FACULTY SPONSOR COMMUNITY CHEST

Single Campaign to Benefit University and Durham Welfare Associations

DRIVE BEGINS OCTOBER 16

Pursuant with the unanimous vote of the faculty at its last regular meeting, the president's committee appointed to conduct the university community drive for funds for the several social welfare organizations of the city, wishes to make public its plan.

To avoid the needless and prolonged series of six or seven drives for funds, conducted among the faculty of the university, the committee appointed to conduct the university community chest drive for the benefit of all social welfare organizations of the city, including the university Y. M. C. A., and to administer the funds so subscribed, according to the wishes of each contributing member. Each faculty member will be furnished a card on which will be the name of each social welfare organization, including the Durham Y. M. C. A., the university Y. M. C. A., the Red Cross, the Salvation Army, the Durham Y. W. C. A., and the Boy Scouts.

Each member so canvassed will be asked to indicate the amount he wishes to subscribe and the particular organization to be aided. The amount to be given each of them. Those not wishing to contribute will be asked to indicate the fact and to return the card so that a complete list may be kept.

The drive will be undertaken during the week of October 16-21, and the full cooperation of each member of the faculty will be appreciated. This uniform plan enables one drive to replace the six or seven held in years past; it has the approval of the leading organizations which shall profit from its fund and it gives direct to each organization the proportionate sum wished.

Freshmen Hold Dance

The freshman class "recoped" the undergraduate school by the matter of dances on last October 7. The annual social season was officially opened Saturday night with a dance conducted by readings, sponsored by the Student Government association.

The dance was held in the Women's Gymnasium on the East campus, with music by Nick Nale's orchestra. Pan-Hellenic members from both campuses were present to introduce the men and women. The affair was informal, and closed at eleven o'clock.

STORY-TELLERS' RING ORGANIZED

Purpose of Group Is to Revive Art of Speech in Woodland Setting

As a result of a formal meeting held in the West campus Union on Wednesday, October 4, the "Story Teller's Ring in the Duke Forest" has been formally organized. There were present at this inaugural meeting more than fifty invited guests representing the three sides of university life: the faculty, the administration, and the student body.

Dean Justin Miller of the Duke School of the Duke Forest was the chairman of the meeting and opened the discussion with a few remarks on the need for cultural extracurricular activities. He then introduced Dr. Walter Cutler who presented a concise statement of the plans of the organization.

The purpose of the Story Teller's Ring in the Duke Forest was to revive in the traditional woodland setting the art of the spoken narrative; to foster those arts associated with speech such as drama, telling, and dancing; to insure the perpetuation of story telling as a fine art; to provide a suitable place for such activities in folk-dance, folk-music, and aesthetic drama; and to give beauty to the beholder of its richness.

Dean Miller next introduced Mr. A. T. West of the Duke Players who pointed out the necessity of developing an outdoor theatre for the presentation of certain types of theatrical productions. Among the other members speaking up on the desirability of the proposed plan were Mrs. W. P. Few, Dean Davison, Martha Bailey, John Peterson, Leslie A. Squires, Dean Mary Baldwin, and Dr. McDougall.

Plans for the definite formation of the group were drawn up during the evening. Dr. Walter Cutler was by a unanimous vote made director of the project and two committees were created to help with the actual development. A plan for the financial support of the organization was also presented.

VOLS' SPECIAL TO BE MET BY BAND

With the Tennessee-Duke tussle just three days off, many plans are being made for the celebrated homecoming.

At 10:30 a. m., the Duke band will meet the Tennessee special at the station, and a parade through the main streets of Durham will follow. Final plans for a possible concert by the band are still undecided.

According to approximations by the athletic office, a crowd of 15,000 to 18,000 will attend the game. The students will enter the west gate and will be issued, in sections 26, 25, and part of 24.

The athletic office suggests that, because of the large crowd, students arrive at the game 20 or 30 minutes early to get the kick-off, which will be promptly at 2:30 p. m.

With the Trident club as sponsors, 1,000 students will take part in a figure display similar to those used by Southern California students and other large student bodies.

Although no plans are obvious, it seems to be a certain atmosphere of mystery surrounding the plans of the Trident club. Nothing is evident, but their members will bear close watching through the game.

Enthusiasm was discussed and several contributions were received. Announcement was made of an invited list of sponsors of national repute in the fields of literature, art, dramatics, and story telling.

LITERARY GROUP HOLDS FIRST MEET

McDermott Addresses Society on Value of Public Speaking

The Columbia Literary society held its first meeting of the year last Thursday evening in the trial room of the Law building. Professor McDermott of the Duke Law school addressed the society upon the importance of such an organization.

David Williams, president, explained the prominent role that the Columbia Literary society had played on the campus since its formation in 1946.

