

AS THE SPRING OF 1938 CAME, THE WEST CAMPUS WAS NEARING COMPLETION. The building is the largest of the campus buildings, as shown in the illustration in the upper left; upper right shows the massive Duke University library, now one of the largest college libraries in the nation, virtually completed; lower left illustrates the new dormitories, A, B, and C, and the new dining hall, D, in the middle of the quadrangle. Lower right is a view from the University toward the library in the center background. This is the first in the Chronicle's series of glimpses of the building program contemplated for 1938 as a part of the centennial celebration.

UNDERGRADUATE PRE-MED GROUP FORMS SOCIETY

Society Lists Over Thirty
Chapter Members; Meet
Next on March 25

A movement that has rapidly been gathering impetus among pre-medical students on the Duke campus has materialized in the last few weeks with the official formation of the Duke University Pre-Medical Society. Thirty-one charter members of the new society have formally adopted the constitution and elected officers for the coming year.

The officers of the new organization are: William Nozitt, Durham, president; Paul Brannford, Anderson, Indiana, vice-president; Clinton Morgan, Chicago, Illinois, secretary; and John Glendon, Durham, treasurer.

The formation of the Pre-Medical society grew out of a desire on the part of a great number of premedical students for a co-operative organization in which they might obtain the necessary knowledge and associations to enable them to appreciate, discuss and solve intelligently many of the questions and problems arising in their study.

The Society aims to establish a closer relationship between the pre-medical students and the faculties of both the Undergraduate and Medical schools. In doing so, it will constantly endeavor to develop among pre-medical students an ever-increasing sense of the high standards of character and responsibility embodied in the medical profession. The Society's reviews to emphasize the correlation of a general cultural background with the more specific pre-medical training, and has advisors from both the Undergraduate and Medical schools.

Dr. Hart Speaks
Dr. Hart will speak on "Recent Advancements in Surgery" at the next meeting of the society on Thursday, March 25.

Charter members in addition to the officers are: Oliver Parrell, Kearsy Thompson, Matthew Janssen, Arthur Woody, Francis Lee, Francis Horne, Arthur Dunn, James Little, William Todd, Frank Harris, John Farrell, John Weber, Hugh Surles, Wayne Woodard, John Baird, John Gager, Charles Heck, William Hargreaves, Chester Kopp, John Barrett, John Campbell, Donald Hirt, Robert Sloan, Nelson Coudy, Hal Floyd, James McGowan, and James Kippenham.

No N.C.C.A. competition was held last year. A silver cup will be awarded the winning publication, to be presented at the annual spring convocation of the association at High Point late next month. College papers will be divided into two classes for this contest, representing colleges below and above 1,000 students.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., is to enter the University of Virginia Law School next fall, he has informed Attorney Dean George B. Fager.

Only a columnist of the Minneapolis Daily Hearst at the Miner's office here, "Here, John, put my name in your pocket. It won't hurt your pocket, will it?"

Thus Spake The Prophet

Even in Times Long Past Did Office-Seekers Assume a Benign Smile and Then It Was That Every Man Was Their Friend

(Continued)
Behold, in a certain county there was a great election of the officers of the state had arrived and there was great excitement amongst the people. For lo, the real rulers of the state sat in great halls and ruled as they chose. However, they had decided, in accord with a great theory that it was well for the people to think that they were their own rulers. The people knew this and it caused them great amusement.

Wang the Wop
Yet, really, in this same state there were several brotherhoods composed of the best people, for lo, are not the best people, for lo, are not the best people, the wealthiest people to the book of Wang the Wop do they say? Now these brotherhoods deemed it a great honor for one of their number to hold one of these empty offices, for, indeed, did they not lead the figures at the great state balls and did they not sit before the populace at the great games and afford the populace fit objects for emulation of a personable nature.

Now these brotherhoods did gather unto themselves and set about the selecting members of their number for the various offices. Those of the greatest number got the better offices, for, indeed, do not the weak get the low, from the strongest? Great is he who has the greatest backing. And now, the officers were chosen.

