Duke Co-ed Is Chosen President of Y.M.C.A.-Y.W.C.A. State Student Conference

David H. Porter, national student secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was featured speaker at the annual North Carolina Y. M. C. A.-Y. W. C. A. student conference held April 28-29, 1935, at Duke university. Election of officers for the coming year took place at the meeting.

Mr. Porter's topic in his addresses to the delegates was the application of the spiritual element to the work of the Y's. He pointed out the advantages of an integration and adjustment of purposes as the student goes through life. The campus must be adjusted to the present day conditions of social life, he declared. He said that the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. are dedicated to a world brotherhood centered around Jesus Christ.

Mrs. Lucy Cherry Crisp, secretary of the Y at the Woman's college of the University of North Carolina, was in charge of all devotional periods of the conference. Concluding the meeting a picnic supper was held late Saturday afternoon.

was then that Mr. Ershtler rose from his seat in the assembly and proceeded to malign the indifference which the class felt toward its leaders in general and to himself in particular. In the specific case the speaker was referring to the seniors versus the faculty game of basketball.

Mr. Ershtler's report demonstrated the unpleasant fact that during three days of scheduled practices only ten men in all had shown up at the basketball field. On one of those occasions the only man ready for work was himself. This illustration clarified the climax to the stirring address.

The chorus plea for maintaining the honor of the class was significant in its rapid effect.

Century Fashions Shown; Create Great Interest

Feathered Hats, Hoop Skirts, and Spats Vie For Supremacy in Display of Past and Present Style Trends

Sixty girls took part in the fashion show presented Thursday, April 27, in the East campus auditorium, under the auspices of the social service committee of the Y. M. C. A., which is using for charity the proceeds from the show. Costumes representative of styles which have prevailed from 1850 to the present were shown. Mrs. Douglas Hill Morehead, of Durham, commented on the costumes.

The audience was somewhat astounded at the display of the costumes of a century ago, and some of its members even had the audacity to burst into loud laughter at the appearance of the bellies of 1840 and 1850. The correct management of bustles and the proper angle for smart hats with feathers cut foot high demonstrated by the participants in the show. A snappy tennis girl with a skirt three yards wide and a coy blue bow at the throat caused considerable amusement, as did the bathing girl of the nineties. It is still a question in the minds of some spectators how the bathers of that time ever enjoyed the beautiful rays of the sun.

The costumes of nineteen hundred seemed to interest the audience greatly. The linen duster which the bellies of the time wore while buggy riding was shown, as well as the hat two feet in diameter, which was tied with a multi-colored scarf. In comparison to the extreme modesty of those costumes, the shocking display of legs in the era after the war was a source of dismay to all beholders, but the smart "going-away" costume of 1916, with its snappy spats, charmed all.

Following the display of old-fashioned costumes, modern dresses were shown. These were loaned by Ellis Stone and Co., and the Baldwin Co. The concluding act in the show was a wedding party in which Haines Clement and John Brownlee acted as the principals.

tripped up to greet his balanced demeanor with a chilling chorus of "Teacher dear,

But nuts to you!"

At 11:40 the fresh were correlated in the main quadrangle and ran through gauntlets galore, shoe scrambles, and more gauntlets.

The initiation resumed at 2:30 on the steps of the Woman's library. The befuddled fresh were compelled to secure dates despite their screaming confusion. Then, much to the amusement of the coeds present the initiates were forced to make speeches on embarrassing subjects. Howling crows, wheelbarrow races, and still more gauntlets followed in quick order on the program, from which emerged at last thirty disabled browns and many sore and tired arms.

On Saturday night the final dose was administered when the foundlings were blindfolded, herded into trucks and carried about eight miles from the campus.

COOMBS PITCHES Duke Veteran Loses Second College Game to Wolfpack Team

SEITZ GETS DUKE NUMBER

Duke and Carolina Now Tied For Last Place; Wake Forest First

Nicking Bobby Coombs for three hits and a walk for four runs in the first inning, N. C. State piled up a large enough lead to defeat Duke 5 to 3 on the freshmen field in Raleigh last Saturday. Rudy Seitz pitched the entire game for the Wolfpack and was very effective in halting the Blue Devils to three hits.

