LITERARY GROUP PLANS BIG YEAR

Sigma Upsilon Will Introduce Study of International Literature

SELECTS NEW MEN SOON

Commenting on the plans of Sigma Upsilon, leading national literary fraternity, for the coming year, Leslie Allison Squires, president, expressed a keen desire to make Sigma Upsilon a powerful factor in the cultural life of Duke university.

This year the members will undertake an extensive study of two important subjects. The study of international literature, and discussion of the leading American authors, will be carried out in the bi-weekly meetings of the organization.

The initiation of new members will be held in approximately two weeks, and it is hoped that Paul Green, famous Chicago writer, Sigma Upsilon will speak at the initiation banquet. These initiates will be extended loans on the basis of their ability in creative writing and their knowledge of and interest in contemporary literature.

Leslie Squires, president, Richard Smith, vice-president, James Newsom, treasurer, and Lynne Fye, secretary, in their capacity as officers of the organization will extend the seven bids in the near future.

A new feature of the program is the provision for members of the faculty to speak at the meetings on the various fields of literature with which they are most familiar. If present negotiations are successful, Sigma Upsilon may present famous men in the field of literature to the university as speakers, following the lead of the social science department in having Count Sforza here last year.

CIRCUS SHOWS HERE ON GOLDEN JUBILEE TOUR

The Greatest Show on Earth, Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Combined Circus, this season celebrating the Golden Jubilee of the Ringling Brothers, is definitely scheduled to exhibit in Durham, October 20.

They bring with them a feature more spectacular, more dazzling than any other ever produced by these master showmen. It is a reproduction of the Durbin, the world famous coronation ceremony at Delhi, India. All of the splendor of this colossal event will be authentically portrayed with a cast of 2,000 people and animals.

Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey, in keeping with their world show supremacy, have secured the greatest collection of performers ever produced together. On their four stage and five rings and in the air show them, appear stars whose names are heard wherever the world goes to get good entertainment.

Symphony Concert To Be Held In Page Auditorium October 27

North Carolina Symphony Orchestra Will Render Selections by Mozart, Dvorak, Tchaikowski, John Powl, Chosen For the Enjoyment of the Audience

The North Carolina Symphony orchestra will open their third season on Friday night, October 27, in Page auditorium when they will present a concert sponsored by the Durham Charity League.

Special interest is attached to this concert because it presents the only two recognized American composers who were born and live in the South. They are John Powl, guest pianist and Lamar Stringfield, orchestra conductor. Mr. Powl will be at the piano during the presentation of his "Negro Rhapsody" and Mr. Stringfield will deliver prize for American competition in 1928.

At the concert given in Durham last December, this same orchestra gave the first performance of Mr. Stringfield's composition, "The Legend of John Henry," a symphonic ballad based on a legend of the North Carolina mountaineers.

Last year at the start of the movement, skepticism was shown towards the music of an orchestra recruited from the material at hand in North Carolina. It was doubted that fifty musicians of symphonic caliber could be found in the state and that any group of musicians could be adjusted to give an artistic performance with three days of preparation.

JUNIORS TO HOLD DANCE SATURDAY

The first of a series of four dances to be given this fall by the Junior class of Duke university will be held Saturday evening in the hall room of the Men's Union. Dancing will begin at 8 o'clock with Johnny Long's College at 11:45 o'clock.

At the Junior class meeting held Monday morning in the Biology building, the class unanimously went on record in extending to Mrs. Pemberton, social relations chairman of the men's camp, an invitation to become an honorary member of the class of 35. Mrs. Pemberton has chaperoned all socials of this class since freshman year and will be initiated into the class Saturday evening.

Students who have not as yet paid their dues may do so through their fraternity representatives to the Junior council, while non-fraternity men may pay their representatives: Bill Thompson, Joe Hollinger, John Henry, Red Harty, Speed Howell, or Ray Bahall.

However, Mr. Stringfield stated that he has discovered over two hundred qualified musicians in this state. Percy Grainger, guest conductor at two of last year's concerts, said that never in his experience had he conducted a more responsive orchestra. Their six concerts given before thousands of appreciative music lovers last year left no doubt for the success of the organization.

This enterprise is an outgrowth of the universal trend of people in all walks of life towards the appreciation of music by the actual participation in musical activities. North Carolina has been doing much during the last ten years to foster and develop musical talent, but, until the organization of the North Carolina Symphony Society, little had been done to keep the real talent in the state for local enjoyment. Because the material is recruited within North Carolina, it is possible to give high quality entertainment at a low price.