There Arose a Tumult
As was the custom the likeness of those chosen were put in a public place. And there arose a great laugh among the people and they were greatly amused for each candidate claimed to be the deliverer of the people from all the great evils that sorely beset them. But, surely, the people knew their masters and were greatly amused. That is, those who could count to laugh. Verily, the candidates did make a great clamor about their offices and they thought to be elected and the people did believe them to be the deliverer and each man had his faith in his own power.

He Hath Many Friends
And, as all things come to pass in their time, so the time for the election did come to pass. And there was much voting, for all the brotherhoods put on a great show of friendship for the common people, for indeed, even the common people have a vote, and, as the old adage doth say: "He who has a vote doth have many friends among the office-seekers until after the election."

And one man doth say to his friend, "I am going to vote for this man," and his friend doth enquire: "Do you know him?" and the man doth respond, "No, but I know the others," and this doth call forth a great laugh among the populace for they are greatly amused, for indeed it doth tell them greatly to the office-seekers making such fools of themselves. And now, surely the holidays will soon be upon them.

Boredom Came to Them
And then, as all things do pass in their time as it is written, the election hath passed, and indeed, it is a good thing, for verily, the election doth tell them greatly to the office-seekers making such fools of themselves. And now, surely the holidays will soon be upon them.

And then, as all things do pass in their time as it is written, the election hath passed, and indeed, it is a good thing, for verily, the election doth tell them greatly to the office-seekers making such fools of themselves. And now, surely the holidays will soon be upon them.

Collegiate Press Agents Flayed For "Mischief"

Attacked for Virtually Forcing Coaches to Call Upon Star Performer Continually to Bring in "Gate"; Noted Writer Denies His Fellow Scribblers

By Louis PERRY
American College Publishing, Inc.
SOUTH BEND, IND., March 22.—Under the mysterious cloak of anonymity, some good fellow took it upon himself last fall to tell the world through the pages of a national weekly the mischief done by its alleged colleagues in the college sports publicity profession. The article was necessarily anonymous otherwise it would have been clear that the "lame newspaper man" who was the writer returned from abroad, his name because of a sense of shame, but perhaps I judged him wisely.

Fiction Mock Stranger
Not only was all some of ethics missing from the piece, but the theme was considerably stranger than the facts. The sports publicity writers of my acquaintance, however, have laughs at the expense of their newspaper reporter friends, criticizing the line of the "lame newspaper man." The alleged lobbyist writers had an equal amount of amusement regarding their publicity friends of having written the piece.

The secret of college press agency is in part—and a large part at that—he would find a player who is an unusual name, tacking a colorful nickname on to the already strange surname, and then starting to plug this candidate with all the ammunition that can be shot out of a well-oiled typewriter machine barrel. The recipients of these publicity broadsides are grateful, but they know their publicity friends are not so much as they are. The people know this and it caused them great amusement.

Wang the Wop
Yet, really, in this same state there were several brotherhoods composed of the best people, for lo, are not the best people, for lo, are not the best people, the wealthiest people to the book of Wang the Wop do they say? Now these brotherhoods deemed it a great honor for one of their number to hold one of these empty offices, for, indeed, did they not lead the figures at the great state balls and did they not sit before the populace at the great games and afford the populace fit objects for emulation of a personable nature.

Now these brotherhoods did gather unto themselves and set about the selecting members of their number for the various offices. Those of the greatest number got the better offices, for, indeed, do not the weak get the low, from the strongest? Great is he who has the greatest backing. And now, the officers were chosen.

There Arose a Tumult
As was the custom the likeness of those chosen were put in a public place. And there arose a great laugh among the people and they were greatly amused for each candidate claimed to be the deliverer of the people from all the great evils that sorely beset them. But, surely, the people knew their masters and were greatly amused. That is, those who could count to laugh. Verily, the candidates did make a great clamor about their offices and they thought to be elected and the people did believe them to be the deliverer and each man had his faith in his own power.