Professor McDermott emphasized the value in later life of a knowledge of public speaking and urged all to take advantage of their opportunities. He explained that the ability to stand on one's feet and to express himself clearly and distinctly was an indispensable asset and that such an accomplishment gives one the habit of logical thinking by the placing of facts in their proper order.

Professor McDermott stated that everyone should obtain a thorough knowledge of parliamentary procedure if they hoped to be able to conduct properly business and social functions. He concluded with the warning not to rely on one's mouth instead of the brain, but instead to put logical thought behind all words.

All those interested in adding themselves with the Columbia Literary Society are asked to submit their names to Davis Williams, BB-01, or to Fred Cayle, F-302.

COUNCIL FORMED FOR JUNIOR CLASS

Eleanor Tompkins Appoints Fourteen Women to Serve on New Organization

TO COOPERATE WITH MEN

The formation of a Junior Council was the main topic of discussion at the first meeting of the Junior class of the Woman's college held in the Science building, Friday, October 6.

Al Beckmann, director of the men's Junior council, addressed the women's body with a short talk on the formation of such a council, which contains a representative of each fraternity and six non-fraternity members.

The first council class voted in favor of a similar organization, and Eleanor Tompkins, president of the women's Junior class, appointed the following members: Eleanor Tompkins, Zeta Tau Alpha, Jane Triplett; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Jessie Brewster; Kappa Alpha Theta, Ethel White; Delta Delta Delta, Caroline Kiefer; Pi Beta Phi, Donal Laugston; Kappa Delta, Mary McKelvie; Kappa, Florence Hettley. The non-severity members are as follows: Doris Stree, Dorothy Heroy, Catherine Sawyer, Marjorie King, Mary Yorkes, Emergence Wegener.

The council, in conjunction with the men's council, is planning a number of dances, including a Junior ball featuring a prominent orchestra. Swimming and card parties are also planned.

Juniors, advanced juniors, and sophomores with advanced standing are to purchase tickets for a dollar apiece which will entitle them to attend all such functions.

Bill Burke, president of the men's class, urged the women to cooperate in order that the plans might be successfully executed.

WOMAN'S ORCHESTRA BEGINS REHEARSALS

With the aim of presenting a recital in the spring, illustrating musical lectures in chapel, and joining in the grand concert to be given by all the women's musical organizations, the Woman's college orchestra has begun its weekly rehearsals.

This year's officers are president and concert master, Rachel Metcalf; vice-president and concert manager, Christine Rickwood; secretary and treasurer, Virginia Campbell; director, Miss Evelyn Barnes.

The orchestra at present has a membership of twenty-one. The first violinists are Rachel Metcalf, Celestine Beemer, Elizabeth Pease, Virginia Johnson, Bobby Burns, and Elaine Childs; second violinists are Virginia Tillison, Mary Fallon Harrington, Margaret Harrison, Evelyn Taylor, and Ida Shaw Applewhite. Helen Gray is the cellist.

In the other sections of the orchestra, Virginia Campbell and Edith Miller play flutes. Amy Gamble and Helen Wilson play clarinets. Constance Rickwood plays the cornet. Sara Duckett is the E flat alto saxophonist, and Jane Ritter plays the euphonium. Helen Gray is the accompanist, and Mary Fallon Harrington is her assistant.

To those who have repeatedly maintained that the price charged for meals in the Duke Union is too high, we give the following enlightening information from N. C. C. W.: The cost of three meals per day is 36 cents, or 12 cents per meal. A typical dinner consists of chops with gravy, beef asparagus, spaghetti, and apple pie. And no impartial observer will say that the N. C. C. W. women appear starved.

New Venture Promises Well States English Professor

English Professor Reviews October Issue of Archives; Changes in Physical Appearance and Content Make Strong Appeal to Both Men and Women

It is very apparent to the reader at once that something has happened to the Archives. This doesn't impress me as much, because I have seen the same thing before with very little result except a feeling of injury on the part of those who had to find their quack for it in the library. This is, however, the best fresh start, mechanically, that I have seen the Archives make. The review is very attractive, and the large, three-column page gives an excellent opportunity for slipping in the little impressionistic things in both verse and prose that undergraduates do, on the whole, much better than anything else, and read much more readily, I suspect. Can the editors continue to fill all this space as acceptably as in the present issue? If so, then something has happened. I applaud their boldness and suggest that they are in for a busy season.

The editor's rhyme "Announcement" throws open the door to everything. If all its spirits come as he calls them the Archives may "go places" this year, not excluding the men's office. Some what excited by this, I turn to the editor's article, "Puppets for Pseudo," expecting it to be another editorial pronouncement. It begins "Cynthia with a smile"—and I brace myself, but nothing violent happens. I keep thinking there is something under the surface that I have missed, but it is an account of various types of criticism, mostly humorous, that seems a little up in the air, without supposing some application to undergraduate life, and with the application not clear. Maybe the "smile" is at my expense. I do get an impression of unusual phrase-making ability that is confirmed by the author's play, "On the Half Shell," which contains three characters who are good at it. It is a rather good presentation of the conflict of popularity and ideals in an author, with an authentic poetic dreaminess only slightly marred by over-writing.