The program will include compositions by Mozart, Dvorak, Tchaikowski, and John Powl. The selections have been chosen for the enjoyment of persons having limited knowledge of music as well as the sophisticated musician. The sponsors have chosen to entertain their audience rather than to educate them.

TOWN GIRLS CLUB HOLDS FIRST MEET

The Town Girls Club of Duke university held their first meeting and organized for the coming year last Friday. The members who reside off the campus met in the Town Girls room in Cary building and listened to a short talk by Catherine Powe, the president, concerning "Push for the other, and all for the Women's college."

An interesting discussion concerning the projects of the club for the year was also held. It was voted that Miss Elizabeth Aldridge and Miss Mary Grace Wilson be requested to act as sponsors of the club. The first Friday of each month is the regular meeting day.

The following officers were introduced to the new girls: Vice-president, Julia Combs; recording secretary, Sue Kernold; treasurer, Eln Abernathy; Committee chairman, aeri social, Julia Combs; program chairman, Ormond, Eln Abernathy; publicity, Eleanor Markham.

At last it has come to this: a course on the proper means of heating will be offered at Butler university this fall.

STUDENT TYPISTS ORGANIZE BUREAU

Stenographers Band to Guarantee Efficiency and Maintain Standard Fees System

MEETING TUESDAY NIGHT

A meeting for the purpose of organizing a Duke university typing bureau was held last Monday evening, October 16, in room 102, Page building. Present at that time were a number of rapid and efficient typists and stenographers who are paying part of their college expenses by typing theses and other for students.

The past meeting was a preliminary one which was called for the purpose of finding out who were interested in such an organization, and for the opportunity of explaining to those interested the purpose and advantages of such a bureau. The persons who are found eligible after taking the accuracy tests will meet on Tuesday, October 24, at 8 p. m. in 102 Page building.

All those who are interested in taking the tests for membership should get in touch with B. M. Patrick, either by telephoning the campus number 484, or by calling at the box office of Quasimodo Pictures.

The purpose of the organization is to provide a uniform standard of typing for the faculty and students of Duke university, to provide an established medium between authors of theses and those typists, and to standardize the rates for typing and stenographic work.

Crum Addresses Seniors

Dr. Mason Crum, of the School of Religion, acted as advisor to the senior class during the absence of Dean Greene last Monday a. m. In a short talk, Dr. Crum urged the seniors to consider more seriously the personal needs of the individual, as a thing apart from the academic needs of daily life. The Explorers' club and the newly formed Story Teller's Ring in the forest were cited by Dr. Crum as two campus organizations making a distinct contribution to the personalities of those participating in their activities.

Alumni Shown Fine Welcome

A grand program complete in every detail was accorded a throng of alumni last Saturday, old friends, a barbecue luncheon, and a wonderful exhibition of football by two great teams—a victory for the Alma Mater over a greatly heralded team. A finer welcome could be accorded no alumni.

The events of the day were under the direction of Henry B. Dwyer, director of public relations and alumni affairs. The alumni established their headquarters in the Union; they lunched in the grove back of Crowell house, and went on to the game where they occupied seats at the 40-yard line. Open house after the game was held by the various fraternities and were enjoyed by a great many of these guests.

The barbecue luncheon, though more nearly formal than any of the other events, was still a free and easy affair. For this time prize soups were awarded to W. H. Ripley, of Winetka, Ill., and Mrs. R. W. Parker, of Elberon, N. J., for traveling the greatest distance to see the game. Col. Walter P. Andrews, of Dayton Beach, Fla., of the class of 1887 was the oldest alumnus present.

The grade regrettably had one thing that they were unable to participate in the victory celebration with the undergraduates. They commented on the wonderful spirit that seemed to be instilled in the student body.

PRE-MEDICAL MEN FORM FRATERNITY

Charter Members to Entangle Kadavre Klub and Petition National Order

The latest organization to appear on the Duke campus is the Kadavre Klub, a local undergraduate honorary fraternity for pre-medical students, which came into being October 8.

Early expansion by the pledging of new men is planned, and it is the intention of the organizers to petition a national fraternity.

One feature planned is the presentation of moving pictures of medical subjects which will be interesting and helpful to both members and non-members of the fraternity.

The ideals of the founders as expressed in the constitution which has been drawn up are to be found a local honorary society—secret in character, its object being to bring about close relationship among men interested in the same subject—medicine.

