Blue Stocking Club Entertains at Dances

One of the dearest events of the season took place this week end under the auspices of the graduate women, known as the Blue Stocking club, which had as its first social affair, a series of dances on Friday and Saturday nights from eight until ten-thirty o'clock. The old landry, now become the club, was transferred for the occasion into a symphony of green and white. Long garlands of myrtle leaves draped from pillars, windows and balcony, were supplemented by tall evergreen trees. The whole was adorned with soft light from the shaded lanterns. Two great blue stockings adorned one wall. Bridge tables were provided for the intellectual, punch for the thirsty. Professor McKean's colored Carolina Servantes provided entertainment.

On Friday evening the senior engineers, school of religion, and graduate men were invited, while the receiving line was composed of Dr. and Mrs. Russell, of the school of religion, Dean Babcock, and Miss Lucy Guild, president of the Blue Stocking club.

The second evening the medical and law students were invited, while Dr. Davidson, Miss Grace Wilson, Miss Corington, and Miss Guild received.

Folio Club Members Entertained

Mrs. A. M. Proctor entertained delightfully Thursday afternoon at her home on Myrtle road the members of the Folio Club.

Sweet peas in pastel shades were used in the drawing room where the program was held.

Members heard Mrs. Eliza Smith give on "The Second Twenty Years in Hull House" by Jane Addams.

A tea course with fancy accessories were served the guests from a prettily decorated tea table.

Members and their guests present were Mesdames H. C. Horack, Bryan Bolch, William Tower, Walter J. Reay and guests, Mrs. Ada Lamb of Palo Alto, Cal., E. W. Nelson, Clinton Jullin, and her mother, Hay Smith, Volmer Miller, Paul Garber, Claude Flowers, J. Foster Barnes, and William Brandon.

Reviewers Club Hears Mrs. J. B. Hubbell

An interesting meeting of the Reviewers club was held Thursday afternoon with Mrs. J. M. Ormond at her home on Wall street.

Guests had the pleasure of hearing a splendid talk, made by Mrs. J. B. Hubbell, who spoke on modern scientific magazines.

Later in the afternoon, the hostess invited her guests into the dining-room where they were served a salad with accompanying accessories.

Members present for the delightful meeting were: Mesdames Irving Allen, Sam J. Angier, H. L. Blomquist, Paul Gross, Jay B. Hubbell, Leon Powell, Richard Shroyck, H. E. Spence, A. E. Stewart, N. L. White, L. B. Walton, Wiley Forbes, K. E. Zenz, Frank Swat, Edwin Ayles, William Clardy and Miss Julia Gross.

Former Duke Nurse Married in Florida

Of interest to their friends in Durham is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Ethel Kennedy of Sumter, S. C., and Richard S. Buchanan of Atlanta, Ga.

For the past eighteen months the bride has been on the nursing staff at Duke hospital.

The ceremony was performed in Jacksonville, Fla. The couple will make their home at 2233 Riverside avenue, Jacksonville, following a short trip.

Duke Student Weds Durham Young Lady

A wedding of prominence and wide-spread interest to friends in Durham and elsewhere in North Carolina was that of Miss Ruth Lee May, of Durham, and Richard Norbert Hogard, of Lewiston, N. C., which took place on Saturday, January 2, 1938, at Franklin, Va.

Rev. B. D. Stephenson, pastor of the First Baptist church at Franklin, was the officiating minister. Only a few intimate friends of the couple were present for the ceremony, which took place at the home of Rev. Mr. Stephenson.

Mrs. Hogard is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. May. She received her education in the city schools, being graduated with the class of 1933. She is well known and popular among the younger set of Durham.

SOCIAL SCIENCE ORDER ELECTS ELLWOOD HEAD

Duke Sociology Prof Is Chosen President of P. Gamma Nu at New Orleans Convention

Dr. Charles A. Ellwood has recently been elected president of P. Gamma Nu, national social science honor society, meeting Dr. Leroy Allen, of Guilford College, Dr. Ellwood is head of the sociology department here.