He Hath Many Friends
And, as all things come to pass in their time, so the time for the election did come to pass. And there was much voting, for all the brotherhoods put on a great show of friendship for the common people, for indeed, even the common people have a vote, and, as the old adage doth say: "He who has a vote doth have many friends among the office-seekers until after the election."

And one man doth say to his friend, "I am going to vote for this man," and his friend doth enquire: "Do you know him?" and the man doth respond, "No, but I know the others," and this doth call forth a great laugh among the populace for they are greatly amused, for indeed it doth tell them greatly to the office-seekers making such fools of themselves. And now, surely the holidays will soon be upon them.

Boredom Came to Them
And then, as all things do pass in their time as it is written, the election hath passed, and indeed, it is a good thing, for verily, the election doth tell them greatly to the office-seekers making such fools of themselves. And now, surely the holidays will soon be upon them.

And then, as all things do pass in their time as it is written, the election hath passed, and indeed, it is a good thing, for verily, the election doth tell them greatly to the office-seekers making such fools of themselves. And now, surely the holidays will soon be upon them.

And then, as all things do pass in their time as it is written, the election hath passed, and indeed, it is a good thing, for verily, the election doth tell them greatly to the office-seekers making such fools of themselves. And now, surely the holidays will soon be upon them.

And then, as all things do pass in their time as it is written, the election hath passed, and indeed, it is a good thing, for verily, the election doth tell them greatly to the office-seekers making such fools of themselves. And now, surely the holidays will soon be upon them.

And then, as all things do pass in their time as it is written, the election hath passed, and indeed, it is a good thing, for verily, the election doth tell them greatly to the office-seekers making such fools of themselves. And now, surely the holidays will soon be upon them.

And then, as all things do pass in their time as it is written, the election hath passed, and indeed, it is a good thing, for verily, the election doth tell them greatly to the office-seekers making such fools of themselves. And now, surely the holidays will soon be upon them.

RELINQUISHES OFFICE

HOLLAND WINS OVER LOVE IN W.S.G. ELECTION

Defeats Favored Candidate in Annual Spring Vote: Takes Office Soon

(Continued from page one)
after the general election to cast their ballots for their respective Council representation.
Marie Louise Pederson, Plainfield, N. J., was chosen to represent the Junior women on the Council next year. The successful candidate in the sophomore election was Margaret Ann Bann, Richmond, Va., who will also have a seat in the Council.

The voting for house presidents took place last night at separate meetings in the dormitories at 10:30 p.m. Those elected for the positions were: Bassett, Dorothy Miller, Bethlehem, Pa.; Brown, Eleanor Huntington, Hartford, N. J.; Parnum, Frances Brooks, Warsaw, Gies, Dorothy Bell, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Aycock, Amy Holliday, Mountain View, N. J.; Jarvis, Ellen Burgess, Worcester, Mass.; Alphonso, Margaret Morton, Charleston, W. Va.

APRIL OPERETTA CHORUS CHOSEN

Two Performances to Be Held in Page Auditorium Early in April

The men's chorus for the club's "Midday" has been chosen and the presentation preparations are now completely under way. The selection, announced last night, are as follows: Jack Barker, George Davis, John Klock, Walter Mason, Richard Newsom, John Pratt, Donald Schmidt, and Ernest Watson, second tenors—George Friswick, Jack Hargett, John Lyle, Wilby Madson, William Summerville, and Robert Wilkinson; first bass—George Amick, Jack Barker, George Calbreath, Frank Dennis, John Kopp, Charles Kramer, Paul Sommers, Clay Stone, and Raymond York; second basses—Vernon Dibble, Eric Fraser, Bryant Giering, Gabe Hermann, Wayne Horvath, and Henry King.

Chemistry Groups
Two performances of this ever-popular light opera are to be given on Page auditorium. The first will be on Tuesday evening, April 13.

A smashing victory in its final game of the basketball season gave Duke University a 5th consecutive win and its fourth undefeated win of competition.