Pledges among freshmen are to be made following fraternity rushing season. Overcuppers may be pledged at any time. Membership is to be limited to those students in pre-medicine.

FIRST PRODUCTION OF PLAYERS TO BE PRESENTED NOV. 3

Bernard Shaw's "The Great Catherine" to Open Campus Dramatic Season

HAS A SEASONED CAST
Anita Knox Will Play Title Role and
George Lynch the Male Lead

Friday night, November 3, at 8:15 p. m., the curtain will rise on Bernard Shaw's "The Great Catherine," the first production to be offered this year by the Duke Players. In this impressive fashion the Players announce the opening of their 1938-39 season of campus dramas.

Rehearsals have been the "order of the day" for the past week and a half, and with the final cast definitely arranged, results look to prove so forthcoming. Included in the speaking parts are in the title role, Anita Knox, of Mountain View, N. Y., who will be remembered as Maria Pags of "A Romantic Young Lady," as Patonkin, George Ernest Lynch, of Boston, Mass., returning to the stage after a year's absence; Duke's own, a Russian lady-in-waiting, is taken by Sara Sue Robinson, of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Shirley Todd, of New York, a friend and a new arrival; and the Duke Players as cast as Yvonne, niece of Patonkin; Captain Edmondson, a young English officer at the Russian court, is being played by Charles Beatty, Pittsboro, Pa., who carried the lead in last year's contest play, "Ours," Chiles, a young Englishwoman and his sweetheart, will be portrayed by Ruth Phillips, Long Island, N. Y., a participant in several of last year's plays; Naryskina, the Lord-Chamberlain, will be taken by Stuart Bloor, of Marietta, Ohio; and the Sergeant will be played by Calhoun Andrews, of Quantico, Va.

With the exception of two members, "The Great Catherine" boasts a seasoned cast, and should prove to be very well received. All the members have had considerable dramatic experience in the past, and the two newcomers to the Players stage may be expected to come up to the standard of the rest of the cast, with a bit of hard work. The Misses Robinson and Todd performed excellently in tryouts, and were chosen in preference to several more seasoned members of the Players.

Men's Apparel

By BEAN NASH

With an eye on the fashions and the coming Pan-Hills, your shrewdly feels that it is about time to say something in this feature about formal evening dress. There is, this year, an even more decided leaning toward the formal tail-coat as the proper garment for evening wear. We predict that its popularity will be greater than last year on this campus, and believe that this winter will definitely see the last dances at which tuxes will be considered at all in place. The tail-coat has been universally accepted throughout the East, and although southern colleges are definitely less style-con-

Negro Poetry Exhibited At East Campus Library

Under the sponsorship of the interracial group of the Young Women's Christian association, an exhibit has been placed in the East Campus library with the aim of interesting students in the legends and folkways of the South. The exhibit features mainly the contemporary poetry of the negro.

The poetry of Paul Lawrence Dunbar has an important place in this collection of negro literature. Three of his books which are included in the exhibit are "Poems of Cabin and Field," "Collected Works," and "Lyrics of Lowly Life." Short poems showing the simplicity and feeling of Dunbar's work is entitled "Life."

"A crust of bread and a corner to sleep in;
A minute to smile and an hour to weep in,
A minute to joy to a peck of trouble,
And never a laugh but the moun' comes double,
And that is life . . ."

ecious that Yale, Harvard, and Princeton, late are being worn throughout the South.

The latest version of the tail-coat is one that carries peaked, dual-buttoned lapels and dual-silk buttons. (It is practically imperative tails be tailored to measure.) There is a tendency to a straight drop-line from the shoulder-blades to the skirt. Shoulders are tapered. There is a definitely denoted waistline. The trousers are high-waisted, medium, and slightly pegged. Suspenders should always be worn with formal clothes.

In the trends, lines are much the same as the fall dress. Peaked lapels are favored, and the four button double-breasted model is most desirable. The waistline is more accentuated in the suit than in the fall dress.

The double-breasted vest is definitely out this season. A single-breasted vest with a V- or soft V opening (able for full dress, either for suit wear) is the proper thing.

The newest thing in shirts has a shorter, narrower neck, more like a dickie, and is much more comfortable. Another new version has a belt across the back, much like the belt on the back of a vest. The pattern of shirt, vest, and tie should match. The proper tie is of either the semi-butterfly or the pointed end design, black for the tie, white for shirt. And a hand-tied tie always looks better than a ready tied one.