State got twelve hits off the offerings of Bobby Coombs to give the lead twice in the second and third innings. Last year the Technion also defeated Coombs 3 to 1. One week ago Duke blanked the Wolfpack with three hits to win 5 to 3, but Seitz turned the tables by allowing the Blue Devils to score three safeties. The scoring appeared in the first frame ended a streak of 27 consecutive innings of scoreless pitching for the diminutive Billy.

Captain Harris started the fireworks for State in the first by doubling to left. McQuage beat out an infield hit. Duke fouled out and Avery walked to fill the bases. Lambeth with two men out stepped up to the plate and became the hero of the game by crashing a triple to right clearing the sacks. Lambeth, when Thompson made a bad third throw. Duke came back in the second to score three runs. After fanning Wagner and Thompson, Seitz paced Wooten. Wooten advanced Wooten to third with a single. Henderson tripled to center, scoring Wooten and Wagner. Henderson was thrown out at the plate attempting to "stretch his hit into a home run."

The last scoring for the Blue Devils came in the fourth when Michael tripled and scored on Thompson's long sacrifice fly. After the fourth Seitz settled down and pitched wonderful ball, permitting only one Duke man to reach first. State added one run to her lead in the sixth when Lambeth singled and scored on Fuller's triple.

The lost next Duke down to a tie with Carolina for last place in the Big Five standing with one victory and two defeats.

Thoughts From the Sidelines

By George Dwyer, Jr.

Charley Harris, promising Duke freshman train player, won the state championship last week in the finals of the N. C. State tournament. He defeated Charley Kinkadee, also of Duke, in the finals, 6-2, 6-3. After clearing up in the earlier matches which were held during the varsity state tournament held at Duke the week before.

In the semi-finals Harris defeated Ralph Taylor, of Duke, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1. Duke's Kinkadee, over Seitz, of Carolina, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2.

Nearly all of the semi-finals and quarter-finals were Duke freshmen, a fact which speaks well for next year's prospects.

The Intramural indoor baseball competition has really turned out to be quite pitching. Last week the Lambda Chi defeated the A. T. A. 3-0, due chiefly to the pitching of Chuck Beatty. He did not give an error in 22 men faced him during the seven innings of play. The first man up got to first on an error but was left on base as Beatty struck out the following hit.

The Engineers enjoyed a dug out for the expense of the Pirates, Monday and won, 15-0. Jack Sperry, of the Southgate team pitched a no-hitter. One of the Pirates batters was able to knock a ball out of the Engineers' infield during the game.

It looks as if the finals of this tournament should be a pitching battle more than anything else.

Duke has taken it in the neck in the last two games against Wake Forest and N. C. State. The Devils are tied for last place with Carolina, having one win and two losses in the state title standings. Wake Forest and State are tied and second, respectively. The premier part is that Carolina, last place team, won its only game at the expense of Wake Forest, the first place team. There are no undefeated lines in the Big Five group.

Duke was also beaten by Carolina in the track meet last Saturday, due to her fatal weakness in the field events. The Tar Heels dropped only one place in these events, while the Blue Devils lost only one in the track competition. Despite the loss in the track line, last Saturday at the Hill, we still think that Duke will win the Conference meet. At the least, they will enter the lists as prominent contenders for the title. Carolina has a well balanced team, but Duke has an excellent Conference team.

TENNIS TEAM NOW INVADING NORTH ON ANNUAL JAUNT

Team Remodeled as Peake Is Forced to Stay Behind

Virginia, Navy, Johns Hopkins, Temple, and Lehigh Will Play Duke Team

Inspired by the optimistic hopes of their coach, Doctor Greany, the Blue Devil tennis team sped departed for their northern invasion last Saturday afternoon to play against some of the strongest of northeastern teams. Opening May 1, with Virginia, Duke's entries take in rapid succession. Next, John Hopkins, Temple, and Lehigh, the last two being engaged for the first time.

Peake is rated high as an opponent, and the additons will be hard to beat, but Doctor Greany is confident that his team can overcome Annapolis on their first court. U. C. did not win on Carolina's grounds, 7-2.