There is no other prose in this number that I cannot honestly say is quite readable. John Leland Garrison's "All Things Come to Him Who Waits" presents the hour of triumph of a college professor whose marriage has been a long frustration of his hobby. Amy

JUNIORS TO STUDY CAMPUS AFFAIRS

Form Committee to Investigate Student Complaints and to Suggest Improvements

At the Junior class meeting held Monday morning in the History building, the class took a decided stand in fostering a new organization in the Duke campus, an organization that will be known as the Complaint Department of Duke university.

The object of this body is to investigate the various complaints of the student body, talk facts over with the powers that be and present to them the student's point of view. Condition in the men's dining room will be investigated in the very near future and the various complaints and suggestions for improvements will be published in the Campus.

This is the first time that any such organization has been organized on the Duke campus and the juniors have pledged their wholehearted support. The proposed plans of this body, also have the unanimous approval of the Junior council.

The poetry is not bad, but it hardly up to the prose. Concerning all verse it is short, highly impressionistic poems it is about to be as deplorable as a reviewer seems expected to be. None of it is as bad as some I have seen in far better places, but that doesn't mean much. The four sonnets, two by Edward Huberman and Walter A. Cutler, are a different matter. The sonnet is a highly developed expression of art as well as of individual feeling. One has his choice of games, but he is hardly entitled to infringe the rules of whatever game he chooses. Two of these sonnets have metrical faults, that the editor should have insisted on having corrected; a sonnet is nothing if not correct. They are all fair to middling—hardly better than that—as poems, but so examples of a subtle and highly developed poetic form they are more worthy of the Archives as it used to be (when I published sonnets in it myself) than as it now sets out to be.

On the whole, the new venture promises well. One or two writers are a little careless with the tenets and especially as to form, but so important as their obvious honesty and earnestness. The earnestness is far more to be more a matter of art than of general outlook, but this is only the first number. So far, no cynicism is either given or taken, and there is something engaging about the smile.

CO-ED MUSIC CLUB TO HOLD INITIAL MEETING

The first meeting of the Woman's college Music club will be held Friday at 4:30 p. m. at Alpaugh house, with Miss Evelyn Barnes as hostess. This organization was begun last year for the purpose of fostering music and as a means for recognizing students of marked musical ability. Miss Barnes and Mrs. J. Foster Barnes are its advisors.

The officers of the club are president, Virginia Tillison; vice-president, to be elected; secretary and treasurer, Mary Fallon Harrington; publicity manager, Ruth Patterson. The members of the club are Ida Shaw Applewhite, Virginia Campbell, Bobby Frogel, Janet Griffin, Dorothy Kirkman, Hazel Mangum, Maxine Maxwell, Louise Merkel, Nelson Powell, Carolyn Riddle, Susan Slogden, Isabel Shorner, Leona Snyder, Laura Self Thrift, Betty Voegtlin, Celestine Beemer, Constance Rickwood, Elaine Childs, Mary Fallon Harrington, Helen Daniel, Helen Gray, Rachel Metcalf, Ruth Patterson, Virginia Tillison, and Emergence Wegener.

MATERIAL ADDED TO ARTS DIVISION

Purchase of 200 Slides Aided by Carnegie Corporation of New York

The department of fine arts at Duke university has taken big steps forward in the past year. The department was founded in 1931 and has expanded considerably since then. The photograph collection in 1931-32 totaled 2,057 and in 1932-33 it reached 5,722; the lantern slide collection in 1931-32 totaled 36 and in 1932-33 it reached 1,853.

Further additions have been made during the summer with the acquisition of over 200 slides, duplicates in their collection donated by Wellesley college, and the purchase of about 420 slides from dealers. This material is indispensable in teaching.

Its purchase has been aided by the funds provided by the Carnegie Corporation of New York. The scholarships are administered by the Committee on Architectural Instruction in the fine arts from fifteen colleges and universities are invited each year to attend special courses at Harvard, and the invitation may be extended a second time. Six of the number this year were from southern institutions, among whom was Miss Louise Hall, of Duke. These institutions benefit not only through the direct gift of funds for purchasing equipment, but also through the contacts made with people in old and new departments elsewhere.

Duke university has also received an Art Teaching equipment set, consisting of books, photographs, and prints, as a gift from the Carnegie Corporation to enlarge its library resources.

WHAT makes anything taste better? It's what is in it that makes a thing taste better. CHESTERFIELDS taste better because we buy ripe tobaccos. CHESTERFIELDS taste better because they have the right kind of home-grown tobaccos and Turkish Tobaccos "welded together." We hope this answers your question.