There are 122 chapters in American colleges and universities, the order having a membership of 20,000 members.

Promotion of the scientific attitude, methods, and social service are its purposes. Social service is rendered in the study of social problems.

Dr. Ellwood was a principal speaker at the sessions of the national convention held in New Orleans, La., in connection with the convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He has served as president of a national council to the society.

Y. W. C. A. GROUP'S MEET TO SETTLE PROGRAMS

The various Y. W. C. A. groups met in East Duke on Monday night, January 11, Rosanella Cash, as chairman of the industrial group, gave a summary of the speech she heard on Industrialism when at the Student Volunteer Convention in Boston.

The international and world fellowship group discussed what they thought that Christ would do about the negro problem. The meeting was led by Jeanne Mangot, who is at the head of this interest group.

Fredrick Rogers' group, which has social service for its project, planned a special series of spring programs to be announced at a later date.

MINISTERIAL CLUB HAS SEMI-ANNUAL ELECTION

Last Friday evening the undergraduate Ministerial association held its semi-annual election of officers. A short devotional was conducted in the York chapel by Mr. Allen Cooper and songs were sung. The meeting then adjourned to an adjoining classroom where the election took place.

Mr. Harold Ford presided at the business meeting in the absence of President Wright. The following officers were elected for the second semester: Tom Carver, president; James Phillips, vice-president; Walters Jones, secretary, and John Lee, treasurer. The chairman of the program committee and other committee chairman will be appointed by the new president at the beginning of next semester. Their new offices will go into office at the business session next Friday evening.

GROSS SPEAKS TO GERMAN FRATERNITY

Dr. Paul N. Gross, head of the chemistry department, was the principal speaker at the first meeting of the year of Delta Phi Alpha, national German honorary fraternity, held on Friday evening in the West dining hall.

Dr. Gross, who has recently returned from research work in Leipzig, Germany, discussed to some length the differences and similarities between American and German undergraduate scientific training. He stressed particularly the lack of freedom that German students have for specialization and individual research work in the science of their choosing. As a result of this, he cited the high percentage of German Nobel prize winners in the last three decades. In connection with the address of his talk, Dr. Gross brought in many interesting and amusing incidents on his experiences in Germany.

Elizabeth Lyon Is Wed to James Woodward

Considered as a complete surprise to their many friends in Durham and throughout the state is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Lyon, of this city, and James Willden Woodward, of Durham, formerly of Columbia, S. C. The announcement has been issued as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. William Fleming Lyon announce the marriage of their daughter Elizabeth to James Willden Woodward, November 22, 1937, Hillsboro, N. C.

The marriage of the young couple has been kept a surprise until this time. Since their wedding in November, the bride has been making her home in High Point, where she held a position, and Mr. Woodward has been teaching in the state, filling engagements as a member of the Jolly Leftwich orchestra.

The couple are making their home in Durham at present.

Still At It

Charlie Herbert, popular young musician, and former student at Duke, who many will remember as the crooning tenor of Jolly Leftwich's orchestra, is now appearing with the Carolina Collegians orchestra in a novelty vaudeville act.

The orchestra, composed of fifteen college types, has been the headline act in many leading theatres of New York and is known as the most modern band aggregation on the stage today. At present they are appearing on the Lowe's theatre circuit and the friends of Charlie may be interested in hearing that they open at Lowe's theatre in Baltimore January 15, and the following week, January 22, at Lowe's in Washington.

After that they will go on to Pittsburgh, Columbus, Cleveland, Syracuse, Rochester and then back to New York city.

DUKE ART COLLECTION PRESENTED WITH RUG

The Duke university art collection on the East campus of the university has been increased by another gift of James A. Thomas, retired business man and collector in Chinese art, of White Plains, N. Y.

Mr. Thomas' gift, a beautiful Chinese rug woven with gold thread on a blue and tan background, has as its central figure a golden pheasant surrounded by lotus flowers. Obtained recently from a friend of his, a Chinese in Peiping, it is a rare museum piece now hung in the Bookstore's room of the Women's college library.