As to jewelry, please match your shirt, vest, and link studs. Today we saw some self-polished black onyx studs that were very attractive looking. Either white or smoked pearl is good in studs also.

The proper hat with tails is, of course, the silk top-hat, and with the tail a black felt Homburg may be worn. Items worth your notice: the new shirts with a plumed-through collar, the collar and cuffs in white piping . . . new wool scarves in stripes and folded designs . . . a black and white checked raincoat in a balmain cut.

One of the books which should be of special interest to Duke students is "An Anthology of Verse by American Negroes," compiled by Dr. N. E. White, of Duke university and Professor W. C. Johnson, of North Carolina College for Women. Other works included in the collection are Claude McKay's "Harlem Shadows," Joseph Cotter's "Band of Golden," Countee Cullen's book entitled "Color," and a "Book of American Negro Poetry," by James Weldon Johnson.

The exhibit is not limited merely to selections of poetry. Music plays a vital part in the life of the American negro, and for this reason two books of songs have been included in the group. They are "American Folk Songs," and "Negro Songs a New Heaven."

METHODIST MEET STARTS SATURDAY

North Carolina Methodist Student's Conference to Be Held at Greensboro College

An interspersing program is scheduled for the second annual North Carolina Methodist students' conference to be held at Greensboro college, beginning at ten Saturday and lasting through 3 p. m. Sunday.

A number of instructive addresses by well known speakers will be heard and another feature expected to be quite popular is the open forum discussion groups to be held on temperance, birth control, and other subjects of vital present day interest.

From thirty to forty Duke students are expected to attend the meeting. The first conference of North Carolina Methodists was held last year on the Duke university campus, and was attended by about 180 students from various North Carolina colleges.

Warren Scoville, James Rink, and Miss Myrtle Pomeroy are all circulating applications from students wishing to attend the conference. The fee of $1.00 includes the banquet, Sunday morning breakfast, and Saturday night's lodging.

As to jewelry, please match your shirt, vest, and link studs. Today we saw some self-polished black onyx studs that were very attractive looking. Either white or smoked pearl is good in studs also.

HARDWICK HERE FOR FIVE DAY VISIT

Traveling Secretary of Student Y. M. C. A. Will Give Many Talks While at Duke

TO SPEAK AT ASSEMBLY

Jim Hardwick, traveling secretary of the student Y. M. C. A., arrived today for a five-day visit. Mr. Hardwick was captain of the Y. P. I. football team ten years ago, and after his graduation went to Yale for post-graduate work. He has been a leading participant in student Y. M. C. A. activities since his graduation.

Mr. Hardwick met with O. D. K. for dinner tonight, and gave his first talk, Thursday morning he will speak to the women's assembly on the subject of "Poetry of America Today," which has been chosen as the subject of the next interspersed group meeting to be held at North Carolina College for Negroes on October 24.

Friday evening Mr. Hardwick will join the Y. M. C. A. cabinet and the sophomore Y. M. C. A. council on a hike and picnic. For Saturday evening the Freshman Fraternity council has arranged a retreat to which all freshmen are invited. Mr. Hardwick will join this party on their hike to Piney mountain, a camp site in the Duke forest, where he will talk to the group around a camp fire.

Mr. Hardwick will be found in the Y. M. C. A. office Thursday, Friday, and Saturday morning, for private interview with students who have personal problems they would like to talk over with him. As Mr. Hardwick has been in close connection with students for the past ten years, he is particularly well fitted to help college men with their individual problems, and the Y. M. C. A. urges every one on the campus to take advantage of this offer.

Harold Loring Gives Lecture On Indian Life

Harold Loring, pianist and lecturer, presented a program, "The American Indian in Story and Song," in the Woman's auditorium on Wednesday, October 18, under the sponsorship of the senior class.

Mr. Loring spent many years on Indian reservations in the northwest learning the native melodies of the Indians, and their stories and legends. His lecture, which was filled with accounts of these customs and Indian folklore, was illustrated by means of music. In his program, Mr. Loring analyzed the part each song played in the tribal life of the old time Indians, and he presented those songs in their crudity, just as the Indians sang them. He also told of the various ceremonial dances and their meaning in the lives of the Indian. Mr. Loring, who knows the Sioux language, gave illustrations of this and the sign language.