WADENEN SEEK REVENGE
Blue Devils Out to Average 16 to 13 Defeat Suffered Last Season

Football history will be made this Saturday in the Duke stadium when the two favored eleven for conference championships in the South meet in the third of a series of games between Duke and Tennessee. Both teams have been pointing for this game since the beginning of practice early in September.

Tennessee, still remembering the hard won 16 to 13 victory she eked out over the Blue Devils last year at Knoxville, will bring her fastest and strongest team in several years. Major Bob Neyland, who has lost two games since taking up the coaching duties at Tennessee seven years ago, apparently is headed for the Rose Bowl at last—being robbed of perfect records several times by the games.

Both teams will enter Saturday's classic with undefeated records for the 1933 season. The Vols give evidence of their great strength in the season's opener by crushing V. P. I. 27 to 0. The Goshawks were rated as the strongest team in the southern conference. Last Saturday the Vols found a little more opposition in defeating Mississippi State, 20 to 0. Neyland has been saving his men for the Duke game. He used the first team only ten minutes against V. P. I., and for one half of the game with Mississippi State.

The two games Duke has played this season give indications that the local school will place a stronger team against Tennessee than the one that met the Vols last year. The Blue Devils have victories over V. M. I. and Wake Forest.

Both teams will enter the contest in (Continued on page eight)

With The Blue Devils

By Dick Heasler

The followers of the University of Tennessee are nervous. They are worried about the outcome of the Duke-Tennessee game which is in the Duke stadium next Saturday afternoon. And they have a right to be worried. They remember well the surprise the local gave them last season, and know that the Blue Devils will do everything in their power to get a victory over their highly touted eleven.

Football experts see no reason why the Tennessee fans should be extremely worried. On paper the Vols are about two touchdowns better than the Blue Devils. But that brings back to the minds of the Tennessee followers last season's game in which the Vols were supposed to win by about two touchdowns but were forced to resort to a field goal for a victory.

Both teams will pit up a great battle no matter which team may be favored to win. Both are undefeated and ambitious to maintain an unblemished record throughout the season. Saturday's game is only one of many obstacles confronting both eleven. At the end of the season fans will probably find that the winner will be rated as the strongest team in the South.

The people in the stands Saturday who have never had the pleasure of watching Beattie Feathers in action have a treat in store for them. That is if they can watch him. Feathers is about the fastest starting back in the country and once he gets started he is harder to stop than old age.

Duke Brackets is just a shade behind Feathers. The two working together in an answer to any coach's prayer. If Duke can stop them she will have plenty to worry in taking care of Pezrus and Vaughn.

Tennessee will not be the only team with clever backs. Duke's ball carriers are the best in history and have shown marked ability in the games with V. M. I. and Wake Forest.

It will be interesting to watch the line play in Saturday's game. The outcome of the game will probably rest on the shoulders of the men in the forward walls of the two teams. The lines are rather evenly matched. The Duke ends (Continued on page eight)

Three Major Games Scheduled for Coming Week-End in State

DEVILS-VOLS HEAD LIST
Carolina Meets Georgia and Wakepacc Plays Florida for Other State Tills

The football spotlight of the South will be focused on North Carolina this week, where Big Five teams will throw their strength against foreign teams in some of the week's headlines. Heading the list is the Duke-Tennessee game to be played in the Duke stadium. In addition to this game there are the Carolina-Georgia, Florida-State, V. M. I. Davidson, and Wake Forest-Richmond games.

The Tar Heels, playing at Chapel Hill, will have their men more than full in subduing the pigskin Bulldog team. Coach Henry Heels is bringing a team from Georgia, Florida-State, V. M. I. Davidson, and Wake Forest-Richmond games. Having swept aside Tulane last week these boys are anxious to keep up their high standard of play. Carolina, on the other hand, will fight the invaders with a team physically perfect. Both teams are waiting for the breaks and will capitalize on the first one that comes their way.

Friday night Coach Statham will invade Raleigh with his Florida Vals, boasting one of the best defensive lines in the South. The Wakepacc aggression will be fighting with their utmost power to avenge themselves in the eyes of their followers for the 9 to 0 defeat handed them last week by Clemson. This game, incidentally, will mark the official opening of State's new stadium. Florida's attack will be centered around Joe Hughes, most feared man of the 'Gator herd. Ray Rex and Bob McQuinn will handle the brunt of the State offense.

Coming into the state for the second time this season the V. M. I. Fighting Squads will fight once more for a victory over a North Carolina team when they throw their lot against Davidson at Richardson Field next Saturday. Yet to break into the win column after three games, the Soldiers are hoping to present a defense rugged enough to prevent the Wildcats from becoming their fourth conqueror. A better team will take the field against Davidson than that one which slumped so badly against the Blue Devils ten days ago.