Mr. Thomas, a native Carolinian, has been retired about nine years, and after living many years in the Orient, has published two interesting books describing travels and experiences there. Thomas was a friend and business associate of the late J. B. Duke.

Courses Changed!

Students interested in sociology courses for the next semester will note the following in the time of class periods of three courses.
Courses 102 and 212 in sociology will meet at the second period on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, and course 218 will meet at the third period on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays. The printed schedule for Monday and Tuesday is otherwise correct. These corrections have been announced by Dr. W. K. Green, dean of the curriculum at Duke.

LEGAL AID CLINIC SHOWS INCREASE SINCE BEGINNING

No Charge Made to Those Accepted For Its Services

HAS VARIETY OF CLIENTS

Is Modelled After Similar Clinics in Other Large Universities
On October 1, 1931, the Duke Legal Aid clinic opened for active service, being organized for two outstanding reasons, and to date both purposes are being carried along in fine style. First, the organization has been rendering very helpful service to the public, especially those persons who are unable to pay a regular fee. As a second duty the clinic has been active in educating and experiencing many young law students.

For some time during its beginning there was grave doubt as to where sufficient clinical material might be obtained. However, up to the Christmas holidays sixty-six persons applied for legal aid, and an excellent beginning for a new practice. Aid was rendered those clients absolutely free of charge.

A great variety of cases has come before the newly-organized clinic. Among these dealt with have been money claims, insurance policies, fraud, real estate matters, workman compensation and divorce. Of the applicants so far, less than half have been negroes.
The clinic at the university is being conducted much in the fashion of similar clinics at such well known law schools as Harvard, Northwestern, Minnesota, and California. The local organization is a member of the National Association of Legal Aid organizations, a body which is active in the field of legal aid.

RENDER PLEASING RECITAL LAST EVENING

The women's glee club of Greensboro College presented an outstanding concert last night in the Y. M. C. A. series of Tuesday evening recitals.

STUDENT ENROLLMENT EXPECTS TO WORK AT VARIOUS PROFESSIONS

The undergraduate student enrollment for this semester is the largest in history, there being one thousand, four hundred and thirty men registered, and the majority of these students are in the clinic of business administration, as ever five hundred are taking this course. Last year at this time the undergraduate enrollment was one thousand, three hundred and fourteen, one hundred and twenty-two less than at the present time. These figures do not include the women students.

The general course is the next largest with three hundred and twenty-one enrolled. Following this are the pre-natal group of 261, the engineering school with 152, the pre-law with 94, the school of religion with 21, the teaching school with 37, and the athletic coaching school with 14.

RECREATION NIGHT IS INSTITUTED BY CO-EDS

A new feature, recreation night, has recently been instituted by the physical education department of the women's college. Students, faculty, and staff are invited to participate informally in any of a variety of indoor sports, from 7:30 to 9:30 on Monday nights.

Monday evening, January 4, was the first recreation night, and a large group was at the gymnasium to open a game of ping pong, deck tennis, indoor horse shoes, tennis, volleyball or basketball. The swimming pool was open for those who desired to use it.

Although Monday night is the only time that the gymnasium is open for such recreation, it is possible that in the near future this diversion will be available on more than one night of the week.

DEAN HERRING SPEAKS ON SPIRITUAL VALUES

Addreses Open Forum Class at Regular Meeting Last Sunday

During the devotional period of the Open Forum class meeting last Sunday morning, the president, Tom Carriger, read a letter from Mr. W. W. Wooten, president of the children's home, in Winston, thanking the class for the contributions that had been sent.

Mr. Herring took a verse from the first chapter of John, "Come and Ye Shall See," as his text. He spoke of the difficulty many people have in understanding Jesus because they accept him only as a great teacher and fail to take into account the spiritual side of Christ's nature. Mr. Herring stated that there were also some who failed to recognize the place of Jesus' teaching in the present world situation.

