MSGA Candidates To Voice Opinions Over WDBS Show Tomorrow Night

By DOUG MATTHIAS

MSGA and class officer candidates continue their cross campus trek tonight as they campaign for general elections Friday.

Tonight's schedule calls for the usual round of personal visitation by all the candidates, and tomorrow night the four-day campaign will close with a radio broadcast over WDBS from 10 to 11:30. The two MSGA presidential candidates will debate for half an hour and Campus and Union parties will each take equal time for speeches by their other major candidates, according to Dick Tripper, Elections Board chairman.

Balloting will take place in the Alumni Lounge from 9 until 6, Tripper said, and students will have a chance to vote by ballot or by four voting machines which have been obtained by the elections board.

Tripper reminded all students to report to their present class voting machine.

Ballance, Reed Differ Over SGA's Tasks

Frank Ballance, independent candidate for the MSGA presidency, advocates a larger, more representative form of student government as part of his program for improvement of MSGA. The present system, with only one fraternity and one independent representative from each class, puts the Senate in a bad position, Ballance thought, since these representatives are not able to get student opinion.

Ballance said that he wanted a larger legislature than MSGA now has with representation by dorms and fraternities. He mentioned the great respect the Administration has for the Judicial Board and asserted that the MSGA should work to receive this respect also.

MSGA thus would be able to demonstrate to the Administration that

An increase in effective communication with the faculty and the administration and more emphasis of national problems in student life and thought are the main tasks for next year's MSGA asserts Brad Reed, Campus and Union bannerbearer for MSGA president.

The Student Faculty Administration Committee, revitalized this year by the MS-A, has tremendous potential for building better and more effective relations between the groups, Reed said, and he strongly advocated strengthening this program. With a strong SFAC students would have a regular, open line of communication with faculty and Administration.

Reed felt that MSGA should try to make students more aware of national problems by informing them of, and by getting them interested in these problems. The National Student Association would play an important role here, Reed said, since it sends a constant stream of information to MSGA on these problems which are or should be relevant to student thought.

The question of drinking on campus should not concern the MSGA, Reed thought, since the Board of Trustees rather than the Administration has control of University drinking policy.

The student views on such problems as free cuts and non-C car regulations could be handled by the SFAC, Reed noted.

Balloting To Occur In Elections Friday

By LEN PARDUE

Chronicle Managing Editor

The Senate will hold a desegregation referendum for West Campus in conjunction with student government and class officer elections Friday. Students will have the opportunity to express their opinion by voting for one of three proposals:

- For immediate admission of qualified students to Duke University without regard to race or color;

- For admission of qualified students without regard to race or color within three years;

- For continuation of the University's segregated admission policy.

The Senate yesterday voted to conduct the referendum by a 6-0 vote with one abstention and with four members absent.

Principle reasons given for holding the referendum were to take advantage of the turnout of voters for the general election and to get definite views of the student body on the issue, freshman senator Duke Marston asserted.

"We need the views of the students on this matter so that the next Senate will have something definite on which to base their discussion and action," declared Marston.

Marston also expressed the feeling that the Senate should take some positive action on the desegregation issue before the end of the year.

The ballot will be prefaced by a statement which explains that the referendum is being held "in order to obtain more precise information concerning the feelings on desegregation of the undergraduate men's student body."

Petitions Due Thursday For Publications Posts

Candidates for editor and business manager of all publications must file petitions for office by Thursday with Dr. Herbert J. Herring, chairman of Publications Board.

Publications Board will set up time for interviews at its Thursday meeting. Petition forms are available in 214 Allen.

These standardized petitions request information about activities and courses which would prove helpful to editors and business managers, and candidates' reasons for running.

East Votes Down Motion To Repeal Education Oath

Woman's College students Monday defeated by a vote of 347-326 with 23 abstentions a resolution to support the repeal of the affidavit required of students receiving aid through the National Defense Education Act.

The repeal of section 1001 (f) of the National Defense Education Act is now before Congress in the form of the Kennedy-Clark-Javitt bill.

Every student now receiving aid under the NDEA is required to sign the affidavit, stating in part that he "does not believe in and is not a member of and does not support any organization that believes in or teaches the overthrow of the United States Government by force or violence or by any illegal or unconstitutional methods."

Chief objection to the affidavit concerns the control by the Government of the beliefs of the students.