The remaining Big Five team—Wake Forest—will be host to the University of Richmond on Thursday afternoon. The Baptists were highly impressive (Continued on page eight)

PEACOCK SECOND IN DISTRICT GOLF

Ex-Duke Varsity Star Rated High in Washington Golf Circles

Roger Peacock, captain of the Duke university southern conference championship golf team last year, and 1932 District of Columbia golfing champion, was rated second in the annual selection of the top best golfers in the District, compiled by a Washington sports writer recently.

Peacock was defeated in the play-off match for the District title by an 18 year old golfer, Dick Lum, whose winning stroke was a 30-foot putt. This match was also the basis of determination for the list of the ten best golfers.

During the past summer, Peacock won the Congressional Invitation tourney and played a spectacular game as he emerged victorious in the Maryland State Amateur tournament. He was decidedly off his game in the Middle Atlantic title matches however, and failed to qualify.

In illustrated Football Annual Duke ranked 9th in the national ranking, while in the Football Digest the Blue Devils were placed 8th.

TENNESSEE GAME BIG OPPORTUNITY

Duke Ready to Enter Game With Everything to Gain

After the arrival of Coach Wallace Wade at Duke, the title monster at Alabama, where the success of his teams were nationally known, football fans were curious to know how soon it would be before the newest southern school would rise to prominence in football circles.

In the first year under the Wade system, 1931, the Blue Devil machine did not create too large a bubble in the football cauldron, except for the unexpected defeat of Kentucky. Last year Duke broadcast her power in southern company by a repetition of that 1931 Kentucky victory, and by the thrilling game with Tennessee, losing 16-13. Then too Crawford, a Blue Devil, became second team All-American, and several others were rated as all-southern eleven.

As the 1933 game with the fourth rated team in the nation approached, against the Vols of Tennessee, Duke is preparing for the biggest moment in all of her athletic history, and others record (Continued on page eight)

FIVE LOOP TEAMS MEET ELEVEN'S OF NEW CONFERENCE

Members of Old Conference Continue Grid Relations Despite Split

NO CONFERENCE GAMES

With the 1933 football campaign rapidly gaining momentum, five southern conference eleven will take the field in important, inter-league grid engagements, over the week-end, and five other member teams will take part in games of less consequence.

While the spotlight of the day will be focused on the Duke-Tennessee battle, the Carolina-Georgia fray will draw its share of interest. While the Tar Heels are rated slight favorites to increase their standing in eight victories over the Bulldogs, past records show that pre-game indications are no criterion. Each team will have seven veterans of last year's thrilling 6-0 defeat, back in the field of play. Georgia has outplayed the Carolina eleven five times during the past thirty-eight years.

North Carolina State, one of the four teams which were favored to be in the race for the southern conference title, was unconsciously dropped from the quarter Saturday as a result of the 8-0 thrashing handed them by Clemson in a league battle last Saturday. Duke will make an attempt to climb back into the victory list Saturday when they engage Florida in a leading inter-circuit contest.

The Cavaliers of the University of Virginia will meet the Columbia university team, while Maryland will tackle the Tulane Green Wave, V. M. I. and Davidson, and V. P. I. and William and Mary, will face each other. Clemson will engage the George Washington Redskins Friday. South Carolina will test this (Continued on page eight)

WAKE ADVANCES EARLY
Deacons Threaten Duke Goal Line Early in First Period of Game

With Coach Wade's second string falling in to score, the Blue Devil varsity was inserted into the lineup against Wake Forest Saturday, and in the last three periods ran up a 22-0 margin of victory. Showing a noticeable reversal of form from that which they displayed in the V. M. I. game, Duke's second team barely halted a surprising Deacon march to the goal line, and were not able to roll up a touchdown in the first quarter.

Wake Forest led the line, thrilled their cheering band of supporters with an attack in the first five minutes of play, when by a series of line plunges and end runs they brought the ball from their own 30 yard line to the enemy's 30. This rush was halted by two blocking plays, thereafter Coach Wade's Deacons failed to threaten Duke's goal line, but with a similar spirit applied to their defensive they struggled against a superior varsity squad of Blue Devils.

Cox and Laney accounted for touchdowns when Bob pummeled at tackle and Laney crossed the line on a short run around right end. A fine pass by McAnish and just as pretty a catch by Rogers made the score 20-0, and a short while later Freddie Crawford produced the final score by tackling the Wake Forest punter behind the goal line.

Although not scoring "Corky" Corsett was one of the excellent players on the field, having a deciding play on pass receiving and blocking, and running. During the second half "Corky" was the indirect cause of Duke's points. With a kick-off pass from Laney, a 22 yard punt, and a line (Continued on page eight)

Last Year's Finalists Get 24-0 Victory Over Sigma Phi Epsilon Team

Six touch football games were played during this past week by fraternities. The Kappa Sigma, Delta Tau Delta, Notre Dame Rambda, Delta Sigma Phi, Sigma Chi and Lambda Chi Alpha teams were the winning ones.