Thomas Book Store

Books - Gifts - Picture Framing - Cards - Stationery
Cameron and Chapel Hill Streets
Remington Noiseless Typewriters - Office Supplies

AUTO NEEDS FOR YOUR VACATION TRIP GRANITE SERVICE STATION

For Your Easter Outfit

ROTHMOOR'S
SUITS AND COATS
$29.50

Sleek fit combined with ease and lounge comfort. That's the trick in making a mannish suit that takes real tailoring—and tailoring as you know Rothmoor's special forte.

Other Rothmoor Suits $24.50 to $55.50
Trade Mark Registered U. S. Patent Office

EFIRD'S

Have That Well-Dressed Look On Easter Morning

You'll be the proudest couple in the Easter parade when you wear the definite assurance of sparkling newness for your Easter outfit. Our cleaning makes you sure of an impressive appearance.

Duke University Laundry

Operating by Duke University for the Convenience of All Students
Any Suggestions for Improvement in Service and Meals Appreciated
J. E. THOMPSON, '28, Manager

Before You Leave!
for SPRING VACATION let us service your car. Save time, money, and trouble! Drop in and be assured of a most enjoyable holiday.

Sinclair at Five Points

Patronize The Chronicle Advertisers

For Your Mid Semester Exams
USE OUR OUTLINES—
Especially Prepared for Your Courses

HISTORY 2, 52, 92 BOTANY 2, 52, 92
POL. SCIENCE 62 FRENCH LITERATURE

Southern Tutoring Service
347½ West Main Street PHONE F-94
(Open Daily 2-4 P.M.)

Duke University Unions

EAST CAMPUS WEST CAMPUS
Operating by Duke University for the Convenience of All Students

Any Suggestions for Improvement in Service and Meals Appreciated
J. E. THOMPSON, '28, Manager

Before You Leave!
for SPRING VACATION let us service your car. Save time, money, and trouble! Drop in and be assured of a most enjoyable holiday.

Sinclair at Five Points

Easter FLOWERS

REMEMBER HER WITH FLOWERS ON EASTER
A superb collection of cut flowers, including Violets, Lilies of Valley, Gardenias, and others at reasonable prices.

Also Blooming Plants
Doyle
110 W. Main Street
WE DELIVER FLOWERS
AROUND THE WORLD

Phone L-965
110 W. Main Street
WE DELIVER FLOWERS
AROUND THE WORLD

Before You Leave!
for SPRING VACATION let us service your car. Save time, money, and trouble! Drop in and be assured of a most enjoyable holiday.

Sinclair at Five Points

Before You Leave!
for SPRING VACATION let us service your car. Save time, money, and trouble! Drop in and be assured of a most enjoyable holiday.

Sinclair at Five Points

Before You Leave!
for SPRING VACATION let us service your car. Save time, money, and trouble! Drop in and be assured of a most enjoyable holiday.

Sinclair at Five Points

SYMPHONY DIRECTOR

Robert Fearing, director of instrumental music, who leads the Duke N' Duchess orchestra in a concert Thursday night in the Woman's College auditorium.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

IN CONCERT THURSDAY

(Continued from page one)

Following this there will be an intermission of ten minutes.

III. Prologue from "Papageno," by Leoncavallo, sung by Mr. Correll, accompanied by Edward Hall Broadhead at the piano.

IV. "Tales from the Vienna Woods," by Strauss, and "Dance Macabre," by St. Saens.

V. "Reve Angelique" (Kammermusik), by A. Rubinstein, and "March Slave," by Tchaikovsky.

By betting on horses, a professor at an English university is trying to show his students concretely the folly of gambling.

SPRING ISSUE OF DUKE N' DUCHESS OUT WEDNESDAY

New Edition Contains Cover Similar to One Used by Esquire Magazine

With an increased number of jokes, cartoons, and illustrations, the Spring issue of Duke N' Duchess will be distributed through the dormitories tomorrow evening.

The Spring issue contains the same number of pages as previous issues. The emphasis this issue has been more on jokes and cartoons than on humorous stories and articles.