The varsity will be considerably weakened by the loss of its fighting Jim Peake, No. 3, who was the only man to win his singles match and beat Carolina in their last dual match. The Southern Conference will be played at Ridgefield May 13th to 16th. The freshmen will probably play a return meet with the Tar Heel playing the Duke High by lay course when the varsity is at Ridgefield.

SHOCK IS ELECTED FOOTBALL CAPTAIN

Veteran Guard to Lead 1933 Grid Team Next Fall

At a meeting of the football team Thursday night, Carl Shock, of New Rochelle, New York, was elected captain of the 1933 Blue Devil football team.

Shock has been a consistent and valuable player at guard the last two seasons. Teaming with Crawford on the left side of the line, the two together made that side a nearly impenetrable wall that opposed quarterbacks always respected. His early football training was received at New York Military Academy. Now, four years later, Shock is considered to be one of the most valuable players on Duke line that will without doubt be one of the strongest in the south and east next fall.

The veteran guard will lead the Blue Devils into the hardest season ever scheduled for a Duke grid team, with such strong opponents as Tennessee, Auburn, Kentucky, and Georgia Tech heading the program.

BASEBALL SQUAD HEADS NORTH FOR ANNUAL INVASION

Princeton, Fordham, Manhattan, and Maryland Will Be Played During This Week

FACE TOUGH OPPONENTS Counts Out to Make Up For First Two Defeats; Team in Good Shape

Duke's Hillless Wootens, also the 1933 ball club, left yesterday on their annual Northern trip. The boys were slated to play Princeton this afternoon, Fordham tomorrow, Manhattan on Friday, and the University of Maryland on Saturday. The night engagement with George Washington on the same day is still pending.

The series with Princeton has always been interesting. Every game has been a close contest, with Duke emerging the winner in three of the contests and the Tigers getting the victory May 1st that the schedule was set for Duke and Heavis added to the Blue Inn score with a 2-1 victory.

On Saturday the Blue Devils will visit the Key Club, which is the only two organizations on the campus to have made entries as yet in the golf tournament. It was explained last week that there will not be a regular tournament on a golf course. This has been changed, and the money will probably be played at Hillsdale. Low medal score will determine the winner, as all materials will be played on the same day. There will be no competition in this as everyone gets the golf team (varsity men) will be eligible.

Tar Heels Sweep Field Events For Surprise Win

Guess What!

The tennis entries are coming in very slowly. It would behoove all of these aspirants for positions high in the Intramural ladder to see that their fraternal ties or clubs make entries at once.

Seven seniors, who for four years have dreamed of beating Carolina on the clinders, were again turned back after a gallant fight at Chapel Hill last Saturday. Bowdler, Bradsher, Palmer, and Lewis—four of the five-man track team that won second honors in the Conference last season—garnished no less than 41 of Duke's 60 points, but Carolina, by sweeping the high jump and pole vault, managed to lift in the necessary seconds and thirds to win the meet, 66-0.

The Blue Devils were victorious in eight events and won all the races in rather handy fashion, but they lost all but one of the field events, and their glaring weakness in the high jump and pole vault proved too great a handicap to surmount.

Captain John Bowdler was the hero of the day. He won the century, 220-yard dash, and the 220-yard low hurdles in excellent time. Then, in between, he brought the would-be Tar try the high hurdles and was good enough to nose out Hawthorns of Carolina, for second place. Johnny is a "strong runner" always best when the going is toughest—and Saturday he was great.

Then came Charlie Bradsher to win the quarter in 33 seconds and turn right around and win the half in 1:35. Red Lewis, the other partner of Bradsher, Lewis, and Co., ran a brilliant race in defeat. Metcalfe, of the Tar Heels, in 4:23. Had he wished, he would probably have won.

UNEMPLOYMENT FACTS ENUMERATED BY WHITE

Duke Professor Tells of Demoralizing Tendencies of Dependence on Charity

Dr. N. L. White, of the department of English, addressed the Women's college assembly on Thursday, April 27. Dr. White, who spoke on unemployment, was introduced by Mary Stanley, president of the League of Women Voters.

"There are fifteen million unemployed men and women in the United States today," said the speaker. "These figures do not include those who have never been employed or those who are employed only a few hours a week. About one-fourth of the population of North Carolina is dependent on charity; fully one-third of Durham county is so dependent."

