courtesy to such visitors, especially students from other colleges accompanying visiting teams, both on the campus and in the stadium. He concluded his talk by stating that we must all realize what a good effect a courteous welcome would have on visitors.

North Carolina College for Women in Greensboro, is the third largest college for women in the world.

The women of India very often accompany their husbands to the factories, according to her speech. There are only about one per cent of the women who can read and write, whereas most of the men can. Women, as a rule, live behind the veil. Dr. Gray gave a very interesting account of how a baby girl might be married to a boy before her birth and, in case of the boy's death, be a widow from birth.

dreamer just to be a dreamer doesn't accomplish anything, but he must accompany his dreaming with practical strength. "The word strength as I have used it, means the possession of the necessary courage, ability, tact and diplomacy, and the faith in the dream and goal you are set, along with the necessary elements of character," the speaker stated. He pointed to Benjamin Duke and to Christopher Columbus as examples, showing that each had dreamed a dream and set a goal, in which they had the necessary faith, along with the strength and courage which enabled each of them to achieve a great success. One made possible a great university, the other discovered a new world.

The beauty to adorn the structure which has been built was given as the third necessary element in meeting this challenge of the world by Mr. Underwood. This great and beautiful university was again given as an example of an accomplishment which is far greater by the adding of this beauty than it would have been without it.

The service, under the auspices of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A., was led by Harold Flood. Miss Elizabeth Powell read the scripture, John Arthur Long, violinist, played two selections, "Meditation" from "Talis" by Massenet, and "On Wings of Song," by Mendelssohn. Next Sunday afternoon, at 4:00 o'clock, in West Chapel, Professor Malcom McDermott of the Duke law school faculty will be the speaker. There will also be special music.

Charming women are first won by OLD GOLDS' appealing taste. But their enthusiasm doubles when they find that OLD GOLDS do not taint the breath or mar the whiteness of pearly teeth.

That's because OLD GOLD is a pure-tobacco cigarette. Made from the finest nature-flavored tobacco. So good, it needs no added flavoring.

It's "foreign flavoring," not good tobacco... that leaves unwanted aftertastes. Play safe. Smoke pure tobacco O.G.s. They leave nothing behind but pleasant recollections.