NEREIDIANS TO ELECT NEW MEMBERS SOON

"The Nereidian club has many interesting plans for this season's work," was an announcement made by Margie Voigt, president of that organization at a meeting held on Wednesday, October 11.

This organization is offering its help during the open swimming periods on Monday nights and Friday afternoons.

Of immediate interest is new membership. On Monday, October 16, an open house was held in the gymnasium for all women interested in swimming. Since the membership in the Nereidian club is honorary, each new woman must pass a series of tests before she can be admitted. Those most eligible for membership were chosen on Monday night and held were sent out to them for tryouts to be held on Thursday night, October 19. New members will be selected at this time.

FIRST DANCE GIVEN BY STUDENT GOV'T

Memorial Gymnasium Appropriately Decorated with Duke-Tennessee Colors

The Men's Student Government association gave its first dance of the season on the eve of the "Battle of the South," Friday, October 15, in the Memorial gymnasium. Nick Langley's Blue Devils furnished the music for the occasion, which was enjoyed by a great number of Duke students and their guests.

The gymnasium was appropriately decorated with expanded strings of paper footballs, which were taken from souvenirs by many of the dancers towards the latter part of the evening. Hanging over the center of the floor and at the apex of the streamers was a large football, upon which shafts of light were directed from the sides of the room. At two ends of the hall were goal posts decorated with the colors of Duke and Tennessee, the same colors being used for the streamers and other decorations.

The chaperones were Mr. J. O. Otis, Mrs. Mary Norcott Pemberton, Dean Alice Robinson, Mrs. L. S. Chamberlain, Miss Mary Grace Wilson, and Dr. and Mrs. A. K. Manchester.

The pep meeting which was scheduled to take place during intermission was not held, but just before dancing was resumed, members of the Student Council and House of Representatives and their dates formed two figures, a "Y" and a "D." The flowers and vari-colored dresses of the coeds added much to the effect of the two formations.

This affair was the first of the yearly series of Student Government dances which begin in the fall and have their climax in the Inaugural Ball following the spring election of officers for the following year.

Kleg Eyes

TOO MUCH HARMONY—Bing Crosby, Carolina, Thurs., Oct. 19-20.

Impertinently clever and great Crosby and crew! Music and melody! The lively color of the stage and its folk! A romantic theme tone given a touching twist! An elaborate vaudeville show! The cast: Bing Crosby in another swing, singing, stage role; Jack Oakie and Skeets Gallagher together again as song-and-dance buddies; the type of role that first brought him recognition on the screen. A swell surrounding cast of ancillary comedians including Ned Sparks, Harry Oakes, Lilyan Tashman, Henry Armetta, and Kitty Kelly.

Crosby sings "Blue-bonnet" and "Swing the Wind," and "Thanks." A well-qualified. Recommended.

THE WAY TO LOVE—Maaric Chevalier

Carolina, Sun-Wed., Oct. 22-25.

Maaric Chevalier in a picture billed as clever, clean entertainment for the entire family. A combination of comedy, romance, and humor of the old-fashioned slapstick variety. A strong basic story with emotional appeal. Excellent character portrayal and intriguing humorous asides. A picture not in the traditional Chevalier manner but certain to please a wide audience.

CLEAR ALL WIVES—Lee Tracy

Quadrangle Pictures, Wed., Oct. 25.

Around the world with Lee Tracy as Joyce Thomas, a rapid-fire slingshot-shoot newspaper correspondent.

North Africa headlines read "Joyce Thomas Captured by Bandits"—one Joyce Thomas sits calmly chatting with a British leader. Francis, a grateful French government declares one Joyce Thomas for his heroic action. Russia, a wounded Oppen chief and another series of Tracy-joy headlines. China, Thomas, now married, spreads across the papers of the world, "Mrs. Joyce Thomas Held Captive by Bandits."

LOOKING FORWARD—Lionel Barrymore

Quadrangle Pictures, Sat., Oct. 21.

A calm and deliberate adaptation of C. L. Anthony's tale of a busy, unambitious, but loyal accountant in a London department store. The title, taken from President Roosevelt's recent book, has little to do with the narrative. Taken literally it would seem to indicate that the only way to look at the future is through the cloudy glasses of a trail and dull work-horse accountant. Lionel Barrymore, in the leading role turns in another excellent characterization. Talk predominates over action with the result that things move very slowly.

Kappa Alpha Theta Announces Pledging

Beta Rho chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta announces the pledging of Constance Patten, Fayetteville, N. C., on Sunday, October 8.