Opening the season, the Kappa Sigma overcame the Sigma Phi Epsilon team 24-0 in an uneven game last Wednesday on the soccer field. Martin made two touchdowns to lead the scoring.

Pi Epsilon Pi was defeated by the Notre Dame Rambda 12-0 to Thursday, October 5, on the soccer field as Thompson threw two passes which resulted in touchdowns. The only spectator play was a 25-yard pass to Tidwell who ran 50 to the goal line.

The Delta Tau Delta team defeated the Keys Club 12-0 in the final half of an evenly fought game Thursday afternoon.

Delta Sigma Phi won over Alpha Tau Omega 18-0 in a spirited game Thursday, as the passing combination, O'Connor to Baird, worked twice for touchdowns and Bostock intercepted a pass for the third.

Lambda Chi Alpha made a tally in the first half to win their game against the School of Religion 6 to 0, Monday, October 10.

Sigma Chi beat Sigma Delta 24-0 in the second half after a scoreless first half. Abbott ran back a punt for the most spectacular run of the game, and Kunkle threw three passes which resulted in points.

WARREN BATTLES FIGHT COOK IN MAIN FIGHT ATTRACTION

Popular Duke Coach Promotes and Fights in El Toro

HAS EXCELLENT RECORD

Turris in Many Knockouts After Sensational Career as an Amateur

One of the many features for the week-end of the Tennessee game will be the decided interest in the student body and returning alumni will be the first full boxing matches to be held at the El Toro park in Durham Friday night in which Add Warren, popular Duke boxing and wrestling coach, is featured in the double main event.

Warren, who has continued more to North Carolina's fame in fistic circles than any other fighter in recent years, is promoting the matches and fighting Joe Cook in the win-put. Cook is a scrappy young heavyweight from Charlotte.

Although not fighting much in the past two years, Warren will enter the ring Friday night with the same good physical condition that brought him the southern conference heavyweight championship in 1926.

While at Carolina, Warren was one of the outstanding leaders on the campus both in athletics and other student activities. He was a star lineman on the football team and southern conference champion in both boxing and wrestling.

In 45 fights Warren won 24 by knockouts, 10 by decisions, was kayoed three times and lost two by decisions. By this season he added several more victories to his long string by stopping K. O. Parker in five rounds and Henry Bartlett in three.

Tickets for the all-star bouts are on sale at the University News Stand, Warren's Cafe, and Five Points Dope Shop. Reserve seats can be obtained for $1.25 and others for $4.85 plus tax. The preliminary is scheduled for 7:30 p. m.

Dennis O'Connor Elected Swimming Team Captain

At a meeting of the lettermen of last year's Duke swimming team Friday, Dennis O'Connor was elected captain for the coming season. O'Connor won the 50 and 100 yard free style on the team which won all its dual team contests. The team also won the state championship and placed second in the southern conference meet held in Charlottesville.

O'Connor first attracted Coach Pearson's attention by defeating Sam Smith, former Duke star swimmer.

HIGGINS VICTOR IN MIDDLE-ATLANTICS

Teams With Barney Welsh to Win Sweeping Victory in Doubles

Duke ended University of North Carolina's three-year domination of the Middle Atlantic intercollegiate tennis championship last Thursday by making a clean sweep of the singles and doubles titles.

Johnny Higgins coasted to an easy victory over Harvey Harris, 6-0, 6-2, 6-2. His steaming drives and disconcerting cuts carried him through without a let-down, while his back court game was the feature of the match.

Johnny provided an upset when he defeated Barney Welsh, captain and No. 1 player of Durham, in the quarter final. In the semi-finals, Dave Devell was matched against Lamb Devell, and Tar Heel against Tar Heel. Higgins conquered his team-mate, Charles Harris, while Harvey Harris, of North Carolina, followed suit against Walter Levitt.

Higgins and Welsh downed the University of North Carolina men, Harry Harris and Levitt, to the tune of 6-3, 6-4, 6-4, in the doubles final. Johnny's set play was outstanding in the doubles play.

At the last meeting of the tennis squad, Thomas Baird, of Swarthmore, Pa., was made manager for the season of 1933-34.

Coach Greig has issued a call to all men, particularly freshmen, who are interested in trying out for manager of tennis. These men should report to him or Manager Baird any afternoon this week at the tennis court.

Full practice began last Monday, and a match with the University of Virginia, to be played here, has been arranged for later in the fall.

Fred Sington, line coach for the Duke freshman, was selected on Draven Dyer's All-American Row Boat team.

Boxing Coach Optimistic About Results of Coming Fight

In response to Coach Add Warren's opening call for boxing candidates for the freshman and varsity teams, twenty enthusiastic pugilists turned out in the gymnasium on Monday afternoon at 9 o'clock. In a preliminary talk, Warren said, "We are going to take it easy for the first week, confining our efforts mainly to shadow boxing, work on the bags, and rope climbing. Next week, however, the real work will begin, with morning in the ring and road work. It will do you good to run a little every morning before breakfast, thus building up your lungs and leg muscles."