Also in Monday's WSGA Assembly Aycock received the dormitory scholarship cup with a house average of 2.7625, and Alpha Epsilon Phi was awarded the sorority scholarship trophy for its average of 2.8821.

Respective runners-up in each category were Giles House with a 2.7551 average and Kappa Kappa Gamma, which racked up a 2.7818.

Alpha Delta Pi, rising from seventh to third place academically among sororities, and Phi Mu, moving from ninth to fifth place, tied for the "most improvement" award.

Delta Delta Delta pledges carried off the pledge class scholarship trophy with an average of 2.7826. Runner-up was the Kappa Delta pledge class with a 2.7537 average.

The entire new WSGA Council received their black robes and took the oath of office as they assumed their duties for the coming year.

WSGA president Mary Madry turned over her gavel to incoming president Liz Giavani, climaxing the installation ceremony concluding Monday's assembly.

Edens Speech Opens Greek Week Tonight

Greek Week begins tonight at 6 with a banquet in B cafeteria featuring President A. Hollis Edens as principal speaker.

Other events scheduled are a track meet Friday at 2 p.m. and a carnival Saturday at 2:30 p.m. Trophies will be awarded on the basis of points accumulated by the fraternities for attendance and participation.

East Campus will also have a part in the events. Pan-Hel will run the concession stand at the carnival and the Pan-Hel executive officers and sorority presidents will attend the banquet.

Committee chairmen for the week are: Ossie Hale and Tony Sauber, carnival; Steve Braswell and Pete Wellington, banquet; Jim Connelly, track meet; Rich Fonda, publicity. Ted Lake, chairman of Greek Week plans, reports all preparations going smoothly.

Phi Delta Theta and Sigma Alpha Epsilon won the Greek Week track meet last year.

REED

BALLANCE students are responsible and that they would be able to control themselves in such areas as free cuts, non-C car rules and Joe College.

The drinking situation should be handled by the MSGA also, Ballance thought, but only when the students are able to prove to the Administration that they would be responsible for any rules they made.

Ballance advocated a poll of the students to show the Administration how students feel about the problem of integration, and he also felt that they should be informed on the Administration's view on this problem.

Arts Celebration Starts Tomorrow

Illness Forces Poet Wilbur To Cancel

Poet Richard Wilbur will not appear tonight as scheduled to open the Annual Literary Arts Celebration, Archives editor Wally Kaufman reported last night.

Wilbur cancelled out because of illness, Kaufman said, but an attempt is being made to schedule him for a later date.

The remainder of the celebration will be held as scheduled beginning tomorrow at 3 p.m. in the Music Room of East Duke. Ovid Pierce ('32) will read from his work-in-progress, On a Lonesome Porch.

At 8:15 Pierce will join Mrs.

Helen Bevington of the English department, Lodwick Hartley of North Carolina State College and Mac Hyman ('47) for a discussion of student short stories.

Mrs. Bevington, who was published poetry in the New Yorker, The Atlantic Monthly, The American Scholar and The Saturday Review of Literature, will serve as chairman of the panel. Hyman is known for his book, No Time for Sergeants.

The purpose of the celebration is to give student writers the opportunity to have their work criticized by experts in the field of literature, said Kaufman.

Petitioners' Purpose

Petition adopted for circulation by an open meeting of 100 students Friday, March 25, 1960.

We, the undersigned, hereby petition that:

1) The University continue in the forward-looking attitude which was displayed by Dr. Gross with respect to long range planning, faculty relations, research, and growth of the University into an internationally prominent institution.

2) Dr. Gross should be retained as long range planner for the University during the next four years.

The statement in italics is the full text of the petition which will be circulated beginning tomorrow night. It amounts to a vote of confidence in Dr. Gross who was removed from the office of Vice-President March 23 and to an affirmation of disapproval of the Board of Trustees action.

We do not feel that it would be right or proper for uninformed students to sign the petition. In order to be meaningful it must carry the weight of conviction, either of approval of its intent indicated by the number of signatures or of disapproval indicated by the lack of signatures.

In order that you may be as informed as possible we had intended to print here a list of the arguments pro and con involved in the situation of the past several months. Lack of available space prohibits this. Instead, we shall mimeograph what would have been printed here and distribute copies on campus. In addition, a group of us will be in 204 East Duke to answer questions, offer explanations, and argue the case pro and con.