Regular Columns

The regular columns including Sol-to-Voice, campus keyhole column by Dan Dumb, Secret Agent J. Lee Benson Notes, East campus trams column, the trend of campus politics, forecast by ROT, and fashions, by Kit Chubb and Gerry Griffin, appear.

Klug Wade prints an article regarding the comic baseball season titled "The 1937 Diamond-Uncut," and Tom (Nim) Skell, dramatist of the Duke N' Duchess staff comes forth with a piece allegedly written by him with the slight aid of one William Shakespeare of Stratford-on-Avon.

New Feature

A new feature of the Spring issue is "Clipping the Collegiate Comics," devoted to the jokes of other school humor magazines, and republishing two cartoons considered by the Duke N' Duchess editors to represent the best work in the field.

One of the first college magazines to follow the present trend, Duke N' Duchess prints on the cover a "dall" number, with the type of card figures originated by Tony Sarge and popularized by Esquire and College Humor. The figures were molded by Miss Ann Lee, a student of the Woman's College.

College Glimpses

"You Can't Park Here," signs on the campus of the Catholic University of America are going to be obeyed after February 6—or else. Annoyed at the frequent parking violations, the Chief of the campus police force has listed the following penalties:

First offense—Air will be let out of one tire.

Second offense—Air will be let out of two tires.

Third offense—Air will be let out of all tires.

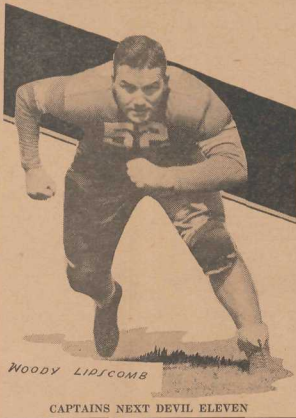

Three years ago the local cops got the idea of chaining and locking the wheels of all illegally parked cars. It worked fine until a faculty member parked caridly.

Rice Institute males battled for pushheads women before a recent dance—for economic reasons. Different prices were set on the heads of the co-eds, depending on color, and on the night of the shuffle "blue-determiners" posted at the doors judged the hair color of each incoming female.

Fellows who escorted "Sorrel-topped Susies" got two bits knocked off their admission price. Less fortunate men who took brunettes got a 15 cent reduction, and the least lucky who brought blondes got a 10 cent "down."

Duke N' Duchess editors to represent the best work in the field.

One of the first college magazines to follow the present trend, Duke N' Duchess prints on the cover a "dall" number, with the type of card figures originated by Tony Sarge and popularized by Esquire and College Humor. The figures were molded by Miss Ann Lee, a student of the Woman's College.

WOODY LIPSCOMB CAPTAINS NEXT DEVIL ELEVEN

"Pay according to service to society," is the war-cry of the St. Petersburg Independent; "The Dean of the University of Florida gets $241.42 a month; the official who checks beer and whiskey sales for the state gets $400. "Florida's governor is paid $225 a month; the state's racing superintendent is paid $190." A professor of science, who is a Ph.D., has a monthly salary of $183.33; a stamp clerk at the beer and whiskey department, who is not a Ph.D., receives $200. "The race track veterinarian gets $250 a month during the racing season; the president of the University of Florida gets $600, having made the mistake of not becoming a horse doctor."

Authentic University Fashions

The Young Men's Shop Is READY with the five most important style ideas for Spring and Summer 1937

Surf-Club Bags	Glen Plaids	Bar Harbor Jackets	Tug Slacks	Thin Trims
Gabardine in every desirable color and pattern, featured in Lounge and Sport models to retail at . . .	Glenplaid patterns in Lounge and Draperstown models to retail at . . .	Patterned in plain and bold effects in every good shade to retail at . . .	America's smartest sport trouser delivered with Tug belts to retail at . . .	Havana Coaters, Blazers, Cool Tuxedos, Boys' Yacht Waxed Flannels to retail at . . .
$29.50 to $32.50	$25.00 to $29.50	$9.85 to $17.50	$5.00 to $7.50	$22.50 to $25.00

The Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main Street

MEN OUTNUMBER WOMEN IN THIRD COLLEGE CONTEST

Male Entries Exceed Essays From Women in Contest of Pan-Hellenic House

College boys are out to wrest the first prize from the girls in the Third Annual Essay Contest of the Pan-Hellenic House Association, according to present indications.