The team this year will be built up around Captain Leroy Sides, welterweight and state champion of last year; Fred Lloyd, last year's captain and southern conference heavyweight champion; and Carl Huff, victor over Carolina's "K. O." Brown last year. These men, together with a host of promising new material, and several more veterans, are certainly something to feel optimistic about. Following is a list of the men who reported on Monday and their weights. The starred men are the freshmen:

WITH THE BLUE DEVILS

will probably have an edge at their positions, and Duke will have a sure advantage at one tackle position. Captain "Reddy" Maples of Tennessee seems to have the advantage over E. B. Dunlap at the line Saturday's play may prove differently.

The Tennessee game is the outstanding feature of the fall athletic program here. For the moment the home game with such traditional foes as Carolina and N. C. State are forgotten. Duke's position would be greatly enhanced by a victory over the Vols. A win seems to be a great deal to hope for, but those who saw the fighting spirit displayed by Duke in last year's game will not be greatly surprised if the Blue Devils knock Tennessee off the throne of southern football supremacy.

live in their debut last Saturday against Duke and with a good running attack will be able to give Richmond a tough fight. Whitley Russell will again lead the ball carriers and will be guarded by a line which gave the Blue Devils some trouble to remember.

Only one Big Five game was played last week, that being the Wake Forest-Duke tussle, which victory by Wake's men sent them into a tie for first place with Carolina. The Tar Heels, by the way, put up a valiant struggle before being subdued by Vandellville, 20 to 13. Davidson and Wakeford engaged in a field day with Davidson carrying off high honors, 28 to 13.

absences a reduction of one hour of credit is made.

"As soon as the number of absences in a single semester course, exclusive of the absence due to prolonged illness and authorized representation of the university, exceeds three times the number of credit hours of the course carried, registration in that course is cancelled."

"A student is entitled absent four meetings of a class before he is matriculated at the beginning of a semester."

"Each absence incurred just before or after Thanksgiving, Christmas, or Easter holidays shall be counted as three absences."

"In addition, a student for excessive absences, may, at the discretion of the college, be put on probation or dropped from the college."

"Weekly reports of all absences of students from class are made by each instructor and are filed in the office of the dean. A permanent record of the absence of each student is kept and becomes a part of his general college record."

"The instructor has no authority to excuse a student from class attendance, and it is his duty to report all absences for whatever cause, to the dean's office at the end of each week."

DUKE DROPS DEACON'S 2-0

plunge, Corneille put the ball in a position for Lapey's score, and another 19 yard run helped to carry Duke close to the Deacon goal, where Crawford made his touchdown.

Crawford was sensational in his line play during the game. With his famous one-handed tackle—usually around a neck—Fredrick once stopped a Wake Forest man before he could reach the line of scrimmage, and was the first to be walking to the tackle the Deacon's punt receiver.

The backbone feature of the Duke V. M. T. game was eliminated, as the Blue Devils reduced their 135 yard play by penalties against the Deacons to 12 yards against last Saturday's opponents.

Recounting again is the fact that every man on the Duke squad is in shape for the Tennessee game with the exception of McAlach, who sustained a knee injury in the last contest.

Association Dance Friday

Blue Devils Will Play For Prom on Eve of Tennessee Football Classic

One of the social highlights of the year, the Student Government association's fall dance, will take place Friday night, October 13. The dance, which will be informal, is to be held in the Women's gymnasium on the East campus on Saturday.

Nick Lapey's Blue Devils will play for the dancers from late until one o'clock. During the intermission a brief pep meeting will be held for the Tennessee game on Saturday.

Because of the recent Pan-Hellenic rivalry, only undergraduates will be allowed to attend this dance. Freshmen are strictly prohibited.

Tickets may be secured by showing membership cards at the Student Government office on Thursday or Friday between the hours of two and four. Student Government fees should be paid at this time, as tickets will be issued only to those who have paid in full.

Dances sponsored by the Student Government association in the past have been very popular with the undergraduate body and have received their wholehearted endorsement. The Inaugural Ball, given last spring after the Men's Student Government elections, was an outstanding example.

FIVE LOOP TEAMS MEET EVEN-INGS OF NEW CONFERENCE

No intra-loop games will be played in the southern conference this week.

The Tar Heels' performance against the Vanderbilt Warriors last week gave indications that Carolina will have to be considered by conference championship aspirants as they plan their march toward the title. The Commodores were to be a 20-35 score by Carolina, as both teams tagged great aerial attacks. South Carolina's veteran Commodore's were outscored 15-6 by the Villanova eleven last week as a fast running attack brought the Pennsylvania revenge for last year's defeat by the Carolinians.