We feel very strongly that the student body must be informed before being asked to sign their names to a petition of this sort (or any sort for that matter). The information necessary to intelligent decision making will be made available to you. Use it.

Fair Is Foul

Woman's College Monday night knit up its ravelled sleeve as it voted down a resolution protesting the NDEA disclaimer affidavit. Students Monday night lay down to pleasant dreams, with visions of Communists snugly in jail.

We doubt that Communists will suffer from the blow. From the beginning we have been convinced that the harm belonged to the non-Communist student who happened to be a non-conformist, a chronic dissenter, an intellectual eccentric, or just a conscientious learner. The affidavit defeats the purpose of the act, which was designed to entice the finest intellects into scientific and other vital fields.

One hundred and six of the nation's best schools have either withdrawn from the program entirely or have decided to participate under protest. They object to the idea that students should be denied their freedom of belief in order to receive a governmental loan. When billions are given to farmers each year without concern for Communists, why should students be singled out?

The drive for repeal of section 1001(f) of the National Defense Education Act is gaining momentum. A report by Senator Kennedy's office lists 53 for, 20 undecided, and 27 against S2929, sponsored by Kennedy and Clark. Included in the yea votes are both senators from North Carolina. A letter to both of them would prove that they are wise in seeing the harm of the affidavit. Letters to all senators would disprove claims that students do not care whether or not they have to sign an affidavit to receive the loans.

The loyalty oath and the disclaimer affidavit are two separate provisions of the act. Only the affidavit is being questioned. Further information, including voting records and lists of protesting schools, is available in the Chronicle office.

Subscriptions should be mailed to Box 4696, Duke Station.

The University Publications Board is in existence to "promote, assist and protect student publications on the Duke University campuses including the determining of policies, the selection of personnel and the regulation of salaries and commercial advertising."

At present, two committees of the Board are meeting to consider changes in the constitution and by-laws and in the "code for college journalism," its suggested code of ethics. There has been some dissatisfaction with the three documents for some time among members of the Board.

Questions as to the jurisdiction of the Board have arisen recently, particularly in discussions concerning the publications of the religious organizations on campus. Though Article VI of the constitution states: "No student publication can be started at the University without the approval of the Board," this does not seem to have been extended to provide a mandate for control of all publications once started. The religious publications, the student government and "Y" handbooks, and several East Campus publications do not rest under the Board's control. Publications under the Board's supervision are the Archive, the Chanticleer, the Chronicle, the Duke Engineer, the Peer, and the Playbill.

The Board's membership includes the vice-president of the University in the division of student life, a member of the University controller's staff, three persons appointed by the President of the University, "two of whom shall be outside the Administration and at least one of whom shall be an alumnus," four men elected by Trinity College, two men elected by the College of Engineering, and four women elected by the Woman's College. The student representatives must be juniors or seniors.

Ex-officio members of the Board include the editors and business managers of student publications under the jurisdiction of the Board. Ex-officio members are not eligible for election to the Board as voting members.

All student members of the Board must have an overall "C" average and all voting members must have had two years experience on a publication under the Board's jurisdiction.

The constitution states in Article II that the chairman of the Board must be elected from among the faculty, alumni, or administrative members of the Board. In practice, there tends to be no real election. The vice-president in the division of student life is the chairman of the Board.

The Board holds its regular meetings once a month. Called meetings, as was the case in December, sometimes seem necessary.

All regular meetings of the Board are open meetings unless "two-thirds of its voting membership shall have voted for a closed session at the previous meeting or unless the Board is in executive session for the purpose of elections to publications' posts."

Committees may be appointed by the chairman with or without directions from the Board.

With regard to selection of editors and business managers to the various publications (this is the Board's most important function), all applicants must be interviewed by the Board. All other paid positions will be appointed by the editors and business managers with the approval of the Board.

Code of Ethics

"In the final analysis any code of ethics must rely on the good judgment and good taste of the persons in the position of responsibility. But as a guide to editors of the University publications the following statement has been prepared.

"The editor has a personal responsibility for everything that goes into his publication; he also has a responsibility to the welfare of the University and its students.

"Truthfulness and accuracy are the foundations of all journalism worthy of the name. Dishonesty and error are in effect a breach of good faith.

"News must be free from opinion and bias. The distinction between news and expression of opinion is fundamental, and it should be sharply drawn.

"The term (fair play) is self-explanatory. The college press must be fair and just to all persons and to all ideas and points of view.