The speaker gave as the chief cause for some people's failure to appreciate spiritual values the lack of experience with the things of the spirit. No one can tell of the value and love that come from a knowledge of Christ, it is necessary that the individual experience these conditions in his own life before he can understand them.

JAPANESE PROFESSOR ON TOUR VISITS CAMPUS

As a guest of Dr. A. B. Pearce, of the Duke university zoology department, Dr. Naohito Yatsu, professor of zoology in the Imperial University of Tokyo, Japan, visited the local campus during the past week.

The distinguished foreign visitor became acquainted with the Duke faculty while the latter was an exchange professor in Japan. Dr. Yatsu is at present on a tour of the world, inspecting many university plants. The Japanese professor is accorded his tour as a part of the program carried out by the Japanese Imperial university, which allows each of their professors one trip lasting half a year, once in their life time. Prin Duke, Dr. Yatsu was intending to visit Tulane university in New Orleans.

Korstian On Trip

Professor R. C. Hawley, of the Yale school of forestry and one of the nation's leading silviculturists, after a tour of the 3600-acre Duke forest and the laboratory and teaching facilities on the university campus became enthusiastic over the possibilities of a forestry school here.

The Yale forestry expert left Durham for New Orleans, accompanied by Dr. C. K. Korstian, director of the Duke forest, to attend the thirty-first annual meeting of the Society of American Foresters.

Law Prof to Leave

Appointment of Dr. Alexander Hamilton Frey, now visiting professor in the Duke law school, to professor of law at the University of Pennsylvania law school has been recently been announced in Philadelphia.

The appointment is effective with the beginning of the 1933-34 academic year. Dr. Frey served as visiting professor of law at Pennsylvania law school, carrying on the work of Professor Austin T. Wooten, who then died of a heart ailment. Professor Wright's death in an automobile accident in September created a vacancy which Dr. Frey will fill. Dr. Frey is a graduate of Yale university and the law school there.

REGISTRATION TO START TOMORROW FOR NEXT SESSION

Classes Are Expected to Sign Course Cards From Two to Five O'clock

FEES TO COME LATER

It Is Imperative That Members of Each Class Register on Time

Classes will write courses for the next semester and file in Room 108, administration building, according to the following schedule:

Seniors—January 14 through 16; Juniors—January 18 through 20; Sophomores—January 22 through 24; Freshmen—January 25 through 27.

Course cards will be written only from two to five o'clock each afternoon.

Each student will be requested to arrange his own schedule and make a copy of this schedule for his own use. It is urged that, in so far as possible, students enrolled for year courses remain in the sessions in which are cancelled this semester. In a year course in which there are graded sections, for example, Economics 1, changes from one section to another will not be permitted. In order for a student to secure the schedule of classes he desires it is imperative that he register early during the period set for his class to write cards.

Those who wish to consult the Dean's office concerning courses or individual instructors concerning the work of particular courses should do so as early as possible.

Prof. Hill, of the engineering department, was instrumental in bringing the various parties together two years ago and for the past two years has been chairman of the Ways and Means committee of the proposed State survey.

Dr. Bowin is chief of the division of Geology of the Coast survey, chairman of the surveying and mapping division of the American society of civil engineers, and holds a long list of titles and honors which are listed in the sketch of his life in "Win's Who."

WEST PRESIDES IN ANNUAL DRAMATIC SESSION RECENTLY

Director of Duke Dramatics is President of N. C. Dramatic Association

HARD TIMES DISCUSSED

Effect of Depression on the Theatre is Reviewed; Scenery Abolished in Play Contest

Mr. A. T. West, director of dramas at Duke, on Saturday, January 19, attended the convention of the North Carolina Dramatic association, of which he is president.

The morning session was given to the discussion of the various phases of the theatre, such as the drama, religious plays, and the position of music in play production.