Saturday evening following the Tennessee game the Alpha Phi chapter of Kappa Alpha entertained at a cable party at Reader's cabin, about eight miles out on the Hillsboro road. Members and their dates, alumni, and visiting Tennessee brothers composed the group that numbered about fifty. The party was choreographed by Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Lanning. Dr. Frank Mitchell, and Miss Mary Dale.

DEVILS BRILL FOR DAVIDSON CONTEST

Duke Continues Big Five Conquest Against Davidson

'CATS' PREPARING

Davidson Counts on Fight to Win; Three Regulars Probably Out

HENDRICKSON MAY PLAY

Quarterback Only Player to Suffer Injuries in Tennessee Game

With two victories to her credit Davidson nevertheless occupies the Big Five collar with Wake Forest as a result of the one loss to North Carolina, and in the second intra-state game of the season, playing host to Duke, Davidson hopes to increase her point standing.

Despite the fact that Duke has the best team in her history, Davidson is considered a fighting chance—for the Wildcats fight as hard as any team on Duke's schedule. Doc Newton and Gene McVey, coaches at Davidson, each year point for the big school at Durham as their main rivals; and for them to beat the Blue Devils would comprise a successfully completed schedule.

Duke probably will be without the leadership of "Horse" Hendrickson, who took stellar honors in last Saturday's game. Hendrickson's dislocated shoulder is not in a serious condition, and it is expected that he will be saved and grained for the Kentucky game.

Aside from the absence of their quarterback, the Blue Devils will appear on the field at Davidson with the same team that defeated Tennessee, "Stumpy" Beale, who aptly piloted the team in the second half against the Vols, is the natural selection for the only vacant position next Saturday.

Davidson will have the advantage of her own field, and will be helped by having practically the same team that held Duke last year to a 1-0 score.

The lines of the two teams will vary only slightly in weight, with the Wildcats' front line slightly outweighing that of their opponents. Davidson has two valuable men of her line, Captain (Continued on page eight)

With The Blue Devils

By Dick Hannay

Football teams will come and go here at Duke, but the 1953 team that beat Tennessee 10 to 2 will always be remembered. The team will be remembered not for beating Tennessee, but for the fight and will-to-win displayed by the Duke players that entered the game as underdogs and completely swept the Tennessee Vols off their feet. The Blue Devils were out to avenge the 16 to 13 heart-breaking defeat suffered last year and to bring the student body the victory it had been craving for. Duke is justly proud of her team.

After the game sports writers were at a loss to pick the outstanding player of the game without naming every player on the Duke team. Crawford's line play was magnificent. Cornsford scored all ten points; Hendrickson's generalship was excellent; but there is not enough space in any newspaper to give the Duke players all the praise they deserve.

Both Feathers and Brackett were held to an average of three yards for every time they ran with the ball. A three yard average appears and is good for a backfield man, but it is a very poor record for the Tennessee backfield stars. Up until the Duke game they had an average of ten yards a try.

Last season Duke Brackett, clever Tennessee field general, brought himself nation-wide fame by running back punts for touchdowns on quite a few occasions. He is ranked with the best in the country in this department. He, however, Crawford, Feathers, and Rogers held him to the unusually low average of one half yard average return.

The vicious charging of the Duke line was attested by the Blue Devils' blocking two punts. It was the first time in six years that a Tennessee kicker had a kick blocked.

SOME OF DUKE'S POWERFUL LINESMEN

DUKE AND STATE IN BIG FIVE TILTS

Teams Journey to Davidson and Wake Forest For Championship Games

The Duke Blue Devils, victors in one of the most surprising games in Dixie last Saturday over Tennessee, will, for the first time this season, invade the stamping grounds of a rival when they "go west" to oppose a stubborn Davidson outfit in one of the two Big Five games scheduled for this week.

The second all-state contest will be held at Wake Forest where the Deacons play host to the raging Wolfpack from Raleigh. This game will be the second test of the season for the Deacons and also their second Big Five encounter. Coach Jim Weaver has developed a powerful line at the Forest, powerful enough to hold the impatient Blue Devils to a lone score in the first half of their two weeks ago, and plans to make the State boys all up and take notice.

Therefore, after looking at the strong-forts of the Deacons outfit, it looks as though State would be called to display their utmost strength in subduing these jabs. On the other hand, State has plenty of power to thrust at the home team and four consistent backs which will be determined on crossing that "fast white line" enough times to assure them of their second victory of the season.