"After demoralization is taken the result of this dependence on charity," Dr. White continued. "Ten or fifteen per cent of the country's unemployed are lost forever as useful citizens. The situation is almost insupportable. So far, what has been done has had little effect."

In conclusion, Dr. White described the labor and material market in Durham, which he felt is actively affected. The present better system in Durham seems to be working quite successfully, according to Dr. White.

team. Men like Bradsher, Bradsher, Bird, Palmer, and Lewis, have great competitive records, but the question is when Lanch, of Virginia, and Red Lewis, in the mile. Then the century features Brownlie, Winderger, and Lynn.

The last effort was an abill or as an fascinating charge, but the question as to the eligibility of Mullis has caused much commotion around here, and we wonder if some one in authority can really clear up the matter.

Princeton has been taking it on the chin this year in baseball. About a week ago the Blue Devils won their first game, but they lost seven contests, but unless the Blue Devils come out of their letting slumps, the Tigers will be due to crash through with a victory.

The Duke Sport ping pong tournament is raging fast and furious at present with a goodly number of Duke athletes. Really good think this is a fine game of something, but you ought to see two really good players at work.

loss of two strong players—who, with the present tennis outfit, would have comprised one of the strongest squads in North Carolina. The men returned to Carlin Norwood and Jimmy Martin. Doctor Gregory would be happy indeed if he could have back these two boys of the '37 team, Norwood being undefeated in his season, and Martin carrying off laurels in the major portion of his matches.

FROTH TENNIS SQUAD MAKING GOOD RECORD

1 doubles, Hamilton and Caton, No. 2, and Kellenecker and Remmey, No. 3, all swept their doubles.

The Blue Imps' upset of the Tar Heel hopefuls delighted their followers, and was a source of surprise to Carolinians. Harris played unobtainable tennis against Bernard Friedman, Tar Heel No. 1, and conquered the victim of Higgins after being held in the first set 4-6, taking the match in straight sets, 6-4, 6-1. The junior ranking player from the north, after Harris had gotten on to his game, was unable to reach his opponent's placements, which grand the sidelines continually. Parsons came through with fine win over Left, Carolina, while Taylor, Duke, won his 3 singles from Sobol. Hamilton and Caton lost their singles, but combined to take the No. 3 doubles. The only other match lost by Duke being in the No. 1 doubles, when Harris and Taylor lost to Friedman and Left. Kumble, won his singles, and then teamed with Parsons to win the No. 2 doubles.

That famous and time honored game of horse shoes (harmful golf) is about to begin. All those who fancy their skill as a thrower of horse shoes should apply. This is going to be a very interesting tournament as the men who seem to have been practicing, namely Epworthians, are presenting a serious threat.

There are only eighteen more days (after this issue) of school, not counting Saturdays and Sundays, until exams begin. That means that there are only that many more days of intramural competition this semester. Soooooo (per J. Wynn) youse lads of intramural fame had better look to your laurels if they are to be your laurels.

On either the 11th or 13th of May there will be given to the intramural department the entire chased period in which to make the awards for distinction in the various sports. All individual and team awards will be given out at this time.

TAR HEELS SWEET FIELD EVENTS FOR SURPRISE WIN

ably have broken Woodward's old record of 4:28, but he was saving himself for a crack at the ironmile. Bob Bird deserves mention for his great race in this grueling event. He was out in front all the way, leading Sullivan and Bray to the tape. The time was the best a Blue Devil has ever turned in and one of the fastest times in the Conference.

With three quarters of the meet on the books, the Duke boys were trailing twenty-one points, but they made a strong dash to almost edge out Carolina. After the low hurdles, every one knew that it was Carolina's day, for an optimum of the first order could scarcely concede Duke all three places in the 800 with Williamson running for the Tar Heels. The wonder is that Bradsher was able to defeat the Carolina boy so conclusively after stepping his fast quarter.

Fresh Lose Also

The Blue Imps also trailed the Tar Babies in a close meet that was run off between the variety events. The score was about even all the way with the Carolina boys having a slight edge, and two places in the 800-yard run gave them the victory, 40:02. Stuenkel, Duke, was the individual star of the meet. He placed in four events and earned up twelve points for his team.