The first part of the afternoon session was in the form of a business meeting. The second session was devoted to dramas which is suffering greatly from the crisis, was the main topic of discussion. Play production has been rated to very high level and the association wishes to see it kept there in spite of financial difficulties.

It was decided that in the coming contest in play production, a group should not be hampered with bringing scenery, but that the play should be presented in front of a "black curtain," which is to be furnished by the University of North Carolina. There were 63 entries last year. The special contests in scenic design, costume design, and make-up will be continued as usual.

The association received notice from the Duke Drama Club, which was in the dramatic field, to have found another trophy, the nature of which should be determined by the association. It suggested that the Duke Drama Club silver giving cup be presented to the group presenting the best original work.

The work of the afternoon was given to the production of plays. Seaboard High school presented a religious play called "The Good Shepherd." One of the students in a play-writing class presented an original play called "Baby," which was a comedy of a young girl who was the baby of the family, and after a struggle became a full-fledged chapter and flapped forth, much to the chagrin of her mother.

CHAMBERS SPEAKS TO LEGAL CLINIC AUDIENCE

Durham Attorney Heard in One of Series of Speeches Here

Culbert S. C. Chambers addressed the students of the legal aid clinic class Monday afternoon, January 11, 1932, on the subject of certain aspects of the law relating to street improvements. Talking as he took the construction and improvement of Chapel Hill street under the tracks of the Southern Railway and drawing diagrams to illustrate the various problems of law that attended the multitude of cases arising out of such proceedings, he developed a most interesting lecture. He presented the procedural phases of the subject first and then discussed the points of substantive law such as the rights and obligations of the adjoining owners.

This talk was one of the series given by prominent attorneys in Durham and vicinity to familiarize law students with the work of the legal aid clinic. The students are likely to meet in their routine practice which ordinarily do not form the subject of regular law courses.

Colonel Chambers, who has for a number of years been city attorney in Durham, is unusually well qualified to discuss this interesting and pertinent subject and it was felt that his remarks were of considerable value.

WARREN WRESTLES SCORE WINS OVER CAROLINA HEELS

an easy beat over Anderson, Duke grappler, only to have the Warrenton team finish in the last seconds of the second round together came the flip of the referee's hand and the clang of the timer's bell that it was necessary for the two gentlemen to reach a decision before awarding the fall to Anderson.

Notes on the match—

Carolina fans gave Warren a big hand after the bout . . . half a hundred old friends of Add surrounded him and offered congratulations . . . among those doing the handshaking act was Coach Chuck Kunkin, who tutored Add at Carolina . . . it was something for the matter complimenting pupil . . . Coach Unger, of Davidson, was there to get a look on both teams.

The referee was Bill Bailey—one of the best in the game . . . Bailey was a leading contributor to the Spaulding guide on college wrestling . . . it was he who started wrestling at Duke (then Trinity) back in 1921.

Upon the writer's brow was awarded the title "expert" but it runs in our mind that the officials made a mistake when the Ochs-Henry match was allowed to go over 23 seconds in the second fourth minute. Neither man had an advantage in the first two minutes which automatically calls for the bout to be divided into two four minute periods. Ochs-Henry in 23 seconds in the first extra four minutes therefore the bout should have stopped after 23 seconds of the second extra four minutes . . . the note to Rule XVI covers this point: "It should be understood that the second four-minute bout, or the second extra period, ends, not at the expiration of the elapsed time necessary for the fall in the first over time period."

DUKE SCIENTIST GIVES EXHIBITION AT CAPITAL

Dr. A. S. Penner, Duke university biologist, recently exhibited some rare scientific curiosities of marine origin at the Carnegie Institute in Washington, D. C.

Among the amazing display were such creatures as fish that walk and swim five months out of water. Among a score of other exhibits representing the progress of scientific research activities was an interesting display of preserved specimens and living animals which illustrated the changes in animal life and the factors found in certain species and groups of animals that are in the process of migrating from the sea, their natural habitat, to land, interesting lectures. He presented the procedural phases of the subject first and then discussed the points of substantive law such as the rights and obligations of the adjoining owners.