"No one should write as a journalist what he would not say as a gentleman.

"Offenses against good taste and good manners occur most frequently in gossip and personal columns and in humor magazines.

"The framing of an explicit statement relative to good taste and good manners is rendered more difficult by the fact that the area of agreement here is neither large nor fixed. Social standards, customs, habits, mores vary from community to community and from one social set to another. In the end the problem reverts to the matter of breeding: editors should always be well bred.

"As far as possible, college publications should stand on their own feet and should not be governed, either directly or indirectly, by outside pressure.

"Freedom of the press ought to be fully granted within the limits set by truth, accuracy, impartiality, fair play, decency and good taste, and the law of the land.

"Freedom of the press includes the right to discuss whatever is not explicitly forbidden by law and would, in a University publication, include the right to discuss University, local, and national policies."

Letters to the Editor

Irresponsible Trouble Makers

Editor, the Chronicle:

The late news in your paper about the activities of some Duke students in conjunction with Negro students from North Carolina College is that they wish to "force" certain business establishments in this community to integrate their services; specifically, they will make efforts to "force" racial integration of the laundries, your news article stated. Also, it was said that these students thought it would be wise to integrate Durham's public libraries. The foregoing is in addition to their continued support of demonstrations against segregated lunch counters.

It would seem that it is long past due time for AUTHORITY from some source, the University, the City, or the State to crack down on these irresponsible trouble makers and have them arrested or expelled from school or both. Of course, the local store managers, before whose doors their pickets march daily, should have had them arrested when the first demonstrators appeared; however, no doubt, the managers are under orders from higher up.

These students, for the most part, are not residents of Durham. They haven't the slightest moral or legal right to try to upset custom, disrupt trade, flout tradition—the main result of which has been to cause much ill feeling and some loss of business probably to the local stores they are picketing.

The residents of Durham, which include the managers and owners of business establishments, are perfectly capable of running their own affairs without any assistance from any students of any race from any college or university. They have been doing so rather successfully for many years.

As a parting thought, it may be added, that above all the last organization any white people need advice or direction from is the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which the Negro students now say is directing their boycott of local stores.

Sincerely,
Kathleen Lindsay

Unappreciative

Editor, the Chronicle:

I read with little appreciation the letter concerning "laughable laundries" which appeared in the March 25th issue of the Chronicle. It appears that, because of his deep concern with the great issues of voting, education, and eating privileges, the author has particularly overlooked the significance of the protest movement against racially discriminatory businesses. (Non-segregated eating establishments, by the way, were included in the objectives of that "ridiculous" organization composed of students from Duke and North Carolina College.) Although I may be presumptuous, I would suggest that the current protests are directed against the entire Jim Crow system, not just particular aspects of it. The message of a "white only" sign is the same whether it appears over a lunch counter or over a water fountain.

Mr. Farrell admittedly is not being particularly concerned with whether or not laundromats are "integrated," but, if he were a Negro or had talked recently to a Negro asked to leave a laundromat, he might sense that there is an affront to personal dignity involved in racial segregation wherever manifested. As for those really important social measures such as non-segregated schools and equal voting rights, I would welcome any suggestion as to how a Duke-North Carolina College student organization can implement either one.

Sincerely,
Clarence Stone

Students To Circulate Petition

Resolutions Laud Gross

Fred Andrews, Jim Brown, Marian Sapp, and Warren Wickensham will be on hand tomorrow night at 7:30 in 204 East Duke to answer questions concerning a petition adopted for circulation by an open meeting of about 100 students March 25.

Both the student petition and a set of resolutions passed by the faculty in a meeting the same day supported Dr. Paul M. Gross, who was forced by the Board of Trustees to resign as Vice-President of the University and chairman of the Long Range Planning Committee.

The petition asked that "The University continue in the forward-looking attitude which was displayed by Dr. Gross with respect to long-range planning, faculty relations, research and growth of the University into an internationally prominent institution" and that "Dr. Gross should be retained as long-range planner for the University during the next four years."

Esther Booe, University sophomore, proposed the petition.

Prior to its proposal Andrews, Brown, Miss Sapp, and Wickensham presented background material concerning both Gross and President A. Hollis Edens.

Circulation of the petition begins tomorrow night.

Approximately 400 faculty members passed seven resolutions at a closed meeting earlier that afternoon, one deploring "the precipitate action of the Board of Trustees in dismissing" Gross.