The fifth member of the Big Five, Carolina, called at the beginning of the season the "mystery team" will journey to Gainesville, Florida, where they will invade the lair of the Florida "Gators." It seems as though this "mystery team" has not been as mysterious after all this season, unless the mystery is why they have failed to bowl over a major team this fall. Florida, minus the services of Alternate Captain Jimmy Hughes, star fullback, and Milton Wade, sophomore tackle, in their game with State last Saturday, hopes to take the field in full strength against the Tar Heels.

NINE CONFERENCE GRID TEAMS TO BE ACTIVE THIS WEEK

V. P. L. Southern Conference Favorite With Duke Only Team Inactive

U. N. C., STATE, DUKE PLAY

Duke, North Carolina Play Within State; North Carolina Travels to Florida

Despite the unfavorable results of inter-sectional clashes last week when southern conference eleven lost four of their seven bids for victory, two teams will cast again for triumph in rival leagues Saturday. Four other conference combats will take part in intra-league battles, and one team will rest until next week.

Carolina will make its third bid for a victory over a southeastern league outfit as many weeks when it attempts to keep its three year record over the Florida "Gators" unmarred by a loss. Encouraged by the result of the Florida-State game at Raleigh last week, Coach Chuck Collins and his forces will trek to Gainesville with more hope of victory than before the two previous clashes with southeastern teams, both of which were disastrous for the Tar Heels.

Navy will provide the opposition for the Cavaliers of Virginia Saturday. An extended showing of strength last Saturday against Columbia, when for nearly three periods the Virginians led the Lions a merry chase, only to be eluded 12 to 6 in the latter stages of the fray, gives the Cavaliers hopes of their first win in three tries.

Maryland and V. M. I. will face each other in one of the three southern conference combats, while on Thursday, South Carolina and Clemson college will match grid tricks and skill.

V. P. L. will rest this week, after outscoring the William and Mary gridders 13 to 7 last Saturday.

TOUGH SCHEDULE AHEAD OF DEVILS

Remaining Opponents to Give Wade's Team Plenty of Opposition

Although Duke has successfully passed their first major obstacles by defeating Tennessee last Saturday, a hard path confronts the Blue Devils for the remainder of the season. The schedule this year is the hardest ever attempted by a Duke team.

This Saturday the locals engage in what some consider a "breather." Duke meets Davidson, and it is common knowledge that the Wildcats are nobody's set-up when playing a North Carolina team. Two years ago Davidson upset the duke locker by holding the locals to a scoreless tie. The week before Duke had beaten Villanova 18 to 0 and was apparently much better than the fighting Wildcats.

The following week the Duke team meets Kentucky at Lexington, Kentucky has another one of her powerful teams and seems better prepared this year than ever before to break the Wade jinx. So far a Wade-conquest has never been beaten by the Wildcats. Kentucky gave notice of her strength this season by defeating the strong Georgia Tech team 7 to 6.

The Blue Devils return to home ground the following week to engage in another major battle with the Auburn Tigers. Last year Auburn had one of the strongest teams in the country and has many veterans from that team playing for her this season.

Harriers Picked To Meet Wildcat Squad Saturday

Coach Chambers held the first time trials for his harriers last Friday to select the men who will open the cross country schedule against Davidson, October 21.

Due to the fact that the men were exerting no more effort than necessary, the times were very fair. Tied for first were Heritage, Bird, and Captain Bray. They were followed by Jester, Ford, Paint, and Eberly in the order named. These men will constitute the team for the first meet. Although Duke is picked to win, it is likely that the advantages will be in Davidson's favor. Stamina is the Blue Devils' forte, and they are more accustomed to a hilly course. As the course at Davidson is shorter than the average and over that country, there will be more chances for an upset. Last year, Duke won by a good margin, but some new additions to the Wildcat's squad have strengthened it considerably.

The harriers are confronted with a tough schedule and will have to be at their best to equal last year's showing. Carolina, always a strong rival, is pointing for the Duke meet. The engagement with the Navy at Annapolis will gain the disadvantages of a shorter course. Last year, the Navy's victory was partially due to Duke's over-confidence, and the team learned a valuable lesson as a result. So far the freshman squad has no definite schedule but may compete with Davidson, Carolina, and N. C. State.