NEWSPAPER MEN TO HOLD SESSION HERE TOMORROW

Announcements for the visit to Durham of the newspaper men have been negotiated by Henry R. Davis, director of public relations at Duke. Dr. Davis was for many years editor of the Post City Journal of Winston-Salem, and is an experienced newspaper man. Another speaker, of no less importance in the sessions, who has been connected with Duke University, is L. L. Horne, Jr., of Rocky Mount, president of the North Carolina Press association. Mr. Horne was graduated from Trinity college and has continued to keep in active touch with his university.

JANUARY EDITION BIRTHDAY NUMBER LOCAL QUARTERLY

Interests of literature and scholarship in this section might be forwarded. This purpose has been achieved to a great extent.

The Quarterly strives at all times to avoid the friction that usually develops between the northern and southern writers, giving as nearly as possible an unbiased viewpoint on all subjects. The subject matter of the articles has been quite good also, interpreting new trends and reviewing history of the past in the light of subsequent investigation.

The Quarterly has gained no small repute and its opinions have received much wide acclaim but articles quoted directly from it are now to be found in the leading reviews and digests of the country. The latest issue, the southern year number, has been an exceptionally interesting array of varied content, written by authors in the fields represented. Criminal and religious psychology, negro problems, politics, industry, the arts, all are to be found in this last copy of the Quarterly, making it a most exceptionally well rounded edition of contemporary thought.

EDUCATIONAL FRAT TO HAVE VISITING SPEAKER

Miss Mary F. Kevell, graduate student in the school of education at the University of North Carolina, will address an open forum meeting of the Delta Psi, educational society, on Wednesday evening, Jan. 13, at 7:30 o'clock in the hall of the Carolina Wesleyan campus.

General Organization of the Educational System in China" will be the topic for discussion. Miss Kevell graduated from St. Mary's Episcopal high school in China. After completing her college work in a Chinese college in China, she served as dean in a women's college in China. Several years ago Miss Kevell spent two years in study at Columbia University. The public is invited to attend this meeting.

Some very interesting programs have been arranged by the following program committee of the honorary education group: Donald Agnew, chairman; A. J. Longstreet, Miss Leonore Murphy, Miss Zane R. R. R.

CAGERS WRESTLERS TWICE IN CLOSE WEEK-END GAMES

00 Deacons were only able to get two field goals, but slipped twelve free kicks, for the loss. The "Klons" system was rather disappointing and didn't seem to do much work for all its secret practice and much heralded policy. The Devils, as expected, were strong on defensive work, but with the exception of Thompson, failed to show great power on offense. However it is something to be able to keep the opposition from scoring and the season is yet young, and they are improving every game. This game was the Devil's first start in the state race and is evidence that they are out to win the title this season.

Nearly All Duke Students Participate In Athletics

Thirteen Hundred Men Are Represented In New Four-Ply Athletic System; Intramural Programs Attract Large Audiences

To Duke university belongs the distinction of having as great a percentage of its undergraduates participating in some form of sports as could hardly be anticipated. The new four-ply system of athletics, initiated by Coach Wade, has reached an unprecedented level in the scope of its activities.

Of the 146 regularly enrolled undergraduate men, 1200 have taken part in at least one sports activity. This total includes students in the regular physical education courses, varsity sports, the coaching school, and intramural athletics. Allowance has been made for the overlapping of these various departments.

Statistics show that the total enrollment of 1414 men in the four divisions is distributed as follows: 688 in the required physical education department, 156 in intramural athletics, and 480 in the combined departments of intercollegiate athletics and the coaching school.

Intramural events are open to the entire undergraduate body. Although varsity men are prohibited from participating in the intramural sport in which they engaged in varsity competition, they may take part in other events.

The following figures are conclusive evidence of the important place in the college curriculum which the new system of intramural sports now enjoys. Eighteen fraternities and five independent teams, making a total of 287 men, entered the basketball tournament, Fall 1931.