For the past two years the prize of a trip to New York and a two weeks stay at the headquarters of the Pan-Hellenic House Association at the Beckman Tower Hotel, 3 Mitchell Place, has been won by girls, but the fact that the number of college men who have entered the contest is to date much greater than the number of women, indicates that the men are making a real effort to win this year's first prize.

The closing date for the receipt of essays is March 31.

Prominent Judges

Literary notables who will judge this year's competition include: Francis Hardy, one of America's leading women novelists; J. P. Morgan, associate editor of "Forum" and noted critic; member of the 1936 Pulitzer Drama Award Committee; Lyman Beecher, noted lecturer, and author of "Saints, Sinners, and Beethers"; Keyron Nicholson, playwright, and author of "Salter, Bowers," and other noted Broadway plays; Helen Wootton, nationally appointed columnist and author of books about New York; Hans V.

Kaltenborn, well-known radio columnist and news commentator; and Lila Bell Achens, editor of "The Readers Digest."

"Does New York Represent the American Scene," is the question the committee asks as the title of the third annual contest. Other aspects of this title which may be used, are: "Is New York a Vital Part of My Culture?" and "Is New York a Place to Launch a Career?"

Includes All Nationals

The Pan-Hellenic Association in its membership includes representatives from each of the national women's fraternities: Mrs. A. Barton Hepburn, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Mrs. H. D. Williams, Delta Delta Delta; Mrs. Lefkey Kinnab, Kappa Alpha Theta; Miss Beale Fegins, Kappa Delta; Mrs. Paul C. Boyd, Phi Mu; Miss Sophie F. Woodman, Pi Beta Phi; Mrs. W. B. Truesdell, Sigma Kappa; and Mrs. W. C. Roberts, Zeta Tau Alpha.

DOWN TOWN ATTRACTIONS

CAROLINA THEATRE

Tuesday and Wednesday
Errol Flynn—Anita Louise in
"GREEN LIGHT"

Thursday—Friday—Saturday
IRVING BERLIN'S
"ON THE AVENUE"
— with —
Dick Powell — Madeline Carroll
Alice Faye — The Rita Brown

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

Wednesday—Thursday
Edmund Lowe
Madge Evans
"ESPIONAGE"
Starting Friday
Victor McLaglen
Preston Foster
"SEA DEVILS"

RIALTO THEATRE

Tuesday—Wednesday
Joe E. Brown in "POLO JOE"

Thursday—Friday—Saturday
Gene Antry in "THE OLD CORRAL"
—Also Chapter No. 1 "DICK TRACY"

Bien Jolie
FOR SWEET 16ers

$5
Young things, who worship witless smartness, choose foundations styled in the Bien Jolie manner. Particularly do they like this satin luster girdle, as light as a puff ball and dainty as fine lingerie. Pretty, the way Bien Jolie creases satin ribbon with lace in the bandeau.

Other Bien Jolie Foundations from $3.50 " $18.50

SLIPS
—Individualized
IN THREE LENGTHS
SHORT
AVERAGE
LONG

Go forth to meet the spring in your newest frocks and suits . . . but make sure that, underneath it all, your slip fits. Insist on the right length and the right proportions.

In Baldwin's Lingerie Department you'll find slips of every type.

featuring a lovely group at $1.98 and $2.98

SATINS and CREPES
TAILORED or LACED

BALDWIN'S

Hold on.

Chesterfield CIGARETTES

When you find out how mild and good-tasting Chesterfields are . . . you hold on to 'em.

With a bull dog grip, millions of smokers hold on to Chesterfields . . .

Nothing else will do