BLUE IMPs OPPOSE STATE ON FRIDAY

Local Frosh Travel to Raleigh For Second Game of Season

Having been called to stand aside for two weeks and let the Blue Devils gain all the football glory for Duke, the Blue Imps will be out to gain some griddon laurels for themselves Friday when they clash with the North Carolina State freshmen at Raleigh.

The Duke coaches contemplate many changes in the starting lineup Friday, because of injuries sustained by Caldwell and Laven in last Friday's scrimmage. The impressive work of Arnold Gillander, Pingston, Horke, and Liana may gain them first-string positions. In scrimmage Parker was the outstanding performer by scoring a touchdown on an off-tackle play and by twice converting extra points.

In spite of the fact that the Wolfpack are anxious to avenge the defeat at the hands of the Duke frosh last year, the Caldwell charges are ruled slight favorites because of their decisive victory over the Oak Ridge Cadeets.

One of North Carolina's leading football coaches recently made the statement that if he was given the choice of being locked in a cage with Freddie Crawford or a bear, he would pick the bear. The coach was not a member of the local staff.

"WHERE TO BUY IT"

A strategic point in the battle for sales

Today's intense competition calls for new and more effective merchandising methods. Several plans pioneered by Bell System men are proving helpful.

For example: the "Where to Buy It" section of the telephone book. Here local dealers are listed beneath the trademarks of advertised products—such as Plymouth, Greyhound Lines, Exide, RCA Victor. This service helps manufacturers to reduce substitution, helps dealers to increase sales, helps you to locate the brand you want.

DUKE CRUSHES TENNESSEE

BEFORE HOME-COMING CROWD

back to the 17 yard line and placed kick of a field goal to put Duke ahead never to be stopped. Hendrickson held the ball.

In the third period Tennessee played her best ball of the day to keep Duke well within her own territory. An intercept pass and an exchange of punts gave the ball to Tennessee in Duke territory, but the Blue Devil line braced and kept the Vols well away from scoring distance. Feathers kept Duke on the defense practically the whole quarter by his well-placed kicks.

On the opening play of the last period Lacey went back to kick from behind his own goal line. Ausfeld, a substitute line man, broke through and blocked the punt. A mad scramble for the ball followed with Gus Danner, brilliant sophomore tackle, recovering for Duke behind the goal line to score a safety for the visitors and to bring the score to 9 to 2.

Late in the last period McAninch grabbed a punt on his own 25 yard line and made the most spectacular run of the day to bring the ball to the Tennessee 19 yard stripe. It was a 58 yard run. Cox and McAninch made it a first down on the 9. McAninch led six yards on an end run. Corky Cornelius then took the ball on a reverse play and drove fifteen yards for a touchdown. Cornelius had fine interference but was forced to carry three men on his back over the goal line. The game was put on ice a few minutes later when Cornelius converted the extra point from placement.

The play of the Duke team throughout the game was superb. The line stopped the famous Feathers and Brackett on all but two occasions. These all-American candidates seldom had a chance to show their ball-carrying ability. The Duke backs charged hard and blocked well. The field generalship of Hendrickson and Hebe was in the words of Wallace Wade, "perfect."

The victory was a spirited climax for a fighting team and a thrilling study body. Duke had been pointing for the game since the beginning of practice early in September, while the students showed more pre-game enthusiasm than has ever been seen on the Duke campus. The team in this respect and was helped greatly by it is winning the game.

DUKE CONTINUES HIS FIVE

CONQUEST AGAINST DAVIDSON

Rives and Collier, while Duke's seven forwards are intact. Davidson claims a fast string of backfield men, led by the veteran Johnny MacKell. Unless Ed Wilson, varsity fullback, recovers from his injuries Pittman will start at this backfield assignment while Wingfield and Hutcheson will take care of the halfback duties. The line will be as follows: Windham and Morgan, ends; Siewers and Hand, tackle; Potter and Port, guards; and McElreath, center.

Opening against North Carolina, which she lost 6-0, Davidson played her best game to date. U. N. C. was outplayed and outgained the entire game but as the Wildcats weakened in the last half the Tar Heels shored over a score. In the next two games Davidson averaged a 1000 per cent with two 6-0 victories over Elton and V. M. I. From the showing Davidson made against the last two teams, Duke rates as a favorite, beating Elton in a practice game 28-6, and swamping the Flying Squadron 37-6.

Granger... good tobacco... Well-man Method... cut right... packed right. And there is this much about it:

We have yet to know of a man who started to smoke Granger who didn't keep on. Folks seem to like it.