Another resolution suggested that the Trustees "give serious consideration to the creation of an appropriate position within the University whereby we may continue to benefit from his (Gross's) counsel and wisdom."

A resolution suggesting the appointment of a President pro tem to take office immediately after commencement was tabled.

Key points in other resolutions called for a liaison committee between the faculty and Trustees, improved public relations and consultation with the faculty before the appointment and dismissal of major officers.

Dr. Edens, who presided over the meeting, announced the appointment of Dean Marcus Hobbs as Vice-President pro tem in the division of education. By action of the Long Range Planning Committee, Hobbs will also assume Gross's duties there.

Ivy Taps Fifty Women Into Membership For Achieving 3.25 Grade-Point Average

Fifty freshman women were tapped into Ivy, sophomore fraternal honorary, Monday night at WSGA assembly.

Karen Hanke, Ivy president, said that all freshman women who achieved a quality point ratio of 3.25 or better were admitted to the honorary.

Women selected for the honorary include Brenda Balch, Ann Barbour, Mary Barnes, Mary Blackman, Marilyn Blackwood, Barbara Brooke, Lucia Brunn, Constance Caine, David Caudle, Sara Champion, Cathy Childre, Ruth Crandall and Pamela Cull.

Also selected were Linda Flom, Susan Griswold, Helen Gwynn, Patricia Hagbom, Dolores Harvey, Scherer James, Judith Jennings, Eva Josko, Betsy Kaufman, Joanne Kroll, Nancy Lassiter, Mary Ann Lee and Margaret Matrone.

Other women tapped include Sue McGhee, Nancy Pell, Gaynl Plair, Valerie Pollack, Sara

YMCA Installation Banquet Tomorrow

The YMCA will welcome next year's officers and cabinet members at the annual installation banquet tomorrow night at 6 in the Union Ballroom.

The induction of officers will be held, and YMCA keys will be presented to the outgoing officers. Included in the evening's program will be a talk by retiring president Herb Reese, and the presentation of a citation to this year's outstanding "Y member."

The present Board of Directors, officers, cabinet and committee members will attend the banquet, as well as several faculty and administrative guests.

Twenty Rising Sophomores Tapped Into Women's Leadership Honorary

Twenty rising sophomores were tapped into Sandals, East's sophomore leadership honorary, Monday night at the WSGA assembly.

The women were chosen on the basis of potential leadership, scholarship, and their spirit and willingness to serve the school, Sandals president Mel Seyfert said.

Formal initiation ceremonies were conducted yesterday morning. All East Sandals will meet at a banquet Tuesday.

Tapped were Ann Barbour, Linda Bremer, Cathy Childre, Jane Cannon, Sue Curry, Ann Hill, Ann Irwin, Joan Jarden, Carolyn Kahle, and Ruth Lupton.

Also chosen were Sue McGhee, Susan Oehl, Bonnie Platt, Nedra Rolbin, Kay Shaw, Judy Van Dyke, Carol Wanless, Phoebe Welt, Mary White, and Mandy Wright.

Sophomore Sandals choose women from the freshman class on the basis of recommendations from counselors and house leaders.

Women Select Four To Pub Board Posts

East Campus Monday elected its four representatives to Publications Board for 1960-61.

Elected were Esther Booe, Catherine Greer, Kathy Lockwood and Cindy Smith.

The women will be installed at the May meeting of Publications Board.

Miss Booe is a Chronicle news editor. Miss Greer serves as Archive coed business manager while Miss Lockwood is the Chanticleer classes section editor. Miss Smith is Chronicle feature editor.

Rice, Margaret Rouse, Christine Rumpf, Gayle Sawyer, Sue Sperry, Sally Spratt, Lynne Vogel, Linda Wall, Lany Wallwork, Martha Warn, Sandra Weaver and Elizabeth Welter.

Additional selections were Lois Wiederschall, Carol Williams, Patricia Willis, Carol Woodard, Alice Wright, Amanda Wright, Doris Wright and Margaret Yoder.

Campus Chest Drive Fails To Reach Goal; House P Gives Highest Average Donation

The West Campus Chest drive netted a total of $2,739.75 in cash and pledges, falling short of its $3,500 goal, according to Campus Chest treasurer Charles Glass.

Freshman House P won 70 free passes to the Carolina and Center theaters, leading all houses and fraternities with an average donation of $2.18 per man. In the fraternity competition, Sigma Chi edged KA and TEP with a $1.87 per capita donation.