The Cavaliers of Virginia traveled to Columbus, Ohio, last week where they played Wake Forest in the Ohio State largest score ever yielded up by a team in the Hoosier state tour. Army's footballers took the measure of the V. M. T. Callets by 35-0, at West Point Saturday, and Washington and Lee defeated William and Mary 7-0.

TENNESSEE BRINGS STRONGEST TEAM ON RECORD TO MEET DEVILS IN CRUCIAL GAME

fairly good physical condition. However, Tennessee will be without the services of Bresey Wynn who broke his ankle in the V. P. I. game. Wynn brought defeat to Duke in last year's game by making a field goal in the last few minutes of play to put the Vols on the long end of 16 to 13 score. Duke will also be handicapped in the loss of Roy Philipps, a tackle.

In Beattie Peabody and Duke Bruckert, Tennessee has two of the country's leading backfield axes. Peabody, largely missing the all-American first team last season, seems to be headed for a first place position on a national scale this season. Bruckert, clever field general of the Vols, is not far behind his famous ovary in backfield ability.

Duke will also present a potential all-American in Fred Crawford. Crawford, largely by his brilliant performance against the Tennessee team last season, was placed on the all-American second team. The giant tackle stepped Bruckert in his tracks every time the Tennessee safety received a pass. Besides his great defensive game against the Vols, Crawford brought Duke her first score by intercepting a pass and racing 72 yards for a touchdown.

Besides bringing the country's best backfield to the Duke stadium, Coach Neyland will present a line that can equal any in the South. The Duke line last had the Vols reverse time on the goal line last year is practically intact for this season's game.

Tennessee is strong in every department of the game. Peabody is the south-eastern conference's leading punter and punter. If the local play as well as they did in last season's game they will be the Vols' capital in these departments. Rountree, by his great kicking, helped a great deal in keeping the score as close as it was.

The grizzled rivalry between the two schools began in 1901. The first game was played in Knoxville with the Blue Devils going down in defeat, 25 to 2. The score, however, does not represent the closeness of the game. Tennessee capitalized four backs to score touchdowns. After the game the two schools signed a five year contract with the first game to be played in Knoxville. The Duke team made the trip in 1932 with no great result behind them. The week before Wake Forest was barely beaten, 9 to 0. The Knoxville better were offering Duke supporters 13 points on the game. After trailing 13 to 0 at half time, Duke came back to knot the count at 13 to 13 with three minutes left to play. It was at this point that Wynn brought Tennessee her closest victory in ten years on the Knoxville grizzled by making a field goal.

BLUE IMP'S CRUSH OAK RIDGE CACTES

Alert Football Aids Freshmen to Convert Fumbles Into 3-4-6 Score

Playing head-up ball from the time of the kick-off until the final whistle, Duke's Blue Imps easily crushed the Oak Ridge Military Institute football team in the home stadium last Friday by the score of 34-6. The final outcome was never in doubt after the freshmen had scored in the opening minutes of the game. From then on the Blue Imps increased their lead and protected it, allowing only one touchdown in the last period.

Alertness of the Duke fresh was the means of pushing over every touchdown. Respectably they fanned on Oak Ridge fumbles, intercepted and broke up forward passes, and blocked one punt which resulted in a touchdown. The second team also found the cactus vulnerable, scoring in the second quarter on a pass from Henry to Plington.

Porte Scathers tallied twice during the contest for the Blue Imps by plunges through the line, and Boyd carried the ball across the line once on a tricky reverse play. Parker was the third star backfield man of the game by the excellence of his passing; running, and kicking—scoring three points after touchdowns.

Evans, with Swigwood and Cardwell, was the majority of the freshman line. Evans broke through his opponents once to block a punt behind the Oak Ridge goal line.

Opposing the numerous fresh collegiate stars, trying with them for honors, were Captain Fred Hill, Oak Ridge guard, Fletcher Spangler, halfback, and Doc Pittsburgh, back.

The freshman coaches will have two weeks in which to prepare their charges for the strong schedule remaining.

sit when they enter the stands. Everyone is required to follow the directions of the cheerleaders at all the meetings as well as at the game.

At pep meetings held Monday night a great deal of enthusiasm was evidenced by the freshmen as well as undergraduates. The parade went downtown where a pep meeting was held in front of the court house. The presence of the crowds who escaped the rigors of frost night joining their male friends added fuel to the occasion. Several fire trucks unwittingly took part by answering false alarms, adding noise to that being made by the students.

TENNESSEE GAME

ning this game will have wired reservations for the game; newspapers are taking note, and students are rapidly approaching a point of nervous anticipation.

Duke enters the game with "everything to gain and little to lose," while the Vols have the reverse situation. To beat Tennessee would place the Blue Devils on the pinnacle of southern football—for Tennessee by virtue of her excellent record now holds the top position—and would receive consideration from every sectional team in the country.