Freshman houses also led total pledges with $965.35. Fraternities were second with $805.03, followed by the independent houses with $700.25 and Hanes House with $219.70.

This year's pledges are less than the $3,300 collected last year, but Glass noted that the solicitors fulfilled their responsibilities well, particularly in the freshman dorms.

Varsity, Freshman Thinclads Speed to Dual Meet Victory

By GEOFF MASON

Led by their newly-elected co-captains, Tom Bazemore and Cary Weisiger, the varsity thinclads opened their regular outdoor season Tuesday afternoon with a 72½-58½ victory over the South Carolina Gamecocks in a dual meet at Duke Stadium.

Double winners for the Dukes were Bazemore and Stan Preston. Bazemore easily took both the 440 and 880-yard runs, the former at 0:50.0, and the latter at 1:58.6. Preston won the Shotput, with a 45' 5¼" heave, plus the Discus, with a 143' 7½" throw.

Weisiger won the Mile Run handily over Paul Masen of the Gamecocks with a 4:11.8 time. Third in this race was Jerry Nourse, who took the 2-mile Run at 9:42.5. Also, Weisiger was anchor man for the winning mile relay team (with Tom Henaker, Walt Barnes, and Bazemore), assuring the team's victory on the last lap despite a minor equipment failure.

The freshmen were also victorious, with a 77-18 win over High Point College. The Baby Devils placed 1-2-3 in five events, the 100- and 220-yard dashes, shotput, broad jump, and two-mile run. Dick Gesswein set a new freshman record in the shot, with a 51' 7½" toss.

As a sidelight, Dave Sime ran a 9.5 100-yard dash, and a 21.7 220-yard dash.

Colgate Runs Over Blue Devils by 19-0

Out-hustled by a scrappy Colgate ten, the Blue Devil lacrosse team went down to a 19-0 defeat in its opening encounter on a windy field yesterday afternoon.

A small, shivering crowd saw the stickmen of Coach Jack Persons get off to a good start. However, the superior manpower of the Redmen started paying off soon as Colgate scored almost at will during the contest while effectively shacking any Blue Devil offensive hopes.

"The rain and holidays did not permit us to get in the type of shape we are usually in at this time," commented Coach Jack Persons.

Blue Devil Baseball Squad Starts Year With Sparkle

By ART SANTO DOMINGO

Confidence and team spirit, as well as the Florida sun, soaked into the Blue Devil nine last week as the Dukes took four of six games with Rollins and Florida Southern.

A three-game demolition of Rollins' Tars was accomplished with excellent pitching and powerful hitting. Five home runs rocketed out of Harper Shepherd Field off Duke bats, two by rookie shortstop Brooks Fader. Captain Butch Allie, first baseman Dean McCracken, and center-fielder Moon Mullen also hit for the circuit in 8-3, 5-4, and 9-1 wins.

Bunky Davis, Tar mound ace attempting to salvage the final game, was battered by the fiery Devils who batted only six times before rain saved the hosts further embarrassment.

Don Altman (2-0) demonstrated that his shoulder is right despite the football injury with two fine stints. His best effort came under the lights at Hawley Field in Lakeland when he fanned 15 Florida Southern in a tense, 2-1 victory. Lefty Ron Kalish (1-0) also turned in two good jobs, leaving in the seventh of the second game at Lakeland trailing, 1-0. Butch Williams (1-1) relieved and almost batted in the winning run in the ninth before suffering the loss, 2-1.

Senior John Jenkins (0-1) pitched well, but suffered from mental lapses in the field which hastened his demise in the tour's finale, 5-1. He relieved in the second game at Rollins. Bob Turner, promising soph, appears to be Coach Ace Parker's bullpen leader after chucking in relief for Altman in the Rollins opener.

Saturday's game with NC State will open the ACC slate after the USC and Clemson washouts on Monday and Tuesday. They will be made up later in the season.

Cage Squad Feted At Annual Banquet

The varsity and freshman basketball squads will be honored tomorrow night by the Blue Devil Club at its annual basketball banquet in the Washington Duke Hotel at 6:30.

A large crowd of Durham supporters as well as several out of town delegations are expected to attend the affair. A highlight of the banquet will be the presentation of the Swett award given to the Blue Devil voted most valuable for the 1959-60 season by his teammates.
